Mr. McCANN. I would like to ask the gentleman one final question. The Bucks County delegation, or Mr. Williams, opposes the passage of this bill. The gentleman from the Democratic side, Mr. Gallagher, believes it should be done for the purpose of completing this transaction. I am going to ask you people to vote on the bill and if you desire to vote "aye," you will vote "aye" in support of the measure. The reason I would like to get it completed is because it is my understanding that through the conferences held by the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Davlin, the Attorney General, the industrial development group from Somerset County, in addition to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission's legal counsel and other parties involved, this had been agreed to for this purpose even though the land is valuable, as the gentleman from Bucks indicates. Does the gentleman contend that is correct?

Mr. KORN. I contend that is correct, Mr. Speaker, and I would add this: As I understand it, portions of this land in Bucks County are now being occupied by the Pennsylvania turnpike; I think it is the cloverleaf down there in Bucks County.

Mr. McCANN. A portion of it?

Mr. KORN. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman have any knowledge of this transaction on this particular House bill since 1959?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Not until one week ago when this bill first came out on the House calendar this year.

Mr. McCANN. Was the gentleman aware of the legislation that passed this House in 1959 which enacted similar provisions dealing with this land?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I was, as a freshman Representative, aware that there was a transfer between the Welfare Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of certain land in Bucks County, together with small acreage in Somerset County, in return for a relatively large acreage in Somerset County. This bill appeared on the House calendar. I did not understand it. I did not, at that time, have the insight or the ability to figure the thing out, but I did have the presence of mind to vote against the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Bucks County if he did vote against the bill?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I did, and I believe it will be found that the lady from Bucks also voted against the bill.

Mr. McCANN. I would like to ask the gentleman if he is aware of any meetings which were held with proper representatives of Bucks County, dealing with this problem?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I am unaware of those meetings, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, on House bill 1220, printer's No. 1393, this piece of legislation does not have a deep interest either to us as a party or to you as a party, but the sole purpose, as I understand it, deals with Somerset County trying to accomplish this industrial development area, and for that reason I have stated that I would vote for this bill. I intend to fulfill that promise because I told the gentlemen from Somerset County and also, I believe, Mr. Johnson, that on this bill there were a series of conferences from 1959, or 1960, rather, to 1961, and even though the land is of value in Bucks County, there is no question about its value—it is good land, and very valuable—but I believe the gentleman voted against this measure in 1959 and is opposing it today, which is the same piece of land, and for that reason, I was wondering if he was going to change his vote. He indicates he is not. This House passed it before, and I am going to call for a roll call and let him have the privilege of voting "no."

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, perhaps my ears are getting bad, but how many other people heard the majority leader earlier say we were not going to pass House bill 1220? In any event, I would now like to speak further on this bill. I hate to take the time of the House. I spoke briefly before because I understood from the majority leader that we were not going to vote on this bill.

I would like to point out that I am in favor of industrial development in Pennsylvania. I discussed this matter with both Representatives from Somerset County. I have been advised by one of them that the entire 109 acres in Somerset County have an approximate value of $40,000. If we want to promote industrial development in Somerset County, certainly the county authority, the industrial development corporations they have, or are, I assume, setting up, can purchase this land from the turnpike commission for a reasonable, fair market price. I think it is ridiculous to use that argument to say this is a good or necessary bill.

I would like to point out to the gentleman from Somerset County and to this House that the turnpike commission has 15 tracts of available land in Somerset County, five or six of those tracts exceeding 100 acres in size; the one here in question is 109 acres. If that land is truthfully worth $40,000 as presently owned by the turnpike commission, how can we, as members of this House, in good conscience, exchange that land, take that land in exchange from the turnpike commission for 153 acres of land in Bucks County at the intersection of U. S. 1 and the turnpike, as I have described? I do not think you ever have to set foot in Bucks County to know the potential value of that land. I have told you that four acres of that 153 acres is worth $100,000, according to an employee of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. It is true, as the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Korn, has stated, that a large portion of these 153 acres is presently used and occupied by the turnpike. It is a cloverleaf interchange. It is the site of two restaurants or service areas on both sides of the turnpike. However, there is an excess area of from 30 to 50 acres which is not presently used by the turnpike, which is considered excess land by the turnpike, and which has a value, I would say, in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. I do not see how you can say that because the land in Somerset County is going to be used for a good purpose, industrial development, that that makes this a fair exchange between the taxpayers and the holders of turnpike commission bonds. That is the only issue. Is this a fair deal for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania?

I would just like to cite a few examples of values.

A tract of land across U. S. 1 from the four acres I said was worth $100,000 was sold recently for $67,000 and is on the market for $125,000. Land just across the road on the other side of the turnpike within several hundred yards of this land was sold for the erection of a motel for $123,000.

I think it perfectly obvious that if this bill passes this will clear the record to enable the deed between the Turnpike Commission and the Commonwealth to be recorded. If this bill fails of passage, this deal will be stopped. I think we are lucky to have a second shot at this transaction. The Attorney General has, in effect, called it to our attention by putting this bill into the House, and I think that now I have more knowledge than I had in '59, and certainly now that you have more knowledge than you had in '59, it behooves us to wake up and vote in the best interest of the taxpayer.

I would like to have you look at the bill. If you are interested enough to look at page 10 of the bill, you will see that, as a result of the Attorney General's objections to this bill, there is provision for the appointment of three appraisers to appraise the land in Bucks County and the land in Somerset County. This must be a fairly big job because they are authorized to be paid $350 each. Now I ask you, are these three appraisers going to be three realtors from Bucks County? If they are, they will be familiar with the value of Bucks County land, but will they be familiar with the value of land in Somerset County, in the western part of the State? Or, if they are appointed from Somerset County, how can they possibly know the value of land in Bucks County?

Second, if you will look at the very last line, line 20 on page 10, you will see that the appraisers are directed by this proposed bill to calculate the value of this land, not as of 1959 when this act became law, not as of 1961 when we are considering this bill, but as of the first day of June 1952, before the boom in lower Bucks County. There may be reasons for that as far as the land being actually used by the turnpike. That was the day, I think, when they condemned the land for the turnpike, and I think that argument has validity there. That argument has no validity in regard to this excess 30 or 40 acres of land.

This is a bad piece of legislation. It is taking taxpayers' money and giving it to the bondholders of the Pennsylvania turnpike. It is not necessary. The land needed in Somerset County for industrial development can certainly be obtained by purchase from the turnpike commission, or from the exchange of an equal value of State land for the turnpike land. This is an exchange of unequal values. It is unfair to the Commonwealth. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Who has title to the Bucks County land?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is held for the use of the Department of Welfare. The land was originally conveyed to the Commonwealth by the Friends' Hospital.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Who has title to the Somerset County land?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, an authority not responsible to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania or the legislators of Pennsylvania.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. If we desire to sell the Bucks County land directly, you must have an act of the legislature, is that correct?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. That is right, Mr. Speaker. You would have the right to vote yes or no on such a bill and the taxpayers of Pennsylvania would be protected, I would assume, by the action of this House and the other body.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Then, if we have such an act, we would know the name of the purchaser, would we not?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. We certainly would. We would know the name of the purchaser.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Now you raise a very intriguing and interesting question. This particular tract of land adjoins a proposed race track site in either Philadelphia or Bucks County, is that correct?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. It adjoins a proposed race track site that I think is entirely in the county of Bucks. It adjoins a road known as Richelieu Road, and one of the proposed harness racing track sites is on the opposite side of this road.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. This land could be used as a parking site, could it not?

Mr. A. W. WILLIAMS, Jr. I do not know what its potential use is, but I do know that its potential value is going up each day.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Under the turnpike law is it legal for the turnpike to either sell the land or lease the land by decision of the turnpike commissioners, if they see fit, without any public hearings or scrutiny?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I think the gentleman knows the answer better than I. I know that the turnpike commission can sell the land. I am not aware whether they have the authority to lease it.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I thank the gentleman for the interrogation.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be more than meets the eye in this transaction. There is an old saying, when you have an exchange of real estate, somebody is going to get "hooked." In this particular case it seems to me as though the taxpayers or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are going to be "hooked," because we are giving cheap land in Somerset County and turning it over to the bondholders of the turnpike commission. Of course, 50 years from now it will all come out the same in the wash. But I would like to know, since the majority leader is so firm and so keenly aware of what the use of the land in Somerset County is going to be, would he be able to make a commitment as to what the future use of the land in Bucks County is going to be?

I, therefore, ask him that question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN, I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Do you have any idea as to the use or non-use of the land in Bucks County?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have knowledge of the use of the land after it becomes turnpike commission property.

But I want to clear one point emphatically. Some place in here there continues to be the insinuation that this is a part of a race-track deal. There is nothing involved in this situation pertaining to that. Many years ago this House, or the General State Authority, purchased land in the county of Bucks, I believe, for a potential hospital site. This is that land, owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or the Department of Welfare, whichever would be proper.

The land in Somerset County is owned by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. The exchange of land was worked out. Now, they keep bringing up that this is a potential site for a race track. I ask those people who bring that up to emphatically say that such is the site, and was the site, and who may originate such a site. Certainly, there are groups who want to develop race tracks in some areas. I do not deny that. But this has nothing to do in any way with any of those conferences, nor is it something behind-the-scenes. This was an effort to work the matter out so the Somerset County industrial group would be able to complete their industrial program and secure the necessary deed, because, unless they do, I believe they are stopped by other laws dealing with the finances.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, we have had a great many words from the majority leader but nothing that would give me any light.

I would say, if the majority leader is so uncertain as to the future use of this land, he would not object to having the bill laid upon the table and then an amendment placed in the bill to provide that this land can never be used, that is, the land in Bucks County, by lease or otherwise, by any race-track association.

Mr. Speaker, I, therefore, move that the bill be placed upon the table.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield with his motion until we have completed the interrogation and the debate?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am insisting upon the motion at the proper time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I want it clear that I am not implying that this land is for a race-track site and I do not think I have previously so implied. I have stated a fact: it adjoins a tract which is proposed as a harness-racing site—period.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this act passed this House before there was ever the so-called harness-racing legislation enacted. There were no potential sites any place in this Commonwealth. There was no law concerning it, and it is the same land and the same agreement. The gentleman is quite well aware that the entire Turnpike is operated by the bondholders. He knows that. He knows that you can pass many laws here, or attempt to, and those laws are null and void and would not stand up in court, because until the bonds are paid . . . He is an attorney and he can advise me better than the others can on that very issue. You could not put in any stipulation as to lease—and I am not trying to duck the issue. If you do not want to help Somerset County as to the Commonwealth's land and the Department of Welfare, they are the ones that are in the bind, and considerably so, because, under the new Federal legislation, in the development of an industrial site in the act just signed by the President of the United States they can develop this land, secure loans at the United States Government rate up to 65 percent for the roads, sewerage, and other items in developing this park. But until they have the deed, they cannot meet the qualifications for borrowing money in any bank in this Commonwealth. Even though they would attempt to build, they could not move in the next step under the PIDA program. It is Somerset County that is in the tough situation because at these conferences of better than three years they were able to work this out. And today there creeps in here this very item that it is a potential race track, which it is not. When we acted upon it two years ago, it was not even thought of in any manner.

I say to you people that I would prefer to vote the bill. I have no objections if you think you can resolve your problem by putting it on the table but you have not resolved it in the conferences that have been held for over three years, and Somerset County is the one that will have to wait and never move on that project as they hope to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, it is the gentleman's contention that by virtue of the transaction proposed in this legislation Somerset County will be getting land, or there will be an exchange of land by the Commonwealth to the turnpike, which is far greater in value, so far as the turnpike commission is concerned, than that which the turnpike is giving up. Is that not so?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. That is correct. The turnpike is giving up land worth $40,000, approximately, and the Commonwealth is giving land worth—I do not know how much—in excess of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. GELFAND. I would presume in your examination of this legislation you read it from one end to the other and all four points of the document?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I am aware . . . Well, I will let the gentleman ask his question and then I will answer it.

Mr. GELFAND. The gentleman read it in full and in its entirety, I presume?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I certainly hope so.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, if you will pick up the legislation proposed and begin on line 4 of page 11—do you have the legislation?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes, that is the section of the bill where there is supposed to be a cash contribution for the difference.

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman kindly read beginning with the word "if" on line 4, page 11 of the bill?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes. "If as a result of the exchange contemplated by this act either party would obtain land easements or interest therein of greater value than the other party as determined by the appraisers the former party shall compensate the latter party in money for any such difference in value."

Mr. GELFAND. That is exactly the point of the legislation, Mr. Speaker. If you read the whole document to the end, you will note that it specifically provides that if, as a result of the exchange contemplated by this act, either party would obtain an interest of greater value than the other party as determined by the appraisers, the former party shall compensate the latter party in money for any such difference in value.

Therefore, the bill itself provides that if anybody exchanges, or either party exchanges, something of greater value it shall be compensated. I think it answers the question in itself and, therefore, the legislation should be passed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out to the House and to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, that the appraisers are instructed to set the value as of June 1, 1952. I think that date is the reason why, even with this provision, it is still not a fair transaction to the taxpayer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Williams, tell me if he knows the name of Mr. Gordon Exley, III?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes, sir, I do.

Mr. McCANN. What is his title?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Director of the industrial development corporation of Bucks County.

Mr. McCANN. Does he serve in that capacity at the present time?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCANN. If I were to say to you that the sole purpose of that last sentence in there is simply because this ground is to go to the Bucks County industrial development program to be sold to them at that figure so they can develop it, not for a race track, but for industrial development that was agreed to, and the principal presented, including the name that I present on this floor, what would you say?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman has to be in error, at least partially, because this land is unsuitable for industrial development at one site. It is a prime commercial location; it is a location for a motel. The interior land over near Richelieu Road does have road access, and I think it might be a good industrial site.

I am once again saying that its value to the taxpayer is the important thing. I do not care whether Bucks County industrial corporation is getting it. If we do, we should pay fair value for it, or make some sort of an agreement so that eventually fair value is paid to the taxpayer for it. If this were true, it is about time that this House was apprized of that fact.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I, of course, would say to the gentleman—and I am hesitant in sayings things which I go over in conference, and I am briefed in one day on many things, this land that is to go to the turnpike, a part of that land is to be sold to the Bucks County industrial development group headed by that executive director. There is no race track intended, as he keeps insinuating. For that reason the whole transaction benefits both Somerset County, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Bucks County industrial development group.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I would like to point out, Mr. Speaker, that I have not once insinuated this was a race-track site, and I do not know who the gentleman is referring to, but it better not be me because I have not and I am not intending to do that.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will call for a roll call on the bill. I have given the facts and I ask that you support the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny has placed a motion before the House.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, before I do that, I want to answer a statement made by the majority leader, Mr. McCann, as to the law.

The majority leader has stated that it is illegal for a conveyance to be made to the turnpike commission where there is restriction as to use. That is not the law whatsoever. We can convey land to the turnpike commission and not in derogation of any bond or mortgage and provide that the land may be used for a specific purpose. Therefore, my original contention that it might be used for a purpose which I do not desire is correct.

Now, I asked Mr. McCann, heretofore what was the purpose for which it was to be used? He was in the dark then. Now he states it may be used by the Bucks County redevelopment organization, the industrial redevelopment organization or some similar body. Therefore, I would like to have in the record a statement to that effect, so the people who make a responsible promise to the taxpayers and citizens of the Commonwealth will be able to look back at the record and see whether the people violated their word.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion. Does the gentleman desire to be recognized on the motion?

Mr. McCANN. The roll call will be agreed to. I ask that they oppose the motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. M. H. Goldstein.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, a lot of words have been bandied about here on this bill in attempts to insinuate that deals are being made, and that somebody was taking this land for a race track. The statement of the majority leader in reference to Mr. Gordon Exley III is correct. In 1959 when this bill was before this legislature, I met with Mr. Exley, took the bill to him, the plan, the plot, and it was his opinion that this would be a good thing for Bucks County if this land were transferred to the turnpike commission; they could then negotiate a sale between the industrial development commission and the turnpike commission as far as this land for use as an industrial development. For this reason, ladies and gentlemen, I sincerely solicit all the votes of the members of the House for this bill. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. A. D. Williams, Jr.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that all that Mr. Exley has said is this would be a wonderful idea, but there is no agreement verbal or written, between the industrial development corporation of Bucks County and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, in regard to this land?

Mr. GALLAGHER. There is not, Mr. Speaker, because there was no final action, as the gentleman pointed out. Mr. Exley informed me at our meeting that it was his desire and objective to approach the turnpike commission once this land was deeded to them and to attempt to negotiate a sale for the industrial development commission. In this area, in Bensalem Township, where there is so much tax-exempt land, this would be a wondrous boon to Bensalem Township, as well as to the county as a whole.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, would the gentlemen tell me whether or not he thinks a price of $40,000 would be a fair price for this land in Bensalem Township?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, not being a realtor nor having any practical knowledge of the value of land, I do not think I could answer the gentleman. I think the proper thing would be to have a real estate man appraise it and set up a fair value.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe then that the Bucks County industrial development corporation should pay a fair price based on real estate appraisals for this land, if we in fact get it?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Yes, they should pay a fair price.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. And, Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman state that that value should be as of the time that we take title to it?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is a very arbitrary position. I do not know whether I am qualified to say yes or no in that matter.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. All right, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell this House whether or not real estate values have gone up, down, or remained constant in Bucks County since June 1, 1952?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I would judge, in my humble opinion as a layman, they have gone up.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. They have gone up.

Mr. GALLAGHER. I would say so.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I thank the gentleman.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. FILO and BOIES offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1961.

The P.I.A.A. Volleyball title is again in the hands of Homestead High School.

Vic Sullivan, coach of the squad, stated: "It was a real good tournament with some surprisingly rough teams entering. Our biggest asset in winning was our power. Our four spikers carried the brunt of our attack and supplied us with that extra punch needed to win."

The team effort put forth by the Homestead squad was an inspiration to all admirers of coordinated and spirited team play.

Homestead volleyball teams have previously won the W.P.I.A.A. title in 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, and 1949, and have won the P.I.A.A. title in 1947, 1948, 1954, 1955, 1957, 1958, and 1961.

The tradition of good winning volleyball teams at Homestead High School is an admirable accomplishment, and sets a goal to be admired and emulated by other school groups in their various educational efforts; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its hearty congratulations to the Homestead High School Volleyball team on its winning the State Championship; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the principal and the coach of the volleyball team of Homestead High School.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. McCANN. I request permission of the House to go beyond six o'clock on voting time. We have three bills and five concurrences that were agreed to. I desire then that we vote these non-debatable items and then amend the bills that are left over to finish the work.

I request permission to turn to page 26.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, could we use the same roll call? I do not know that the rest of these bills are particularly controversial.

Mr. McCANN. We would be most pleased to expedite. Mr. Speaker, page 26, Senate bill 173, printer's No. 481.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 346, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 9, 1955 (P. L. 323), entitled "The County Code," specifying more accurately the duties of coroners in issuing certificates of cause of death.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, for the explanation which was desired on Senate bill 346, printer's No. 365. In the act to be amended, section 1244, headed "Certificate of Cause of Death" contains a reference to a law which has been repealed. On June 29, 1953, P. L. 304, the vital statistics law was signed by the Governor and became the official vital statistics act for the Commonwealth. This amendment hereby simply deletes a reference to an obsolete statute not in use.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 3, 1961

The Senate met at 9:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PLUMMER R. HARVEY, Former Pastor of Patton Presbyterian Church, Patton, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O Lord, we thank Thee for Thine infinite patience. We thank Thee that Thou sufferest long and bearest with us still. We would not presume upon Thy patience, but would seek to draw near to Thee now with reverence, remembering Thine infinite majesty, and how Thou art exalted above our knowledge.

Grant that we may be willing to accept all the requirements which fall to us from our relationship to Thee. May we be willing to do the duties that fall to us as elected servants of the Commonwealth. May we be willing to cast off the bondage which this world throws upon us. Grant that we may be able to safely pass through all its temptations. May our experience of life in this world tend only to our permanent good. May it in no one of us produce selfishness, hardness or bitterness, or any evil spirit or temper. Grant that rather our experience of this life may lead us to a sincere desire to be profitable to our fellows, to a truer dependence upon Thee, our God, to a sincerer acceptance of the duties which Thou layest upon us as Thy servants. Grant that we may have that higher tone in conduct, that truer and sincerer devotedness to what is good, that purer conscience, that deeper truthfulness, which comes from fellowship with the Lord, Jesus Christ. We pray Thee that Thou wouldst advance these ends in us today.

Bless, Thou, all who are meeting as we are now meeting. Lord, we beseech Thee that Thou, in Thine infinite spiritual power, wouldst draw near to men and cause them to know Thee and humble themselves before Thee. Hear us, for Christ's sake. Amen.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills: SB 173, 346, HB 199, 307, 390 and 638.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. CONFAIR and HAYS presented to the Chair SB 604, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," further providing for director representation in union or merged districts under certain conditions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the bill which I am about to introduce is by no means an earth shaking bill, but it has a locale which is rather interesting and I want to share it with you.

In 1844, the citizens in the town of Aaronsburg, in Centre County, formed a water company which is officially known as the "President of the Water Pipes in Aaronsburg." This bill would amend the chartered by-laws because in that present charter, the maximum that they may charge a customer for water is sixty-two and one-half cents per year. In the light of some inflation which has come to our mountains, this is no longer adequate.

The spotlight was focused on the town of Aaronsburg, about twelve years ago, when James Duff was the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania because 100 hundred years before that, the founder of Aaronsburg, Solomon Levy, had given to a Lutheran Church there a communion set. To commemorate this event, we had about 20,000 people come into Aaronsburg. Aaronsburg was then and is still known as a center of religious understanding. I might also say that the founder of Aaronsburg had visions that this would be the Capital of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, since it is almost in the geographical center of the State. Therefore, in Aaronsburg we have very wide streets, similar to Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D. C.

I feel that it is too late to move the capitol to Aaronsburg. However, there is some uncertainty about the Governor's Mansion and we do not want to take it from Dauphin County, but if, for any reason, it should be moved from Dauphin County, I would recommend, particularly if we get the water pipes of Aaronsburg fixed up properly, that Aaronsburg be considered as the place for the new Executive Mansion.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Hr. HAYS presented to the Chair SB 605, entitled:

They said they had none; they were not yet in print. In other words, a large segment of one of our professions was covered by regulations that were effective but not in print.

Mr. President, it is for this purpose that, on behalf of Senator McCreesh and myself, I am about to introduce this bill for the consideration of the Senate.

SENATE RESOLUTION*CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO PERRY COMO

Messrs. DiSILVESTRO, LANE and HALUSKA offered the following resolution (Serial No. 55), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 3, 1961.

The story of Perry Como is one of those "Only in America" that holds a special interest to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. He was born in Canonsburg in Washington County, May 18, 1912. His parents were Italian immigrants and Perry was the first of their thirteen children to become a citizen by birth. He attended local elementary and high schools. After graduation he operated a barber shop which he started at the age of fourteen as an after school money maker.

His friends urged him to take up a career of entertainer. As a result of these urgings and due to his inherent ability he has become one of the top flight entertainers in the entertainment world today. Perry Como is too well known to further outline his accomplishments. It can truly be said that today he is one of this Commonwealth's distinguished native sons.

Perry Como is married to the former Roselle Belline. They have three children, Ronnie, David and daughter Terri. They live at Sands Point, Long Island.

He received in 1953 an award for his "Unselfish devotion" in the advancement of Interfaith; he was voted "Personality of the Year" in 1956 by the Variety Club of Washington, D. C.; voted "Man of the Year" by the Friars Club of New York City and has numerous awards for his efforts in the entertainment field. He and his wife have received one of the highest honors of the Roman Catholic Church, Knight Commander and Lady Commander of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania commends and congratulates Perry Como on his extraordinary success in his chosen field of endeavor. The Senate of Pennsylvania further wishes to commend him for the honor he has brought to his native State and to the Nation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Perry Como and his family at his home at Sands Point, Long Island.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am very happy indeed to second the motion for the adoption of this resolution.

I think the Membership of the Senate should know something about the personal background of Perry Como.

I have had the pleasure of being personally acquainted with this gentleman for quite a number of years, Mr. President. I recall when Perry Como was an apprentice in his uncle's barber shop. To me, he typifies what I would say is a clean-living American. Perry Como is dedicated to his family. I happened to talk to one of his relatives not long ago, right after the decease of his mother, and they informed me that Perry had called home at least twice every day during his mother's illness.

Perry Como is the type of a man who takes good care of his family. I know for a fact that his own mother, who recently passed away, was given every attention by her son. He is not the type to neglect anyone.

In Canonsburg, in my county, I must say, Mr. President, that Perry Como has the respect, the confidence and the good will of all of the citizens because they know that he has been a good boy. He is a good man and he is a credit to the entertainment world.

I am happy indeed to second the motion to adopt this resolution at this particular time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to also second this motion because my brother sang in the church choir with Perry Como during his early days. Furthermore, I also was born in the town of Canonsburg, and I take great pride in adding my few words to the passing of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Perry Como, I am sure, has been one of your favorite entertainers just as he has been one of mine. Therefore, it is a pleasure to put this resolution before the Senate.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

STUDENTS WELCOMED TO THE SENATE

Mr. MURRAY. Mr. President, we have some distinguished visitors in the gallery today from Wyoming High School. They are accompanied by Mr. K. R. Jones, a member of their faculty. I ask the Chair to welcome them to the Senate of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. Will the ladies and gentlemen of the high school please arise so that they may be recognized by the Senate?

Thank you, Mr. Jones, for bringing your class here. I hope that the class, having been welcomed by the Senate, will realize that we are very much interested in the younger people of our State getting to understand the ways of good government.

We are glad to have you with us here in the Chamber this morning.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HB 678—Read at length the third time and agreed to. And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this bill is very necessary for the industrial rehabilitation and economic growth of the hard coal regions of northeastern Pennsylvania. It is designed to provide additional moneys in our continuing fight to make northeastern Pennsylvania more attractive to new industries and also to provide urgently needed relief to small home owners. Many homes and, indeed, public buildings are in danger of being seriously damaged, if not destroyed, by reason of surface settlements caused by abandoned coal mines.

I appeal to the Members of the Senate to vote for this bill, particularly to aid all of the people in northeastern Pennsylvania and, specifically, to help protect the homes and the buildings of the people who live there.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

HB 715 and 716—Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I request that House Bills Nos. 715 and 716 go over in their order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Silvert.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Silvert, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SILVERT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. With reference to House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716, and your request to pass them over in order, would you explain to the Members of the Senate why this request was made?

Mr. SILVERT. I made this request because yesterday I received information that it would require an additional $9,000,000 to carry out the provisions of House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716. It requires further study. I believe it is a fact that when these bills should reach the Governor's desk, he probably would veto them.

Therefore, I request that the bills go over in their order so that we can check those figures.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the gentleman mentioned a figure of $9,000,000 and said it would require $9,000,000 if we pass these bills. Does he mean that it is going to cost the Commonwealth $9,000,000 a year? Is that the gentleman's statement?

Mr. SILVERT. The information which came to me is that it will cost $9,000,000 to carry out the provisions. I do not know whether it is annually or in one lump sum.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to thank the distinguished Chairman of the Finance Committee for his very informative answers.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would very much appreciate receiving from Senator Silver the information he has received, if he is at liberty to divulge it, not today but sometime next week. The information that I have is that the cost of the bills would not exceed $3,000,000 or slightly upward.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I will be glad to furnish this information next week, just as soon as I receive it. I am going to request it.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bills will go over in their order.

The PRESIDENT. At this time, the Chair turns the gavel over to the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Ripp, who will preside while I proceed to the Highway Safety Conference.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Joseph D. Ripp) in the Chair.

STUDENTS WELCOMED TO THE SENATE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, about a week ago, we seemed to be having "Lehigh Valley Week" as far as our school visitations are concerned. This group comprises members of the student body of the West York Area High School. These are ninth graders in that school.

I would appreciate it if the Presiding Officer of the Senate would recognize them and welcome them to the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It is very nice of you, Senator Seyler, to call our attention to the ninth grade students of the West York Area High School who are here with us. Students, will you please rise? Members of the Senate, will you give them a cordial welcome?

Students, we trust that you have some time to spend with us, as we are passing legislation, in order that you will see how your government operates.

In the Senate, May 3, 1961.

On July 1, 1961, Joseph A. Abbey, Reading, Pennsylvania, will take office as the chief executive of Rotary International, a world-wide service organization, which is comprised of more than 10,900 Rotary Clubs with membership of over 505,000 in 122 countries on 6 continents.

He has been a devoted servant of his community, faithfully serving in its moral, social and economic life. He has served his country as a member of President Eisenhower's People to People Service Club Organization Committee, People to People Sports Committee. He has been an ambassador of good will by making extensive visits to sixty countries over the world. In his own vocation of newspaper publication, he was one of the original members of the Newspaperboy Hall of Fame.

Because of its continuing effort in the constant advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service, Rotary enjoys a unique position of prestige in the free world.

Joseph A. Abbey, as the President of Rotary International, will have the required duty to visit Rotary Clubs in many different countries around the world. He will have the welcome obligation to bring to this office his high moral integrity, lofty ideals, broad sympathies and unselfish devotion to the Rotary Ideals: "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

His being elected as the President of Rotary International has brought great distinction to the City of Reading, Rotary District No. 743, of which the Rotary Club of Reading is a part, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the United States of America; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this Senate hereby extend its congratulations to Joseph A. Abbey, President Rotary International, for bringing the high honor of this office to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Joseph A. Abbey, President, Rotary International; H. Galvin Terry, Governor, District No. 743; John M. Wotring, President, Rotary Club of Reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, as is well known, of course, the Governor over a year ago appointed a committee to deal specifically with the problems of public education in Pennsylvania and at the beginning of this month, that committee made their report public Today, I am presenting the first of a series of bills growing out of the work of that committee; three bills, to be specific. I do this realizing there are perhaps some procedural matters before the Senate that have not been resolved. I know that I am of the opinion, and I am sure many of you share this view, that this matter should be no longer delayed.

Therefore, we are presenting this series of bills, despite the fact that this procedural matter has not been completed.

It would be my hope that this Senate would set up this special committee to handle this matter. I assure you that if these bills are referred to the regular Education Committee, we shall be glad to relinquish them to any special committee that may be set up.

I want to say further that if they are in the possession of the Education Committee, at the next meeting of the Education Committee, it would be my hope that the committee would start serious consideration of these bills.

This is, of course, not the complete package. It is just a part of the package. These three bills deal specifically with the matter of community colleges, with the matter of scholarships and loans, and with the matter of school buildings.

I am sharing sponsorship with the other men in the Senate who served on the Governor's Committee; namely, Senator Wagner and Senator Seyler. Unfortunately, Senator Shafer is not here today. We believe he would be willing and we would like him also to sponsor these bills. If we can reach him, we will give him this opportunity. I hope this opportunity can be extended to him for these bills, and I know it will be for subsequent bills. I am quite sure there are other Members who desire to join in the sponsorship of these matters. As far as I am concerned, I would be quite happy to have them join us in these bills. We thought, as is done in the Local Government Commission, perhaps the initial sponsors might be the four men who should be the most knowledgeable on these matters since they served on the Governor's Committee.

May I say all of them served quite faithfully on the Governor's Committee? It was my privilege to serve on a special task force with Senator Shafer. I know he attended regularly, and I saw Senator Wagner and Senator Seyler attending practically all of the meetings also.

I am now about to present to the Chair three bills dealing with the report of the Governor's Special Committee on Education.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, inasmuch as the Chairman of the Education Committee was kind enough to state that he would be glad to accept sponsorship from any other Member of the Senate on these bills, I wish to state that I would like to become a cosponsor of these bills.

WEDNESDAY, May 3, 1961

The House met at 10 a. m., e. s. t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Omniscient and Omnipotent Father, in this day of speed and this age of space, we see the world about us as an association of Thy creation, but we cannot help but see the troubled areas which cause us concern. We ask for Thy counsel and guidance in all our walks of life; but especially we pray for Thy blessing upon this Nation in her relationships with others as well as her conquest in space travel. Likewise, extend Thy counsel to these leaders in the affairs of this Commonwealth that disturbing problems and situations may receive Thy benediction: through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sometimes thinks that prayer should be offered at the end of the session that we might pray for forgiveness, rather than pray at the beginning of the session before empty chairs.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, May 2, 1961 will be postponed until printed.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. A. M. LEE, SELTZER, FOOR and ZEMBER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 66.

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1961.

Almost three years have elapsed since the merger, by statute of the 1957 General Assembly, of the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance into the Department of Public Welfare. Such merger has created a vast agency, charged with the administration of public moneys totalling one-quarter of the entire General Fund Budget.

Recurring deficits, disclosures of improper payments, steadily mounting relief loads even in times of economic well-being and critical pronouncements by recognized citizen agencies give rise to serious questions as to the operational, procedural and organizational ability of the department to meet and discharge effectively the duties and obligations assigned it by law.

The legislative intent in this field as embodied in the Public Assistance Law of 1937 is " . . . that assistance shall be administered in such a way and manner as to encourage self-respect, self-dependency and the desire to be a good citizen and useful to society." Dollar increases in relief payments while a matter of legitimate concern may merely be symptomatic of what is called the growing "chain of chronic dependency among certain family groups." A 1959 report of the Pennsylvania Citizens Association for Health and Welfare speaks of families with delinquency which "sometimes remain dependent upon public assistance for three or even four generations." Suggested solutions include tougher standards of eligibility or broader rehabilitative services, or both.

Continuing disclosures of dishonesty or inefficiency in the applications or administration are indicative of serious deficiencies in certain areas of the Public Assistance program. Elimination of waste, inefficiency and improper payments would provide funds within the framework of present appropriations to do a better job among the worthy recipients; therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That a joint committee of eight members of the General Assembly shall be established, four members, two from each political party, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives from among the members thereof, and four members, two from each political party, to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate from among the members thereof, and that said joint committee shall make an immediate study and investigation of the organization and operation of the Department of Public Welfare in order to determine how the consolidation of the Welfare and Assistance Departments has worked; whether the institutions and programs thereunder are effectively and efficiently operated; whether the top staff of the Department is properly organized for effective functioning; whether there is a way to avoid large deficiency appropriations to the Department; whether Public Assistance as now administered encourages dependency on government; whether the Department is administering the Public Assistance Law in accordance with the stated legislative intent; whether existing standards of eligibility are adequate and proper; whether the procedures now in force are effective in preventing improper payments of State funds, and whether the case load can be reduced to increase grants to those really in need, as well as any and all other phases of departmental operations which shall, to the members of said committee, be deemed proper within the scope of this resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That the joint committee is hereby authorized and directed to contract with a competent business management consulting firm or firms for technical and professional advice on such portions of this study and investigation as may seem proper, the total expenditures of such services by outside agencies shall not exceed the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), or such other amount as may actually be appropriated to such committee for the discharge of its duties; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations of witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and, be it further

Resolved, That the said joint committee shall report its findings and recommendations, together with any drafts of legislation it deems necessary, as soon as possible but no later than March 15, 1963.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has always understood it was the theory that parking space for every member would be protected, that every member of this House would have a parking space that would not be obstructed. The Chair understands that recently members have had some difficulty. They have gone to their parking space and found somebody there and have been told by the capitol police that nothing can be done, there is somebody in your space. We would like to have the leadership of the House and the chief clerk devise some system of fines and penalties, perhaps of towing the car away, taking the number and issuing a warning. If there is one thing that is in derogation of the dignity of this House, it is that members should not have a protected parking place. The Chair hopes that the leadership will cooperate and devise some method that will absolutely work, even if it is towing the car away and putting it in the river.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asks the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton, to preside over first and Second-reading calendar.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP OF THE FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

Messrs. WALSH, EILBERG, TOMPKINS, McCANN and T. F. SULLIVAN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1961.

Before the Federal Power Commission, there exists thousands of cases awaiting settlement—involving close to $800,000,000.00 worth of business. Quite a few of these cases involve tubular Products—upwards of 5000 Miles of Pipe—Much of which could be made in the Pittsburgh Area. Due to the inability of the Federal Power Commission to keep current on the settling of these rate cases—thousands of our citizens are out of work—walking the streets looking for work. The settling of these cases at the present time would supply much needed employment in the Pittsburgh area; therefore be it.

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation to increase the membership of the Federal Power Commission from five members to seven or nine: and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States and the Attorney General of the United States—requesting they use the power of their offices, to help break the backlog of these cases before the Federal Power Commission.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FOX asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have here clippings from the Harrisburg Patriot and the Pittsburgh Press of Tuesday, May 2nd.

I know that a number of you have read these articles and were incensed at their implications. I would like to quote from one and ask that it be printed in the record. The title of this article is: "U. S. Cracks Down on Amish-Farmer's Horses Sold For Taxes."

The article is as follows:

The Government sold Amish farmer Valentine Byler's three work horses to pay his social security taxes.

It even made a profit collecting $460 to cover an unpaid bill of $308.

The Government believes it has found a way to force members of the Amish faith in Lawrence County to save for their old age whether they want to or not. Their religion forbids it.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS), which is charged with the collection of social security payments, estimates that there are more than 250 Amish families in the same boat around New Wilmington and Pulaski.

They don't believe in social security so they won't pay for it.

After yesterday's sale on the farm of J. R. Rick near New Wilmington, W. K. Shaw, of the regional IRS office, sounded like he sensed a solution to the whole problem.

He indicated similar action would be taken against other conscientious objectors against social security.

Why seize their horses? was the question asked of an IRS agent present to watch Mr. Byler's horses sold.

Because they're easiest to keep, he replied.

However, when the Government seizes an Amish farmer's horse the U. S. is taking away his means of earning a living. For the faithful are not allowed to use tractors even though they're all farmers. They don't drive cars either.

Not one of the bearded Amish folks showed up to bid for their brother's horses yesterday. A revenue official was asked why Mr. Byler was singled out to have his horses sold.

"Because he was one of the more aggressive, uncooperative taxpayers," he replied.

This ends the quote from the newspaper article.

The article in the Patriot added that many of these people are planning to sell their farms and move to Canada.

A reliable source has also informed me that the revenue people not only have trouble collecting the tax, but have been frustrated in their persistent efforts to force the Amish to accept benefit checks when entitled to them.

Mr. Speaker, social security is a well established part of our social and economic philosophy and a firmly entrenched activity of our government. It is a program that all of us here, no doubt, support as a means of working people providing, during their productive years, for the later years of their lives. We expect all to pay into this fund who expect later to draw from it.

There are some, such as the Amish sect, who want neither to pay in nor to withdraw. To participate in this sort of government-operated social program is in violation of their religious principles.

Over three centuries ago when settlement of this continent began, many of those coming to these shores were minority religious groups, seeking a place where they were free to worship as they chose. The Quakers who founded Pennsylvania, the Puritans, the Huguenots, the Roman Catholics from certain countries, and numerous other groups found in America a haven from religious persecution.

It has been a fundamental principle in this country to guarantee religious freedom, but the declaration of freedom to worship as one chooses has a hollow, brassy sound when it is not accompanied by the right to live in accord with the beliefs of that religion. I am not only perplexed by what has happened here, but also disappointed to learn that we are no longer the most tolerant of nations but that our good neighbor to the north can now provide sanctuary for minority religious groups oppressed in this County in the name of social progress.

The Amish take care of their own. They ask no help from benevolent, paternalistic government. They seek no subsidies, no relief, no old-age benefits. Their communities and families provide for the ill, the unfortunate, and the aged. They help one another buy their farms. They provide mutual assistance in adversity. If a barn is destroyed by fire, members of the sect for miles around gather to assist in rebuilding it, and similar assistance is given in time of trouble. If the sun is shining today in Lawrence County, I would wager that work is in progress on the farm of Valentine Byler. Neighbors with their horses will see that one who has lost his most valuable asset at the critical season of planting will not be forgotten.

Mr. Speaker, we are more conscious of the rights of minority groups today than ever before. We are all aware of the Supreme Court rulings and related Federal action to end segregated schools. We hear from time to time of sit-in demonstrations in segregated lunch rooms. We, in this session of the General Assembly, have passed fair-housing and fair-education bills. These are all efforts to extend to minority groups the right to participate in and conform to social and educational practices enjoyed by the majority.

Despite our desire to help minorities who want to conform, are we going to oppress minorities who want to be different? Because most of us favor a social program, are we going to let the colossus of big government roll over all who conscientiously object? Has America's flirtation with social experiments reached the point that the individual is no longer of value except as a contributor of tax money? Is freedom of religion valid only so long as it does not suggest that a social program is unacceptable?

Mr. Speaker, in time of war, military service was not required of those who conscientiously objected. I believe that those who for religious reasons object to social security and other social programs and want to receive nothing from them should not be coerced into participation.

I feel Congress should amend the law so that disgraceful actions such as the seizure and sale of these horses are not repeated.

I thank you, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 680, entitled:

An Act amending "The Second Class Township Code," approved May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103), authorizing disturbing the peace to be defined and penalized and providing for disposition of such penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLYNN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, while I realize that the gentleman from Washington is not an attorney, for that sometimes I think he can certainly be thankful, I think, will he not agree with me that the crime of disturbing the peace is defined in our penal statutes and has also been further defined by case law decided on that subject?

Mr. FLYNN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Will the gentleman tell me, therefore, why he and the sponsors of this bill feel that borough council or second-class townships should have further authority to define this particular act?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that the second-class township code, under section 702, article XLII, under the title of public safety, the township commissioners have the power now. All this does, in effect, is to clarify divisions of the present code which says this, and I quote: "Public Safety. To take all legal means of securing the safety of persons or property within the township including the control of disorderly practices." What this does, in effect, is to spell out, or clarify what is determined as disorderly practices.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman then, is he not confusing the crime of disturbing the peace with what is usually taken care of under local ordinances under the title "disorderly conduct"?

Mr. FLYNN. Let me put it this way, Mr. Speaker:

In view of the fact that I am a layman and assuming that I am a township supervisor, naturally it would be my responsibility to have a man learned in the law, such as the gentleman from York County, and before an ordinance could be adopted, naturally, I would consult with my solicitor. Therefore, I am quite certain that the solicitor would not suggest anything to the township supervisors that would be in conflict with the penal code. And, if I may add this, Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill whereby the ordinances would spell out "disturbing the peace," the fines received would go into the township instead of to the State.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, it would seem to me that this particular piece of legislation serves no useful purpose, and, on the other hand, it may very well have some harmful effect. I say that for these reasons:

The crime of disturbing the peace is well defined in our penal statutes and by case law which has been decided over the course of many, many years. Just what disturbing the peace consists of, therefore, is a well-known quantity in the law, and if someone is guilty of disturbing the peace, they are arrested and, if they are convicted, they are fined, and the fines go, as they do in all provisions under the penal code, not to the individual subdivision, but to the county or the Commonwealth as the case may be.

It seems to me that we have two evils coming about by this which are these:

First, we are chipping away at our general structure of the law whereby criminal acts and any fines therefrom do not go to the municipal subdivision unless they are in the form of ordinances or local laws solely. I think this is wrong because it lends itself to many abuses. Once township supervisors find they can pass an ordinance defining disturbing of the peace and have the fine for this infraction go into the township treasury, I think you are going to find there will be a lot more people arrested for disturbing the peace than there has been heretofore.

The second thing is this: It puts it completely within the power of the township supervisors to decide just what is "disturbing the peace." I do not know about the rest of the members in this General Assembly, but I would much prefer the court and our own legislature here and the penal statutes to define just what crime I am committing when I disturb the peace, and not some group of supervisors down in a township somewhere having their ordinance enforced by the township constable and local peace officers.

I think, therefore, it would be possible under this act to define looking cross-eyed at a police officer as being disturbing the peace. If it gives them the power completely to define this, I think it places entirely too much power in their hands and it lends itself to abuses. I suggest strongly, therefore, Mr. Speaker, that this legislation should be defeated.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in order to take exception to some of the remarks made by the gentleman from York County. It has been said, I am told, that the majority of the solicitors for these townships are in favor of this piece of legislation in view of the fact, as I said before, that it clarifies the provisions.

On the other hand, there are some solicitors, perhaps, or some members of the legal profession who would be opposed to such. And there have been cases, I am told, whereby somebody arrested in the townships for disorderly practices has been brought to trial, and some of our more enlightened attorneys, I might say, would prefer the authority's practices as now written. These enlightened attorneys would say, Mr. Speaker, that his client did not endanger the safety of persons or properties. In other words, the act that he may have been doing did not have any affect upon the personal property and endanger other peoples' lives.

In conclusion I might say this, it has been the request of any number of attorneys and bailiffs and particularly solicitors for the townships. If this is adopted into law it will not conflict with the provisions of the penal code or the State laws in any respect in regard to disorderly conduct.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Piper.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from Berks?

Mr. GAILEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks will proceed.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I believe York is a third-class city. Is it true that the city of York has local ordinances defining such a bill as this?

Mr. GAILEY. The city of York has no ordinance defining disturbing the peace. The city of York does have a disorderly conduct ordinance which is already permitted in second-class townships under the code.

Mr. PIPER. They do arrest and fine people under this same ordinance, and that fine does go to the city of York, does it not?

Mr. GAILEY. All fines for the violation of a local ordinance defining disorderly conduct go to the city of York. We have no such ordinance defining disturbing the peace, because this would be an infringement upon our penal code.

Mr. PIPER. I am not an attorney, Mr. Speaker, but I wish the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey would give us a definition of "disturbing the peace" and "disorderly conduct."

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that this is germane to the bill before us, and, even though I like to think of myself as ordinarily qualified in the practice of law, I do not think I am qualified today without resorting to the books to tell the gentleman specifically what "disturbing the peace" is and the difference between it and "disorderly conduct."

Mr. PIPER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I come from a second-class township. Our second class code already gives these supervisors the opportunity to enact certain regulations and ordinances. I believe only because of this second class township code townships are trying to enact the same type of ordinance that our third-class cities have. I urge everybody to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 23 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, House bill No. 1165.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1165, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951, (P. L. 90) authorizing issuance of special temporary permits for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages at certain sporting events under certain conditions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey, desire recognition?

Mr. HEAVEY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, as I interpret this bill, it is pin-pointed for Philadelphia for sporting events, 25,000 seating capacity and up, for the sale of beer. I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will one of the sponsors of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, the University of Pennsylvania has Franklin Field with 50,000 seats. Do you know if they are in favor of this bill?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to provide the Phillies major league baseball team an opportunity to have beer served in their ballpark. Within the next two years they will move to a new stadium in the Torresdale section of Philadelphia, and, in answer to the gentleman's question, the intent of the bill is not to apply to the stadium at the University of Pennsylvania. The capacity of Franklin Field at the University of Pennsylvania is some 70,000. Being an alumnus of that institution I know that. I would also assure the gentleman that the management of the University of Pennsylvania would not consider serving beer in Franklin Field and we have no desire or intent to compel them to do so.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, the city of Philadelphia has a stadium that seats 100,000 people. Do you know whether they are in favor of this bill?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, this bill was prepared by the law department of the city of Philadelphia. In answer to the gentleman's question, the last time this bill came up, in the last session, it specifically provided that this operation would take place in baseball parks only. Upon further study and reconsideration the thought was that the term "baseball parks" might amount to special legislation and it was felt for the bill to be constitutional that the definition be used as it appears in the present bill. It is possible, Mr. Speaker, that professional athletes may operate in the municipal stadium in Philadelphia and it is possible that a permit might be issued there, but certainly there is no present intention on the part of the sponsors that any such consequence should follow.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, I understand one of the main purposes of this bill is to take care of the safety hazard and to sell beer in paper containers so that beer cans will not be thrown around the park at people and to be cleaned up after the game. Is that so?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, certainly one of the most important features of the bill, is that we want to help prevent the tossing of cans and bottles on the baseball field. Further I would answer, Mr. Speaker, that upon talking to the Phillies' management within the last few weeks they informed me that there have been many, many cases where patrons in the stands have been injured by bottles and cans that have been thrown. Certainly, Mr. Speaker, the safety feature is one of the most important reasons for the bill.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, why cannot the Phillies' management stop people from bringing beer cans into the park now?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the Phillies' management does, we believe, have the power to prevent people from bringing beer into the ball park now. However, if they were to do so they are very much concerned, very much concerned, that the attendance would be severely dropped or restricted. Now, sir, if beer can be served on the premises in paper cups only, the attendance certainly will not drop and we will have no different a situation than we have now, but a better one in fact.

Mr. HEAVEY. That is the end of my interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, the bill goes on to say that a $25 application fee and a $100 license fee is required, or, I think, 77 games scheduled by the Phillies, under the Liquor Control Board. Now, that is about one dollar and a half a game. Now, the Liquor Board is certainly working poorly on that one.

It also says in the bill that beer will only be sold to adults. Now, I can picture a vendor going up and down the aisle passing paper cups of beer up to about ten or fifteen seats and, if some kids will not get a hold of that beer, I do not know why, and I do not think the vendor would care very much about whether the kids got hold of it anyway, because he is working on commission; the more beer he would sell, the more he makes. Mr. Speaker, the Pittsburgh World Champion Pirates baseball team do not come in here in this chamber and ask for the privilege of selling beer. I understand that they would not sell beer. They will not have any part of it. Now, Mr. Speaker, times have changed since you and I were a boy.

The SPEAKER. And how.

Mr. HEAVEY. The smart thing to do today is to take a whiskey flask on your hip to a football game and a can of beer to a baseball game. Now, you cannot stop people from drinking, but I do not believe that anybody should come into this chamber and ask us to set up something for selling beer that is likely to get into the hands of the kids enjoying a baseball game and contaminate those kids, I just cannot see it.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, presently patrons of the games of the Phillies are very apt to bring large containers or bottles or cans of beer into the ball park. People being normally thrifty, when they bring bottles and cans in, they want to drink up everything they have. We think by permitting beer to be served on the premises that actually less beer will be consumed and that we will have less of a carnival atmosphere that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey, is concerned about.

The gentleman is quite concerned about the possibility that beer might be sold to children by careless vendors. The gentleman has, evidently, not studied the liquor laws. The liquor code is quite specific in saying that there can be no hawking of beer. The way the liquor code presently reads it would be unlawful, in my opinion, for any hawking or serving of this description to be made by any vendors or any salesmen of any kind.

I would say, further, that in Philadelphia, at least, the Liquor Control Board through its agents is extremely fastidious about enforcing liquor code violations. I feel certain, Mr. Speaker, that there will be Liquor Control Board agents at every game, and, if there is any evidence of sales of the kind that the gentleman from Philadelphia is concerned about, citations will follow and the consequences of violating the liquor code will follow as far as the licensee is concerned.

I would say, further, that a renaissance has been taking place in the city of Philadelphia, and certainly part of that renaissance includes the removal of the Phillies from their present antiquated facilities to a brand new ball park. Now prices being what they are, for the Phillies to undertake their new project they will be required to expend some $500,000 per year for rental of the new ball park. In order to pay that, they will have to increase their attendance very substantially. It seems to me that the least we can do is provide them with some source of rapid income to help bring this new modern facility to the city of Philadelphia. I ask everyone on both sides of the aisle to vote for the bill.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I have in my hand the morning edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer. The Pittsburgh Pirates are in first place; the Phillies are in last place.

Last year we prevented beer from going to the ball park by the vountary action of the Pittsburgh baseball club. We solved that problem. Our baseball players and our ball team improved; also, the moral conditions in the ball park. The Phillies can solve their safety problems by getting in touch with the Pittsburgh management and prohibiting anybody from bringing beer into the ball park. I say that all members on both sides of the House should not give this wonderful deal to the millionaires' ball club for $100 a year, when the poor restaurant man around the corner has to spend $600 a year for only four or five customers at a time. What kind of legislation is this?

I also warn you, if you pass this bill, next year you will pass a bill for Pittsburgh; then you will pass one for Scranton; then you will pass one for Allentown. We get along without beer in the ball parks.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, the previous speaker stated that we had solved our problem in Pittsburgh. I do not know where he gets that information, because I have had person after person tell me they leave the ball game and in many cases will not go to the ball game because of the people bringing in sack after sack of bottled beer and canned beer. The baseball people are trying to eliminate that. We are trying to go forward; we do not want to hang back in the road all the time. People pay to see these games. We have good attendance there and the right people coming, but we are keeping them away by letting them handle beer.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Eilberg or someone on the other side of the House in regard to this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker,

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, one of the main reasons for this bill is to get more customers in the Phillies' ball park. I wonder if there is any insurance that they will get more customers in the ball park if the bill is passed?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I would not agree with the gentleman that one of the main purposes is to bring more customers to the ball park. I think the fact that beer is sold will cause the same people, perhaps more, to come. This will be an incidental consequence.

Mr. McINROY. The gentleman would say that there is no assurance that there would be more customers?

Mr. EILBERG. No, sir.

Mr. McINROY. Would it be possible that some customers might be offended by the sale of beer and might stay away?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker. I think, to the contrary, the policing situation would be far better under 1165 if it were enacted into law. We would not have people bringing in bottles and cans and tossing them around and consuming everything that they have on their persons. What we propose is a much, much more orderly procedure.

Mr. McINROY. Did the gentleman ever hear of the riot in Chicago three or four years ago because of a number of customers who had imbibed too freely at that game?

Mr. EILBERG. I have not.

Mr. McINROY. I thank the gentleman.

I would like to say that there is no assurance, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, has stated that there will be more customers at the Phillies' ball park because they are permitted to sell beer. It is quite possible that many people who do not like beer and who do not like to be interrupted by those around them, who might have too much beer, might stay away from the Phillies' ball park. It is also true, as has been stated by Mr. Heavey, that it would make a poor environment for children and a lot of people do not care for it.

I also agree with my colleague that the Phillies do not need more beer, but a better ball team. On television I watched the Phillies play the night before last and they lost by a score of three to two they again lost yesterday by the same score. Two or three good ball players on that team added to what they have might make a difference there which beer would not alter.

It is also true, if we permit the foot in the door in Philadelphia, the foot will be pushed in the door all over Pennsylvania, not only in ball parks of 25,000, but the next thing there would be someone come in here with an amendment to bring it down to practically any athletic contest, or any gathering of any kind in Pennsylvania. We would be subjected to that, also.

I maintain that the best way is to stop this right now, keep out the beer and those who are causing trouble, and make baseball all athletic—for the game itself—and not for selling beer or for some other reason. Therefore I ask both sides of the House to vote it down.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I would emphasize, in summary, that House bill 1165 applies only where professional athletes compete. It applies only to the city of Philadelphia, and I think that the fears of the gentleman, the last speaker, are unfounded.

I would say to you further, Mr. Speaker, with this opportunity that the Phillies baseball team needs so badly, that is, the move they are making into new quarters, and the added burdens they have, with additional income, there is no question that they will have a better team and that the Phillies may one day be right with and perhaps superior to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Thank you very much.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of this measure. I do not drink any beer. I go to the ball park and I hate like the devil to sit beside a fellow opening a can or a bottle and splashing me and my wife. I do not see anything wrong in this bill. If a fellow does not want to drink beer, nobody is going to compel him to drink beer. Just give Philadelphia a little break on this situation. Thank you.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to kill this bill by talking it to death, but at the same time there are a few pertinent observations I would like to make with respect to it.

When this bill was before the House in the last session of the legislature, I can recall quite distinctly the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, having a front-page piece of news in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin showing a picture of the terrible condition of the Phillies' baseball park one Sunday afternoon with cans, empty beer cans, strewn throughout the park. He made a pitch for the enactment of this legislation, if for no other reason than that it was a safety measure.

Someone just handed me a card, Mr. Speaker, "My mind is made up. Don't confuse me with the facts." I think that might be very difficult in many debates before the House.

To make a personal observation, I can go out, Mr. Speaker, and attend a banquet and indulge in the drinking of intoxicating beverages, but there are many men here who far surpass me and yet they vote against any liquor bill that comes before the House, despite their personal taste because apparently it makes heroes of them back home. That might be all right, but I say it is not statesmanship.

What I would like to bring out, Mr. Speaker, with respect to the merits of this bill is that we are living in a realistic society and if there is one thing that should be clear here today it is the fact that if this bill is not passed, or if this bill is passed, there is still going to be beer used in the Phillies' baseball park. The only distinction is that now they bring beer in in cans, whereas if this is passed, unquestionably it will be sold and distributed in paper cups. Regardless of what action you take today, beer is going to be drunk in the Phillies' baseball park.

Another thing, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey, pointed out that children in ball parks are going to be exposed to this, and I quote, "evil." As far as an evil is concerned, it is a very lucrative evil for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when you come to tax revenues, and I notice whenever there is any bill to increase the profits on the sale of alcoholic or brewed beverages, there is one chorus of "ayes" in favor of that. I do not think it is necessarily an evil. It is an overindulgence that might be an evil, but nevertheless we do not close up taprooms because children are subjected to that environment and yet we allow children in taprooms, and I do not know how many tavern owners I have represented who have been cited by the Liquor Control Board because of sales to minors. So, certainly Mr. Heavey's argument is not valid. If it were, then we should stop the sale of liquor and malt beverages in Pennsylvania entirely.

One more thing, Mr. Speaker, one of the arguments made in behalf of the bill in the past session of the legislature was that it will help the Philadelphia Phillies utilize some revenue. They are not going to make a fortune, but there was a serious question two years ago about the Phillies moving from Philadelphia over to Delaware Township in New Jersey, and I, for one, and most other members of the General Assembly felt that the city of Philadelphia, being the only first-class city in the State of Pennsylvania, ought to be able to support and to do everything possible to retain a professional baseball team.

If there is a serious question about revenue, and if this bill will enable the Philadelphia Phillies to realize additional income, then I say that we ought to give them the opportunity of making that extra revenue.

But, in voting yes or no, I want you to realize for the last time that even if the bill is not passed, there is still going to be beer brought into the park in cans. If the bill is passed that practice will be stopped. In any event, there is going to be beer in the ball park. Thank you.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is not present legislation which prohibits the frequenting of premises by minors where intoxicants are sold?

Mr. EILBERG. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ADAMS. If such is the case, will that not prohibit minors from frequenting the ball parks where it is sold if this should become law?

Mr. EILBERG. I do not think so, Mr. Speaker. I think there would be no intention on the part of this legislation to prohibit children from going to baseball games.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, whether that is the intent or not, if such is the law, I do not see how it could be ruled otherwise. But, nevertheless, there are other pertinent factors that are important in this and I think one of them that is not the least important is the fact that the people who are paying hundreds of dollars for a license are going to be deprived of the revenue they would be getting in legitimate business; and I feel that the youngsters should not be exposed to this in the ball park. I also feel that, perhaps, the solution of the safety factor is an angle on this due to bottles and cans being thrown around, but we do not just put in a lesser evil to replace another evil. Perhaps, the solution is to prohibit having it there in the park at all, which worked so successfully in Pittsburgh.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1259, entitled:

An Act relating to State highways roads and bridges and certain use thereof amending revising consolidating and changing the laws administered by the Secretary of Highways and by the Department of Highways relating thereto establishing the State Highway System providing for the construction, abandonment and vacation of State highways and placing of existing roads and bridges on the State Highway System * * *.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. A. M. LEE asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "bridges" imposing duties on the Secretary of Highways relative to construction projects

Amend Table of Contents, page 4, eleventh line of Table of Contents by striking out "Construction and Maintenance Program" and inserting Capital Program for Highways

Amend Sec. 606, page 28, lines 3 to 9, by striking out "Construction and Maintenance Program The secretary" in line 3 all of lines 4 to 9, and inserting

(a) The following words and terms as used in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Construction" shall include construction improvement and betterment and planning engineering and right-of-way acquisition pertaining thereto.

"Highways" shall include bridges, tunnels and related structures necessary to provide a roadway for vehicular traffic.

(b) The Secretary of Highways shall submit to the Budget Secretary in the same manner and on the same date as prescribed by law for the budget estimates a proposed capital program of highway construction to be undertaken in the ensuing fiscal year and each of the five succeeding fiscal years. Said program shall cover all funds to be expended from the Motor License Fund for the period in question.

The program shall include for each project a brief description indicating the location and type of improvement to be made and an estimate of the total cost of the project and the status of planning, engineering and right-of-way acquisition for the project. Said program shall further include with reference to each such project the present and anticipated types and volumes of traffic classified as to inter-community regional, inter-regional and inter-state.

For the ensuing fiscal year the proposed program shall account for all of the construction funds requested in the budget estimate for such fiscal period, provided that in the discretion of the Secretary of Highways not more than ten per cent of the funds in the proposed program in the ensuing year may be allocated to a miscellaneous or unspecified category.

The Secretary of Highways shall subdivide the construction program into sub-programs based on Federal-aid category of the construction project and such other categories as may be reasonably required.

(c) The Budget Secretary shall, under the direction of the Governor, examine and verify the proposed program of highway construction. The Secretary of Highways shall submit to the Budget Secretary any additional information which the Budget Secretary shall require for such examination.

(d) The Governor may make alterations in the proposed program of highway construction before he approves it, provided that the program of highway construction approved by the Governor for the ensuing fiscal year is in full conformity with the budget of the Department of Highways approved by the Governor for the ensuing fiscal year.

(e) The Governor shall submit the proposed program of highway construction to the General Assembly together with a proposed budget for the Department of Highways.

(f) The General Assembly before enacting the budget for the Department of Highways shall by concurrent resolution adopt such capital program of highway construction for said six-year period either with or without further modification. Upon approval of such resolution and program in writing by the Governor, such program for the fiscal year ensuing submission shall have the force of law and there shall be no deviations therefrom, provided, however, that with the written approval of the Governor the amount allocated to any specific project may be increased by as much as ten per cent, such increase to be made by transfer from another project amount or from the sum for unspecified projects hereinabove provided. With the approval of the Governor, the fund for unspecified projects may be increased by transfer from authorized projects in such amount as may be required to meet genuine emergencies.

(g) The Secretary of Highways shall submit final plans and specifications for all highway construction projects to the Governor's office for certification that the project is in conformity with the adopted program prior to solicitation of bids.

(h) Four months after the end of each fiscal year, the Secretary of Highways shall submit a report to the Governor and the General Assembly showing the construction program as originally adopted by the General Assembly, the expenditures and extent of progress on projects which were undertaken and the modifications made in the program in the course of the year.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, for the purpose of discussing his amendments.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, these amendments are offered for the purpose of writing in House bill 1259, which is the so-called highway code, a requirement that the Secretary of Highways must submit to the budget secretary, to the Governor, and to the General Assembly, a capital program for highway construction. That capital program would be for the six years in the future after it was submitted. It would be submitted to the budget secretary at the same time as the budget estimates are required to be submitted.

The budget secretary could request additional information from the Secretary of Highways. It would then be subject to approval by the Governor and he would have the right to modify it. It would then be required to be submitted by the Governor to the General Assembly. The General Assembly would have the right to make further modifications in the capital budget of the Highway Department.

Now, when the General Assembly finally approves the capital budget and the budget was again approved by the Governor, the first year of it would have the force of law; the five remaining years of the six-year period would be advisory only.

The amendment would spell out the nature of the information that is required to be included in this capital budget. It would have to account for all sums to be expended from the motor license fund.

After the budget was approved there could be no deviations from it by the Secretary of Highways with the exception that he would be permitted to transfer up to ten percent of the fund from any authorized project to another authorized project to meet unanticipated increases in costs or other contingencies. In addition to which it would be possible for a transfer to be made from the unallocated portion of the highway budget up to ten percent of that amount for the purpose of meeting genuine emergencies if those emergencies arose and they were certified in writing by the Governor.

Now I do not want to go into a long harangue about the need for capital budgeting. I can only say that as far as these amendments are concerned they would write into the highway code the principle of capital planning for the State Department of Highways, which is something that we do not have at the present time.

The adoption of these amendments and the passage of this bill would provide that high degree of public visibility that is so desirable in the expenditure of capital funds by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This procedure would inform the general public, the members of the General Assembly, the press and all interested citizen agencies as to just exactly where these highway funds are going. I think that is even more important today when we have just recently completed action resulting in a 40 percent increase in the State gasoline tax, and I think the people of Pennsylvania are entitled to know where these highways are going to be built and when they are going to be built.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I would just like to quote to the members of the House a little bit of language from the capital budget message which was sent to us in March by the Governor of the Commonwealth. In his message he said as follows:

It must be pointed out that we have not yet achieved the total pattern of capital budgeting for the Commonwealth. I would hope that in the years to come future administrations and future legislatures will apply this same useful principle in the State highway program and in the allocation of State aid to such important capital investments as those we make.

So I say to the members of the House these amendments would bring about something that everyone will agree is a desirable procedure as far as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is concerned, and even though the Governor expresses the hope that this may be done in the future, I say now is the time to do it, and I certainly hope that all the members will support these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I rise to oppose the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee. I wish to point out that if these amendments would become a part of this bill they would seriously tie the hands of the Secretary of the Highways. In fact if they were taken to their logical conclusion, it would, in any event, make the operation of the department with respect to the planning of the highway system in this Commonwealth impossible. Let me point out first, that Federal funds—and, as all members of the House know, the Commonwealth is depending for a large part of their highway funds on Federal participation—would be practically impossible under a six-year capital budget because Federal funds are only allocated on an advance of two years.

Number two, if the capital budget were explicated or extended for six years, the cost of land acquisition would skyrocket. If everyone in the Commonwealth knew six years in advance where the highways were going to be located, then certainly the land speculators would move in and, although the costs of obtaining rights-of-way are extremely high, they would be double, triple, or quadruple.

Number three, as we all know, there are times when the highway department is faced with an emergency. They must temporarily abandon one project because of a serious flood, because a bridge has been washed out; they have to convert funds. And in the event that this capital budget of six years is made part of the bill, this would be an impossibility.

Number four, I think the adoption of these amendments would provide that there could be no deviation from the highway network as prescribed by the secretary. It provides that the secretary, for a good cause, would not be able to abandon a project that he had in mind. There may be several reasons why the locality, the tentative times, or for any reason it may be advisable to abandon the project. So for these reasons which I think are very good, I ask every member of the House to oppose the amendments.

Mr. HEAVEY. The six-year program that my friend from the great district of Roxborough, and Manayunk, talks about, I do not see how you could put it into operation, because in the highway department there is generally about thirteen years of road work planned ahead. And as they go along they have to pick out the roads that are most important, where people should be put to work, and also they have to gee-in with the money we receive from Washington. One instance is our Schuylkill Expressway. That road is the greatest thing that ever happened to Philadelphia. It is the greatest improvement, and now after a couple of years it is loaded with traffic. They either have to widen it or they have to build an alternate road through Manayunk. Now, if we had a six-year program, technically devised, something like that could not be done; yet it is something that must be done.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Just briefly in reply to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Speaker. I would like to point out on the question of a six-year program, it is my understanding at the present time they are planning ten years in advance in the Department of Highways. Now, the only thing that I am asking here is that that information not be held secret, that it should be shared with us, the members of the General Assembly, and also with the general public. Because as I said before, I think they are entitled to know where their money is going to go.

Let me say also on the question of tying the hands of the Secretary of Highways, that is not so; he is the one who will develop this capital program and present it to us and it will be naturally up to him to justify the validity of anything that is included, and that is as it should be. He should be required to justify any construction projects that are put on the drawing board as far as Pennsylvania is concerned.

As far as land acquisition is concerned, I do not agree with the gentleman that it is going to lead to speculation because if these plans are now drawn ten years in advance, somebody must know where the highways are going to go and where they are going to be located.

On the question of the Federal funds, it may be true that there is only a lead time of two years on Federal funds, but it requires a number of years in advance of that two-year period for the State of Pennsylvania to determine which projects are to be submitted and to put the plans into practice, and I do not believe that would impede the Secretary of Highways in drawing his capital budget in any way. So again, on the question of diversion of funds, if the gentleman has read the amendments carefully, he will find that funds up to 10 percent of any authorized project may be transferred to any other project amount, or the sum for unspecified projects may be increased by transfer from authorized projects in such amount as may be required to meet genuine emergencies. I think these are good amendments, and I request their adoption.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, just a brief reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee. He is mistaken when he says that the department has plans for 10 years in the future. That is not true. I might point out, as you well know, that the secretary has expressed a desire, that is to say that he has indicated, that certain highways over the next 10 years should be built, but that is a far cry from saying that plans for 10 years have been established.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER. In view of the importance of these amendments, does the majority leader suggest a roll call?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, he had requested, and it was my understanding, that it would be automatically a roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, it is not my desire to take too much time of the House this afternoon on discussion of House bill 1259.

Two years ago we had an almost similar bill on our calendar at which time we went into very lengthy interrogation and very lengthy debate and the bill was defeated on two occasions. With some modification we have almost the identical bill on the calendar this afternoon. I will take an expression from the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb, when he said that the amendments that were offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, would tie the hands of the Secretary of Highways. I say to you that with the enactment of House bill 1259 in its present form it will do just the opposite—it will untie the hands of the Secretary of Highways. It gives him almost unlimited powers in the performance of his functions as Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth, probably more power than any other administrative officer in this Commonwealth.

I have every confidence in the world in the present Secretary of Highways. I think he is a man who is doing an excellent job. I would hope that every secretary of highways that we might have in this Commonwealth would be just as diligent in his duties, but to me it seems there is always the danger of getting someone in that office who might abuse the powers that he is given under this bill. The bill is offered to us under the guise of a codification of the highway laws. If it did just that, I would be the first one to stand on this floor and support it. But I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that it goes much further than that.

It gives the Secretary of Highways almost unlimited power in the condemnation for the obtaining of property and for the disposal of that property in case they do not need it. Now the bill has been made somewhat more powerful, perhaps, in the last few days by the addition of some few amendments, but in spite of that—and as I say I do not want to take too much of the time of the House to get into the various ramifications of the bill—I would ask the members on our side of the House to vote against this bill.

I am sure that on the other side of the House they have made up their minds how they are going to vote. I do not believe if I talked for the next hour or hour and a half I would change many votes. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly happy to allow the bill to come to a vote right now.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak for the bill. The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to ask the members of both sides to support this bill.

This bill, for the most part, is composed of existing law now in effect. The repeal section is obsolete law and no longer needed. The one big new section is the acquisition of property and procedures for condemnation of fee simple titles. This condemnation legislation was passed in a single bill last session by this House by a vote of 196 to 1. This is the same procedure that we allow the turnpike commission to use but deny to our own highway department. There have been five basic surveys in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in these five studies that have taken place by the Federal, State and other agencies since 1947, everyone of those studies, including the last two, the 1950 Automotive Safety Foundation, and the Campbell report of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, strenuously ask that Pennsylvania adopt this condemnation procedure. I know this is needed legislation and I ask the members on both sides of the House to support this bill.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, just a few words on this bill. It is a very large bill, it contains quite a bit, but as the gentleman said most of it is a codification of existing laws. I have to agree with the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, that this bill does give the secretary more power. But, if we are going to have the highway system that we need in this State, if we are going to, in a sense, put an end to the strangulation that our cities are facing, if we are going to have a wide-open system and make travel easy and profitable in this State, we are going to have to give the Secretary of Highways broad powers.

I might say this, Mr. Speaker, if in the opinion of this legislature at such time in the future as we feel that the highway secretary has overstepped and has overreached his powers, this legislature that gave him that power can take that power away.

With those few words I would ask the members of the House to vote in favor of this legislation.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, let me just say a word in connection with this bill as it now stands on the calendar.

There are, as has been indicated, a number of things in this bill for which I worked very hard in the last session, giving the Secretary certain additional powers which I think he should have in connection with the execution of the highways program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I agree with the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, that in many instances these things go too far in other respects aside from those for which I worked.

But, I again come back to the question of planning. The gentleman from Allegheny admits that this bill gives the Secretary very wide powers. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, referred to five studies that have been made of the highway program in the State of Pennsylvania. I have here an analysis of those five studies with which I have been familiar for quite a long time. Let me read to you what the 1958-1960 Report of the Pennsylvania Economy League said of the Bureau of Municipal Research in Philadelphia. "Without long range plans for State highways, road planning at the county and local level becomes an exercise in futility."

Mr. Speaker, the defeat of my amendment which would require long-range capital planning in the highway department is sufficient basis, aside from the other reasons which I have cited, as to why I feel we should vote against this particular bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 51

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 51.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1961.

Whereas, The United States has assumed an obligation with its good neighbor the Government of Canada to contribute its full share toward the successful operation of the St. Lawrence Seaway-Great Lakes Shipping Route and

Whereas, The only existing navigable facility connecting lakes Erie and Ontario is the Welland Canal which has been sorely pressed to meet the increasing demands of shipping and

Whereas, The construction of an alternate ship canal would make a major contribution to the security of the United States as well as Canada because

(1) In the event of breakdown or destruction of the existing Welland Canal the commerce of the entire Great Lake's area of the United States and Canada west of Lake Ontario would be denied access by water transportation to the St. Lawrence Seaway and international shipping lanes

(2) It would provide a more secure inland route for the movement of iron ore in the event of war

(3) It would ease the strain on congested rail facilities and east coast ports in the time of emergency and

(4) It would allow the construction and repair of ocean-going vessels in the more secure areas of the Great Lakes and

Whereas The construction of the canal would contribute greatly to the prosperity of commerce industry and agriculture not only in those states bordering the Great Lakes but throughout the entire nation and

Whereas The commerce of the lake port of Erie Pennsylvania would be increased by the benefits accruing to the St Lawrence Seaway-Great Lakes Shipping Route and

Whereas The construction of the canal would stabilize employment provide job security and expand job opportunities therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) that the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully memorializes the President and Congress of the United States immediately to provide adequate funds to the United States Army Corps of Engineers for the necessary surveys and plans for and to initiate the construction of the canal as aforesaid and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted as follows

To the President of the United States

To the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress and to each member thereof from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

To the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania To the Secretary of Commerce of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

To the Governors and State Legislative Leaders of the States of New York Ohio Michigan Indiana Illinois Wisconsin and Minnesota

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 53

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 53.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1961.

A National Civil War Centennial Commission to which Pennsylvania belongs has been appointed to supervise the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of that war

The Commission has planned to meet in session at Charleston South Carolina This meeting originated at the invitation of the South Carolina unit of the Commission

A member of the National Commission Mrs. Madeline A. Williams also a member of the Commission's New Jersey unit is a negro She was informed by a hotel in Charleston South Carolina that if she arrived with the other members of the Commission for the Charleston meeting on April 11 and 12 she could not stay at that hotel which is to be headquarters for the National Commission nor could she eat at the hotel dining room with the other members

One hundred years after the onset of the Civil War some of the conditions still exist which led to that historic struggle which cost the lives of thousands of white and negro soldiers

Pennsylvanians gave their lives in the struggle to unify this country Pennsylvania was the battleground for part of this great war and Pennsylvania must not now participate in any activity which negates the very purposes for which the men died from 1861 to 1865 therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby condemns the action of the Charleston South Carolina hotel in refusing its accommodations to Mrs. Williams and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby requests the members of the Pennsylvania Unit of the National Civil War Centennial Commission to refuse to participate in any activities of the National Civil War Centennial Commission which involves discrimination against any one of its members and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Honorable David L. Lawrence Governor of Pennsylvania to the National Civil War Centennial Commission and to the Pennsylvania unit of that Commission

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 54

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 54.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1961.

Whereas, Arab nations functioning as the Arab League have been conducting a boycott of American citizens business and industry and have blacklisted all American ships which have touched at Israeli ports of call and

Whereas, American citizens of the Jewish faith are generally not permitted to disembark on Arab soil by land sea or air and are generally excluded from private employment in any capacity in any Arab owned or controlled company and

Whereas, Approximately 500 American business firms a number of them in Pennsylvania during 1960 received warnings through the United States mails from Arab boycott officers in Damascus and Kuwait that if Americans have commercial dealings with Israel they must forego doing business with Arab countries and

Whereas, The United States Navy reserves the option to cancel the charter of any vessel carrying Navy cargo if any Arab country refuses to allow the vessel to load or unload cargo because the ship's charterers or owners have previously done business with Israel and

Whereas With the approval of the Department of Agriculture Commodity Credit Corporation and the United States Navy contracts for the shipment of United States surplus wheat to the United Arab Republic provide that the vessel may not have traded at Israeli ports and

Whereas, Both the Democratic Party platform and the Republican Party platform of 1960 pledged the protection of the rights of American citizens to travel to pursue lawful trade and to engage in other lawful activities abroad without distinction as to race or religion and to seek an end to transit and trade restrictions blockades and blacklists and further pledged to secure freedom of navigation on international waterways therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Department of State be hereby respectfully memorialized to take a firm position against Arab interference in the conduct of the affairs of American citizens and business and to abstain from any cooperation with Arab League boycott activities and policies and to resist any efforts by Arab nations to maintain or widen its boycott activities in Pennsylvania and the United States and to exert all possible efforts and utilize its resources to the fulfillment of the spirit and purposes of this Resolution and be it further

Resolved, That the President of the United States restate the position of the United States in opposition to these acts of discrimination against Americans and that he instruct the United States delegation to the United Nations to make known the sentiments expressed in this resolution in every possible manner and be it further

Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States the Secretary of State the President of the United States Senate the Speaker of House of Representatives to each member of Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the legislatures of the states in the United States

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 59

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 59.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 20, 1961.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives direct the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough study of municipal and county pension systems. This study to include, but shall not be limited to, an investigation and study as to:

1. The adequacy of the municipal and county pension systems.
2. The actuarial soundness of these pension systems.
3. The cost and coverage of the administration of these systems; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report the result of its studies and make recommendations to the first session of the 1962 General Assembly.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 61

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Resolution No. 61.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1961.

Whereas, The Governor's Committee on Education sets forth the various problems presently facing the schools of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The solution of some of these school problems require legislation that is some legislation in the general field of education and some legislation in the field of taxation; and

Whereas, The legislative process takes time and thought, consideration and debate in order to arrive at the finished product of a law; and

Whereas, The earlier the House of Representatives can take up these problems the sooner their legislative solution can be arrived at; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a House Committee of four members of the Democratic Party and four members of the Republican Party to consider the necessary legislation required to solve the school problems as set forth in the Report of the Governor's Committee on Education; and be it further

Resolved, That the said House Committee shall from time to time meet with a similarly constituted committee of the Senate so that they may jointly determine the legislative program which in their opinion will constitute the legislative goals of this session in the field of school legislation.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to yield to Mr. Dengler, of Delaware County, but I would like to be recognized later.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know if my speech is going to change anybody's mind, but I have certain ideas on this particular resolution which I would like to present.

First of all, I looked at the names of the members on this Governor's committee headed by my good friend of long standing, the Honorable John Morgan Davis, and I do not believe that anywhere in the State of Pennsylvania could you find a committee that is better fitted to study the needs of education than this particular committee. I think the report that the committee made was an outstanding report.

When educators get together, or when laymen get together, or when legislators get together, I do not think you will ever find them agreeing 100 percent on things having to do with education.

I just listed three categories here, so far as educational procedures are concerned. There are some educators who prefer to teach homogeneous groups; there are other educators who prefer to teach heterogeneous groups. We have some people who like to grade according to the normal curve. We have other educators who prefer to grade according to the standards set up by the subject material itself. We have some educators and laymen, parents, who think reading should be taught according to the Gestalt method, and we have others who think reading should be taught according to the phonetic method.

What I am trying to establish here is this: I do not care how many committees you appoint, you will never have agreement in this nebulous area of education.

I want you to really ponder these points because I think they are worthy of serious consideration. I believe the appointment of a second committee, in the minds of the general public, will dilute the findings and recommendations of the Governor's committee.

Secondly, I believe the appointment of this second committee will, in some measure perhaps—I am not saying this as a certainty—but in some measure they might make recommendations that are not in keeping with the Governor's committee's recommendations. That may sound far-fetched, but, knowing education to some degree, I really believe that this second committee might come up with some ideas that might not be in keeping with the Governor's committee's recommendations.

The third point, the appointment of this second committee—and this is the most serious point, I think—nullifies in part the functions of the standing committees in this House. We have the machinery right here to activate the recommendations of this fine committee which the Governor appointed and which made this outstanding report. We have the machinery right here.

I am privileged to be a member of the Education Committee. I am proud of it. We have wonderful meetings and we have a fine chairman. I do not see why we cannot use the present standing committee of this House to activate the recommendations of the Governor's committee.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I happen to have been a member of the Governor's Committee on Education. I was sorry that I could not spend more time attending the deliberations of the various task forces of the different bodies that assembled this report. I know Mr. McCann was also on it, and it just happened that we were busy attending other meetings and we could not give the time to it that we should have. I know, however, that some of the findings as they were brought into us, I would think as they were read off, well, that is not what the Joint State Government Commission has said in times past as a result of their research. Not that the report is inaccurate, or anything like that, but I am pointing out that the Governor received the report and it was put on his desk. He came here before us and, in effect, put it on our desks. It reminds me of that song, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." The eyes of the people of this State are on us now and they are wondering, what is the General Assembly going to do with that report? I know it is a big problem that faces this session, whether we are going to be able to masticate the report and digest it and do something about it this session. That, of course, is in our laps.

What is the best way to handle the Governor's report? That is the question before us. Apparently, the administration's plan, as expressed in this resolution, is that there be four from the House on the Republican side and four from the Democratic side to meet with a like committee in the Senate, to sit down and go over these problems. The resolution says that the legislative process takes time and thought, consideration and debate, in order to arrive at the finished product. Then it goes on to say we should set up this committee to consider the necessary legislation required to solve this great problem as set forth in the Governor's report. In other words, if you study this resolution meticulously, it means that if that committee is to consider legislation and that if bills are put in they will be referred to that committee and they would consider the legislation.

I agree with Mr. Dengler. I was looking over our Committee on Education in the House, and I would say that the members of this committee were chosen because of some reasonable relation to the education process, some knowledge from having been school directors, some of them are teachers, some of them—most of them—know something about education and have been members of this House for quite a long time. Here we are going to consider the necessary legislation required. I really feel it is a slight, you might say, to the education committee in the House, which I feel is composed of fine members and good intelligent people, and they are just as able to handle this problem as a select committee would be.

I know on our side it would really put us to quite a task to fairly choose four members on this side of the House for that committee. I would hate to be the one who had to choose them. It says the Speaker would, but if the Speaker asked us to choose four members, we would almost have to submit it to our caucus to have a fair selection, because it would be a tremendously important committee. But the education committee in the House, as I say, is a fine committee and we should not circumvent that committee. If you have bills ready that could be enacted this session, I say refer them to the Committee on Education. It is a bipartisan committee and it is as it should be, the majority party has the majority on the committee. There is no intention of delaying this matter. I know one of the newsmen asked me last Friday, what do you think about it? I said the Joint State Government Commission was set up to do the job because they have the money, they have the staff, they have perpetuity and they have research in almost every one of these problems that is in the Governor's report. But if it was sent to the Joint State Government Commission, I would say there would have to be a terminal date when they would report back and the various task forces that would be set up. But I am not advocating that here today. As long as this resolution is before us, I say we have a standing committee now that can do this job and do it well.

Therefore, I am asking the members on this side of the House to vote against this resolution, not to try to stuff this whole problem under the rug, not to sidetrack it, but to give it the usual treatment that we give anything of importance in this House, because we do honor, respect and look up to our standing committees. Therefore, I believe this resolution is wrong and I do not believe it should be passed.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Resolution No. 61 which is before this House provides that a select committee of bipartisan members of this House, four Republican members and four Democratic members shall be set up to deal with the legislation from the Governor's Committee on Education. I have been told there will be a considerable number of bills. I am sure there will be many.

The Committee on Education, appointed by the Governor, was equally bipartisan. Thirty-one people served on that committee. Just for your information, 16 were Republican and 15 were Democratic. We say to you that we are not trying to sweep anything under the rug, but we want this committee to act on this legislation and present it to this House. We have had select committees before. We have had, I am sure, such committees in the past history of this House. We believe that education should be bipartisan. We believe that you should support this resolution, support it, and not make any move which would eventually place it in the Joint State Government Commission for another year of study. The legislation as it arrives here from the executive director and his staff would be introduced and referred to this bipartisan committee. We certainly are proud of our standing committees of this House, and rightfully so. They have done an outstanding job, this year, this session and prior sessions, and they will continue to work in that field. We believe that you should approve this resolution in approaching this in a bipartisan manner, that you are willing to place education on this level, and the bills would then be referred to this committee, and the committee would act on the legislation, presenting it here to this House for its vote.

We ask you and we urge you to support this position on education in this Governor's Committee on Education report of which each person in this House has received a copy. We are well aware that there are a number of major changes in education. Some have already been thrashed out in the newspapers, with some for and some against. This House, we believe, should have an opportunity to vote on the legislative program that implements that report which we have been assured will be presented here. I urge you, I urge you, to vote in favor of this resolution to place in this House this bipartisan select committee of eight people, four Democrats and four Republicans, to assist in this legislative program.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the majority leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, just for the sake of clarification, I would like to have the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, inform the Chair as to what is the purpose of the standing Committee on Education of the House as compared to the purpose of the special committee as proposed in the resolution?

Mr. McCANN. There is absolutely no effect, except this House can, by its own rules, select a committee. The standing committees of this House presently are on a 13 to 7 allocation in the House rules. That is true of the education committee. This will call for a bipartisan committee, equally divided, the same as the Governor's Committee on Education.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. Perhaps I should rephrase my question.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, differentiate between the purposes which would be intended from the specially appointed committee, which would be bipartisan, four members each, as compared to the purposes of the committee which was originally established.

Mr. McCANN. I repeat again, on the standing committee of this House, the education committee, the House rules adopted by this House provide for 13 to 7 in its membership. This calls for a bipartisan committee, equally divided, and that is the purpose of this resolution, to place it on an equal bipartisan level.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, then do I understand that the function of the respective committees would be identical, the only difference being the composition of the committees?

Mr. McCANN. For the bipartisan committee as proposed in this resolution, if you will take the time to read the paragraph involved, the Speaker would appoint four Democratic members and four Republican members as the select, bipartisan committee on this legislation.

The Speaker would have the right to refer legislation to that committee.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, advise the membership of this House as to what characteristics, qualifications and representations the newly constituted committee would possess that the membership of the present committee does not possess?

Mr. McCANN. None, because the membership would be elected Representatives of this House; they would have to be members of this House, appointed by the Speaker. The Speaker appoints all committees of this House under the present House rules, except it would be equally divided between the two parties.

Mr. FULMER. Then, Mr. Speaker, do we understand that as far as the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, is concerned, the only difference in the qualifications that the members of this new committee would have would be the fact that there would be four from each political party? This is the only difference, really?

Mr. McCANN. I know of no other difference. It would be the same membership, it would be the same people, appointed under the same rules by the Speaker of this House, and it could not be anyone else except, as the resolution indicates, four Democrats and four Republicans.

Mr. FULMER. Then, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman advise the members of this House if any provisions are contained in this resolution which would set a date at which time this specially appointed committee would report, and, if so, to whom would it report?

Mr. McCANN. They would report their legislation to this House of Representatives.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please advise us as to any time designation that would be set for this committee to report to this House?

Mr. McCANN. The very same time that is set in all other committees, that time being that all legislation is acted upon when sine die is presented and adopted. That ends the session.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would it then be possible that in the events which occur in this House that this specially constituted committee might not report before this House would adjourn sine die?

Mr. McCANN. You are assuming, of course, that the committee will not act on the legislation referred to it by the Speaker. That is a prerogative of any committee. But may I assure you that it is not the intention, unless it is the intention of the members you appoint to the committee, to pickle legislation.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to preface the next question by saying that I have no intention of having a part in pickling, nor do I have any idea that the majority leader has any intention to do that, but the point I was raising, Mr. Speaker, is this:

Is there a possibility that the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House could, through the complicated work before it, be detained to a point beyond which this House would remain in session and, therefore, is it conceivable that we would adjourn sine die without any action being taken in this session of the legislature?

Mr. McCANN. That is an assumption of the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Fulmer, because the decision of the committee is only the decision of each individual member on that committee.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, suppose this did happen. Let us say, for example, that it is not by design, it is not the intent, but let us say, for example, that the House should adjourn sine die before this special committee made a report on legislation as a result of the Governor's Committee on Education. Should we adjourn sine die, would this committee not then, in effect, die just like all other committees in the House die after we adjourn sine die?

Mr. McCANN. That decision, Mr. Speaker, was certainly brought to light in the 1959 session in which the committee does die upon sine die, but you are going in the direction of an assumption, of trying to find a way to indicate that the legislation would be placed in this committee's hands for the sole purpose, perhaps, of not being able to work on it or report on it, but I bring to your attention, Mr. Speaker, that in our resolution on the introduction of bills, coming very shortly behind this, we even left the exception for this legislation to be introduced in this House.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, advise the members of this House to the best of his knowledge as to whether the Governor's office is presently drafting legislation which, if enacted, would put into effect the recommendations included in the report?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman must not be well informed, for the Governor's office is not drafting any legislation. But the Governor's Committee on Education, headed by Dr. Robert Christie, the executive director, and the staff that they employ are drafting such legislation to be presented to the House and the Senate.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, if this specially appointed committee were to be appointed and they find in the study an analysis of the Governor's Committee on Education Report that they do not have sufficient resource material at their disposal, would additional monies be available to this committee to hire counsel or would the staff of the Governor's present committee be available to aid and assist this special committee?

Mr. McCANN. No, Mr. Speaker. There would be no money, nor is there any money for any other committee except the Appropriation Committee of this House. There would not be any funds. Any committee of this House, standing or select, has the right to use, if they so desire, the Legislative Reference Bureau and the attorneys, if that be the case, of the Joint State Government Commission in assisting them. But there would not be any attempt, or even an effort, made to supplement them with additional staff or attorneys, as there is no attempt at the present time of the standing committees of the House.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that some time in the recent past I read a report in one of our metropolitan newspapers that this special committee which made the study on education did not utilize the $300,000, I believe, that was allotted them for the study, which would seem to indicate, if this report is correct, that there would be some monies available for that committee to continue a further study. Is this committee in a position to do further study should the membership of this House decide they want some area explored that they have not already explored, or could explore in further detail?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is entirely off the resolution, but the Governor's Committee on Education, appointed by a resolution enacted by this House and providing the funds for that committee, has presented to this House and the Senate and the Governor its final report and all that is left is the legislation implementing that report.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, would it be possible, then, that if this resolution were adopted, the members of this committee could decide that they would like to have certain areas of legislation introduced and they would just bypass the legislation as drawn by this Governor's Committee. Is there a possibility for liaison between the two committees?

Mr. McCANN. Certainly, there would be a possibility of liaison between the two committees, the same as there is a liaison now, if such is desired, between any committee in requesting such a group to come in, either the executive director or the proper people, to give them their advice or their recommendation, but there is no intention in any way to either bring over the staff that is now finishing up the legislation and the committee itself, the membership of the committee that served, the 31 people on the Governor's Committee on Committee on Education. I am sure that some of them would be most pleased and others, perhaps, would find it a little more difficult to be able to come at a time when they would be asked. It would be their decision.

Mr. FULMER. Then, Mr. Speaker, I assume from the remarks made by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, that, actually, if this resolution were adopted, we could have made available not only the Legislative Reference Bureau, the Department of Public Instruction and the Joint State Government Commission, but they also would have the benefit of the thinking of this other committee which is now drafting legislation? They would have one more area which they could draw upon?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman says, "other committee drafting legislation," there is no other committee.

Mr. FULMER. Excuse me, Mr. Speaker, I thought I understood the gentleman to say when I asked if the Governor's office was drafting any legislation, I thought he corrected me and stated that Dr. Christie and his staff are trying to draw legislation to implement the recommendations of the committee. Maybe I misunderstood the gentleman.

Mr. McCANN. Dr. Christie, Mr. Speaker, and his staff are the Governor's Committee on Education that is drawing the legislation, a portion of which is already prepared and the balance will be prepared. There is no other committee.

Mr. FULMER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, that is the committee I was referring to, and I wanted to get it clarified.

I would like to ask the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, one final question, if he cares to answer it: Does he in his own mind believe that the present Committee on Education is not qualified to study this report and have the legislation drafted and presented to this House for either adoption or defeat?

Mr. McCANN. I think I made that rather clear, Mr. Speaker, in the previous statement in which I stated the education committee, in my opinion, is extremely well qualified and has done a good job in this House, both in the present session and the past session.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to thank the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, for being very cooperative and enlightening to the members of the House in some of the questions that are turning over in our respective minds.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the consent of the House to address myself to this resolution, if I may.

Mr. Speaker, first I want to pay my compliments to those who had any measure of responsibility in making the study and comparing the reports for the Governor's Committee on Education.

While it is true that many of us can find fault with parts, nonetheless, as an entire document, I think we can readily agree that for once we have these respective problems set forth in a uniform manner.

It is not possible for us who are interested in this particular field to refer to the individual reports and also to the final report, and while we may find some disagreement with the solutions advanced to the problems which the committee says exist, nonetheless I think all of us can agree in one degree or another that these problems which are set forth do exist in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is only fair that we acknowledge the right of the respective members of this committee to agree in some fields and to disagree in others.

In this report we have a majority and a minority report and I believe that one report deserves as much consideration as the other, and, because there was a minority report filed, not only in some other respects, and there were different people who offered these minority reports, this does not mean that they are any less sincere in trying to resolve the problems which confront us in this decade.

Mr. Speaker, I want to express my opinion to the members of this House and all those who wish to listen. I, for one, am finding it a most enjoyable, enlightening experience to be serving on this Committee on Education under the able leadership of the majority's Mrs. Reibman. She has been extremely fair. She has developed in this committee a sense of esprit de corps, a sense of fair play; she has exhibited to the members of our committee that she has a grasp and an understanding of the problems which are confronting us in the field of public education.

I maintain that if we are to accomplish anything in an area that is so complex and so far-reaching and so important, we must have the personal leadership who understands the problem and is sympathetic to all those who entertain ideas different than the chairman.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that we are getting into an area in which the entire populace of the Commonwealth is concerned. We have the responsibility of continuing the committee structure that was set up in this House.

I think I can fully appreciate the intent of the amendment to this resolution, and noble it is, but at the same time, if we adopt it, we are in effect saying to the public that we are willing to trust the Committee on Education in the House of Representatives to handle routine matters as they come before the House, but when something really important comes up we must have some other committee do the work.

I, as a member of the committee, do not feel that this is any particular reflection on me, but I do think it is a real reflection on our chairman, because I know she has worked hard in committee, I know she has tried to present to us the legislation that would bring about better public education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I do think it puts in jeopardy the very committee organization which we have in this House of Representatives for these many years.

Mr. Speaker, I maintain that if we defeat this resolution and allow the standing committee to study the Governor's Committee on Education report, study it carefully, discuss it frankly and where we find areas of agreement we can issue the bills, have the bills drawn with bipartisan support, and in the areas where we have disagreement, if it should happen on party lines, then we can have partisan support. I do not know of any fairer way. We do this through the normal processes of this House; we have bipartisan support on some bills and partisan support on others.

I say, Mr. Speaker, today, when we are talking about this resolution we are talking about more than a committee. We are talking about the democratic processes which this House has followed since its formation. If we are going to start fiddling and diddling around by selecting so-called select committees to study matters which are so terrifically important, then we are saying in effect not only to the people of Pennsylvania but to the world and the communistic world, that the democratic process does not work on matters of importance.

I say, Mr. Speaker, that on this particular day what we do on this resolution will not only be known on the floor of this House, it will be known throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and it will be known throughout the United States, and the world.

In these trying times when the talk is about a document as important as the Governor's Committee on Education Report, at a time when the eyes of the world are upon us, for us to say that a committee such as exists in the House of Representatives deals only with routine matters, but when we are talking about an educational program that is supposed to meet the challenges in the 1960's, to meet the challenges of Communism, then it is not good enough, I think we are self-condemning this institution, the House of Representatives.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in conclusion, I want to make it perfectly clear that I find no fault with the majority leader, the Representative from Greene. I have no fault with his entertaining his point of view. I am sure that when this resolution was drawn, it was drawn with good intent, and I am not entertaining any idea in my own mind or in my own heart that Mr. McCann had any intention that when this special education committee was formed there should be set up a resolution, that he was going to try to have any program pickled, as he referred to it. I do not believe he had in mind that they would take this report and they would sit on it. I believe that he does have the intention that this committee should work. I am not finding fault with his position, Mr. Speaker, but I do believe that we should stick with our committee system, and, therefore, I would encourage every member of this House to open up his heart and to use his mind and vote against this resolution. Thank you.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I believe during the course of the interrogation by the gentleman from Centre that the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, stated that . . . First of all, let me inquire about this: Does the majority leader know how many bills will be in this so-called educational package which will interline the Governor's committee's recommendation?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the exact total but it is above 80.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many?

Mr. McCANN. Above 80.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Did I understand the gentleman in the previous interrogation to say that some of these would be put in the Senate and some would be put in the House?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we had requested that all the bills be also introduced in the House, as well as the Senate. I hope, I do not have this assurance, but I hope that every single piece of legislation coming from that report will be introduced in this House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. As well as the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. I could not answer if all the bills would be introduced in the Senate; I do not know that. Only the request that they all be introduced in this House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this resolution provides, and I read it, "The Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a House Committee of four members of the Democratic Party and four members of the Republican Party to consider the necessary legislation required to solve the school problems . . ." It further resolves that "the said House Committee shall from time to time meet with a similarly constituted committee of the Senate . . ." I am now asking the gentleman, has that committee in the Senate, as yet, been set up?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that committee has not been set up in the Senate.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is it not a fact that a similar resolution to this in the Senate has already been defeated?

Mr. McCANN. The gentleman is correct. The Republican membership of the Senate voted solidly against the adoption of such a resolution.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Again I ask, has not a similar resolution been defeated in the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is a matter of record and I will answer him that it has not been adopted. The Republican membership voted solidly against it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And the Democrats were absent. I did not ask who voted it down; I asked whether a similar resolution had not been defeated. You have answered the question, and it does not need the fringes on it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the Governor's committee in preparing this report spent one year and one day. How soon does the gentleman expect that these bills will be ready for introduction?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on Monday of this week, I requested them and the first pieces of legislation are coming over. At this point there were, as of Monday or Tuesday, perhaps six to ten prepared. I have asked twice that they try to inform me as to how soon they will have every single piece of legislation ready so that I may inform the membership of this House, every bill. I do not have that answer.

Mr. TOMPKINS. One of the resolutions on the calendar today for action is one fixing the last day for the introduction of bills as May 24. Is that right?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. With the exception of bills that might come in under this package and a couple of other items?

Mr. McCANN. With the exceptions listed in the resolution, which includes this.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that to indicate an early sine die adjournment, may I ask?

Mr. McCANN. I did not hear, did he say—

Mr. TOMPKINS. May 24, the last day for introduction of bills, does it indicate an early sine die adjournment shortly after that date?

Mr. McCANN. I would certainly hope that this select committee, along with, I believe, three other major problems, would be done with its business except that, and that they could complete that business and this House would adjourn sine die at an early date after working on the entire legislative package.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we have before us a resolution in which they are asking us to appoint a committee that would work with a like committee from the Senate which has already been killed. Should this resolution be adopted, we would be adopting a resolution which, in effect, would be a nonentity unless a similar committee in the Senate was approved. Furthermore, I have the same feeling as the gentleman from Centre that we would be by-passing the duly constituted legislative processes of this House of Representatives and I do not think it is right. I think we should not by-pass our standing committees which have done very effective work and handled various problems, have handled big problems, have handled important problems, over the years and they are still capable of handling this particular problem. We have had study committees out before. Their recommendations have been implemented with legislation; that legislation has always been assigned to our duly constituted committees. If we create this special committee in this House, then what would the original Committee on Education be doing in the meantime?

I ask you further, what is wrong with the committee of 20 members on which there are 13 Democrats and 7 Republicans? What is wrong with the chairman of that committee appointing a subcommittee on education out of our regular committee on education, which is the standard procedure to handle these special problems when they arise, composed of four Democrats and four Republicans to report back to that committee and let us operate on our regular committee processes and not prostitute them.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the lady from Northampton, Mrs. Reibman.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the other side of the aisle who spoke such kind words about the chairman of the education committee. Let me assure the members of the House that whichever committee would handle this kind of legislation, whether in the wisdom of the House they select a select committee on education or whether the membership, in its wisdom, decides that the regular standing committee of the House should study the legislation that would be sent to this committee, I have full faith and confidence in each and every member of the House. I know that no matter which committee would handle this very important problem facing the people of Pennsylvania, it will be done with fairness, with integrity, and with dispatch.

Mr. McCORMACK. All of a sudden everybody becomes awake. At least we will get some attention. Mr. Speaker, in light of the previous discussion between the majority leader and Representative Fulmer, I would like some clarification with respect to the relationship between the existence of such a committee adopted in this resolution and sine die adjournment. In light of the issues raised in the Supreme Court decision in the vote fraud case, I am wondering whether or not it is correct that this committee will die if we adjourn sine die and for that reason I would like to ask a ruling with respect to that particular issue.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The chair is of the opinion that the committee would die on the sine die adjournment of this session.

Mr. McCORMACK. I see.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. According to the ruling of the Supreme Court.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am under a different opinion, so if that be true then, Mr. Speaker, I do not want to get involved in bickering, but it seems to me that in light of the fact that we are now receiving fairly substantial and adequate salary and expenses that this is a wonderful opportunity on the part of the House of which many members, including myself, are puzzled with respect to the various ramifications and mystic formulas of this education system here. It would be a wonderful opportunity if we could sometime before sine die, after finishing the regular business of the House, resolve ourselves into a committee on the whole so that we can get into this very serious problem, ask questions that are on the minds of a lot of members, and this House itself can come to the grass roots of the problem that we must face whether this session or next session. So in the event that anything happens to this resolution, I wish the leadership would seriously consider that.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, part of the argument of the minority leader in opposing this resolution has to do with the so-called affront that such action would constitute as to the members of the Committee on Education. I am a member of the Committee on Education and I certainly would in no way feel slighted if this resolution were adopted, nor consider such action a reflection in any respect on our Democratic processes. As a matter of fact, such action is an implementation of our Democratic processes. I say this for this reason, I think we are overlooking the practical considerations that are here involved. There are approximately, as I understand, 80 pieces of legislation to be considered. The effort that has to be made in the consideration of this package has to be a concentrated effort, an effort that will not be, in any way, affected by other considerations of the problems that our standing committee will continue to consider in the regular course of business.

Now a select committee is not a novel creature in this House; it is not a stranger to this House. As a matter of fact, so much a part of our regular business is it that even our House rules, under House rule 23, it provides for the constitution of a select committee. When we first went into annual sessions a select committee was appointed for the purpose of studying what legislation we might consider in the odd-numbered years, or the even-numbered years. This job could very well have been assigned to the Judiciary Committee, a committee that is comprised 99 percent of attorneys, who are equipped to handle such a problem and come up with an intelligent decision. And yet this House thought, in its wisdom, well enough of the proposition to appoint a select committee. So, it is not a novel thing; it is not a strange thing and the appointing of a select committee is not in any way a reflection on the members of the committee nor is it a reflection on our Democratic processes.

Now the other point I want to make is this. It seems to me that the Republican Party has impaled itself on the horns of an inconsistency by the position they take today. Only last week we heard the minority leader rise and speak in protest against the fact that the Governor's office did not invite members of industry and, in essence, thus members of the Republican Party, to the conference held in his office when discussing the so-called labor package of bills. How do we, on one hand, talk about the failure to evidence good faith by bipartisanship discussion, and, on the other hand, condemn that very action that we are here taking with this resolution. We are saying to the Republican Party, this is of equal importance to the industrial climate, perhaps even more important than the question of industrial climate, because the future of tomorrow will grow on the deeds of our children of today, and education is a promising matter of primary concern to all of us.

Certainly this is not a field that is in any way colored by political partisanship, at least it should not be a field where there is political partisanship. This is a bipartisan problem, so to speak, that has been handed to us by the people of this Commonwealth, and they have said to this General Assembly, here is a problem that is plaguing us. Work together as a team. We are not interested in the Republican attitude, we are not interested in the Democratic attitude. Give us the attitude of the General Assembly, and, as a matter of fact, they are the ways that are in this resolution.

From a practical standpoint how are we going to ask 20 members of the education committee to sit down with a like number of members of a Senate education committee? It is unwieldy, it is cumbersome, it is not logical. This is the practical and expedient way to do it. Some members of your party, the minority party, have gotten up and said, or at least expressed apprehensions, that nothing will be done prior to a sine die date. It is more likely that if this problem were left in the hands of our education committee, and I do not say this as a reflection on that committee because I, as I say, am a member of that committee, but it is more likely that if this problem is left in the hands of the education committee that the problem will not be met prior to the sine die date, more likely than if the problem were considered by a select committee such as is proposed in this bill.

It makes sense; it is logical; it represents fair play. I would imagine that if I were on your side of the aisle I would say I would want to have an equal voice in the determination of this problem. It strikes me that all that has been said here today is just a screen or a front or a show window for the real theory or the real idea behind your position. That position is this: You are the Democratic Party; you are the leadership; this is your problem; you carry the ball. So if you make a mistake we can stand off at a safe distance and take potshots at you.

I might say in conclusion, this is not a situation that demands political consideration. To the contrary, it is a situation devoid of political considerations. This should be a bipartisan effort and we ask you to join with us in this bipartisan effort.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I know we are all getting tired and I am going to be very brief.

I also am a member of the Committee on Education, and I also respect the words of our chairman who is interested in results. We are interested in results and right now we are jockeying for political purposes and let us not kid anybody about it.

Why am I opposed to this resolution? Because I am interested in results. I have the Committee on Education before me—twenty members, 13 Democrats and 7 Republicans—and I challenge any member of the Committee on Education to deny this statement that when we vote in our Committee on Education we do not vote down party lines. Here is how we vote: We vote because we have a special interest in Philadelphia, a special interest in Pittsburgh, a special interest in suburban areas, a special interest in rural areas. Now if we want to have legislation passed that would be fair to everybody in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we have to have a cross-section. I can recall I crossed party lines against my leadership on an education matter, and I can recall when Democrats did the same thing. If we want results, let the Committee on Education have a subcommittee of eight. The gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, put the proposition to the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann. I heard no answer. He said four Republicans and four Democrats on a subcommittee of education, then give it back to the full committee and we will give you a good bill which will implement the report of the Governor's committee.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I just want to point out a few things about select committees, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, talked about a select committee when we made our transition from biennial to annual sessions. That select committee was a committee appointed to work out the details as to how we would do that, and there was no standing committee to which that problem could be assigned.

We had select committees at the beginning of this session. I served on a couple of them, but those select committees were appointed because of the fact that at that time there were no standing committees in being for the purpose of assigning the legislation to them.

To come down to the processes of the legislature when we are in being and our standing committees are all in being, we should assign all the problems belonging to the particular committee into that standing committee and not set up select committees to parallel and duplicate the committee system in this House.

The resolution was read by the clerk as follows:

Bills proposed by reason of the Report of the Governor's Committee on Education

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, upon adopting this resolution, all the bills that are ordered by the members of this House from the Legislative Reference Bureau as of the date of May 24, the Legislative Reference Bureau will number such bills as they have in the past, and upon delivery it will be agreed by the two floor leaders that they were ordered from the Legislative Reference Bureau prior to that date, except for the exceptions contained in here.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair feels that if this became necessary, it would be necessary to suspend the rules of the House.

The Chair has been informed by the Speaker that in the past the last date for introduction of bills has been ignored, but in this particular session the rule will be enforced.

It was adopted.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

APPROPRIATIONS, Mr. Polen, Chairman, Room 245, Thursday, May 4, at 9:30 a. m.

HIGHWAYS, Mr. Comer, Chairman, Room 521, Thursday, May 4, at 9:45 a. m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY SECRETARY

The SECRETARY. With the permission of the Chair, the Secretary would like to make a few remarks regarding the parking situation.

I have several announcements to make concerning the parking situation.

First of all, tomorrow the Liberty Bell celebration, a caravan of some sort, will take up the center of the plaza, that is, directly in front of the Capitol steps, and a trailer will be parked there and it will be necessary for all members to remain out of that particular place. You also may encounter a rope when you come there, because that portion of it will be roped off. We would ask that you cooperate with the police in seeing that this celebration tomorrow goes off in the proper order.

Secondly, I checked on the parking in the rear of the Capitol for today and I was informed by the police back there that this morning a conference was held in the Forum on highway safety and a great number of visitors came into the Capitol and they took parking places all over the various parking lots. As a result, employees from other parking lots also came into the legislative parking lot and the police were unable to handle them. They tried to stop the people from going in, but, as they stopped one car, four or five would go around and park before they could get them out. We are attempting to correct that situation.

Also, the third announcement regarding parking, beginning on May 12, the legislative parking lot, or the entire lot at the rear of the Capitol, is going to be resurfaced. It is under contract and the contractor is going to resurface that particular parking lot in two sections. Arrangements have been made for 90 cars to be parked by the legislators in the rear of the Capitol and, of course, we will have the unoccupied spaces on the plaza during that same period of time. So for a period of two, or possibly three weeks it may be that you will find on occasion a little difficulty in parking. That has been explained to us and we are trying to cooperate.

We have requested and have been informed that there will be a roped-off place for the legislature which will take care of about 90 cars, so that if you do happen to come in for a period of a week or two while they are doing this paving, they ask that you be considerate of the situation that confronts them.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the Secretary.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STEVENSON presented to the Chair SB 616, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932), entitled "The Third Class City Code," providing for the Creation, by ordinance, of the office of city manager.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement in connection with the bill I am about to introduce, and to also read a statement by Lawrence B. Sheppard which pertains to this bill.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to introduce raises the percentage by the Commonwealth on pari-mutuel betting from five per cent, as the bill now states, to ten per cent. We know they have continued to say that we are supposed to make some money out of horse racing. Therefore, I believe Pennsylvania should receive at least ten per cent of pari-mutuel betting.

I want to read a statement made by Lawrence B. Sheppard, which appeared in The Harness Horse Magazine of April 12, 1961, wherein he spoke about our horse racing setup in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I will read it hastily, as follows:

"When Governor Lawrence honored me by asking that I serve on the Racing Commission, I naturally was flattered. However, in spite of all this, I would not have accepted more responsibility than I already carried because of age, health and business reasons, had it not been for one thing and one thing alone. That was because I saw the clear opportunity to give to the people of Pennsylvania and to the State the finest harness racing, not only in the United States, but in the world.

"This I knew I could guarantee because of several factors working in our favor, but only if each and every one of them were exploited to the fullest extent. If they were, the result would be amazing to the patrons of racing, to the State Treasury and a good return to the track owners on their investment.

"Some of the factors referred to above are as follows:

"1. Adequate grandstand, modernly designed for the convenience and enjoyment of the public, including parking as well as easy ingress and egress to and from the track.

"2. A good, safe, all-weather race track.

"3. Good, clean stable areas to attract the best stables and drivers.

"4. Top-flight experienced management from the parking lots to the stables.

"5. A liberal purse policy to attract the top-flight stables and drivers to move in and stay with us. This insures good racing, honest racing and the finest harness racing in the world, including some of the classic stakes not now being raced in the East. With a "45%" purse policy, all this could be accomplished."

I just want to mention, Mr. President, that they are talking about a thirty-five per cent purse policy for those who furnish horses.

"The Thoroughbred tracks average 45% and some major running tracks considerably higher. What does "45%" mean? It means the track puts that percentage of its take from the pari-mutuel wagering into the purses. Why is this so necessary? It is the only way we can compete with the two giants of trotting: Yonkers and Roosevelt, plus others, for the top stables and drivers. Yonkers and Roosevelt average a nightly handle of about $1,800,000 and an average nightly attendance of 23 to 24 thousand people for about 210 nights.

"I am confident that any well-run Pennsylvania track in the Philadelphia area will handle a million dollars a night after the first year of operation. With Pennsylvania allowing the track 10% of the take from the betting, while New York State now only allows Yonkers and Roosevelt about 6% and with their purse policy of 35%, we can successfully compete with them for the best horses and stables without causing the track operators any financial pain, in spite of a much larger handle at Yonkers and Roosevelt. New York used to permit these tracks 9+%, but after the Moreland Commission exposed the scandals that had been going on at the raceways, the Legislature cut them to a sliding scale averaging about 6%.

"There are four outstanding applicants for licenses in the Philadelphia area. Any one of these would put on a good show with one possible exception. In addition, there are three good applicants from Chester County and two others from Delaware County not included in the four above first mentioned.

"All of the above state they will build splendid, adequate plants and put on the best racing. Not included in the above is the so-called Bucks County Racing Association headed by a group from Allegheny County, Messrs. Dan Parish and Art Rooney, who are seeking a lease from Liberty Bell and a license for 50 days of racing in Philadelphia County but who do not propose to make any capital investment. A piece of paper called a lease is all—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the statements being made and I am very happy to follow them. However, I do not think that they should come under this order of business. I think either the gentleman's statements should come under the order of business of Resolutions or Petitions or Remonstrances. There are answers to be made to what the gentleman is saying and, therefore, I would like to have an opportunity to present that side of the picture to him. If the gentleman will make his statements under the appropriate order of business, I will be very happy to present the other side of the picture to him.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I requested unanimous consent to address the Senate and I received unanimous consent.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman asked for unanimous consent to make a brief statement before these bills were introduced. I hardly think that by speaking for five or ten minutes is a brief statement. Also, I did not have any idea of what the content of his remarks would be. It may well be that the gentleman does not have to give me the contents of his remarks and I am not asking for them. Unless the gentleman is afraid that I am liable to tell him what the true status of the situation is and, therefore, is using this as an opportunity for making his statements, that may be another factor and I do not want to dispute that.

However, Mr. President, there is another side to this issue. If the gentleman will take the appropriate time to go into it and read the article which he is now reading, I am sure it will keep. I will be very happy to give him additional information which he might want to have.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I asked for unanimous consent. I also stated, when I asked for unanimous consent, that I would like to read a statement by Lawrence B. Sheppard. I received that unanimous consent and I do not think I should be interrupted. I would like to finish this article.

The PRESIDENT. Will it take very much additional time?

Mr. CONFAIR. Not too long, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I continue to read from Mr. Sheppard's statement as follows:

"Almost immediately after the primaries of 1960 when Allegheny County defeated the proposal to permit racing in that area, I began to talk three tracks and 150 days of racing in the greater Philadelphia area, including Bucks, Chester and Delaware Counties as well as Philadelphia. It was not until shortly after the first of the year that I heard the least objection. Then it came from the Clark group who had decided that 100 days was all the racing the area could stand, with which I emphatically do not agree. Of course, I could understand Mr. Gene Mori's feeling, who is a director of Liberty Bell and the president and principal owner of Garden State, right across the river, in not wanting a first-class harness plant operating at night while he was operating in the daytime.

"I should point out that in greater New York the runners are going over 200 days with the trotters nearby going the same. None of them appear to suffer and the business they do indicates the patrons like it, judging from the tremendous handle at all those metropolitan New York tracks. In addition to this, they are racing in Rhode Island and New Jersey at the same time. There is a similar situation in the Chicago area with everybody prosperous.

"About the same time, around the first of the year, the Parish group filed to incorporate with the Department of State, and on January 16 met with officials of the Racing Commission to discuss their intention to apply for a license and to race that license on a lease from Mr. Clark's group. That then made 100 days of racing at one race track, and based on Mr. Clark's adamant position that there should not be over a 100 days, this closes the door to any other applicant in this area regardless of merit. Now it so happens that Mr. Clark, I understand, is retaining all of the voting stock unto himself in the Liberty Bell organization, which of course also means the lessee, his own directors and officers, etc., are virtually serving at Mr. Clark's pleasure. We can only arrive at the conclusion that this whole thing results in an absolute monopoly of all the best racing in Pennsylvania.

"To me this is unthinkable, because it is not to the best interests of the State, the people of the State, the patrons of racing and the sport itself where two political groups are awarded all the worthwhile racing in Pennsylvania and virtually controlled by one man. I am quite sure that Pennsylvania can look forward to nothing but second-rate racing in which I am not at all interested.

"I had no thought until more or less recently that all of the racing in the greater Philadelphia area would be handed on a silver platter to the Allegheny County group headed by Dan Parish and the Philadelphia group headed by Jim Clark to the exclusion of all others, including three other fine groups whose views on how to put on superior racing coincide with mine. The scheme offers nothing in my opinion except personal gain to the individuals.

"Harness racing is a sport and at the same time is both a business and a source of very badly needed tax revenue in the State of Pennsylvania. When conducted and promoted by competent, experienced public-spirited licensees, the interests of all can be well served.

"Under the action taken here today, if the racing is second rate—if the facilities are mediocre—if undesirable elements intrude, the public will have no choice of establishments to patronize . . .

"As it stands right now, I think of it as the last act of a play and should be known as the tragedy of harness racing in Pennsylvania. However, the last scene, which will be short, is yet to come in the next one to ten months when Messrs. Parish and Rooney of Allegheny County show up with a piece of paper in their hands which they will call a lease, asking for a license to be handed to them to permit them to race another 50 days at Mr. Clark's Liberty Bell track without putting up a dime except for operating expenses and to the exclusion of all other applicants in this area.'"

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. CONFAIR, HALUSKA, WARE and KELLER presented to the Chair SB 617, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 22, 1959 (P. L. 1978), entitled "State Harness Racing Law," increasing the amount of tax to be paid by corporations authorized to conduct pari-mutuel betting.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, this is not a tremendous, earth shaking bill. However, it is very, very important to those people concerned.

Recently, in my county, a young couple purchased a frame house. When they moved in under an agreement of sale before settlement, they were amazed to find that the house was infested by squirrels, and this is a squirrely bill. They went to an exterminating firm. The exterminator threw up his hands and said: "We cannot exterminate squirrels. It is not the hunting season."

They then went to the game protector, asking him for permission to get rid of these squirrels. He told this young couple: "If you touch one of those squirrels except in hunting season, I will lock you up."

This bill, which I am about to introduce, is an amendment to the Game Laws to permit persons to rid a house of squirrels other than during the hunting season.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), entitled "The Game Law," authorizing the issuance of permits to kill squirrels which have located themselves within dwelling houses or other buildings occupied by human beings.

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. RIPP (By request) presented to the Chair SB 619, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1959 (P. L. 392), entitled "State Employees' Retirement Code of 1959," providing for the transfer of credits for employees of the Department of Health who are contributors to the Public School Employees' Retirement System.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. STIEFEL presented to the Chair SB 620, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1937 (P. L. 115), entitled "The First Class City Permanent Registration

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I wish to make a brief statement regarding the first two bills that I am about to introduce, which are sponsored by Senator Berger, Senator Rooney and myself. These bills, if enacted into law, would exempt the American National Red Cross from payment of the gasoline taxes.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MURRAY, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries, reported, as committed, HB 1121.

SENATE RESOLUTION

SENATE COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER NECESSARY LEGISLATION AS SET FORTH IN THE REPORT OF THE GOVERNOR'S COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Messrs. LANE and WEINER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 57), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 8, 1961.

WHEREAS, The Governor's Committee on Education, appointed pursuant to a bipartisan House Resolution of the session of 1959, presented its report to the Governor and to the General Assembly, setting forth the various problems presently facing the schools of Pennsylvania; and

WHEREAS, The solution of some of these school problems requires legislation, and

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives adopted House Resolution No. 61 on May 3, 1961, providing for the appointment of a House Committee of four members of the Democratic Party and four members of the Republican Party to consider the necessary legislation required to solve the school problems as set forth in the Report of the Governor's Committee on Education, and further providing that said House Committee from time to time meet jointly with a similarly constituted Senate Committee; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint a Senate Committee comprised of members of the Democratic Party and an equal number of members of the Republican Party to consider the necessary legislation required to solve the school problems as set forth in the Report of the Governor's Committee on Education; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the said Senate Committee shall from time to time meet with the House Committee, appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 61 so that they may jointly determine the legislative program for this session in the field of school legislation.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I request the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this resolution is somewhat similar to a resolution on which we acted the week before last. I do not know whether it is identical or not, and I will not, of course, until I study it. I also believe that the proper committee should study this resolution. Therefore, I object to its immediate consideration.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this resolution is similar to one which was rejected several weeks ago. However, we are in this position: The House of Representatives passed, on May 3rd, a resolution setting up a Bipartisan Committee for the House of Representatives. Here we are in the Senate, and I know very well that we are not going to get very far. However, I thought that possibly by submitting this resolution today, it would give the Members on the opposite side the opportunity to reconsider the position they have taken in the past.

We have even gone so far, Mr. President, as to advise the Minority Party that they can select any number they suggest and we on this side will go along.

We are very sincere in this approach, Mr. President, because we feel this is the only answer. We must have a concerted effort on the part of all public officials and all political parties. That is the reason why Senator Weiner and I decided that we would try again. We are prevailing upon the Members on the other side to not object to this resolution at this time. Let us adopt the resolution and try to work together.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, those are very suave words in connection with this matter.

However, I feel that I was not obscure when I stated that I believe the regular processes of the Senate are available to do practically the same thing as this resolution provides; that is, the Chairman of the Education Committee could appoint a subcommittee composed of an equal number—or I believe they said previously two Members from each Party—to study the report and could report to the regular committee, which could then act upon the bills. That is the proper and regular way that matters should be handled.

I said this was similar, and I could not see where it was different, but there is some difference in this resolution. It does not provide for any number. The other resolution did provide for a specific number.

Consequently, Mr. President, I again suggest that the resolution be sent to the appropriate committee, which I shall not suggest since it is obvious.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, undoubtedly the position you have taken here with reference to your objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution is going to prevail.

However, once this resolution is referred to committee and, I hope, later on released to the floor, will you at that time reconsider your position and agree to appoint Members from your side to serve on this committee?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, that is peering somewhat into the future, I fear, on the part of Senator Lane because the resolution has first to pass the Senate. Then, of course, if the resolution is passed, we will certainly do as it indicates. At this time, I would be unable to answer the question any more definitely than that, which I think is an ample answer.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, in the event that the committee favorably considers this resolution and it is reported to the floor, do you anticipate that it will receive any Republican votes?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there again the gentleman is peeping into the future and is interrogating me on a matter which I certainly could not, at this time, answer.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman very kindly.

I am more or less an optimist, and I am afraid that the gentleman on the other side has a point of view that does not concur with optimism. Therefore, all we can do is abide by the objection made by the gentleman and have the resolution referred to committee. I hope it is referred to the Rules Committee because we would like to have a meeting as soon as possible.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wanted to point out the difference between this resolution and the one we had previously. At that time, the House had not acted. As of now, the House has taken the position that they will appoint such a committee. The House has passed such a resolution, and I think this Body should take cognizance of this fact and at least put ourselves in a position to meet with them and discuss this matter.

As you will know, the Senate Education Committee is made up in the fashion that the Republican Members are somewhat outnumbered in the make-up of the committee so that they do not have equal representation. I think this matter is crucial enough to be dealt with on a bipartisan basis. The Governor thought so when he appointed his committee. I think we ought to approach this problem on that very basis. Having done so, I think we will be able to say that the education problem in the State of Pennsylvania is neither Democratic nor Republican. It is a problem that ought to be approached on that basis and dealt with in that manner. Refusal to do so sort of puts us in the position that we are at politics as usual, whether the problem be education or anything else. That is hardly the approach to take on as serious a matter as we face at this time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, while I do not admit that this is the proper time to debate this resolution in any way, I am very much of the opinion that the proposal itself indicates politics as usual.

Itself indicates politics as usual. However, it is a very definite attempt on the part of the Majority to make some shift in responsibility. We have always been willing—and I am offering again—to assume our responsibility if the opportunity is offered.

Mr. President, aside from that, let me say there will be the most complete and sincere cooperation in solving this problem, in so far as the Members on this side are concerned, under any circumstances whatsoever. However, we are of the opinion and will continue to be of the opinion that it should be handled through the proper committee of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Therefore, your position remains unchanged in that you object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. BERGER. That is correct, sir.

The PRESIDENT. Therefore, the decision of the Chair remains, and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR EDWARD J. KESSLER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this does not pertain to the Committee on Education or to the resolution.

Mr. President, I would like to acquaint the Members of the Senate with the fact that we have with us one of the sages of the Senate, Senator Kessler, who was sixty-four years of age yesterday. As a matter of fact, he looks like a very young man. I think the Senate of Pennsylvania should certainly congratulate Senator Kessler on those sixty-four years.

The PRESIDENT. We are very happy to felicitate you on the achievement of your sixty-fourth birthday, Senator Kessler.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before Senator Kessler takes the appropriate bow, may I ask Mr. Price to deliver this little card to him which he can hold up?

The PRESIDENT. We will be at ease for a moment while the card is delivered by Mr. Price. We will even wait a moment while you open it, Senator.

Mr. KESSLER. Thank you very much.

Mr. President, I want to thank you for those very courteous remarks and I want to thank my associates. I think the reason I keep young is because I am a Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I do not know what this card says, but as you can all see, it is a very elaborate one. It looks like a fancy valentine.

It has been a pleasure being here. I wish I could say that I will be here, like Senator Taylor, for another sixty-four years, but I am afraid I will not.

The PRESIDENT. May we wish you many more happy returns of the day.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING TOURIST PROMOTION AGENCIES TO EXERT EVERY EFFORT IN THE PROMOTION OF A TOURIST PROMOTION PLAN

Messrs. WEINER, MURRAY, LANE, HALUSKA, WAGNER, KALMAN and SCOTT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 58), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, May 8, 1961.

The anthracite coal region of eastern Pennsylvania has been afflicted with a declining economy since the 1920's. This area has become one of the most critical unemployment areas in the United States. Unemployment has become the normal status of this section instead of periods of unemployment.

Many groups have made studies of this area and its critical unemployment situation. The Pennsylvania State University has made an extensive study of this problem, under the guidance of Dr. Deasy and Dr. Griess. This study recommends that a more expansive study be made of the tourist trade and the possibilities of attracting visitors to this area. Within a radius of 400 miles of this area, there are eighty million residents. The entire population within this radius are potential tourists to this section of the State.

There are many interesting attractions in this region. The operation of an anthracite coal mine is an interesting sight. There are mountains, streams and rivers, quaint villages, fishing, hunting and hospitable people, all of which are potentials in the building up for tourist promotion.

The magnitude of the task is such that no individual, no one private or governmental body, could carry the burden alone. Only by cooperation on the part of all can a project of this type be successful.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth has passed a Tourist Promotion Law which has been signed by the Governor. This Act No. 50 provides for the organization of tourist promotion agencies, and for aid and assistance by the Department of Commerce; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the various political bodies enumerated in Act No. 50 are hereby urged to exert every effort in the promotion of a Tourist Promotion Plan and utilize the facilities of the Department of Commerce in an all-out effort to alleviate the unemployment crises existing in this area; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Commerce and to Rotary, Kiwanis, Chambers of Commerce, or any organization interested in promoting this act.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO ENACT LEGISLATION ADMITTING PUERTO RICO TO THE UNION

Messrs. WEINER and BELL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 117), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, May 8, 1961.

The United States of America has become the greatest power in the history of the world due to the fact that it is a united nation, made up of equal and sovereign States.

The people of the United States devised a method and program of incorporating territories, as a first step leading to full privileges of statehood. This plan imposes on the people of such territory the obligations of the citizens of the several States, while withholding from such territorial citizens the basic rights of self-government and full representation in the councils of the United States.

Within the past year, Alaska and Hawaii have been admitted to full statehood, after many years of territorial status. There remains one more territory that in the opinion of a large number of people now merits the status of full statehood. This is the territory of Puerto Rico, which has had territorial status for many years.

Puerto Rico has been a bulwark in Central and South America for democracy. Its citizens have served with distinction in the Armed Forces of the United States in both World Wars I and II, as well as the Korean Conflict; therefore, be it

RESOLVED (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation admitting Puerto Rico to the Union; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be sent to the presiding officers of both Houses of the United States Congress, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States and that each of them be requested to make every effort to see that legislation to grant statehood to Puerto Rico is promptly considered and passed.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

HB 323 — Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 323, Printer's No. 1357, be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government for further amendment and clarification.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I wish to object to the recommitment of this bill. I believe if there are any amendments which need to be offered, they can be offered by unanimous consent on Third Reading. I have no objection to the bill going over in order and possibly the amendments being discussed prior to the pressing of this motion.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I withdraw my previous motion, and ask that House Bill No. 323, Printer's No. 1357, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 326—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that House Bill No. 326 go over in its order inasmuch as there are amendments to this bill, but they are not here at the moment.

The PRESIDENT. Without objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HB 328—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I deplore the appearance of this bill on the Calendar. It seems to me this term "burgess" is a good holdover from some fine English traditions, and I was hoping that Senator Stiefel would make a case for the retention of the term "burgess."

Pennsylvania has many colonial things that we should hold on to, and this is probably one of them.

We have had the example of two illustrious Senators, Senator Wade and Senator Mullin, in this Session speaking against a bill and then voting for it, and that is what I intend to do.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I cannot help but agree with the gentleman who just spoke on this subject. Many of us do deplore the passing from the statute books of the term "burgess," which I assume has ancient origin. Again, I would yield to Senator Stiefel on the subject of burgomaster.

We have always known the chief executive officer of our boroughs in Pennsylvania as the burgess. There is a phonetic connection which is really quite agreeable. However, as Senator Hays said, I am in the same position. I am going to speak against the bill and vote for it.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, why my name was brought into this deliberation, I do not know. However, first of all, being a resident of a city, I do not dare to enter into the open spaces and to interfere with the rural life of our citizenry.

If the term "mayor" will aggrandize those burgesses, I am for it. Let them do their duty and let them feel the importance of their office. We have fifty-three cities of the third class. Sometimes a person is more conspicuous by being outside of the large number than by being in it. If they want the title, let them have it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before we begin calling the roll, I want to say that I, too, am going to vote for this legislation. However, I believe we should admonish those in power that this is going to entail a number of amendments of our statutory laws, because if you read over the statutory laws you will find there are many, many laws and Acts of Assembly which use the term "burgess" in the acts themselves.

I think it is all right and I am going to vote for it, but it is going to cost somebody some money.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I want to make just a simple statement to welcome Senator Berger, Senator Hays and Senator Lane to this exclusive club.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Wade. I am sure the gentlemen appreciate the welcome.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1

Stevenson,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

HB 359—Read at length the third time and agreed to, On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I certainly am not going to have anything very lengthy to say about this bill, and I am sorry that the eminent gentlemen who sponsored it cannot be interrogated in this Body. However, I would like to address a general question as to just how, if I intend to dispose of a pigeon by humane means, I am going to know whether he is owned or not owned.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, may I add my comment to that. On one occasion, in this august Body, there was a bill introduced to license stray cats. They did not know how to determine which were stray and which were owned. Now we have a bill which would make it legal to kill unowned pigeons.

I agree with the Minority Leader. Who is to label these unowned pigeons as being unowned?

The PRESIDENT. This is a very serious question, gentlemen.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, just to make the record clear, I do not own any pigeons.

The PRESIDENT. That is an excellent piece of advice to give this Body. Are there any pigeons near you which are unowned?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not know.

The PRESIDENT. That is one of the things that is troubling me. I might tell the gentleman a story which occurred to me.

You know, of course, that we had a great deal of trouble with pigeons in and around City Hall. After I was elected a Judge, in 1951, I took my office in the beginning of 1952. About two weeks after my installation in office, I heard a noise one night and there, outside of my window, roosting under the rafters of my home, were a couple of cooing pigeons. I did not know and I could not find out, during the entire period when I was in City Hall, whether or not two pigeons were assigned to each Judge, as they moved into city Hall. It has bothered me all of these years. However, after a due course of time, they left my home. After I became Lieutenant Governor, they never came back. We are very glad about that, too.

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, are you sure they were not stool pigeons?

The PRESIDENT. No, I was not sure of what they really were. However, they appeared to be cooing and not "stooling."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I cannot vote for this bill because there is no way to determine whether the pigeons are owned or unowned. I would not want to see any owned pigeons destroyed.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I introduced this bill. Pittsburgh, in Allegheny County, is known as the workshop of the world. This is true. However, in Allegheny County, we also have some of the finest farmers and farms in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This bill appropriates to the County Commissioners $25,000 in order to cooperate with the State University to help the farmers produce better. I hope the farmers here will vote for this bill.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I take exception to the remarks made by Senator McGinnis, in singling out the farmers as the people who will be the benefactors and thereby excluding the city dwellers.

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HB 635—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. VAN SANT, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 2, tenth line of Title, by striking out "MAKING PERMANENT THE REDUCTION IN" and inserting: reducing

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title by inserting after "engines": for a certain period

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 4, lines 16 to 18 by striking out "[For" in line 16, all of line 17; "May 31 1961] THEREAFTER" in line 18 and inserting: For the period beginning January 1, 1960 and ending [May 31, 1961] June 30, 1963

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to these amendments.

We would like to make the reduction in these rates permanent. The reason for doing so is as follows: I believe everyone has recently read in the newspapers that they are trying to create International Airports in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, so that flights going to Europe and all over the world will originate from those points.

Up until the time when we had this type of legislation, the general procedure has been that the jet planes would come into Philadelphia, load or unload, and move right on. By this reduction, oddly enough, it has brought more revenue, both to the city and to the Commonwealth, than we have ever had before from this area. It also has caused the planes to load up. The general situation is that they come from New York, make a stop in Philadelphia and then proceed to Baltimore. They then load up before they move on to Puerto Rico, the Bahama Islands or to the areas of the Caribbean. It is our hope that by having this reduction, Philadelphia will truly be an international airport and that many flights will not only originate there, but also terminate there. This is, I will admit, one of the gimmicks or come-ons for the companies to do so and use this area for what is intended.

As you well know, in the city of Philadelphia we have, for a large city, a depressed type of situation in so far as employment is concerned. By bringing people into the community, it is hoped that our hotels and other people who work at this level will obtain further employment. I do not see the reason for limiting this. We have had it now for two years and it has worked well. I see no reason for limiting it to 1963 when we will have to hope that we can get this measure through again.

I think most of the people in this Chamber are of the frame of mind to pass this legislation. I do not know why we must have these amendments which more or less cripple or hobble the bill. Any company might well say that they would like to put in permanent tanks or they would like to put in permanent personnel to handle the servicing of planes, as well as load them with gasoline at this point. However, they will say that they cannot do so because they will not know how they will fare two years from now. They will not want to make this capital investment in order to make this capital improvement.

I would also like to point out that I have a telegram here from Malcolm S. Hay, the new Adjutant General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In the telegram, he has stated and I will quote him directly, as follows:

"I do not personally object to the passage of House Bill No. 635 and House Bill No. 636."

Therefore, Mr. President, I think this meets some of the objections which were made here. I think it is proper that this information should be at hand.

Therefore, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendments is to allow a period of time wherein we can get an accurate figure on just what the tax return is on the reduction of those gasolines involved in House Bill No. 635, as well as in House Bill No. 636. When we enacted the tax the last time, we were endeavoring at that time to get an accurate figure as to what it meant in the way of dollars to our aviation program here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. At that time, it was felt and there still is a reasonable amount of doubt in my mind as to whether we are benefiting as greatly as we might if the tax remained at .015. However, I will go along and agree that we should determine the figure more accurately than what it has been in the last two years.

The figures which I have from one source are not completely in agreement with figures from another source. For that reason, I think in a two-year period we could determine the figure more accurately. I would, therefore, suggest that so long as we keep this at a two-year period, there is a good possibility that the large airlines will continue to use gas here in Pennsylvania, as they have assured us they will. The figures up-to-date do not indicate that much of a difference, when compared with the volume of air traffic which has been going in and out of the Philadelphia Airport.

Also Pittsburgh, on the first of the month, will be going into an international airport basis. I think here, too, we have an avenue to balance the figures.

For that reason, Mr. President, I would request not only the gentleman on this side of the aisle but the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle, who are interested in the development of smaller airports, to vote in favor of the amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I, too, must rise to oppose these amendments.

In this modern day and age, we must encourage air travel. It is going to entail some expense for the large airlines and I am afraid that, naturally, they could have the opportunity to go out of this Commonwealth entirely and buy the gasoline or oil which they use. It seems to me that when we put a cutoff period of 1963, we may hinder the expansion of air traffic in Pennsylvania. We are very fortunate, indeed, that we will have two International Airports. Of course, we have the one in Philadelphia and we are going to have one in Pittsburgh. We should, therefore, do everything possible to encourage the airlines to expand air traffic and work with us. Of course, we would like to have their business.

Mr. President, I believe it means an awfully lot, during this modern day and age, to encourage air travel.

Just by digressing a bit, I might say that if you go into the southern States, you will note that there is great encouragement, as far as air travel is concerned. Not long ago, I was down in Savannah, Georgia. I noticed down there that they had two huge airports. The same applies to Atlanta, Georgia. That is where the businesses are going. We have to fight the southern people when it comes to new businesses up here in the North. We should have more airports and we should be cooperative with all the large airlines. We should encourage them to work with us here. I told Senator Van Sant this may be a hindrance. We do not know, because, after all, if it entails a capital expenditure of any great amount, they could very easily go out of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and purchase their fuels.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, certainly, if these amendments were to be a hindrance to the bill, then the slight increase that we showed in our figures over the last two years on the collection of the taxes would be pretty much out of line. The business has continued in the last two years and, as a matter of fact, air traffic has increased. I do not think that the terminal period of June 30, 1963, will make any difference to the airlines.

I am very much interested in aviation, as has been indicated in the past. We have one of the prize airports in the Country down in the famous Lehigh Valley. We are quite proud of it. However, we also want to continue to grow. We do not want all the growth to come to large airports and, perhaps, deprive us of some future development.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The roll was called and resulted as follows:

YEAS—23

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this bill. I think that the very concise letter, of which I have a copy in my possession, covers the points as were set forth very clearly in the debate on the amendments.

This bill is very, very important to those of you who do not live in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. I think it is very important to those of you who live in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Therefore, that means that it is important to everybody.

I also have a telegram from the Adjutant General, which reads:

"I do not personally object to the passage of House Bill No. 635 and House Bill No. 636." I stress the word "personally."

I also have a carbon copy of a letter sent to the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, who is also our distinguished Adjutant General, and signed by Colonel Philip F. Neuweiler, a member of the Aeronautics Commission, and Allen R. Howard, Jr., a member of the Aeronautics Commission. They state that they have the authority of the other two voting members of the Commission, Mr. Fesenmyer and Mr. Bughman, to quote them.

The Aeronautics Commission, gentlemen, is composed of four appointed members;—all appointed by the Governor, with the concurrence of the Senate—two Members of the Senate, two Members of the House, and the Adjutant General. These four civilian members are the only members with a vote. These are Pennsylvania's experts on civil aeronautics.

I read from the copy of the letter:

"The Fuels Use Tax Act of 1952 (P. L. 1965) imposed an excise of one and one-half cents per gallon on fuel used in prop-jet or turbo-jet driven aircraft. This act was amended on December 28, 1959 (P. L. 2032) reducing the jet fuel tax to one cent per gallon for the period beginning January 1, 1960 and ending May 31, 1961.

"To the best of our knowledge, this reduction in tax was accomplished through dint of expert lobbying and specious"—I do not like the word, but it is in here—"promises by one large trunk carrier airline official. You will note that this reduction in jet fuel tax coincided with the introduction into service of the large turbo-jet type aircraft operating from Philadelphia International Airport and Greater Pittsburgh Airport. Over the past year, the trunk airlines"—and naming them—"have been operating increasingly greater numbers of"—naming these aircraft—"with a correspondingly large increase in use of jet fuel loading at the afore-mentioned two airports."

I further quote from later in the letter, and it answers this business of the argument of the big trunk carriers who instead of buying their jet fuel in Pennsylvania will cart it in by airplane. It reads:

"... all jet aircraft operate under FAA Instrument Flight Rules which establish certain point-to-point . . . fuel load requirements. Any jet aircraft departing Philadelphia or Pittsburgh must have the required fuel aboard. Second, no airline is going to decrease its passenger or freight payload on a flight into Philadelphia or Pittsburgh in order to carry extra fuel it would not have to load on departure.

"A gallon of jet fuel weighs about 7 pounds. An extra 200 gallons of jet fuel carried into a Pennsylvania airport would save one-half a cent a gallon or $1.00 on a total extra weight of 1400 pounds. Assuming 200 pounds allowance per person, each aircraft would be reducing its passenger payload by 7 persons each flight to save a total of $1.00. Obviously, this unsound practice is not being followed."

Gentlemen, I, too, have the figures, and I have the correct figures because I served as a Member of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission up until the day I assumed office in the Senate, which was December 1, 1960. On the basis of one year's experience, I can give you facts.

I have in my possession a summary which I personally made up from the monthly reports of the Aeronautics Commission. I have taken these figures, in the case of gallons, to the nearest thousand and, in the case of moneys, to the nearest hundred. I find that in 1959 in Pennsylvania, there was consumed approximately 11,732,000 gallons of jet fuel. In 1960 in Pennsylvania, there was consumed 21,751,000 gallons. In other words, we have an increase in 1960 of a consumption, in Pennsylvania, of approximately 10,000,000 gallons of jet fuel.

At the same time, there was a decline in the use of straight aviation gasoline. In 1959, we used roughly thirty-nine and one-half million gallons of straight aviation gasoline, whereas in 1960, we reduced that total to 36,296,000 gallons, which was a reduction.

On the basis of this 10,000,000-gallon increase of jet fuel to 21,000,000 gallons roughly, we have lost during the past year a half a penny a gallon on 21,000,000, or roughly $108,000 or thereabouts. In one year, there has been that much less money coming to the Aeronautics Commission as a tax on jet fuel.

Senator Weiner very correctly points out that after we reduced the tax on jet fuel, we received more money on the over-all tax. However, unfortunately, he did not tell you how much. I have the figures here. In 1959, we received roughly $756,300, and this increased tremendously to $758,600, or roughly a $2,000 increase.

Gentlemen, I think I know a little bit about this airplane industry, but not as a flier. I will say this. Under the Pennsylvania procedure, we use the gas tax and the jet fuel tax to build our airports. The airport in the city of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, and the airport in the city and county of Philadelphia both at present are second to none. People who come into these airports remark on what wonderful airports they are. I do not buy Senator Lane's argument that the southern airports are better. Frankly, some of them are, but I would not like to land on them too often.

When you talk about the future of air travel in Pennsylvania, you have to consider where the money to build the new airports is going to come from. Philadelphia is considering another runway. I have seen the State Highway Department plans that show another 5,000 foot extension of its runway to carry this jet traffic. Gentlemen, you do not have that money in the Aeronautics Commission right at the present time.

Under the existing law, we have what we call matching funds. The Aeronautics Commission puts up a dollar, the city of Philadelphia puts up a dollar, and the Federal Government puts up two dollars. When we lost $100,000 last year in jet fuel tax, we lost $400,000 of improvements in this Commonwealth.

Last summer, during the fiscal session in the House, I introduced a bill to appropriate to the Aeronautics Commission—I believe it was—$2,000,000. I know a House Bill has been recently introduced by two aviation-minded House Members for a deficiency appropriation to the Aeronautics Commission of $3,500,000, so that we can use the matching funds that are available. The budget calls for something like $107,000.

Gentlemen, you are going to make a choice today whether the big trunk airlines will pay a fair share of the cost of the new runways at the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Airports, or whether you are going to put it on the backs of the citizens of Pennsylvania. You have heard me on this floor, crying about the need for our hospitals under the Kerr-Mills Act. You say there is no money. Yet, here you are going to drop money right into the lap of the jet fuel consumer—the big trunk airlines. You are going to take the money from our schools and from our hospitals to subsidize commercial aviation.

Gentlemen, it is your choice. However, if you cut this jet fuel tax in any way, you have to make up that money from another source and you have to improve these smaller airports.

I just thought what false economy it would be to be flying in one of these big Boeing 707's or one of these big four-engine jet airliners, which fly over my home everyday in increasing numbers, and be some place out around Johnstown and have a couple of engines catch on fire and not have a Johnstown Airport to land on. They cannot glide that far.

I think the trunk airlines are taking a very short-sighted view to cut the throat of the Aeronautics Commission and take the money away from them because not only are those secondary airports for the use of our people from Harrisburg, Allentown, Bethlehem and throughout the State, but they are also emergency airfields.

Gentlemen, you have the choice. You can either believe me or you can believe others.

I say this: Just as these Members of the Aeronautics Commission pointed out very clearly in that letter, what commercial airline will cart 1,400 pounds of dead freight from New York or Baltimore to Philadelphia to save one dollar? I say that is asinine.

Members of the Senate, every man in this room is looking to the future. We are looking toward the problems of the future. My good friend, Charley Weiner, takes one approach. For that I do not condemn him. I take the other one, and for that he does not condemn me.

I have in my possession a page from The Philadelphia Inquirer of April 16, 1961, called: "City on the Move." In this, it is pointed out that the volume of business at the Philadelphia International Airport has reached a record of 2,020,000 passengers a year. I read from this article:

"At year's end, a dozen jet flights a day were hurtling into the air compared to a single daily flight early in the year."

The future of commercial aviation is jet, and we have to face it.

I say, gentlemen, the only decision you have here today is whether the commercial airlines will pay a part of the bill or whether they will not.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am going to be very brief because the hour is getting late and our deadline is 6:00 p. m. We still have quite a number of pages on the Calendar.

Mr. President, I cannot understand why we always endeavor to make it difficult for industry to come into Pennsylvania. I listened to the figures given by the distinguished gentleman from Delaware County. There was not too much of a variation. I would say that these passenger loads in these large airports are bringing some industry to our areas and they are bringing some business into Pennsylvania. I think we should do everything possible to encourage business in Pennsylvania. I think those figures, in my point of view, are more or less ridiculous. I believe we should overlook the small amounts which are involved here when we talk about the overall revenue received by the Aeronautics Commission. Of course, those statements are correct. The gentleman from Delaware has the figures and was formerly a member of the Commission.

However, Mr. President, I believe the time has come when we must subsidize industry. I would vote to subsidize industry in Pennsylvania, because we must encourage industry and we must employ our people. The more industry we have in Pennsylvania, the better off all of us will be.

I think we should vote for this legislation and give the airlines a break.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to take issue with all the statements made by the gentleman from Delaware. As he stated, we have two different approaches to this problem.

However, the gentleman might bear in mind that in all the States surrounding the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, there is not a tax, with the exception of the State of New York. That is where they pay the tax and it is wholly refundable to the companies which have paid the tax. Therefore, in a sense, we are discriminating against these companies in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I think this is not helpful to us.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, Senator Bell's remarks sounded very interesting. However, we should gauge them against the realities of the situation. The city of New York and the State of New York are in need of tax money just as much as we are, and yet they see fit to promote their aviation industry and their flights by refunding all of the tax.

Therefore, Mr. President, I cannot understand why we in Pennsylvania should handicap ourselves and refuse to make a reduction in the tax.

They are now in the last stage and will then go to the Governor's desk for his signature. GUESTS OF SENATOR HARRY E. SEYLER
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, during the last few weeks, quite a number of school children from York County have visited this Senate Chamber. This has been so prevalent that last week seemed almost like York County Week in the Senate.

I am glad to tell the gentlemen of the Senate that not only the school children of York County are interested in the operation of their State Government, but many of the adults in York County, likewise. I would like to call to the attention of the President and the Members of the Senate that we have with us today a large group of citizens from York County who are members of the York County Democratic Club. They are here under the leadership of Mr. Ira Keech, who is the President of that Club.

I would like very much if the Chair would recognize this group and welcome them to the Senate. I would call your attention to the fact, Mr. President, that I know in this group there are some close friends of yours, from York County.

The PRESIDENT. Would the members of the York County Democratic Club please rise?

We are very happy to welcome you to the Senate and we do hope that you will find the proceedings interesting.

I recognize two very old friends of mine whom I particularly would like to have rise and take a bow. I know that the proceedings of the Senate are no mystery to them. I wonder whether Mr. Henry Leader and Mr. Luther Yohe would please rise? We are indeed very happy to have you with us in the Senate today.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, we are glad to join in welcoming the members of the York County Democratic Club here in the Senate today. I can only say that I trust there will be some defections by the time they want to leave us.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Senator Berger. I doubt whether that will happen.

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Rules, to be held in the office of the President pro tempore.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he does not consider it rather late to have a committee meeting?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the gentleman is absolutely correct. It is a little bit late, but I promise that the meeting will not last any longer than three minutes. I will reduce the time from five minutes to three minutes.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, that bodes ill for those who might wish to consider the subject matter at the meeting.

The PRESIDENT. With the extra limitation, the Senate will be in recess for a period of three minutes, while the Rules Committee has a meeting in the office of the President pro tempore.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LANE, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported without amendment, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 57, entitled:

Senate Committee to Consider Necessary Legislation as Set Forth in The Report of the Governor's Committee on Education.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before making that decision, I would rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentlemen will state it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it is my opinion that this question had once been decided in the negative by a majority vote of those present in the Senate. This being the identical question, it is also my opinion that the only reconsideration which can be given to it must be by reconsideration of the vote by which it was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. Unfortunately, this is not the same resolution. This is a similar resolution. Under that, there is no possible way in which it could be referred to the prior vote.

Mr. BERGER. Under this resolution, the question is precisely the same as that in the preceding resolution which was defeated. The fact that they left out the number of people who are to appear on the committee, does not make it a different question.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I differ with the gentleman because the text of the resolution is changed considerably. As a matter of fact, we set forth the fact in the resolution that a similar resolution was passed in the House of Representatives a few days ago. In addition to that, Mr. President, we did not set the number of persons who should serve on this committee.

Therefore, I feel that the resolution is in order.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, that is certainly begging the question. There is no doubt that the purpose of the resolution is identical and the question is the same as that which was defeated previously in the Senate and which has not been reconsidered.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I must differ with the gentleman on the basis that there is a different question involved. It is inherently different in that in the first resolution, we asked that there be set up a committee of four members from the Republican side and four from the Democratic side to deal with the problem of education. This committee was to be limited to the Senate.

In this resolution we not only recite, but we set forth in detail that the House has passed House Resolution No. 61 which sets up such a committee to deal with this problem. We ask here that we set up a committee, number one, to convene and meet with the Members of the House and consult with them. Secondly, we ask that any number be set up; no specific number. In the resolution, it is our hope that it be bipartisan in nature.

I, therefore, think this is a different question than that which was originally set before this Body. It might be that the verbiage, in many aspects, is similar in the sense of what we are trying to do. However, I think the question is a different one. First, we were asking to set up a committee. This time, we are asking that there be a committee set up to meet with the House Committee that is being set up under a House Resolution which has just been passed. We could not have very well done that under the earlier resolution because there was no House Committee set up. They had not passed the resolution, nor had they even dealt with the problem at the time when we were dealing with it over here.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would respectfully suggest to the Chair that this is a different problem and a different question than that which was before us previously.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, whether the resolution prescribes four or whether it prescribes an equal number, the question on the resolution is exactly the same—the question that has been raised.

What the gentleman has just stated relates to the reasons for resubmitting the same question, and not a different question.

I reiterate my point of order that this has been decided in the negative.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it seems to me that the purpose of the rule is to see to it that we do not have the same question submitted twice.

In considering whether this is the same question, we must consider whether the reasons for which Members voted on the prevailing side would prevail in this case. I suggest to the Chair that one significant difference, or one reason that might have influenced Members who voted against this resolution originally, is the fact that it was limited to four Members from each side. In other words, a total of eight Members. This has been removed. It is now an open question, and it is quite conceivable that, therefore, you have an important reason why Members might conceivably vote differently on this question than they would on the previous question.

I suggest this is an important and substantive difference. Therefore, there seems to me to be no doubt that the resubmission of the resolution is in order.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, at this juncture it occurs to me that the point of order which I have raised has been submitted to the Chair, and I trust that the Chair will apply the same judicial reasoning to the arguments that have been made here that he has been accustomed to prior to his accession to this office.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before you hand down a decision, I want to say that I base my position on the premise that the House of Representatives has passed this resolution. Of course, it was a House Resolution, and on that we must agree. However, we, in turn, as a part of government and a part of the legislative government, should, therefore, do something about that. The verbiage of this resolution is changed to a great degree from the one which was defeated.

I feel that our position is sound, but this resolution actually augments the operation of the House of Representatives. I feel that the Chair should favor us with the decision.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that this is a similar resolution, but not identical. Therefore, the Chair's original ruling stands and the resolution will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR
HB 638

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was read, considered and concurred in:

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1961.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 638, Printer's No. 694, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSOR
TO SB 611, 612 AND 613

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, last Wednesday I introduced, on behalf of other Senators, three bills growing out of the Governor's Committee on Education Report. At that time, I pointed out that I had hoped and had believed that Senator Shafer desired to be a sponsor of these bills also. However, Senator Shafer, unfortunately, was not present that day and I could not locate him and the bills were introduced without his name as a cosponsor.

Therefore, I would respectfully request that in the case of these three bills, which now carry the numbers of Senate Bill No. 611, Senate Bill No. 612 and Senate Bill No. 613, with the consent of Senator Shafer, if possible, his name be added as an additional sponsor to the three bills in question.

The PRESIDENT. Has Senator Shafer an objection?

Mr. SHAFER. I so request, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you. The request will be granted.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I have before me a clipping from the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, dated Sunday, May 7, 1961. Because of the lateness of the hour, I would like to make it a part of the record in connection with my remarks thereon.

The heading of the clipping is: "Arbitration Plan Needs Extra Clerks".

The arbitration plan in Pittsburgh, as defined by the County Court, is going to exist for twenty-four days. The County Commissioners have appropriated $38,000, and they find they will need an additional six clerks in the Prothonotary's Office. In addition to that, they expect more cases because this body raised the jurisdictional amount from $2,500 to $5,000. Therefore, the President Judge, Judge Lencher, says they will need a larger number of cases arbitrated in the future.

On several occasions, I have drawn to the attention of this Body the fact that the arbitration method is not only expensive, but it is derogatory to the respect given to the law by the people, because three lawyers come in, the rules of evidence are not kept and, further, because of the time element involved. These are only small factors compared with the disrespect and the loss of face that the law receives.

In this case, they could hire two judges to hear, without juries, throughout the year for the cost of the arbitrators for twenty-four days.

The County Court Judges receive $18,000 a year. Thirty-eight thousand dollars has been appropriated and now six clerks are needed. If one judge would sit throughout the year and hear cases without a jury, he would cover all of the cases within the jurisdictional amount of arbitration.

The PRESIDENT. At the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Mahady, the news article will be spread upon the record.

ARBITRATION PLAN NEEDS EXTRA CLERKS COURT WILL ASK COMMISSIONERS FOR SIX
ROBERTS' AIDES

County Court will ask the County Commissioners to give Prothonotary David B. Roberts six more clerks with which to operate the court's compulsory arbitration program next fall.

This was the principal development at a meeting Friday of county court judges with a committee of the Allegheny County Bar Association.

President Judge Benjamin Lencher informed the lawyers that, as previously announced, the court's 24-day arbitration program will begin October 9. He said that the cost of the program will be about $30,000, mostly in $50-a-day payments to lawyers who will form the three-member panels which will hear small claims up to $2,000.

NEED AT LEAST SIX

But the court discovered it will have additional expenses, Judge Lencher explained. He said that Joseph Currie, assistant to Prothonotary Roberts, estimated that he will need at least six clerks to operate the arbitration program.

Lencher said Robert's staff must first prepare cases for arbitration, setting up a schedule so that the lawyer's cases do not conflict with other court work.

Next, he said, the staff must arrange for lawyer-arbiters, getting affidavits that they are not involved in any of the cases. Finally, all parties must be notified.

"It's a big job and the clerks are constantly changing the schedules," the judge said.

OTHER CASES EXPECTED

Arbitration has become increasingly important because, with the increase in jurisdiction in county court from $2,500 to $5,000 in civil damage suits, the court expects the transfer of a large number of cases from Common Pleas Court.

Bar Association officials had pressed for more than one 24-day arbitration session, but judge Lencher said this was prevented because of the lack of funds, the need for time to prepare the list, and because the clerks are now engaged in preparing crowded June and September dockets for non-jury trials.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. YETTER. RESOLUTION No. 67.

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1961.

The Pennsylvania Constitution, Article IX, sections 1 and 2, provides:

"All taxes shall be uniform, upon the same class of subjects, within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, . . . but the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity, and real and personal property owned, occupied, and used by any branch, post, or camp of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines; . . . [Emphasis supplied]

"All laws exempting property from taxation, other than the property above enumerated, shall be void."

Acting under the authority of Article IX, sections 1 and 2, the General Assembly, by general laws, has exempted valuable real property from local taxation. The evidence suggests that recent absolute and relative increases in the value of real property exempt from local taxation have placed disproportionate burdens upon the owners of property subject to taxation; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission, in order to establish the pertinent facts and to facilitate the evaluation of the problems presented by the exemption of certain properties from local taxation, is hereby directed to ascertain:

1. The value of tax-exempt property by the categories prescribed by the Constitution, the laws in local tax revenue consequent upon the exemptions and the increased tax burdens imposed upon the owners of taxable property by virtue of the exemption;

2. The use or uses made of tax-exempt property with a view of facilitating a legislative determination as to what extent the exemptions are, in fact, confined to actual places of religious worship and institutions of purely public charity;

3. The practices which obtain in other comparable states with respect to the exemption of certain types of real estate used for the purposes specified in Article IX, section 1 of the Pennsylvania Constitution; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at the Session of 1963.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. WILLARD, GUTHRIE, HELM and JIM offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1961.

Mrs. Emma Jane Nixon, Salina's oldest and most respected citizen, exemplifies for all her friends and neighbors the person who is living "the good life and the full life." Born one hundred years ago on May 5, 1861, she continues to participate in her community's activities. She attends the Salina Reformed Church where she has been a member for seventy-seven years, does most of her own housework, and reads her Bible and the daily newspapers. She enjoys the radio and television, and does her own sewing. Her own explanation of her vitality is simple: "I just kept living." "Aunt Jane," as she is affectionately known by her friends in Bell Township, Westmoreland County, will be honored at a family dinner gathering at which children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren, and great-great grandchildren will be present. This woman, who has "just kept living," has done so in such manner as to be an example for all who know her of what can be done with a life served with humility and enthusiasm; therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend their sincerest congratulations to Aunt Jane Nixon of Salina, upon the celebration of her one hundred birthday.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Mercer rise?

have just passed and to offer my own personal thanks. She is a very active woman. I attended a luncheon for her last Saturday at Beatty's Inn on Route 22 in Westmoreland County. I know if she were here today she would wish each one of you to live to be 100, provided you had her physical ability and her mental ability which she has today.

Again, I thank you for passing this resolution.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 808, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for the fiscal period June 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal period ending May 31, 1961.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Messrs. GOODRICH, WOOD, Mrs. HENZEL and Mr. DOWN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Section 2, page 31, line 2, by inserting after "open" the following: "and for payments to school districts on account of the equalization guarantee provided in the following paragraph."

Amend Section 2, page 31, by inserting between lines 2 and 3 the following: "The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall calculate reimbursement payments for each school district on account of instruction and on all other accounts which under the provisions of the Public School Code of 1949 require the use of market valuations on the basis of the market valuations certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Tax Equalization Board in the year 1960; Provided, however, That if the sum total payments so calculated is less than the sum total paid to a school district on all accounts requiring the use of market valuations for the school year 1959-1960, the total amount paid for the school year 1959-1960 shall constitute the amount due and payable to such school district for the school year 1960-1961, unless the number of teaching units upon which reimbursement for instruction and tuition is based is lower in 1960-1961 than in 1959-1960, in which case the amount due and payable for 1960-1961 shall be reduced by an amount equal to the difference in the number of teaching units multiplied by the reimbursement for the school year 1959-1960 on account of instruction plus tuition divided by the number of teaching units for 1959-1960."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the amendments are to freeze payments to school districts on the basis of the 1957 market value, and not to freeze the market values as such. The payments are frozen, but the money received by the school districts of 1957 would be frozen to this degree, but districts, because of the 1959 certification that were receiving less than they were as the result of the 1957 or 1958 certification, would receive the same amount of money if the certification resulted in a loss to those districts. But the districts gain under these amendments; the school districts would still gain the reimbursement.

Mr. Speaker, I would point out to the members of the House that the cost of this bill amounts to $7 million. We are asking that the amendments be approved by all the members of the House. It is purely a temporary measure; it only applies for one year and if, in the meantime, as a result of action on bills coming from the Governor's Committee on Education, if this problem is solved, there would be no further need for this bill.

Therefore I ask that all members vote for the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have read the amendments offered by the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich. and I raise the constitutional question in connection with these amendments in that they violate Article 3, section 15 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads: "The general appropriation bill shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the Commonwealth. Interest on the public debt, the public schools and all other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject."

Now, Mr. Speaker, this question has been determined by the Supreme Court and also an opinion by the Attorney General. In the opinion of the Attorney General issued on October 3, 1957, the Attorney General said, "If the legislature wants to impose special requirements upon the Department of Military Affairs and the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission in the handling of these funds, it must do so by a bill apart from the general appropriation bill." Mr. Speaker, the amendments here today are legislation. We are attempting to legislate. It would be a very proper thing to do by a separate bill, which was done in 1959.

I shall also read from the Supreme Court decision in Commonwealth v Gregg, in which the Supreme Court said, "The general appropriations bill shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the Commonwealth." The history and purpose of that section are well known. It was aimed at the objectionable practice of putting a measure of doubtful strength on its own merits into the general appropriations bill in legislative phrase, tacking on as a rider, in order to compel members to vote for it or bring the wheels of government to a stop.

It is very plain that the amendments offered today—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, raises the constitutional point of order that the amendments offered by Mr. Goodrich to House bill 808, printer's No. 1776, are unconstitutional, violating Article 3, section 15.

The Speaker, under Rule 4, is required to submit to the House the question as to the constitutionality of amendments for its decision, which the Chair now does, and recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is very plain from the interpretation by the court and from the ruling of the Attorney General that an amendment such as this tacked on as a rider is unconstitutional. I ask that the House decide that this amendment is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, if what we are attempting to do today is unconstitutional, I would say that we have never passed a constitutional general appropriations bill.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, if the question before the House is whether or not this amendment is constitutional, then, in the first instance, it is the duty of the Speaker, is it not, under rule 4 to give a decision and then that is not debatable. But, the ruling of the Chair, which is subject to approval by the House is debatable.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Philadelphia is unfamiliar with the meaning and intent of the rule, the rule can be read. When the point of the constitutionality of a bill is raised, the Chair must refer the question to the House for its decision.

Mr. McCORMACK. No ruling by the Chair?

The SPEAKER. That is right. No ruling by the Chair.

Though it is not a rule of the House, the Chair, if privileged to do so, would rule on the question which he cannot do under the rules.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, to conclude my opening statement, Mr. Speaker, if the position of the gentleman from Washington is correct, we have never in my time passed a constitutional general appropriations bill. I am having the amendments put before me. For instance, on page 68 of House bill 808, just at random, section 11 is not an appropriation; it is substantive law. It says, "No part of the appropriations made by this act shall be used to pay for hospitals or institutional care or training at rates in excess of those charged to the general public for the same care and services," and so forth. It provides what the Auditor General shall do on the basis of certified fiscal reports. Then, if you will turn to page 30 of the general appropriation bill, before providing $272 million for schools by substantive law, you might say, it provides something that the Superintendent of Public Instruction cannot do now; it says that the "Superintendent of Public Instruction with the approval of the Governor may make payments from this appropriation in advance of the due dates prescribed by law to school districts which are financially handicapped whenever he shall deem it necessary to make such advanced payments to enable school districts to keep their public schools open."

I say if you would read this appropriations bill from its four corners, all its pages, you will find it is replete with references to things other than appropriations. If what the gentleman from Washington says is true and we take a literal interpretation of the constitutional amendment, there is not much extraneous material that should be stricken out of this bill. Now we are not changing a program feature, which I believe the appellate courts and the Attorney General have referred to. We are merely saying that the school districts under this appropriation shall now receive less money than they did at a particular period of time. We are not changing a program feature at all. All we are doing is, we are spelling out the handling of the appropriations. What we are trying to do is to amend this appropriation bill. We are not saying how an appropriation shall be spent; we are not digressing out of the realm of the appropriation bill. We are saying how this money is to be handled. We are not freezing capitalization. All we are doing is, we are saying how the money is to be handled. So I say that what we are doing here is within the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and, if we are not, you had better send this bill back to committee and let a lot of stuff out of it because the bill is certainly unconstitutional.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there is no doubt in my mind that there have been sections placed in the general appropriation bill in the past which would probably be unconstitutional, but the bill itself was not unconstitutional. There is a difference between the limitation in which way the payment could be made, such as in section 11 which the gentleman refers to, there is a difference between that and legislating. We have on our statute books the ways the values are to be determined, and from the Tax Equalization Board the way they are to be certified and the way the Department of Public Instruction is to make the payments. But in this amendment we are attempting to change that, and it is purely legislation, and I would call to the gentleman's attention that when this was discussed in 1959 it was agreed that the amendment which had been put in was not constitutional and should be taken out and handled by separate legislation.

As far as section 11 is concerned, it did not appear in the general appropriation bill when it came from the budget office. It was put in there at the request of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania, Mr. Charles C. Smith. Since there is a question about it, I will be glad to take it out.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in very strange company this afternoon, when I am advocating passage of Republican amendments to a Democratic administration bill. But it must only emphasize, Mr. Speaker, the desperate necessity that I believe calls for the passage of these amendments.

Now I do not know whether they are constitutional or unconstitutional, but I am only asking the members to vote to support the constitutionality of these amendments and let that question be settled later by the court, if necessary, because it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that this is the only possible chance of amending this bill and controlling an arbitrary and arrogant and capricious board. There has been no other way to control them, Mr. Speaker. Appeals have meant nothing. They have been presented—but I suppose I am getting off the subject. I would like to speak later if the constitutionality is upheld. I would like to speak later on the amendments, Mr. Speaker. All I do is ask all those on both sides of the aisle to support the constitutionality of this measure.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is the point of order raised by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, that the amendments to House bill 808, submitted by the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich, are unconstitutional. Those voting "aye" will vote to sustain the point of order, thereby declaring the amendments unconstitutional. Those voting "no" will vote that the point of order is not well taken and thereby declare that the amendments are constitutional.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I ask our members to vote "no," Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the membership to sustain Mr. Polen and vote "aye."

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOODRICH and A. W. JOHNSON and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the constitutional point of order was not sustained, and the amendments are declared constitutional.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. There are two other amendments, two additional amendments, to be offered.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is, will the House agree to the amendments that have been submitted.

Mr. McCANN. That is what I want to clear. Mr. Speaker, I am going to suggest to our membership that they adopt the amendments offered by the gentleman from Potter and then, before the bill goes to final passage, that the amendments by Mr. Polen be inserted in the bill and prepared for final passage and vote of the House, tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the amendments, please?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Potter permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODRICH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in my conclusion that this amendment would reestablish an appropriation to local school districts, which as a consequence of the Tax Equalization Board's findings, of about a year or so ago, have lost some appropriations?

Mr. GOODRICH. The amendment would require a payment to school districts not less than they received, based on the 1957 market value, yes.

Mr. GELFAND. Actually, in effect, what this would do is to add approximately $8 million to the current appropriation bill; is that not correct?

Mr. GOODRICH. It is approximately $7 million, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to these amendments.

It occurs to me, Mr. Speaker, that the time has come for us to reflect some legislative responsibility. Now what we are starting to do here at this time is play the old game of rub my back and I'll rub your back. We are making an appropriation that sparks of pork-barrel legislation for local school districts in opposition and in contradiction of the laws and statutes of this Commonwealth.

It is known to all of us that the Tax Equalization Board two years ago made a finding based upon the local market value and assessments of real estate, which made some changes insofar as appropriations to local school districts were concerned.

In order to alleviate a problem that had occurred a couple years ago, this House and the Commonwealth made an appropriation for local school districts because they had committed themselves to budgets which they would not have been able to meet, and it was incumbent upon us at that time to appropriate money to those various school districts to alleviate their problems. But when I voted for that legislation last session, it was in the firm belief that I was helping local communities that were in need. But I thought that the law of this Commonwealth would be observed in the future and that the Tax Equalization Board had reached a conclusion, and I say that that conclusion was attacked a couple years ago and not found to be erroneous, that it would be considered and given the due respect which it was owed, and that the laws of this Commonwealth would be obeyed and adhered to.

Now I see that despite that, despite the fact that we know what we do, that the Tax Equalization Board's findings are meant to be conclusive and determine the appropriations to school districts, we want to again circumvent it, so all of us know that what we do here, by doing such things, is flying right in the face of statutes which have been well recognized in this Commonwealth.

I say the time has come for us to be responsible legislators and to know what we are doing and not just play the game of pork-barrel politics. I am aware that there are problems in local communities, that local school districts may have their problems, but I am also aware that this legislature is supposed to consider this problem in full and do something about it. And I do not think that handling it piecemeal in this fashion and everybody running to the trough of the Commonwealth's finances, the Commonwealth's revenues, to help their little communities does the total Commonwealth any good.

And I beseech you, I beg of you, that before you cast a vote for this type of amendment that you should consider the total Commonwealth and consider that this is a total problem and not a small problem, and not merely be in favor of your own local community, not merely consider only the needs of your own local small area, but consider what it will do for the entire Commonwealth.

I know that what I say here at this time may not be the most popular thing, but when you attach something like this to an appropriation bill, attach something which was not meant to be in the first place, what we do is completely ignore whatever real responsibility we have for this total Commonwealth. What we do when we attach something like this is make some of us completely unable to consider the legislation on its merits. We have a general appropriation bill which is to provide for the various departments of this Commonwealth, as well you all know, but what we are doing now, instead of considering it on the basis of those merits, is merely adding something which we think is going to make political capital for us in our home community.

Now I say the time really has come for us to be real legislators, to recognize what our real responsibility is. If we do not like the statute we have on the books of Pennsylvania, which sets up a Tax Equalization Board and sets up its functioning, then let us amend that statute and remove the Tax Equalization Board and the formulas by which it works.

But let us not ignore the fact that we have one that has done its duty, that has reached the findings that we as responsible people are to adhere to. We make a sham of ourselves to our own constituents when we pass laws and indicate to our own constituents that the laws are not meant to be considered, and that the laws are not meant to be obeyed. I think we are all worthy of more than that. I think we all owe ourselves as citizens, let alone legislators, the attitude of being responsible to our own community. I think rather than destroying legislation that it meant to serve a worthwhile purpose, we should utilize our thinking heads and our abilities to find ways to do things properly.

And for that reason, and for that reason alone, I oppose this amendment and I request that everybody in the House vote it down.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes, first because he asked for recognition first, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, since I am merely supplementing the remarks made by the previous speaker, Mr. Gelfand. I shall be as brief as the nature of the matter will permit. I do think it is improper and wrong, regardless of our leadership on the minority or the majority side or any other party, to go ahead and prejudiciously support amendments which they believe and know to be illegal and improper. It has also been ascertained and found upon investigation by our Commonwealth that our members of the Tax Equalization Board are members in good standing, of excellent character and reputation, which has been stated on the floor of the House. And I consider it absolutely improper reasoning on the part of one of our previous speakers to have stated that a matter may be arbitrary or capricious, because he was dissatisfied by the certain decision made by the Tax Equalization Board. I, therefore, because of these amendments being illegal and improper, ask the support of the House in voting against these amendments.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to get down to more mundane things and interrogate the chairman of the appropriations committee, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Unfortunately I did not read the amendments by the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich, but I did hear him say, under interrogation, that as a result of these amendments, there would be an additional $7 million added to the General Appropriation bill, is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I could not give the correct amount because I only received the amendments at the time they were offered. The previous amendments that Mr. Goodrich gave me, which I thought were the ones to be adopted, would cost about $14 million, which is not in the budget. Mr. Goodrich tells me these amendments as now written will only cost $7 million.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, where would that money come from?

Mr. POLEN. It would have to be raised by taxation.

Mr. McCORMACK. And yet the majority side is agreeing to these amendments?

Mr. POLEN. I believe they voted that way.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, we have not voted on them. We are discussing them now.

Mr. POLEN. I think that the amendments previously passed, if I am not mistaken.

The SPEAKER. No, we withdrew the decision. We have only gone so far as the House has declared its opinion that the amendments are constitutional. Now the amendments are still before the House, the House has not as yet agreed to the amendments.

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you in a position to state whether or not the majority party is in favor of raising $7 million in additional taxation to support this amendment?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not in the position to say whether or not they are. I think you could ascertain that from the majority leader.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, then would you yield to the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann?

Mr. POLEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am concerned about this $7 million that we are going to have to raise by taxation and I asked the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, whether or not the majority agrees to support these amendments, knowing that we are going to have to raise $7 million.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman knows, I voted on the constitutional question on the side supporting Mr. Polen. I believe the gentleman is well aware of the vote of this House. I am practical enough to know when I am beaten very soundly, and the vote indicated so.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I do not care whether he is right or not, I want to find out.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, what I am trying to say to the gentleman, every member of this House has a vote, there are "x" number of members on this side supporting that position and between them and the others who voted is by far a majority.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, that was just on the constitutionality of it, but now we are getting around to the dollars-and-cents' aspect of it and I am wondering whether or not there is some agreement here about which I do not know.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there is no agreement, but we are well enough informed to know how many members on this side, as indicated in the caucuses, are supporting those amendments and indicated that they will vote that way.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, will the majority party then support tax legislation to raise this $7 million?

Mr. McCANN. I would be most pleased if they would support it. I am well aware that it will take all of us.

Mr. McCORMACK. But taxation is going to be necessary to pay for this; is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I, of course, cannot answer that problem of the amount that it does take under these amendments. As the House has voted, it would add an additional, as was indicated, about $8 million to the DPI appropriation to do this very item, if this would be the situation in using that figure. As Mr. Polen indicated, Mr. Speaker, these amendments are somewhat different than the amendments that were offered last week, and I do not know the exact answer. The ones that were offered last week were carefully checked and computed; these are different. How much will they cost? I will take the gentleman's word, who indicated, I believe, $7 or $8 million.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well then, in other words, at the present time you do not know exactly what they are going to cost other than what the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich, has stated, is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, sir.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well may I suggest that we lay this on the table to find out, unless there is a particular hurry with adopting these amendments, until such time as we can get the correct and accurate figures.

Mr. McCANN. I will say to the gentleman from Philadelphia—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf, rise?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to clear the air on this, if the gentleman from Philadelphia would yield one moment.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would be glad to.

Mr. SCHAAF. I would ask the Chair if I am in order to turn inquire of Mr. Polen?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Philadelphia will yield.

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chair whether or not I would be in order to inquire of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, as to the nature of the second set of proposed amendments. Do they have a relationship to the amendments under consideration?

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the inquiry will be in order.

Mr. POLEN. I would ask the gentleman to repeat the question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman whether or not the second set of amendments about which the majority leader spoke here a few minutes ago have any pertinence to the question now under discussion?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the second set of amendments to which I referred are the amendments which are now before the House. The set which was previously given to me was not introduced. As I explained, just at the time of the introduction they were given to me. As to the cost, I would say this—

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not ask the cost. I want to be clear on this. The majority leader mentioned that he was agreeing to these amendments on the basis of the Appropriation Committee chairman having possession of a second set of amendments. Now, I want to know if there are other amendments going to be offered?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I did not get the question originally. Now I do. The amendments that I am going to offer, one of them is correctional, adding one word, the other will strike out section 11 in the general appropriation bill, which was the section referred to by Mr. Johnson as being, "If one was unconstitutional, the other was." So my amendments have nothing to do with the question now before the House.

Mr. SCHAAF. Then it is fair to say, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman's amendments have nothing to do with reference to the problem of taxation posed by these present amendments under consideration?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. SCHAAF. I thank the gentleman and I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, these amendments that were just offered, then, do they, in effect, juggle the figures so that we now go back to the 1957 findings of the Tax Equalization Board? Do they do that?

Mr. POLEN. Yes. I started to answer that.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments which are now before the House are different from the amendments which I had secured the costs on. What I want to say about these amendments, they are different, and, in hurriedly reviewing them, I would agree that the amount that is given by the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich, is substantially correct. It could be a little more; it could be a little less; but I think the $7 million figure could be used. If he would figure $7 million to $7.5 million, he would be very well in line.

Mr. McCORMACK. What does the wording in that amendment do to change the present function of the Tax Equalization Board, if anything?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in this amendment that changes the function of the Tax Equalization Board. Under normal conditions we would use the 1960 certification based upon the 1959 values. That is the law now.

Mr. McCORMACK. Right.

Mr. POLEN. But what this would say is that if the sum total of payments so calculated is less than the sum total paid to a school district on all accounts requiring the use of market valuations for school year 1959-60, the amount paid for the school year 1959-60 shall constitute the amount due and payable to such school districts for the school year 1960-61, unless the number of teaching units upon which reimbursement is based is lower in 1960 and 1961 than in 1959-61 shall be reduced by an amount equal to the difference in the number of teaching units multiplied by the reimbursement for the school year 1959-60 on account of instruction plus tuition divided by the number of teaching units for 1959-60.

What this does is really use amounts, instead of as in the previous amendments, which I had discussed and studied, where valuations are used alone.

Mr. McCORMACK. How will that affect the city of Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, hurriedly, I would say I believe it would not affect the city of Philadelphia in any way.

Mr. McCORMACK. They will not be taking any money away from the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. POLEN. Have you lost any teaching units?

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not have a telephone, I do not know, but the last I heard we did not.

Mr. POLEN. If your teaching units are substantially the same, I do not believe these proposed amendments would have any effect upon the city of Philadelphia's school district.

Mr. McCORMACK. All right, then, Mr. Speaker, I will go back now, if I may, and ask the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, to answer my last question, which he was about to answer.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman asked me what was the hurry in not laying the amendments on the table.

This House will be in session two days this week, today and tomorrow. This is May 8. This House will be in recess the week of the primary. The next day we return will be May 22, a Monday. The end of the fiscal year occurs on May 31. I have the situation in which the general appropriation bill, which is what we are talking about in its amended form, at one point or another must be placed on the Governor's desk for the first day of June to operate all departments of the government, legislative, judicial and executive. Should the decision be made in the Senate that they would not want to go along, or want to change it, there is only a certain number of legislative days in which a stopgap appropriation would be a mandatory decision of the House and the Senate for it to be placed on the Governor's desk before the first day of June.

If it is agreed one way or another, and the amendment placed in the bill is determined unconstitutional, that decision will come from the Attorney General to the Governor when signing the bill, and the executive, judicial and legislative branches of the government would continue to operate. Therefore, the number of legislative days involved, considering that during the last week of the month Memorial Day is on a Tuesday and it takes five consecutive legislative days for any action, places it in a very binding situation as of Monday, May 22.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, let me ask you this: Does the Governor have the right to line veto this amendment to the appropriation bill?

Mr. McCANN. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Does the Governor have the right to line veto this section of the appropriation bill that we are amending?

Mr. McCANN. That, Mr. Speaker, was clearly defined in the Attorney General's opinion and the Supreme Court decision in accordance with which it has been done, and he does have that right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well, that is all, thank you.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not suppose that what I am going to say is going to make a particle of difference in view of the position of the majority leader, but I want it clearly understood that I think these types of amendments are bad amendments, and I would like just a moment to express myself why.

I suspect that up home, if it gets up there, that I am going to be accused of being against the poor farmers and against the poor suburbanites. I represent a city district. To my knowledge and recollection concerning the Tax Equalization Board, it was designed for the distinct and specific purpose of equalizing assessments. I reside, Mr. Speaker, in a county where I have reasonable grounds for believing that, despite the reassessment program, assessments have not been equalized as they should be.

This is the machinery, the Tax Equalization Board is the machinery, which is necessary to complete this job. It is obviously a dynamic thing. It is going to change from year to year. There are going to be changes in market value reflected by the economy of various parts of the State, but yet these amendments would have us take the valuations, not on market values that exist today, but on what it was in yesteryear. To that extent, Mr. Speaker, I think it is an insult to the legislation currently on our books; I think it is an insult to the members of the Tax Equalization Board. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, since it has been settled and since the Philadelphia members are taken care of and they are not going to be harmed in any way, I would like to ask the support of these amendments. The reasons therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think could be explained best by my own home community in spite of the assertions that we are selfish and we are not doing our job, and so on and so forth. After all, we are here to represent our constituents and not the city of Philadelphia. The city of Clairton is a third class city, Mr. Speaker, which in the last census has lost some 1,500 residents to the outlying territory and which is a depressed area. Out of 6,000 workers we have 4,000 unemployed. In one business district in a three-block area we have 15 vacant business houses. We have torn down some 20 blocks of business places and slum area in an effort to bring in some other industry in a one-industry town. And yet, in view of all this, our valuation in the city of Clairton in one year was increased $24 million by the Tax Equalization Board. The assessed valuation was only $1 million increase. That was the county assessment. The city assessment was only $283,000. As you all know, the school board has to accept the city assessment. In this case the $24 million would mean the city of Clairton would have to raise annually $115,000 extra over and above all taxes now.

We requested a board hearing. We had the board hearing and we got no satisfaction. The case was taken to the Dauphin County Court, Mr. Speaker, and on April 24, 1961, the judge remanded this matter to the Tax Equalization Board of the Commonwealth for further consideration in order that the adjudicatory proceedings may be in accordance with the law, as outlined in his opinion. The judge said the Commonwealth did not present any testimony in either the hearing before the board or on the appeal before us. We received the testimony which was offered by the appellant, the Commonwealth elected not to present any testimony in either the hearing before the board or on the appeal before us. We received the testimony which was offered by the appellant, the Commonwealth elected not to present any testimony but moved for a compulsory non-suit. The testimony before the board was not taken stenographically, as required by the act of June 4, 1945, and the record does not indicate whether the witnesses were sworn or opportunity given for reasonable examination and cross examination of the parties and witnesses. The record of the proceedings before the board is not complete and the adjudication contains no findings of fact based on the testimony nor any conclusions of law. This compels us to remand the matter to the board for further consideration in order that the adjudicatory proceedings may be in accordance with the law as outlined in this opinion.

Mr. Speaker, that is the basis for my accusation that it is an arbitrary, a capricious board. They not only refused to offer evidence in their own hearings, but even before the court. In view of the fact that some 52 percent of the school districts in the Commonwealth have had their valuations raised without any reason, rhyme or evidence, I feel that I am perfectly justified in making those accusations against the board and I feel that we in these communities will have just as much trouble raising that money by taxation as the State will have. If it is going to cost the State $7 million to really give us a just decision in this matter, they can raise $7 million a lot easier than the city of Clairton can raise $115,000. There is no use in kidding ourselves, we all know if we are going to carry out any part of the Governor's education program, we are going to have to vote for new taxation. We all know that, or we should know that, and we should be prepared to do it if we want to carry out the Governor's program. In doing so, we can do it much more equitably than under this present system where various districts are raised arbitrarily and without any reason or rhyme, or, at least, any explanation or evidence.

I, therefore, ask all members on both sides of the House to support these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Mullen.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I oppose the amendments not because there is not any benefit in the amendments for Philadelphia, but because of the crusade we started last week for economy in government here in the House of Representatives.

I do not care whether it is of benefit to Philadelphia or not. All we from Philadelphia would like to get is our fair share of the appropriations. We want nothing more.

We from Philadelphia are primarily interested in economy in government. We do not want any more tax increases to burden our people.

Now, the Republican Party has always been preaching about economy in government, but they do nothing about it. I am here today to take that position. Let us do something about it. It may be a losing cause again, but I think we ought to give it very serious consideration. This amendment will add $7 million on to deficit financing. We had $17 million last Thursday, so there is a $24 million deficit to start with next year.

What are we going to do about this thing? Are we going to draw the line and be sensible about the thing? Are we going to sit down and draw up a tax program to pay for it? I do not think it is fair to any administration to vote continued increases in appropriations and not provide the funds for them.

Now, either the Republican Party is going to practice what it preaches and go out and fight for economy in government, or we from the Philadelphia delegation who have started an economy block in the House will do it for them, and for ourselves and our party, too.

I ask you to vote against the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support these amendments for several reasons.

First of all, the findings of the Tax Equalization Board are predicated on the number of sales in a community. Some of the communities in our Commonwealth have a large turnover of real estate and they can get a fair price, but many communities do not have a turnover of any great degree. I happen to live in a community where we have a rather static population, and I have figures here which show that in the past biennium, our market values have been increased by approximately $18 million.

Now our assessments are also rising. Every time a property is sold they raise the assessment on that property. They do not lower it. The ratio of the market values in my particular area are now about 18 to 1, but the assessment ratio between market value and assessments is about 27 percent.

Now, if the Tax Equalization Board figures would reflect the true picture, let us say $18 million rise, then the assessed valuation should be 27 percent of the $18 million, or around $4.5 million, but as of now it is about $1.5 million. And I think, I do not want to criticize too severely the Tax Equalization Board, but I do believe, as the gentleman from Allegheny, that they are somewhat capricious and arbitrary, because I do not think they take sufficient samplings to find a true picture, a true market value. After all, a statistical concept to have any validity or merit at all, must have a sufficient number of cases and samplings in order to be balanced, and I think there are perfectly good grounds to support these amendments. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn, desire to be recognized?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Boies, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOIES. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the State Tax Equalization Board was created by an act of the Legislature?

Mr. BOIES. That is a fact, as far as I know.

Mr. FLYNN. And is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that the State Tax Equalization Board is mandated by law that the provisions of the State tax equalization law must be complied with?

Mr. BOIES. I suppose that they are, Mr. Speaker, but that does not say they are doing it.

Mr. FLYNN. May I ask this, Mr. Speaker, what is the basis for the market value on the real market value as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board, and, in particular, so far as the city of Clairton is concerned? What is the basis and how do you arrive at a market value, may I ask?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I do not know. As far as I can determine, the representatives from the city of Clairton that went to the hearing do not know either, because they would not give them any evidence or answers to the questions. Therefore, I say they are arbitrary.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, my interpretation of the State Tax Equalization Board, so far as arriving at a market value of property in any given municipality in the Commonwealth, is by means of the representatives of the board going to the various counties or to their recorders of deeds, and their transactions in sales of real estate to determine what they consider a fair market value of the property. And I think the thing applies throughout Allegheny County, as it would to Washington County or any other county.

Now, may I ask the gentleman this: What is the ratio of his assessed valuation in his particular city in relationship to the market valuation as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board?

Mr. BOIES. The figure that I have, Mr. Speaker, for the 1957 assessed city valuation as to percentage of market value, is that what you want to know?

Mr. FLYNN. Yes.

Mr. BOIES. It is 48.6 and, in 1958, after they raised it $24 million in valuation, it was 39.1. Is that what you want to know?

Mr. FLYNN. That is it, Mr. Speaker. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, first of all, I would like to take exception to some of the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny County in reference to the members of the board.

We, as a legislative body, are responsible for that board because we are the same legislators who created that board. I would say from experience, that knowing the gentlemen on that board, I cannot agree that they are arbitrary members. One of the members, the chairman of the board, happens to be from Washington County, and I have a lot of respect for him. I think he is a man of honor and integrity. Another member of that board, ladies and gentlemen, happens to be a former member of this House and I have a lot of respect for that gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very liberal, but the Chair would note that the remarks of the gentleman now are not exactly relevant to the amendments. The Chair does not want to be arbitrary, but if we get to debating the integrity of various branches of our government we will not get very far.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, let me say this in conclusion, in reference to the amendments.

So far as the board itself is concerned, I think they are merely carrying out the mandates of the law as we created it and we so mandated and instructed them to do.

And I might say this, too, ladies and gentlemen, if we are not in agreement with the provisions and the laws as adopted by this legislature entitled to be carried out by the State Tax Equalization Board, I would like to suggest that perhaps it would be wise if we abolished the Tax Equalization Board altogether.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Foer, desire to be recognized?

Mr. FOER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bedford.

Mr. FOER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly tell you the situation in Bedford County. We are faced with somewhat the same situation as the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies. I believe that recently we have been declared a depressed area, but in spite of that our market value has gained, according to the Tax Equalization Board, $19.062 million, and we stand to lose, unless this amendment is passed, $135,000 in Bedford County.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I am fully aware that some districts in Pennsylvania will lose money by virtue of the findings of the Tax Equalization Board. We went through a very lengthy debate on that particular problem last session. Also, as a consequence of the findings of the Tax Equalization Board, the other Chamber raked it over the coals and made all sorts of accusations, but upon examination found that all the Tax Equalization Board did was comply with the law.

What I am saying here today is, if we have laws on the books, if the Tax Equalization Board did comply with the law, it is incumbent upon us to abide by the same also.

If we disagree with the board's findings, we should set up a new way legislatively for it to act. If we feel that cannot be done, then we should rip out the board completely, but to have a board which we have created and then completely ignore the fact that it is doing its statutory duty is a shame on the laws of this Commonwealth.

I would like to ask the majority leader or Mr. Polen a few brief questions.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, My Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, the appropriation bill on which we are now voting, is there a relationship between that and the revenue estimates made by the administration in its budget message?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there is a relationship. The general appropriation bill, House bill 808, is based upon the recommendations in the budget, tailored as they were in the House with certain adjustments to meet the anticipated revenues shown by the Governor in his budget message.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, in order to meet the cost of this appropriation bill, would all the recommended taxes that the administration laid out before us in the earlier part of the session have to be passed?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, all the taxes recommended would have to be passed in addition to the possibly $7 million to $7.5 million.

Mr. GELFAND. Does the gentleman know whether or not all those taxes have been passed?

Mr. POLEN. All the taxes recommended by the Governor have been passed by the House; House bill 95 is still in the Senate and has not been passed.

Mr. GELFAND. As a matter of fact, the taxes which are presently on the books, if they met the revenue estimate, would there be enough to meet the appropriation made in this legislation?

Mr. POLEN. The taxes already passed and on the books would be enough to meet the amount contained in House bill 808. However, in the other bills which we call non-preferred, which have not been referred to the Appropriations Committee, if House bill 95 is not passed, there would be a deficiency of $8 million.

Mr. GELFAND. That deficiency would be in addition to any deficiency which would be required by the amendment we are now making, is that not so?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. GELFAND. Does the gentleman know whether or not the revenues which are presently coming into this Commonwealth are meeting the estimates as made by the administration?

Mr. POLEN. The estimates in this biennium which we are still in are not meeting the amounts estimated by the administration.

Mr. GELFAND. Does the gentleman know how far behind in the estimates we are?

Mr. POLEN. I do not know at this time because of the date on which the corporate net income tax fell due. That normally would fall in April. In this particular year it is falling in May, so until the end of May we will not be in position to know exactly, but I believe we could get a trend in the latter part of this month.

Mr. GELFAND. Has the gentleman received any recent reports as to revenues of this Commonwealth?

Mr. POLEN. I received a report as of April 1. I received the memorandum as of May 1.

Mr. GELFAND. Can the gentleman advise how far revenues were behind estimates at that time?

Mr. POLEN. They were considerably behind, Mr. Speaker, but as I stated, we cannot actually compare them because the corporate net income tax is falling principally in May rather than in April.

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman kindly advise me of the figure?

Mr. POLEN. What was the question, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. GELFAND. Will the gentleman kindly advise me of the figure he is aware of as to how much we were behind in revenue collections as compared to revenue estimates?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would have to go to my office and get my data on that. I do not have it here, but I would say again that we cannot really say—

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I did not ask what the gentleman would say; I am asking him for the information.

Mr. POLEN. I do not have the information with me here, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman been reading economic reports of Pennsylvania?

Mr. POLEN. I have read some reports, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Is corporate income in Pennsylvania as high as would be expected in a prosperous community so as to equal the revenue estimates?

Mr. POLEN. I do not believe, Mr. Speaker, they are.

Mr. GELFAND. Then there is every possibility that the returns of the corporate net income tax will fall behind the estimates?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the point of that interrogation was this: That we passed some tax measures upon which this appropriation bill was conditioned, and, in order to meet the appropriations in this bill, the tax measures we passed would have had to bring in the estimates as made by the administration in the early part of this year. However, much to our chagrin and dismay, revenue estimates are millions behind what we had anticipated, and because of that it is highly questionable, without any further additions to this appropriation measure, whether or not we will have adequate funds to meet the demands of this appropriation measure.

Yet, despite that, despite the fact that we know this, we blindly go ahead and consider legislation which would lay upon the backs of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth an additional $8 million, approximately, and we do this knowing that we are flying right into the face of legislation which is already on the books.

However, I will say this, we show a great disregard for what we should do in the hall of this House. We do not amply consider what we do and, in order to be able to go back to our home communities and say what we have done, we have protected you, we have completely overshadowed what our whole responsibility is to the Commonwealth and the laws which have been placed upon the statute books of this State.

I am requesting everyone to vote against this amendment, because, if we vote otherwise, we do display that whatever we do here on other days when we pass laws means nothing and they are completely ignored. I think we owe it to ourselves, let alone to our Commonwealth, to show more responsibility.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Varner, still desire to be recognized?

Mr. VARNER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clarion.

Mr. VARNER. I might suggest, Mr. Speaker, that we could take this up better tomorrow as the first order of business. There might be another 20 or 30 people who might like to talk on this subject, but I think that would probably be vetoed.

I would like to say this: In my county dozens of persons are having a hard time paying their property taxes for school purposes and, unless we get this help, some people, particularly old people who are on fixed incomes are actually going to lose their properties.

For that reason I would ask that you support this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. POLEN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 11, page 68, lines 10 to 17 by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, about these proposed amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand these amendments, they strike out that section of the bill which provides that in the case of contracting out for hospital care the rates charged will not be in excess of the prevailing rates for the contracts that are issued?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments for this reason. It developed that there were tremendous abuses taking place in connection with the contracting out of hospital care. As a matter of fact, my recollection is, when this matter was checked when these first went in—I do not remember whether it was in 1957 or 1959 originally—at the request of the then Auditor General, he found that in contracting out hospital care in many cases they were paying as high as 300 percent in excess of the prevailing rates then in existence in the areas where the contracts were being let. In order to overcome those abuses, this section was put in the appropriation bill at that time. Now, if we remove this section, I would like to know if there is going to be separate legislation to protect us in the expenditure of these funds in order to avoid those abuses?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, yes. I think the proper way is to introduce separate legislation as a legislative barrier. Mr. TOMPKINS. Will that be done?

Mr. POLEN. Yes. I will prepare such a bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If the bill is put in and passed to eliminate the abuses which were uncovered that prompted this amendment to the appropriation bill last session, then I will agree, perhaps, to these amendments.

I would also like to ask the gentleman this, although the amendments have already been approved, whether or not the gentleman will also agree to put in legislation to provide for the same thing and support legislation to provide for the same thing on the amendments that have just been approved?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I intend to introduce what is being taken out, I will introduce it in the regular manner in a regular legislative bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, I have no further opposition to the amendment if they will take steps to correct those abuses.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. POLEN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2, page 41, line 3, by inserting after "Philadelphia" Warrendale.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 57,
CALLED UP

Mr. WEINER, without objection, called up from page 11 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 57, entitled:

Senate Committee to Consider Necessary Legislation as Set forth in The Report of the Governor's Committee on Education.

On the question,
Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 57, ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, for reasons which I think are amply sufficient and which have been stated here at length, I would request that my colleagues vote "no" on this resolution and would suggest that the gentlemen on the other side give long and careful consideration before they vote otherwise, inasmuch as I believe that the rules of the Senate have been violated in allowing this question to appear on the Calendar.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the matter about which the gentleman is speaking was disposed of yesterday in this Chamber by a ruling from the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. I have the feeling that I ruled on that matter distinctly yesterday, Senator Weiner.

Mr. WEINER. Therefore, Mr. President, I believe the only matter which is before us now is this resolution.

I want to reiterate that our only purpose for taking up this resolution is because the House has already taken the same step. Their resolution was House Resolution No. 61, asking for a bipartisan approach to the problem of education. I do not want to be redundant, but as I stated here yesterday, the problem of education for the people of Pennsylvania is neither Democratic nor Republican in any aspect. I think we should approach this matter and look at the entire report, as handed down by the Governor's Committee. This committee was also bipartisan in its nature and its composition.

We ask, respectfully, that the gentleman on the other side join us in thrashing out some of these problems. If, in the first instance, they felt that four and four was a harsh or offensive number, then we have taken that out. We will abide by whatever number they say, whether it be two and two or three and four. However, I want to suggest that the reason the number of four was considered earlier was due to the fact that two Members on both sides of the aisle served on the Governor's Education Committee. Also, if at all possible, we would like to add a Member of the Finance Committee and possibly a Member of the Appropriations Committee, or any one of the senior Members on the other side who have served on both of these committees, in order that we may receive their counsel, benefit and advice.

I do not think we are asking for too much. I do not think that we are asking anyone to embarrass themselves or in any way commit themselves. We are merely asking that you serve with us on this committee and advise us which measures we can move immediately and which measures we can hold no hope for. We are asking that you let us know these things at an early stage so that we can take whatever action our responsibility indicates that we should take in this matter.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, as Senator Weiner so well said, I do not wish to be redundant in this matter. However, I must observe that this is practically the only time in my recollection when we have offered a numerical advantage to the gentlemen on the other side in the matter of a committee and they have refused the offer. Consequently, Mr. President, I believe they are being over-generous in this matter.

I reiterate my request that my colleagues vote "no" on the resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I feel that we on this side are making a proper approach to this major problem of education. I never did feel, nor do I feel, that education was a political question. I firmly believe that once this resolution is adopted, then those who serve on the other side will be very happy that they had that opportunity. As a matter of fact, we hope to do something for all the people of Pennsylvania. It is our responsibility to do the job as soon and as quickly as possible.

I believe this is the proper method and I urge everyone on both sides of the aisle to vote "aye" on the adoption of this very meritorious resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. KROMER. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BERGER and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Camel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Devlin,	Mahady,	Ripp,	Staisey,

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in voting on House Bill No. 331, Printer's No. 360, on page 2 of today's Calendar, I was under the impression that the enactment of this bill would delay the settlement of a decedent's estate. I was in error and had I realized the real purport of the bill, I would have voted for it.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the gentleman will be voted in the Journal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Joseph D. Ripp) in the Chair.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. MAHADY and McCREESH, by unanimous consent, presented to the Chair SB 640, entitled:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. CURWOOD, BRETH and BOWER.

RESOLUTION No. 68.

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1961.

In the immediate future, public hearings will be conducted by the United States Army Corps of Engineers in conjunction with a preliminary survey and report on the advisability and desirability of a development program for the Susquehanna River watershed. The survey and report being conducted by the Federal Government deal not only with every conceivable phase of flood control but also reforestation, water transport, hydroelectric power, tourism and recreation.

The Susquehanna watershed development program can be of immeasurable value in the economic advancement of our Commonwealth. It is, therefore, imperative that we do everything within our power to cooperate with and assist the Federal Government in this project; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby directs the Joint State Government Commission to conduct a preliminary study of the Susquehanna watershed development program for the purpose of rendering information and assistance to the Federal Government in carrying out this project; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Commission make a report of its findings from such study to the 1963 Session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. CURWOOD and WILLARD.

RESOLUTION No. 69.

In the House of Representatives, May 8, 1961.

It has been the policy of the Pennsylvania Legislature to periodically review and revise the various codes of our Commonwealth in order to keep pace with the times.

"The Game Law" was adopted in 1937, and during the period of twenty-four years which have elapsed since that time, many changes in conditions relating to wild birds and wild animals have occurred, including, but not limited to, plentifulness of various species of game, beneficial or detrimental effects of different birds and animals, changes in feed and cover conditions, and advanced methods of hunting and trapping. Those changes in conditions have required numerous and extensive amendments to "The Game Law." It is also possible that many of the basic premises upon which "The Game Law" was based have so changed through the intervening years that an entirely new approach to the law governing wild birds and wild animals would now be beneficial; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby directs the Joint State Government Commission to review and study "The Game Law" with a view toward modernizing and revising the same; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Commission make a report of its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect, to the 1963 session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT

DEALING WITH CIVIL SERVICE: HISTORY AND CONTEMPORARY PRACTICES

Mr. BRETH presented the report of the Joint State Government Commission dealing with Civil Service: History and Contemporary Practices.

(For report see appendix)

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise members of the House who are interested in these matters to at least lightly peruse that report. I think you will find many pages of it very interesting.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. FINEMAN, McCANN and A. W. JOHNSON offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 9, 1961.

On Friday, May 5, 1961, the hearts of the American people were filled with pride as the world received the news of the successful space flight of Alan B. Shepard, Jr. The free world rejoiced and rightly so, for the United States, operating under a free and truly democratic system had achieved something that no other free country can boast of.

The people of the United States and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are proud of Commander Shepard. This scientific achievement which he and the thousands of men and women who made his trip possible overwhelms the imagination. In order to keep America the champion of liberty, we need many more people like Alan Shepard. His achievements are admired by all of us now and for generations to come, his name will always be remembered when our children and grandchildren boast of the great space program that the United States has embarked upon.

Recognizing this, the members of the House of Representatives for ourselves and in the name of all Pennsylvanians hereby:

Resolved, That Alan B. Shepard and every other person connected with his space flight be congratulated on this magnificent achievement; and be it further

Resolved, That we express to them our gratitude for the wonderful feeling of pride which we feel through their efforts; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to a truly brave man, Alan B. Shepard, Jr.

SIXTH GRADE STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the gallery of the 6th grade class of the South Western Elementary School of Lebanon, who are here with their teacher, Miss Mary Strickler. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Lebanon, Messrs. Seltzer and Manbeck.

STUDENTS OF MARY THE ETERNAL SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair also notes the presence in the gallery of 91 students of the St. Mary of The Eternal School of Philadelphia. They are here under the guidance of Mother Mary Emerentia and Sisters Mary Andrew and Mary Bonaventure. The delegation is the guest of the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Messrs. Welsh and Frascella,

BIRTHDAYS

The SPEAKER. The matter of birthdays is before us.

The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler, has a birthday and the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McCandless, also the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, have birthdays, and, yesterday, Mr. Zember, the gentleman from Berks, had a birthday. In order that Mr. Dengler may not be required to rise and sing in his own praise, the song will be lead by that eminent musician and judge of music, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that the announcement of my birthday is a little premature. My birthday will be on Mother's Day, this coming Sunday, but I would like to sing "Happy Birthday" to all these other gentlemen and I think we will cover them all by singing "gentlemen."

The SPEAKER. Is it true that the lovely lady from Montgomery, Mrs. Henzel, has a birthday?

Will Mr. Dengler,—no, no, no—the gentleman from Allegheny has done such a skillful job that the House will have to eventually decide which one of them shall be our chief choir leader. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, will rise, and can they get together, can they unite?

Mr. FILO. I think we can harmonize, Mr. Speaker. This will be one time we will have harmony on both sides.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, I think that Mr. Filo should come over here and we will have Mrs. Henzel right with us so we can do a better job.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Montgomery, Mrs. Henzel.

Mrs. HENZEL. Mr. Speaker, this is probably the happiest day my colleagues have shared with me as a birthday, and probably one of my most miserable because I cannot talk. Therefore, I merely wish to say thanks for your kindness and your felicitations.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Butler, Mr. McCandless.

Mr. McCANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate this salute to me on my natal day. Like Jack Benny, I have reached my 39th birthday. Also, Like Eddie Cantor, I have five daughters, five grandchildren. I am very happy on this occasion. Thank you all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Zember.

Mr. ZEMBER. Mr. Speaker, this is my first birthday as a member of the House. I hope it is not my last. I love it, you have been so wonderful to me. Thank you all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler. He should say a word in his own behalf at this time.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, when I do not legislate, I am a teacher of music in the Upper Darby Schools and I love to hear children sing. I want to thank all of children in the balcony for helping to sing our happy birthday song.

I want you to know that it is always a great pleasure for me to stand before this microphone and wish other people a happy birthday. When they sing for me, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, for doing an excellent job. Thank you very much.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, for two minutes.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the indulgence of the House on two matters which I consider important, and I ask their special attention to the second matter, after I am through the first.

I speak on behalf of the thousands of students of this Commonwealth. On behalf of the student council of the different colleges and universities in this State, on behalf of our youth who are attending college, on behalf of their parents, many of whom have two and three young men attending and are struggling to make ends meet in having them attend our colleges, I protest the 4 percent sales tax on school books and school supplies.

We spend millions for education and yet we take it back by way of financial support from these students. This I contend is unreasonable.

I am pleased to see that the president of the student council of Temple University and the Philadelphia College of Textile and Science and the various student bodies have protested, along with their fellow students and students throughout the State, and they oppose this tax on school books and school supplies.

I think that House bill 11, introduced by myself, as the main sponsor, along with Mr. Gelfand, Mr. Goldstein, and Mr. Gibb, and other bills of a similar nature, should be considered by the House.

I earnestly ask for favorable action in behalf of our American youth.

Mr. Speaker, the second matter of importance—and I ask both the Republicans and the Democrats alike to listen—I have in my possession a copy of the reciprocity agreement between Pennsylvania and New Jersey and I wish to have it made part of the record so that every member of this House can read same. I say it is the same agreement we have between Pennsylvania and New Jersey that we have with other States, I think the one exception is New York State. I call special attention to paragraph 4 of this reciprocity agreement whereby we agree that if the action taken by the operator's home State is comparable to that which would have been imposed by the alternate State no further action will be necessary for the alternate State. I say that no State, with which we have any reciprocity agreement, has the right to go ahead and impose a penalty along with our State. I ask that this be made part of the record.

Mr. SHERMAN submitted the following for the record:

RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT

The Bureau of Traffic Safety, Department of Revenue, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Division of Motor Vehicles, Department of Law and Public Safety, of the State of New Jersey, cognizant of the need for uniformity and reciprocity in the administration and enforcement of their respective motor vehicle laws and regulations as related to the out-of-State violations of their respective operators, have determined that an effective agreement, followed by prompt administrative action on the part of both Pennsylvania and New Jersey, will establish a more uniform and positive method of operator control.

Interstate travel is today the rule and not the exception, and Law violations and accidents of many operators occur in more than one State. It is recognized that effective driver control can be accomplished only if there is agreement to maintain uniform procedures of reporting with similar and concurrent actions of suspension by either jurisdiction.

At a meeting in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, on June 24, 1960, the following articles of agreement were resolved to become effective on August 1, 1960.

1. Immediately upon receipt of conviction for violation of a motor vehicle law by an operator in the alternate State, a copy of the conviction report will be forwarded to the proper authority of the home state of the operator.

2. The home State will, upon receipt of the conviction report, process and take action in the same manner as if the violation had occurred in the home State.

3. When the proper action has been determined, the home State will immediately notify the alternate State, by forwarding a copy of the action taken.

4. It is agreed that if the action taken by the operator's home State is comparable to that which would have been imposed by the alternate State, no further action will be necessary by the alternate State.

5. Items of information to be exchanged will include: conviction reports, notification of suspension and revocation, letters of warning, no action letters, and notification of restoration.

6. For major traffic offenses, such as, driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, leaving the scene of an accident, conviction of a crime involving a motor vehicle and fatal accident, the State in which the violation occurred will suspend or revoke the driving privileges of the operator and the home State will, in such instances, also suspend or revoke his driving privileges.

7. An out-of-state operator, who has failed to pay a fine properly imposed by a court of competent jurisdiction of either State, or who has failed to appear for a hearing before such court following notification as provided by law, will be subject to suspension by the home State.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes that the members of the House, while the House is in session and while the desk is busily engaged, would not communicate and ask questions of the members of the staff. Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 667, entitled:

An Act requiring the Department of Forests and Waters to issue camping permits for camping in State parks and providing for the term and renewal thereof.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will one of the sponsors of this bill permit himself to be interrogated? The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy.

Mr. MURPHY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, what is the status of this bill now that it has been amended?

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, according to printer's No. 1783, which is in our booklets, you will notice on page 2 that in line 1 it has been changed from "shall" to "may" and that on line 2 it says, "but not more than twenty per centum of available camping area and facilities in each park shall be made available for renewal applicants."

Mr. MERRY. I thank the gentleman.

This bill would have something to do with our territory up at Pymatuning. I know we have had many letters all summer from people who wanted to camp, and they have found quite a little fault with the Department of Forests and Waters for ruling otherwise. There was a good reason for ruling otherwise. At Pymatuning Reservoir, which is partly under the jurisdiction of the state of Ohio, Ohio's regulations do not allow all-summer camping or parking of a trailer. If the Pennsylvania side is left open for even 20 per cent and Ohio is completely shut off, we will receive the so-called dregs of this camping scourge that we have up there.

It was my pleasure to take a tour of the Pymatuning area where the Department of Forests and Waters has reclaimed or put in order 10 additional acres for additional camping. From what I saw up there on this tour, you members of the House, if you could see it, would eliminate this bill from today's calendar without even giving it the courtesy of saying "no." When you have cancer, to eliminate 80 percent of it and leave the other 20 percent still does not cure the cancer. I think that our Department of Forests and Waters has the best viewpoint on this and have been in charge of running it in the proper manner for the State.

What we saw is that these people come and put a tent up, or bring in an old trailer, take the wheels off and let it drop in the mud, or put cement blocks under the corners of it and it sits there all summer. They hold drinking parties in it on Saturday night only, and they throw out, from what I saw, an old refrigerator standing on one corner, old oil stoves, bags, screen doors, barrels, rubbish, whiskey bottles, tin cans, all thrown out back of these trailers and camps that stay there all summer.

If you eliminate 80 percent, you still have 20 percent.

I think our department has the right slant on it and you can manage this thing better without interference from the House.

I certainly hope that everyone here will vote against this bill. I thank you.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was speaking particularly of Pymatuning Lake. Generally, throughout the State of Pennsylvania we find there have developed what I would term "camping hogs," who will take their camping facilities in and appropriate a place for the entire summer, thereby blocking out other people who might want to enjoy the privileges of the great outdoors which we have in Pennsylvania. We cannot see any justification for this bill under the regulations which the department now has in force and which it is enforcing. We would prefer to give the people of Pennsylvania the opportunity to get camping sites under the present regulations of the department. Therefore, generally, on this side we are against this bill.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call to the attention of the members of the House the fact that this bill will only apply to Pennsylvania residents. We are continuously and constantly in these cherished halls taking away the rights, privileges, restrictions, permits, and so forth, of our Pennsylvania residents. This will give our Pennsylvania residents a break. This is not intended to take the overflow from the Ohio State parks, take people from Maryland and New York into our public parks and our State parks and forests and make permanent campers of them. It will permit, however, the continuance—and I say continuance, because that has been the practice up until the present season. It will permit Pennsylvania residents only to erect a tent, or put their trailer, or make a camp site in one of our State forests or parks. Then each two weeks that Pennsylvania resident may apply for a renewal permit. He may stay four weeks; he may stay six; there are instances where, I will agree, perhaps they would like to stay all summer and keep this one camp site. They must, however, renew their permit, pay their $5 permit fee, each two weeks. This will give the Pennsylvania camper a break. It will also limit the park facilities to only 20 per cent renewals of campers. That will mean that 80 per cent of the available camping area will be cleared each two weeks and that only 20 percent of the camping area available in the parks can be used for renewal permits.

We have also deleted "shall" from the bill and placed "may" into the bill to give the park director the option. I might say that we have just as much chance of a temporary camp site being cluttered, and so forth, as the gentleman from Crawford mentioned, as we do a permanent camp site, so I think that has very little bearing on the matter.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MURPHY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LAMB. Can the gentleman tell me whether or not this bill would apply to those cabins which the State owns on some of the State lakes?

Mr. MURPHY. No, Mr. Speaker, it cannot apply to the cabins because they are all handled through an application and reservation basis through the Department of Forests and Waters here in Harrisburg on April 1 of each year. Therefore, it cannot apply to those.

Mr. LAMB. Would it apply in the future to those?

Mr. MURPHY. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker. I am sorry, I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. LAMB. Would it apply in the future? It would not apply this year, but would it possibly apply next year or in the years to come?

Mr. MURPHY. No, Mr. Speaker, it would not apply in the future. This bill does not affect the erected cabins in State parks at all. This pertains to camping sites, not to cabins. They must all be reserved through Harrisburg. Your camping sites are applied for at each particular State park and they are renewed at the State park.

Mr. LAMB. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, the way I understand it, I do not want this question thrown in here that anyone is being denied the chance of having a permanent camp site up at Pymatuning. It is permissible to camp without the limits of the park itself and all up around the rest of the lake, so these people who do want to come and stay all summer can still find a place on Pymatuning Reservoir. The defeat of this bill will not completely shut those people out at all, but, if we leave it the way it is, I think it would be a lot better for all of our parks. We are not trying to hurt anyone, but we are trying to keep the place clean. The very fact is that you have to move every two weeks so someone else can come in and get a spot.

We have put a lot of money in our State parks, and especially in the Pymatuning area, to provide for summer vacations for people without too much money to spend. These folks go in there with tents and old broken down trailers and when they keep those places there they are being selfish. The rest of our folks who want to have a nice vacation of one week or two weeks will be denied that.

I still hope all of you will vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like permission at this time to inform the House of our plans concerning lunch, since they were inquiring about it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes the information.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we will very likely vote until about 1:15, daylight saving time, when we will break for lunch and a very short caucus, returning here and trying to finish about 4 p. m. today.

I understand the cafeteria has a good many school children, besides its regular business there, and by going to lunch at that time it will give us an opportunity to then be served.

So I will call up next the general appropriation bill and other bills until we reach that time period.

NEWTON RANSOM HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATING CLASS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the gallery of the graduating class of the Newton Ransom High School of Lackawanna County. They are the guests of the members from Lackawanna, Mr. Edwards, Mrs. Munley, Mr. Needham and Mr. Wargo.

CHESTER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair also notes the presence in the gallery of students from the Franklin School of Chester, Pennsylvania. They are here under the direction of their teachers, Mr. John Gremminger, son of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Gremminger, a member of this House, and of Mrs. LeCompte. They are the guests of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Gremminger.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on page 5, bills on final passage, I call up House bill 808, printer's No. 1891.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 808, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and for public schools for the fiscal period June 1, 1961 to June 30, 1962 and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal period ending May 31, 1961.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we have now come to the momentous time in every session when we pass the general appropriation bill. That is the bill which everybody in Pennsylvania has their eyes on, from our mental hospitals, our surgical hospitals, our schools and our various departments. They are all eager to know how they fared in this game of give-and-take on this budget.

As usual, this budget reflects the ever-soaring cost of State government, and, of course, is causing great concern all over this State and everybody is wondering where we go from here.

I believe, just for the purposes of the record, I shall want to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, on the bill. I might say this for the minority, Mr. Polen has been very, very gracious to us, keeping us informed as to hearings and, I venture, in all the hearings has given us every opportunity to cross-examine and would have rescheduled hearings had we called for any additional information.

It still adds up to this, as far as this General Assembly is concerned, and I realize we have the watch-dog committee setup and we have made some improvements in the facilities that the House has for having the membership informed as to the whys and wherefores of this general appropriation bill but, so far as the minority is concerned, we are naturally in the dark as to whether any one of the programs is adequate or inadequate. I would say that probably goes for the majority party. All we can do is call in the budget secretary and the various department heads and have them tell their stories. We do not know whether they need that much money; we do not know whether they need all of the employees that they have; and we are today, with this bill before us, asked to provide the money to run the Commonwealth.

The best indication of inflation in a budget—and I believe that there is fat in any budget. I do not care how carefully we cross-examine Mr. Baldwin and his staff and the department heads, there must be, and always is, fat in the budget. Why? Because on page 1 of the Governor's budget, in order to balance this particular budget and come anywhere near solvency in the State, Governor Lawrence, in this current biennium, had to lapse $39 million. That is on page 1 of the Governor's budget. If we had not been able to lapse that $39 million, you would not be able to have this general appropriation bill on the calendar today, unless you had a new tax item for $39 million. Why am I pointing that out? Because in 1959 Mr. McCann from his rostrum, said, "You are planning built-in deficits in this Governor's budget and we will have tax deficiencies." That was true, because as a result of the steel strike and the recession we did have to provide 40-some million dollars for the Department of Public Assistance because of the policy of the State that no one shall be in need. That was an item that we did not actually plan on but we had to provide for. It was not our fault that we had a steel strike and had, in effect, to finance the steel strike. That, of course, is behind us and is not before us today. In addition to these items, which might have been built-in deficits, there was built-in fat to the tune of $39 million by which our Governor, by the greatest of austerity, I will say that, was able to cut the budget by $39 million, that is, provide for lapses. I take it that pursuant to this budget which he has issued that there is $39 million in lapses which will make the balancing of this budget possible.

Let us look at this general appropriation bill today. It totals $899 million. The Governor's budget calls for $902 million, and by various readjustments and some substantial reductions it is on our calendar today to the tune of $899,144,000, plus the cost of the school freeze. Is there in this budget built-in surpluses, or fat, so that at the end of this year the Governor can proudly say, I am lapsing $12 to $15 million, or $20 million, like I did in the '59-'61 biennium, so that I can provide for that freezing clause that you have written into this bill.

Now, I defy Governor Lawrence, when this bill hits his desk, with his right of line veto to veto out of this bill the freeze clause that we have put in. If he is going to do that, he should go line by line down this budget and make his lapses known, reduce his appropriations by his line veto now and leave that freezing clause in there. I do not believe the Governor should make such a terrible political error as to veto that freeze out of the bill that is before us today. Why? Because he can go down every line in his budget and he can cut out here and there to make up for this freeze, I am sure, because he was able to do it to the tune of $39 million in the budget that we are now living with.

I commend the Governor for being able to put austerity into his several departments so that he could cut down $39 million. I do not know whether or not any particular services were hampered severely by his cutting out $39 million. I say in this budget, in order to save the school freeze that we have put into the bill, there is no reason why he cannot leave it in there and at the end of the year come to us and say, I am lapsing X-millions of dollars. We have been saved by good husbandry during the year and we are paying these beleaguered school districts the money they want. That would be the appropriate thing.

If he does veto out of this bill this freeze clause, I would say that it is up to this House to bring that bill back here and try to pass the freeze clause over his veto. It is that important to the school districts of Pennsylvania. I say you can balance this budget without any new taxes, leaving that freeze in there, and by careful planning, watching spending, and doing the things you did in '59 and '61, by cutting $39 million out of the budget as indicated on page 1.

I would like to interrogate the chairman of the Appropriations Committee on just a few of the items. We are going to support this bill on the Republican side. We do not know too much about the bill. To repeat, Mr. Polen has been very fair. We could have cross-examined for two days, but I do not think we would have found out anything because we have such meager equipment to go into the several departments and find out whether they need all the employes or whether they do not.

I appreciate the House letting me go a little astray here, but this is all part of the appropriation picture. When we Republicans were in power, Duff raised the State payroll by 4,400; Fine raised it by 6,300; Leader raised it by 2,600; and now Governor Lawrence, according to the Philadelphia Bulletin, has increased the State payroll in 27 months by 8,900 persons. I do not know whether or not they need the 8,900 employes. I grant you we have added some extra ones here around the General Assembly. Maybe we are just as much to blame as the Governor. But it all reflects itself in this increased budget for which we have to continually provide the money.

Now, will Mr. Polen permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the statement issued by your office indicates that this bill totals, not counting the freeze clause now, $899,144,626; is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that was correct in a previous print, but in a later print we added a couple of items for the courts which slightly raised that to $899,153,088.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now, the Governor's budget on page 1, in the comparative financial statement, the estimated revenue for this year on existing taxes would be $971,384,000, that is the figure in the budget, is it not?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then our members who are voting for this appropriation bill, namely, $899 million, can go back to their constituents and say that when they voted for this general appropriation bill there were enough taxes on the books to provide for the general appropriation bill?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now then, with respect to the balance of the appropriations yet to come according to the Governor's budget, the total being $991 million, that would be approximately $95.5 million more money, is it anticipated that existing taxes plus the new taxes put on in January will equal that sum of money so we can clear the budget providing, of course, the two percent denial of commission bill passes the Senate, is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And there has not been any change in that?

Mr. POLEN. There has not.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Would you say that the Governor's revenue estimates are based on relatively normal realistic prosperity, or extreme prosperity, or are they conservative estimates of the revenue for the coming year?

Mr. POLEN. The Governor's estimates of revenue are based on what we realistically expect to happen during the next fiscal period of 13 months. They are not optimistic. I would not say they are down in the dumps. I think it is a very real appraisal of what we could expect to receive in revenues.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Thank you.

Now, another question. One of our members has received a letter from one of the State hospitals enclosing a copy of a letter they had written to Governor Lawrence, wherein they are disturbed about the appropriation to this particular State surgical hospital.

Now we notice in examining the budget—and we on the Republican side have always favored a line budget—and looking at State surgical hospitals, you have budgeted for them $11,233,172, which I believe is the general appropriation figure. Why did you not set out with particularity what the budget would be for each one of these surgical hospitals?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we have not, in the past general appropriation bill, or the last couple of bills made line-to-line designations for the hospitals, or for anything else. I think in the last 1959-61 biennium the only thing that we gave line by line was for the State colleges. The purpose of that, of course, is to prevent the situation which we have been placed in in the past, where money was available in the total amount for the hospitals, but some particular hospital would need additional money, others would not use the money, and the result was that we had deficiencies and lapses. The present policy we are following is that the hospitals make quarterly requests for the amount of money that is necessary to run that particular institution. They are approved and allocated by the budget office that keeps in very close touch with the situation, and the result could be that if additional money is needed for a certain hospital and other hospitals are running under, then that money can be allocated and there will be no hold-up in the operations of the hospital or institution. The line-by-line budget is something that was done many years ago, but in modern-day accounting methods and the way we move today, I believe the present system is far superior, and I might state, Mr. Speaker, that even the State colleges that asked for it, and we gave it to them in 1959, did not ask for it this year for the very reason I have raised. The flexibility is here in this present budget and in this type of lump-sum appropriations. If the gentleman will refer to the budget, he will see that the suggested allocation is given in there. Of course, that is not law. That simply is based on the request of the particular hospital as finally prepared by the budget bureau.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then this particular hospital that has written to the Governor and whined about their inadequate budget allocation, if they need more money, the Governor would be at liberty to give them more money if one of the other hospitals was not spending as much money, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. The budget secretary would appraise the needs of the particular hospitals for either increases where they were running under and he would allocate very properly that money. In fact, it is being done at the present time.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, our information is a little different. We understand, now we may be wrong, that the heads of these institutions would much prefer the line budget so they would know that we, the legislature, have mandated them a certain amount of money and they will not have to come to the secretary of the administration with their hat in hand, begging for their budget. There is a timidity on the part of these department heads to put their foot down and say, "We want a line budget." That is our information. Are we wrong or right in that information?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in the Appropriations Committee, we have not received a single request for a line-by-line budget. I have talked to administrators of various hospitals and institutions and they are more than satisfied with the present method and approve of it for the very reasons I have stated, the flexibility it gives them in operation.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then the members on our side, if they vote for this budget without a line appropriation to the Warren State Hospital, can say to the people in Warren County and other counties, this is the way you wanted it and we voted for it with the full assurance that we were doing the right thing by not giving you a line budget in the appropriation bill.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am confident that in so doing you will be doing what is proper and what is correct, and you can certainly tell the people of your various communities that you have done so.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now another question about some of the larger items.

The money to run the public assistance program I notice is $120,250,000 for 13 months, and it is about the same as one-half the amount spent for public assistance during the current two-year period. Do you expect that times are going to be so bad during this coming fiscal year under the new administration that you are going to need $120,250,000 for relief, which is a very high level?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we feel that the amount that the gentleman mentioned is the correct amount, as near as can be projected. Of course, in a matter of this kind—public assistance—I think it is impossible for anyone to adequately estimate what will be needed. However, I will say this budget is based on an average caseload of 385,542. As of April 15, 1961, the caseload was 451,000, which as you see is considerably higher than the average that we were using. However, our projection indicates that it will drop to average, or perhaps 387,154, during the 1961-62 fiscal year, and that by June 1962, at the end of the fiscal year, it will be down to 333,000. Those are the best estimates we can make, based upon all the factors that enter into the making of such estimates. I personally believe, after thorough examination, and I might state that as recently as last Tuesday, I again went over these figures with the Department of Public Welfare and with the budget secretary and we feel at this time that the amount requested will be required and we hope it will be adequate.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Is it possible, Mr. Speaker, that in this era of the new frontier, and things like that, that maybe by the end of the year the Governor might even in this fund, because of the great era that is to come, find money for this freezing clause, for the school districts out of this appropriation?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, anything that I could say would only be a guess, but I will say that I hope it will be possible the amount required for public assistance would drop so drastically that we would have many millions of dollars left for that and other purposes.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now, let us get on with the education budget.

The amount for support of the public schools is set out in the budget, in the general appropriation bill, as $270 million, I think, on page 31, House bill 808 . . .

Mr. POLEN. On page 31, now what was the question?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The figure $272,300,000, that money takes care of the instructional cost of pupil education and the estimated increase in teaching units and there is no increase to the school districts other than taking care of the mandated increases in the increasing of teaching units. Is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. At a bare minimum?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now, if we pass anything further with respect to the Governor's Committee on Education, such as implementing him by raising the minimum salary of school teachers from $3,600 to $4,200 and putting in some of the other recommendations which are obviously increases, do you have any estimate how much this figure of $272,300,000 would have to be increased?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the increasing of the teachers' salaries alone, of course, would not entail any additional expenses to the Commonwealth unless it was implemented by legislation to increase the subsidies. On the question as to what the cost would be, I could only say that all I know it would be would be the amount that was mentioned in the Governor's report which for this fiscal year would be $34 million.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. All right. Let us get to another item. Now, in January, we lapsed $50 million of the retirement money. I understand that you released the bill from the Appropriation Committee this morning, seeking to pay or authorize the payment now of that $50 million. Is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, we reported the bill from committee this morning that reinstates the appropriation to the amount . . .

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, a further question: From what I can glean from the budget, the total amount of the retirement money in the '59 and '61 biennium budget was $69,860,000. Now we lapsed $50 million. Has the $19 million, or if that sum is not correct, maybe it is more than that, has that amount ever been paid?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, all of it has not been paid but by the end of the fiscal year, this biennium, the amount, other than the $50 million which we are re-instituting, will have been paid into the fund. The $50 million will remain after the passage of this bill, reinstating it, is in the budget as a deficiency.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Is this $50 million in this budget? Is that in this deficiency appropriation figure? Where does the $50 million appear? Is it in the $991 million total budget of the Governor?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is in the deficiency. It is in the deficit.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It is in the deficit?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That amount is over and above in addition to the $991 million which is the total?

Yes, I can see the Governor's—it says deficiency and additional appropriation.

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That includes it?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. When you pass that bill from $50 million it will be paid off sometime during the coming fiscal year. Is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. It is anticipated if the revenues come up to our estimates that it will be entirely paid during the fiscal year. In fact, we are striving to get it on that basis.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then, in addition, this budget calls for the current year, the current fiscal year, for the appropriation of $34,552,000?

Mr. Speaker, the question may be dry and may be not too interesting but we do, and we should have in the record these matters so that the members, after the session is over and they get back home and people ask them, what did you do about this, unless it is in the record where they can find it, they are at a loss to tell their constituents and the various school people just what has taken place.

I ask another question: This budget calls for $34,552,000 for the school employees retirement fund. First question, is that for last year and you are paying it now, next year, or is that the estimate putting it on a full basis for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961, ending June 30, 1962?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is for the fiscal year starting June 1, 1961, and ending June 30, 1962.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then, if we appropriate that $34 million into the School Teachers' Retirement Fund, the plan would be during this coming year to not only pay up the $40 million that was lapsed but this $34,552,000 as well. Is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And the same thing would be true of the State Employees' Retirement Fund. You have in this budget $13,994,868 for that item and that is for this coming fiscal year?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. You are trying to put it on a current basis. Is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. We do not notice any figure on this budget for the deficiency of interest to the fund by reason of your not having been able to put that money into the fund. Where is that deficiency of interest bill?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is not anticipated that there will be any bill necessary for interest deficiency, that the fund will become current and if the interest does not reach the 4 percent, the difference can be prorated over a few years to take care of it. In other words, we feel it will not be necessary in the future, possibly never, to have a deficiency again as long as we have maintained the 4 percent rate.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, if you have not put any money into the fund for the last two or three years, how would the money be there to pay any interest at all? Isn't the fund out this interest on this money for the last couple of years?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the interest guaranteed is only on the share of the money that is paid in by the employees and that, of course, has been done. The Commonwealth makes up the difference between the amount earned and the four percent which in the past, has been very bad, but, under the new fiscal policy which the boards adopted and the financial advisors put into effect, we are approaching right now, but we do not have, the four percent, and it is anticipated in the future that we will exceed the four percent.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now, Mr. Polen, another question on the overall budget and then I am through. If you would take the budget figures for the current period and divide it by two, you will get a certain figure, around $80-some million, I believe, and then if you will take this budget and reduce it to 12 months and then subtract it from the budget of one-half of the current biennium, it comes out around $50 million. Of course, I realize that the school appropriation is on a 12-month basis, so actually if you were to compute it, this budget for one year is anywhere from $70 to $90 million more than the budget for one year that we are living with right now. Is that figure about right?

Mr. POLEN. I could not say that it is exactly right but you are within the area. I think it is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. So there is a substantial increase in the budget?

Mr. POLEN. It is due to various factors. This is one of the large items.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. So that for this year, there is that much increase in the cost of running the Government and that compares with $170 million increase in Governor Lawrence's budget for the first two years. It has been running about $80 or $90 million a year, the increase?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it has been brought out in this House a number of times recently, when the legislature demands certain things to be done, those items are still controlled by the executive over them because we approve and pledge ourselves to pay them and we have to do it. Now, in the largest increases, if you go over it carefully item by item, you will find they are in the areas that I have mentioned, and another thing that accounts for a lot of the increase, that in the Welfare Department, as the gentleman well knows, and I think he favors the program, is that we are opening a large number of new institutions which employ thousands of people which require more people and, in many instances, highly paid people. That is taking care of the mental health program and the handicapped. In those areas you will find the large increases. Now, as to the general governmental operations, the increases are very minor.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, do you have any figure as to the additional State employees that this budget provides for? We have a figure of around 900. Is that approximately correct?

Mr. POLEN. I would say that is approximately correct. I do have it by the different programs that we analyzed in the budget requests as to the number of programs, and you will recall at the hearings that in each case we asked each department how many new employees. I did not add them up, but I do believe the figures given by the gentleman are substantially correct. It is less than a thousand.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And would we be correct in saying that there are about 50 new and expanded programs mentioned in the budget with an annual cost of between $35 and $40 million?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that would be correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. What would be correct? How many new and expanded programs are there in this budget?

Mr. POLEN. I have not made a recapitulation on that basis but I do have the programs here which we have gone over but, just one minute, and I will give you an estimate.

Mr. POLEN. I would say that the new programs are probably $2 or $3 million.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, by way of summary, maybe by way of repetition, we on this side intend to support this bill. We think the bill is significant in that it does provide huge sums of money for new and expanded programs and the additional employees that I mentioned, and, as the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, has admitted, there is no additional money in this budget for our schools.

I know the Governor thought that maybe President Kennedy would bail him out through a Federal-aid program. Maybe that may still be possible; I do not know. But the truth is that this budget, as his budget for '59 and '61, did not provide anything new for the schools. Now when, in 1959 and 1961, we voted for the sales tax, we were supposed to have a $28 million increase in school subsidies, which we did not get. This would have been over and above the existing subsidies for our schools. But, if that is the way the Governor wants to run it, I think the people of this State who are for education are watching this budget, are watching the spiralling increase in the cost of education to the taxpayers back home. I believe the people should know and realize that this budget does not have a dime in it for any increase at all for the schools, even though we have been heaping upon the schools, year after year, new requirements.

I am glad that we can provide adequately for all these services in Pennsylvania. It is too bad that we are now at the tail end of a session, when we would like to be able to say that we are going to have a short business-like session, that we still have in our laps a school program without a dime in the budget for it, without any plans to raise the money, with the other side having been hit over the head with some very bad taxes which will no doubt hurt them politically back home. It is too bad that this budget, instead of $90 million for other things, did not have that money in there for the schools and let some of the other stuff go, so that for the last two months of this session we could devote ourselves to education and spend $30 or $40 million, which is all that it would take to do an adequate job. But no, we cannot do that, we are going to spend all this money. After the Governor signs the bill he is going to say to us, you short-changed our schools, dig up some money and pass some bills. I say it is a frightful burden that is being put on this session of the General Assembly, and I want it in the record that we do not like it at all. But we are going to vote for this bill even though it is lopsided in many ways and short changes many of the things we would like to see taken care of.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we have before us today House bill 808, which is to provide for the necessary expenses of the Commonwealth in running the State government.

I do not know how many people have studied the budget; how many people have studied the bill; but I want to say that I have studied them for many months. I have had conference after conference; I have gone into detail in many things that might not look correct in the start, but which, when we analyzed them, we found they were proper.

It has been my policy, as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, to consider every single bill on its merit, and I have given the same consideration to the minority as I have to the majority. After our budget hearings, I asked the members of the House Appropriations Committee to give me any suggestions they might have as to any cuts that could be made, as to any additions or changes that we should make. I received no formal request, but I will say, that in some cases, the minority leader, Mr. Johnson, discussed a couple items with me and I agreed with him and I made those changes.

We have been continually studying this budget. We have checked it; we have kept in touch with expenditures; we have kept in close touch with the budget office and we have kept in close touch with the departments. I have many times reviewed it, again and again. My opinion is that this is the tightest budget in the history of Pennsylvania. We talk about the '59-'61 budgets. I want to say that was for a two-year period. It could not be estimated as close. There were many factors that entered into it that do not enter into this budget. We have even taken into consideration the positions that the time will elapse before they are filled, for a full complement, and for those who resign and the time that they are filled. In fact, this is a very, very close budget.

I want to say this: I hope that there will be $39 million that might be lapsed. I want to say also, when we talk of the $39 million in the '59, '61 biennium, we are talking of a two-year period, while this budget is for a 13-month period.

I do not believe it will be possible to lapse that amount of money, but I hope it will. But I want to give the assurance to this House that if it is possible to do so, the Governor of the Commonwealth has issued orders repeatedly, and it is being enforced by the budget office, that not a single unnecessary position will be filled, that economy will be practiced throughout the Commonwealth. And I do believe that a sincere effort has been made to do that. I feel confident that the Governor will exercise the same supervision, and the budget secretary will, that they have in the past, and if there is any money that can be saved, I want to assure this House that money will be saved. I hope it will be possible, when we come back here in the next fiscal session, that we will be able to lapse money.

I want to say that I can agree with much of what the gentleman from McKean, the minority leader, Mr. Johnson, said. However, in the matter of increases in this budget, I do call to your attention that the great increase is in mental health and in the authority rentals. I do not think you will find any great expansion in anything else. The new programs, as I have said, are a matter of $2 or $3 million.

I want to say to the members of the House, as I have in the past, I have tried to do a good job, to bring out a bill that will take care of the necessary expenses of this Commonwealth in a very proper manner. So far as the schools are concerned, I think it is a matter for this House to determine. At any time that legislation was introduced or was to be considered to provide the additional money for the schools, we all know the one answer: we are going to have to provide the taxes to take care of it. Personally, I believe that we should adequately finance education in Pennsylvania, and I am one who has voted for the taxes to take care of the appropriations. I will cooperate with any member of this House to bring about a program of education, and the financing of it, in line with the Governor's recommendation or any other sound recommendation.

I ask the members of this House to support House bill 808, which will finance this Commonwealth in the 13-month fiscal period.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Before recognizing the next gentleman the Chair would like to commend the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, for the very able debate and interrogation on the budget. I think that in my experience it is one of the finest debates and interrogations I have ever heard on any budget that we have ever adopted in this legislature.

I think the members have been very attentive and are to be commended for their interest in this very important subject.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman.

Mr. SHERMAN. Briefly, Mr. Speaker, I ask the members, in looking over this budget and allowing the various items for all things mentioned in the budget, to give careful consideration to the view entertained by the Attorney General of the State of Pennsylvania and sustain the Tax Equalization Board and disallow the $7 million or $8 million in this budget. I think it is unlawful, improper, and should be disallowed.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not standing up here today to oppose the general appropriation bill, but I certainly disagree to a certain extent with my friend, Mr. Polen, and I heartily disagree with Mr. Johnson.

First of all, in my opinion, I do not think the budget is in balance, or anywhere near in balance. I think that with the additional mandated increases which we have imposed, I would say conservatively that our budget for this year will be out of balance by $25 million, and I would think that for next year, considering the mandated increases that have already been put on in prior sessions, together with the mandated increases that we have put on in the last couple days, we should be out of balance by $40 million to $60 million.

When we get down to the question of education, we must consider that in this general appropriation bill almost half of the appropriation bill is devoted to education—almost a half-billion dollars.

When you look at this education program, considering all appropriations, both the general construction bills and the General State Authority bill, I think the people of Pennsylvania will realize fully that we have done more for education probably than any other State in the Union.

Now just let us look at some of the figures. We will start out with the General State Authority appropriation. In section 8, we appropriate $333 million to the Department of Public Instruction. In section 13, we appropriate $41,950,000 for State-aided colleges and universities. Last week we passed a general construction bill that called for an authorization of $1.3 billion. Now today we are allotting them a half-billion dollars. For this coming year it means that for education alone, we are either approving for actual expenditure or authorizing $2.175 billion for education alone. Boy, that is a lot of money. I say to any member of this Assembly today who disputes this figure, let him stand up and show me where I am incorrect.

Now you say in the general construction authority, they are not going to spend that amount of money, or authorize it, let us say. That is incorrect, because last year they spent their authorization, or the amount we had allocated them by over $100 billion. This year they already have on the boards allocations for $1.3 billion which we authorized them, or voted for, last week.

There we have $2.175 billion for education. How much more can the Commonwealth stand in the way of taxation to support a program of this kind?

Out of this $2.175 billion, actually only $500 million of that is being taken by current appropriations. The rest of it is going to be financed, as we have in the past, with deficit financing. I do not think the people of Pennsylvania or the educators have anything to cry about. I think they are well taken care of. Two billion dollars for education, a half billion for the rest of the State. That is a lot of money, that is all I can say.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Piper, rise?

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, on page 40, line 11, Wernersville State Hospital, can you tell me how much they asked for?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the budget requests here. I could get them for the gentleman, but the requests, of course, are made to the budget office and the amount shown in the budget which I have here is the amount allocated by the Governor's office budget secretary. I do not have that figure here.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, can you tell me whether or not any money was lapsed from the Wernersville State Hospital or the Hamburg State School and Hospital last biennium?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not again have the list of the lapses for the State hospitals. Money was lapsed from certain of the State hospitals, I believe.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, could you tell me what amount these hospitals will be allowed in the present appropriation.

Mr. POLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I can give you the allocation. What particular State hospital?

Mr. PIPER. Wernersville.

Mr. POLEN. Warrenville?

Mr. PIPER. Wernersville, Berks County.

Mr. POLEN. The allocation for the Wernersville State Hospital as proposed is $3,433,312 as compared with 1960-61, $2,903,447, and in 1959-60 actually $2,680,273.

Mr. PIPER. Thank you. Now for the Hamburg State School and Hospital, their appropriation?

Mr. POLEN. The Hamburg State School and Hospital, in 1959-60, the actual figure was $948,185; in 1960-61, it was $1,786,850, and recommended in 1961-62, is $2,037,283.

Mr. PIPER. I thank the gentleman. I am very much interested in our mental health hospitals and our Hamburg State School and Hospital. I feel that we have many people who cannot get in these hospitals because of inadequate services; there is not room for them. For this reason I would not like to see money left in any one of them, or any of these hospitals in the State of Pennsylvania. Thank you.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman in his general summation of the budget made a statement to the effect that there is a considerable increase in the budget for the mental hospitals. Can the gentleman give me the dollars-and-cents figure of the increase?

Mr. POLEN. For the mental hospitals, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. You wanted the amount of the increase?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, the amount of the increase to mental hospitals.

Mr. POLEN. Well, the mental health services for one year, for one-half of the '59-'61 biennium, one year which we will compare, was $84,778,236. That compares to the 13-month period of $101,520,884 which, without adjustment for the 13-month period, is an increase of approximately $16 million.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have read in the papers in the last couple days that the Governor is going to increase the bed capacity in these hospitals by 1,300 beds. Am I right in that?

Mr. POLEN. I read the article, yes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Are those 1,300 beds included in this increased appropriation?

Mr. POLEN. They are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How much additional personnel will it take to man that number of beds?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, again, I do not have the budget request which shows the additional personnel required. I am going to review this. It might be that I have it in some of these other notes.

I could only give it to you for the entire program; 558 new positions are recommended, 530 of these new positions will be needed to operate new facilities.

Mr. TOMPKINS. 558 recommended—530 required.

Mr. POLEN. 530 for new facilities.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am not trying to eliminate this appropriation. I am trying to get some information here to find out where we stand.

Let me ask this question first: Is this additional 530 required available?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that would be a hard question to answer, but I would say that the Department of Welfare has had their recruitment program in effect and a training program in effect, and we feel certain that when the facilities are available, the necessary employees will be available.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Am I right in my recollection that during last summer or early last fall, the salaries of the employees in these institutions were increased?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, some of them, not all of them. But they were increased.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There were some increases in there?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Am I correct in my recollection that either the Budget Office, or the Governor's Office, issued statements to the effect that the money for those increases was found from the personnel that had been provided for in the '59-'61 budget, but which personnel they had not been able to recruit and, therefore, because of the fact that they were unable to recruit that personnel, the money allocated for that purpose was used for the purpose of making these increases?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is correct that in certain fields the personnel required was not recruited and certain moneys were used to take care of necessary increases to hold existing personnel.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Has the personnel, recommended in the '59-'61 budget as yet been recruited?

Mr. POLEN. I do not believe they have been entirely recruited, but they are approaching the point where we feel now that our recruitment program is paying off, and that if we get the training program the Secretary of Public Welfare has requested, she will be able to have the necessary personnel to handle all the institutions.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Do you know how much shortage there is in the '59-'61 recruitment?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I could not say.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How many of the 530 required to man these are included among the number that you were unable to recruit in the present biennium?

Mr. POLEN. The 530 will be entirely new employees.

Mr. TOMPKINS. But none of them has been hired as yet?

Mr. POLEN. No, sir.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And you do not know how many of that number are available for that purpose?

Mr. POLEN. Their recruitment program indicates they will be available, the recruitment and training program.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Have all the beds that were provided for in the '59-'61 budget been put into use and are they manned?

Mr. POLEN. Where the facilities have been completed. All the facilities have not been completed. We have some that go into effect—I believe we have one that is going to be in effect in July or August.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The ones that have been completed and for which beds have been furnished, are they now in use?

Mr. POLEN. I understand they are completely in use.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for this bill. In fact, I boasted in here, with regard to being a responsible legislator, which I try to consider myself, I could hardly afford not to vote for it. I am very greatly concerned about the entire tone of the appropriations bill, and I am voting for the bill with my tongue in my cheek and with a very great reluctance.

I am very much concerned, Mr. Speaker, with the effect of this appropriation bill and the taxes that we have passed to make up these appropriations. They will affect unemployment, business, and the economy climate in this State.

Let me summarize briefly. We have talked here, and I have heard many talks here, about legislative responsibility. We have already passed in this House authorization for $300 million highway bonds that over the next five years have to be paid with tax money. We have already passed, last week, a general school state authority bill that raises that general state school authority ceiling by $300 million, with an extra $10 million going in for technical schools. Now that has to be paid mostly with tax money, except possibly where it is used for building dormitories, and I believe that comes under the General State Authority in our State collegiate institutions. All this has to be paid for out of future taxes. And I would ask you people, where are you going to get the money? What taxes are you going to levy in the years to come to raise this money? On that $300 million of the General State School Authority there are going to be more mergers, there are going to be more jointures. Probably that is in the right direction if kept within bounds. But the buildings of these mergers and jointures, these new school buildings, I feel have gotten away out of bounds. We are furnishing athletic fields, gymnasiums, and that sort of thing, far beyond in many instances, I think, what is absolutely necessary to give the children in those districts a good fundamental public school education. And yet we have done nothing about it.

We have also on the books, bills to raise the General State Authority $243 million, I believe, or somewhere in that vicinity. That money is going to have to be paid for out of future taxation.

I wonder, Mr. Speaker, if we are going to try to attract new industry into this State, how this new industry is going to look at this picture. To come into this State with all this increased taxation that we are going to have to levy within the next 8 to 10 years, which bonds will have to be paid off over a period of possibly 20 years or 25 years, and we have to raise that money every session to pay it off, and pay the interest on those bonds, and it amounts to considerable millions of dollars every year, how are they going to consider this picture? I think, and I still say, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the most pressing problem we have in this State today is the unemployment problem. We have three large segments of our Pennsylvania industry that are in very bad straits. The steel industry is in pretty bad straits. Many of them who are classified as being employed are only employed half-time, maybe three-fourths of the time, so the percentage of full employment in the steel industry would be very low, in comparison to what it was, five, six, or seven years ago.

We have the railroad industry which is in very bad straits, and I know wherefor I am speaking, for that affects my local district which I represent. In that particular district we still have 6,500 on the idle payroll, unemployed, due to the change over in the railroad industry and the general slackening of the economy all over Pennsylvania.

You people who live in the anthracite and bituminous coal regions know only too well what has happened to your mining industry. And we are getting no relief from the national Administration, neither under the Republican nor the Democratic. The foreign fuel oil has come into the eastern seaboard and taken up the coal mines and the coal miners have had to be laid off.

So I say, Mr. Speaker, it is with a great deal of reluctance that I am voting for this bill—and with my tongue in my cheek. If I had had my way, and possibly it is well that I did not, and maybe here I am sticking my neck out, I would have taken the '59 budget and held it line for line with the appropriation that we made in '59 for the 12-month period, with some possible exceptions, for instance, to take care of the mandated school salaries for teachers and also for the increased public assistance rolls.

Here again, Mr. Speaker, let me say something. We are financing illegitimate children in this State until it has become pretty near a State disgrace. It has risen very nearly to the point where we are financing prostitution in this State. When mother after mother can give birth to children and then go in and get financial assistance for them, public assistance, in many cases where the fathers of those children are living in the same house, and we have done nothing about that.

I would say that if I would have had the time, if I would have the clerical help, if I would have had my way, possibly I would have tried to hold this budget line for line to what it was in '59, except for those fallacies.

I am greatly disturbed, Mr. Speaker, as to what this budget and these appropriations and the taxes that we have passed are going to affect, and how they are going to affect, I am afraid, seriously, the unemployment situation in this State. We are not going forward in increasing our financial or economic structures in this State. For instance, we passed a bill that will accelerate taxes, and it has already been enacted into law by 80 percent and that is payable in April of each year. I have talked with men who are very seriously concerned and directly interested in trying to attract new industry into this State and expand existing industry, especially small industry and they tell me there is no question in their minds whatsoever that that particular acceleration bill will hurt, will very seriously hurt, and act as a deterrent to attracting new industry into our State and helping the unemployment situation.

Mr. Speaker, with these remarks I will conclude. I just wanted to state my personal viewpoint on the entire matter in a general way. Thank you very much.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand.

Mr. GELFAND. Unlike the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, I am going to vote against this bill. I do not think that I should vote for something with my tongue in my cheek when I am really opposed to it.

It is my belief that someone here should register a protest and, if no one else will do it, I will do so.

It is always most interesting to me to observe people fight straw men. You create a straw dummy and then you set out to knock it down. So the remarks of the minority leader, Mr. Johnson, appeared to me, because what he did was indicate that this budget probably has a lot of fat in it because the administration wanted it so and, as a consequence, the Governor, at some stage of the game, may be able to lapse a lot of appropriations, and things which are not included in the budget at the present time and, therefore, be included because there will be plenty of money for them.

I attended many of the Appropriation Committee hearings, as did many other members of this legislature. We endeavored to listen very, very closely and we interrogated some of the members of the Governor's cabinet in an effort to find out where the increases were in this budget and what could be done about them. The fact that we were unable to do something and the fact that we were unable to make intelligent cuts in their requests for appropriations I do not believe is the fault of them, but it is the fault of us.

I believe that the executive, in consultation with the members of this administration, has the right to request information from the various departments and determine for itself what the apparent needs of those departments are. Then it is incumbent upon the legislative body, if it feels that these requests are too great, to make the effort to remove the fat that lies in those requests.

However, this body, in its wisdom, felt unwilling to do so, and because of that the various requests made by these departments are here before us today for either approval or disapproval. So that in itself I do not think indicates a great deal of fat, but what I do deplore is the fact that we by ourselves make additions to this budget and we put in a little pork-barrel fat and accuse the executive of doing the thing that we do ourselves.

The difficulty with this budget, and probably with the budgets that will come hereafter, is the fact that we mandate increases and, because the executive department includes those increases when it makes its requests for appropriations, we thereafter blame the executive for including what we forced the executive to request. Therefore, I believe, lies the fault. That is why I think that a protest must be registered here and now, because we in this body are doing what we complain the executive does. We make additions to the requirements and the needs of this Commonwealth. We legislate and we thereby require additional funds and revenues and, after we legislate these requirements, we thereafter propose to blame someone else for it.

This budget we know, because we discussed it fully yesterday, has at least $7.5 million within it for which there has been no request, which has not been requested by the administration and which was not included in the request for revenues of this administration.

In addition to that factor, we know that the revenue estimates are falling behind that which the administration made when it made its initial budgetary requests and made these suggested appropriations. And yet, despite these things, we here and now are going, as Mr. Auker says, to vote for this budget that we know is bad and possibly includes things that we cannot pay for, and probably, also, will require additional taxes or levies.

There is probably much more that I could say, but I am also sure that the men are getting quite impatient, but I do believe this, that a protest must be registered and, if no one else is willing to do so, I am going to vote against this bill as a demonstrative indication that someone in this legislature has thought there is fat in here that could have been eliminated by us.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me as to whether or not there is any provision in this general appropriation bill for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in any Federal program of medical care for the aged?

Mr. POLEN. I presume, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is referring to the implementation of the Kerr-Mills bill, is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That provision is not in this budget.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me as to whether the omission of such funds from this bill represents the definitive answer by the Lawrence administration or whether or not we are going to come under Kerr-Mills?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it does not.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that in the event we are to participate under Kerr-Mills we will have to appropriate the money for the purpose of medical care for the aged?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the entire hospital question has not been settled. The hospital bill has not been introduced. Various plans have been presented to the Appropriation Committee, to the executive department and to the welfare department concerning implementation of Kerr-Mills and the purchase of care and various other programs. They are all being studied and evaluated and in the very near future we will, of necessity, make a decision as to what will be best for Pennsylvania in order to obtain the necessary Federal funds and finance the cost of the Commonwealth's share.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that in order to qualify under Kerr-Mills, the funds must be expended by the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. M. LEE. So that under the hospital bill those funds are appropriated to the hospital, and is it not true that they should be included in the general appropriation bill as representing an obligation of the Commonwealth for which there can be reimbursement?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in the past the appropriations have been made to the Department of Welfare and allocations made for the nonprofit hospitals. If we would implement Kerr-Mills, of course, the matching money would come from the Department of Welfare out of that appropriation.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Out of what appropriation, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. Out of the appropriation from the Department of Welfare.

Mr. A. M. LEE. But the gentleman informed me that there were no such funds in this particular bill and this bill contains the appropriation to the Department of Welfare.

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, but funds could be used from the Federal monies that come in and are paid out by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. A. M. LEE. But, nonetheless, as far as the hospital funds, as I understand the figures, there are about $5 million out of this $14 million annual figure for hospitals that would qualify under the medical-care program. There also are additional funds which are expended through the appropriation in here to the State-owned general hospitals which also would qualify for Federal funds, but, over and above that, there may be additional funds that would be required and the question I have is they are not included in this particular bill?

Mr. POLEN. There is no specific provision for them, Mr. Speaker, but the appropriation made to the Department of Welfare, of course, could be used to match the funds that would be made available under Kerr-Mills.

Mr. A. M. LEE. But it is my understanding that the appropriation in this bill for the Department of Welfare was justified item by item. You have indicated in the prior interrogation that in connection with that it was justified on bases that did not include a program of medical care for the aged?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there has been recent Federal legislation that will make additional Federal moneys available to Pennsylvania under the Department of Public Assistance, which could be used to pay the Commonwealth's share of the funds necessary for the implementation of the Kerr-Mills bill.

Mr. A. M. LEE. But, nonetheless, if the general appropriation bill does not appropriate the money for that particular purpose, among others, it is possible for the funds to be spent in that way?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, it would be perfectly legal to do that, because the appropriation is made to the Department of Welfare. The Federal money that is received is also appropriated to the Department of Welfare.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has said in answer to interrogation that this problem is being studied by the administration and by the Department of Welfare. Can he give us any indication as to how much longer it has to be studied?

Mr. POLEN. I think, Mr. Speaker, I stated that of necessity the decision would have to be made in the very near future. We hope that when we return after the recess we will have everything in shape so we can introduce the proper legislation to implement it and that we will then know what it will cost and how we will finance it.

I might say that the bill for appropriations for the hospitals has not been introduced. We have purposely held it back until we see what the situation will be and at that time, when it is determined, the necessary legislation will be introduced.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Do I take the answer of the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, to indicate that the decision of the administration as to implementing Kerr-Mills will be a favorable one?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I could not speak for the administration, but I can give my opinion that it will be a favorable one.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a few brief remarks on this particular subject.

The Kerr-Mills amendments to the Social Security bill were passed in August of 1960 and, apparently, this whole problem has been under survey and study by the Department of Public Welfare since that time. Under date of September 29, 1960, the Secretary of Public Welfare, Mrs. Horting, issued a press release in which she gave all the full and complete details as to exactly what the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had to do in order to implement those amendments to the Social Security legislation, and here we are, seven or eight months later, and still no decision has been reached. I certainly think it is about time that somebody made some decision on this particular subject.

We see press releases, we see pictures in the paper of the Governor down in Washington pleading for additional Federal funds for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and here is a program which has been on the books for a long period of time, with which everyone is familiar, all the figures are available as to what this proposal and that proposal will do, yet he goes there, asks for additional funds, and he will not take advantage of funds which are presently available for the purpose of giving additional help to the medically needy aged in the State of Pennsylvania. I think it is wrong for the Governor to keep stalling on this particular problem.

Let me make one thing clear, Mr. Speaker. In this business of medical care for the aged, there is a controversy as to whether it should be financed under Social Security by enforced contributions deducted from pay checks, and so forth, or whether it should be financed under the general tax revenue.

Now, the implementation under the Kerr-Mills amendments have nothing on earth to do with that particular controversy, because the Kerr-Mills amendments are now on the books; this money is now available.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, rise?

Mr. GELFAND. I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, is this not the general appropriation bill we are debating?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has tried to be very liberal in allowing the members to discuss anything that pertains to the appropriation bill and would like to caution the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, that he should be speaking on the general appropriation bill.

Mr. GELFAND. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I thought I was, Mr. Speaker, because—

Mr. GELFAND. Does the question of medical aid for the aged come under the general appropriation bill?

Mr. A. M. LEE. The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Speaker, did indicate that funds appropriated by this particular legislation could be utilized for this purpose if other enabling legislation were passed, so I think it is within the purview of the general appropriations bill. Let me say I only have a few more remarks to make.

I was making the point that implementation of the Kerr-Mills amendments has nothing to do with the controversy over whether it should be under Social Security or financed in some other way.

These funds, these Federal funds, are now available, and I certainly feel that the State administration should move immediately to implement those things, because it will be for the benefit of our medically needy aged, our hospitals and, also, for the benefit of the paying patients in the hospitals who now are paying higher hospital bills because they must bear the cost of this indigent care at the present time.

So with those remarks, Mr. Speaker, I also am going to vote for this general appropriation bill, and I think that, in view of the comments of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, and in view of my comments, we may find the political parties reversed in the city of Philadelphia, because apparently there is a strong economy bloc that is thrown up down there, and I guess after my remarks on this particular bill they will have me down as a wild-eyed spender.

Thank you very kindly.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say that I disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, and ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the discussion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, I might say that presently the Department of Public Welfare is taking advantage of the Federal funds available under existing law.

As to implementing them in this particular session, I might call his attention to the fact that if we did so it would require State matching money which is not available without the imposition of additional taxes. We have no tax base on which to pass any appropriations in this fiscal year without additional taxes. For that reason, the delay is due to the fact that I do not believe we could pass any taxes even if we had them implemented.

I want to say that we are going to make a decision and it is going to be a decision, I think, that will do the most for the indigent of Pennsylvania, but I want to say at the same time that under our present system we are taking care of the medically indigent in Pennsylvania.

Mr. A. M. LEE. I just say in reply to the gentleman that we could do a lot more for the aged in Pennsylvania if we had one dollar of Federal money for every dollar of State money that is now being spent.

Mr. GELFAND. I am not going to make a long speech, or anything like that. I just want to say that it is not a question of an economy bloc at all; it is a question of legislative responsibility. I am not asking people to vote either for or against this bill, but what I am saying is that there should be some protest against legislative irresponsibility and I intend to voice that protest. If we did not have the amendment we added yesterday, I would probably have voted for this general appropriation bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

We have some amendments to discuss on some bills.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to give the Republican plans.

Mr. Speaker, we have caucused on quite a large number of bills on the calendar. We, therefore, see no reason for a caucus on the Republican side, and so the Republican members can utilize the time of the recess for lunch.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Westmoreland rise?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose recommitment of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order. He can speak on the matter of recommitting.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, there is no logical reason to recommit this bill. This bill is on the preferred list of the PSEA. The teachers of this State want this bill and have gone on record for it, and no one has taken time to study this bill, except certain individuals who automatically said it was a bad bill.

The SPEAKER. Including the Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, would you care to debate the bill?

The SPEAKER. I would not care to debate the bill with such an able opponent as the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. MAXWELL. I would like to have a roll call on this, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Fulmer, rise?

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak in favor of the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me, after studying this bill, that we would do well to recommit this to the Committee on Education not only for further study, but for the possibility of correcting the language in the bill so that even the Speaker would think it made sense.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist upon his motion for a roll call?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker if it is the will of this House that they want to recommit it without a roll call, that is all right with me.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 990, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 13, 1951 (P. L. 90), prescribing the prices at which malt and brewed beverages may be sold by distributors and importing distributors and fixing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1142, entitled:

An Act amending "The Second Class Township Code" approved May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103), authorizing the reassessment of after built property in townships and imposing liability for township taxes upon the owners thereof.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Sherman will proceed.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct that this bill provides that a reassessment of property can be made after an assessment has already been made for the current year?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Yes, Mr. Speaker. This means that where property has been assessed as vacant land and a house or a building is constructed thereon, the township can then come in and reassess that property as improved property.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct that either as a GI or an ordinary purchaser if I buy a property from an owner, builder, or otherwise, and then, without my knowledge, some major improvement has been made in the property, and then at the end of the year, or thereabouts, or three or four months later I can be reassessed for the major improvements from the beginning of that month until the end of the year?

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. If I understand the gentleman's question correctly, it is true that an improvement, a major improvement, could be assessed from the time it is reassessed and a tax levied from that time until the end of the year.

If I may go a step further, this is only just because it is increasing the tax only on improvements that have been placed upon the property. I would like to point out that this is the present law for first class townships, it is the present law for school districts throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, except, I think, in cities of the first class, and we have just recently passed a bill making this the law in boroughs. That bill is now before the other house. This just brings the law on second class townships in conformity with the school district law, the borough law and the first class township law.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I speak very, very briefly on the bill?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I think this is bad legislation. I do not know where it is the law. I know it is not the law at the present time in large cities and, I presume in other communities. It is unfair either to the GI or an innocent purchaser where property is not recorded as having a major improvement or the building as having been done. For example if I buy a property in August, or September from a builder and no major improvement is recorded as far as the recorder of deeds or the department of records is concerned, and then, lo and behold, four or five months later I will get a bill for improvements that may have been incurred on the property either in June or July, or prior to the purchase of that property, for the rest of the year, I consider it a severe hardship. I am an innocent purchaser. I purchased the property either through the GI or an ordinary purchaser.

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommended to the Committee on Townships.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion to recommend.

Mr. SCHAAF. Well, Mr. Speaker, then I would speak in favor of the motion to recommend.

I speak in favor of that motion for two reasons: Number one, as I read this legislation it uses the terminology "major improvement," at one point, and then "any construction of a building or buildings." I am concerned about the possibility as sometimes occurs, that a person will extensively remodel an existing building, increasing its value, and which in the course of an ordinary assessment or reassessment would result in a change of assessment. If that is excluded, and, as I read the language of this bill, it is excluded, the legislation is unfair.

I would make a second point, Mr. Speaker, in favor of the motion to recommit. Irrespective of what has been done by this legislature for other municipalities and political subdivisions I think it warrants us to seriously consider the advisability of such legislation as this.

Mr. Speaker, I would then second the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. A. D. Williams, Jr.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS, Jr. Mr. Speaker as I understand it, this bill came from the committee on townships, I would assume that that committee has functioned as it always functions and has considered this bill very carefully. And I would hope that the majority of the members would vote against this motion so that we can pass upon this legislation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. SHERMAN and SCHAAF and were as follows:

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 678.

An Act Amending the act of July 7, 1955 (P. L. 258), entitled "An act providing for anthracite mine drainage contingent on Federal aid and making an appropriation" extending the provisions of the act to authorize the sealing of abandoned coal mines and filing voids in abandoned coal mines and making money heretofore appropriated available for those purposes.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The clerk will read the amendments.

The clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 18, by inserting after the word "welfare" the following: "preference shall be given to the sealing of those abandoned coal mines and the filling of those voids that are in close proximity to operating mines to buildings or to public highways.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, am I in order to speak on the motion?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, I am a little surprised—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is privileged to speak on the motion as it pertains to the amendments that have been inserted by the Senate in House bill 678, printer's No. 1741. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised that this bill is before us at this particular time. I thought we were going to get some additional information on it. I hate to say at this particular time that I think that we ought to concur in the amendments placed by the Senate, but I would take that position today, that we concur in those amendments which were placed in by my Senator, along with some other Senators from our region. I would have much preferred that this bill be held over until we had it straightened out, but since it is before us, I ask all members of the House to concur in the amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Crossin.

Mr. CROSSIN. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair apologizes. Is the gentleman through?

Mr. HEFFNER. No, Mr. Speaker, rather than have this controversy, I would rather have it held over until next week until we straighten this out. I think it can be straightened out, if it is all right with the majority side.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. We have a motion before the House.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Crossin.

Mr. CROSSIN. Mr. Speaker, since this gentleman is one of the sponsors on the bill, we will be more than glad to let it go over until he gets the additional information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Kistler, rise?

Mr. KISTLER. To inquire what bill is before the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There is no bill before the House. We are voting on concurrence in Senate amendments on House bill 678, printer's No. 1741.

Mr. KISTLER. Thank you.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we will be glad to abide by the request. We have checked this very carefully and our present position is to nonconcur.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Heffner.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, will bear with me, he may be perfectly right, but I am not quite certain at this particular time. I only understand that the amendments put in by the Senate may be objectionable on the Federal level.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we will pass it over. I wish the gentleman would check because it does not comply with the Federal law and the money cannot be used.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House bill No. 678 be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

While I am making these comments, if there are other Senators who care to join in the sponsorship of these bills, we will be glad to have them join us.

One of the bills relates to the method of reimbursing local school districts. Of course, this has been a matter of great importance, and still is, to the Senate and to many people in the Commonwealth. For fifteen or more years, we have had a method of reimbursement, involving the reimbursement fraction, which, of course, is a very complicated maneuver and understood by relatively few people perhaps in the Commonwealth.

May I say at this point that I am now speaking as a member of the Governor's Committee and not necessarily representing the Thirty-Fourth Senatorial District. The Governor's Committee hoped to come up with a simplified reimbursement formula. I think the committee believes it has done that. However, to put this into effect, it will take another year.

Therefore, Mr. President, the measure which I am introducing relative to a subsidies is a temporary bridge-the-gap measure for this year only, until the other program can be approved—if the House and Senate approve it—and put into being. This bridge-the-gap program, in very simple terms, would increase the basic amount given by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the local school districts from the present $5,800 per teaching unit to $6,200 for this particular year.

I might say that one of the basic principles on which the Governor's Committee worked was that the ratio of State support and local support of education should be about on a fifty-fifty basis for the Commonwealth as a whole. It seems to me that this is an important concept and if you accept this concept, then certain other things follow. I think under the present subsidy formula, which was put into effect about fifteen or sixteen years ago, the State-local ratio was about thirty-five per cent State and about sixty-five per cent local. This has gradually increased, as I think most of us feel it should have increased, until it is now about fifty per cent. The Governor's Committee thought this was the point at which it should be stabilized. This is not to say that all the districts in the Commonwealth should be shared fifty-fifty, because we think the equalization formula is also necessary.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am warning that you will have to come to some conclusion in your own minds as to whether or not this fifty-fifty per cent relationship between State effort and local effort is a policy which we wish to follow. This bill which I am introducing on behalf of myself and my colleagues this morning is the first step in an attempt to carry out what the Governor's Committee thought would be the necessary way to continue this fifty-fifty per cent division of cost between the Commonwealth and local government.

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to ask that the Secretary of the Senate send a copy of House Bill No. 808 to every Member of the Senate so that they will have a two-week period in which to go over this bill and study it very thoroughly. ### PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this is a deep remonstrance and a brief one.

This week, we have discussed such matters as unowned pigeons and uncooked fish, while all around us the world is thinking about space. I have a letter from a constituent which deals a little with this question. It raises a question which I think we should refer to a Space Committee. I think we have a Space Committee in the Senate.

I might say that a few weeks ago, some young ten-year-old citizens from my county, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Jane Smith and Mrs. Lawrence Perez, were here, and when they returned to school, these young citizens wrote me letters. It was one of these young citizens who raised this question. I might read his letter in part:

"Dear Senator Hays:

"I saw the Museum"—and the Capitol. "I saw stuffed animals, Indians, and antiques." It is not plain where he saw the various things.

"I enjoyed the trip very much. I didn't know that the building cost so much. I didn't know that the carpet in the Governor's Reception Room was the only one in the world. I never knew"—and this is where the question comes in—"that they had a step for each state. Are you going to build two more steps for Alaska and Hawaii?"

This is the specific thing which I think the Space Committee should have something to do with.

His punch line is really good I think:

"In Cub Scouts we are studying Indians and we think this trip helped us a great deal."

This is signed: "Yours truly,

"John Rath, Jr."

The PRESIDENT. We hope that you will place this very moving piece of correspondence before the committee which has been appointed for the purpose of allocating space. They might be able to build a couple more offices below those two steps.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I am sorry the Majority Leader is not in the Chamber at this time. However, back on March 21st, I interrogated the Majority Leader as to what this Chamber intended to do with respect to legislation to implement the Kerr-Mills Act.

I have checked the Journal, and find that the Majority Leader said:

"We have until June of this year in which to make some determination as to which program we would like to be under."

Again, on April 4th, this matter came up. Again, I quote the Majority Leader:

"We do not have to make any decision until June of this year."

On April 4th, there were two bills introduced on this matter, Senate Bill No. 447 and Senate Bill No. 467.

I have mentally looked at the calendar, and I believe that between now and June, we have three working days. I ask that the Majority Party take positive action during the week after the Primary Election recess to get working on what they are going to do with respect to medical care for the aged.

If the Majority Party is going to say, "We want nothing to do with the Kerr-Mills Act," let them say it.

I have made inquiry of my Congressman, and my Congressman—Congressman Milliken, a former Member of the Legislature—advises me that the Kennedy 1961 Social Security Medical Care Program is a dead duck. Maybe he is wrong and maybe he is right. However, we should take positive action of some nature or other as to what we are going to do for medical care for the aged, and specifically in the field with which I am concerned, the indigent-aged.

I have said on this floor enough times for everybody to be tired of hearing me say it that every month of delay is costing one of my hospitals $3,000.

I have talked to the Pennsylvania Hospital Association. They say that medical care for the indigent-aged would cost $1,500,000. I think that we should get to work on this problem and not postpone it further.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to inform the gentleman from Delaware that this problem of arguing the Kerr-Mills Act has been under consideration and discussion with the executives. I anticipate that when we return to this Chamber, we will have the necessary legislation ready to augment the provisions of the Kerr-Mills Act.

I am very sorry, indeed, to learn from the distinguished gentleman from Delaware that the social security program is a dead duck, as he stated, because we, on the Democratic side, felt that was the most liberal program, and that it was going to help the aged people more so than the Kerr-Mills Act. We are forced into the position of adopting the Kerr-Mills Act here in Pennsylvania. The legislation will be ready when we return after the 22nd.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM J. ARNOLD, Pastor of Church of The Manger, United Church of Christ, Bethlehem, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who are the Source and Giver of life, we realize that without Thy sustaining power, not one of us could live another moment. Keep us keenly aware that life here is temporary and that we are all ultimately responsible to Thee for our words and deeds, both here and hereafter. Even now Thy Holy Presence fills this Chamber and surrounds us fully, as much here as in any church on earth. We rejoice that Thou art always near, drawing us to Thyself, seeking to give us Thy companionship and guiding us by Thy fatherly love.

Grant Thy richest blessing to each one of Thy servants here assembled. May the legislation which is proposed and enacted contribute to the growth and goodness, the health and happiness, the material and spiritual welfare of our Commonwealth. May we all come to the close of this day, joyous and glad in the knowledge that we have done our best to serve Thee and the people of this Commonwealth.

We humbly offer this, our prayer, in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

HB 508—Read at length the third time and agreed to, On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 508 would authorize the Treasury Department to invest moneys of the Commonwealth in commercial paper. I realize that the title of the bill and the wording of the bill provide for prime commercial paper which, I understand, is recommended paper.

However, Mr. President, we feel this would be an injudicious policy on the part of the Commonwealth to invest its moneys in commercial paper, which is ordinary banking paper. Consequently, I am asking my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not happen to agree with the gentleman because it appears to me—if you will read the bill and I am sure the gentleman has done so—that these are short term loans whereby the Commonwealth could obtain the maximum amount of money from these loans.

The Commonwealth would not put all if its money into this. It would use its short term money—that which is not being used or money that is lying in a bank gaining little interest—in this type of commercial paper.

I think there is nothing wrong in this. I think if we operate the Commonwealth as we do any business and we obtain the best type of investment and the type that bears the most fruit, certainly no one can be criticized for that.

I, therefore, feel that the Commonwealth would be missing a good thing or letting a good thing go by.

Rather than see this bill go down to defeat here today, I would ask that House Bill No. 508, Printer's No. 551, go over in its order.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the bill going over in order.

However, I would say to the Majority Leader that many a good thing has not come in, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I should like to make the comment that prime commercial paper means obligations of corporations like General Motors, American Telephone, General Electric and the type of loans that banks are most pleased to lend money on.

I say to the Members of this Senate that some of the prime commercial paper is more secure than some of the bonds in which the Commonwealth invests.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would hate to accept that as an assertion of truth. I hope and trust that the Commonwealth has various moneys invested in at least as good paper or obligations as Senator Silvert has described.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wish to point out to the gentlemen of the Senate that the remarks they heard from the gentleman from Philadelphia were not merely a speech on behalf of this bill. He was relating a personal experience, and I think that you might do well to listen and heed some careful advice which has not been come upon overnight.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if we could amend this bill so that Senator Silvert would have the direction of the investments, perhaps our attitude might be changed.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I agree.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, the bill will go over in its order on final passage.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

HB 715 and 716—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716 go over in their order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have no objection to these bills going over in their order. However, I believe, on several different occasions, we were told that we would be furnished with figures from the actuary of the funds, telling us the approximate cost of these bills. I am sure that last week the Majority Leader told us he would have those figures available for us at this time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am advised by some of the people who have some knowledge of this matter—I have not, however, completely checked the results which they have given me—that if about fifty per cent of the State employees elect to go under the program provided for in House Bill No. 715, it would cost about two and one-half million dollars per year.

Under House Bill No. 716, which applies to public school employees, it would cost 2.6 million dollars per year.

Those figures, however, could change. For example, instead of fifty per cent of the people going under it, if eighty per cent of the people went under it, you can do the mathematics and find out the extent of the cost. There is no way of telling how many would choose to go under this system or use it. Therefore, you would arrive at that type of cost.

One of the reasons why these bills have been held on the Calendar is because there is some reluctance in some areas to go along with these measures due to the cost and the administration of them. I have been holding the bills here in order to try to iron out some of those difficulties which have arisen. I want to assure the gentleman that the moment when I will be able to do that, we will pass these measures. They are both very popular bills and are the type of measures which anybody could and should be in favor of. However, if they do not become enacted into law, I think we will not have done a service for the people whom we are trying to help. Therefore, in the hope of not doing them a disservice, I am trying to iron out all of the difficulties which now exist. I may not be successful, but I am certainly making an attempt.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bills will go over in their order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO LARRY MILLER, OF CATASAUQUA, UPON HIS SELECTION AS GOOD WILL AMBASSADOR

Mr. VAN SANT, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 60), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, May 22, 1961.

The people of Catasauqua in Lehigh County are tremendously proud today because one of their young citizens will be among the twenty-four boys who have been selected by the Pop Warner Conference to go on a three week European trip this summer as good will ambassadors.

Larry Miller, who was recommended for the trip by Governor Lawrence, was notified last week that he had been selected. The Pop Warner Conference is a national organization which sponsors football competition as well as other sports. The group of boys selected were chosen on the basis of being outstanding athletes and scholars displaying strong character.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Miller of Catasauqua. He excels in basketball but also participates in football and baseball at the high school where he is a freshman. His coach at Catasauqua High School, Bert Kuczynski, feels that Larry is an excellent choice but Bert deserves much credit, for without his ability as a coach Larry might not be the athlete that he is today.

The people of Pennsylvania are proud of Larry Miller. We need more boys like this because they are the America of the future. We want to take this opportunity to thank the people behind the Pop Warner Conference for making this trip possible; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulate Larry Miller of Catasauqua, Pennsylvania for being selected as a good will ambassador; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we wish him the best of luck on his forthcoming trip to Europe; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we wish to thank the Pop Warner Conference and the civic leaders of Catasauqua who contributed their money to make this trip possible; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Larry Miller at 116 Wood Street, Catasauqua, Lehigh County, Pennsylvania.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

HB 430—Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, I request that House Bill No. 430 go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think this is an important piece of legislation. It is one of the most important we have had here. I have no objection if the bill is going over in its order for the purpose of some important clarification or some important action.

This bill has been before the Legislature in previous Sessions and it has not done well. I do not know whether it is going to pass this Session or whether it will fail. However, I think we ought to take up this matter, go through it, and bring it to an end. It has been on our Calendar now for about two or three weeks and people have made up their minds. Those people who are in favor of it will vote for it and those people who are against it will be against it regardless of what I say, what you say, Senator, or what anybody else says. We should dispose of this in one way or another.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, in reply to Senator Weiner, I have asked that the bill go over in its order because I have amendments that I want to offer. However, I have been trying to secure certain specific information and statistical data which I believe would help to support the amendments which I desire to offer. I do not have this particular information or data at hand right now, but I expect to have it in several days. I have asked for it from various sources.

That is my reason for asking that the bill go over in order because I believe with that particular information available, the thinking of some of the Members of the Senate may be changed concerning the amendments I intend to offer.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman is aware that we allow bills to be amended on Third Reading. I believe if this bill were passed up to Third Reading and the amendments came to us at that time, or did not come to us, or we found at such time that they were not the things that we wanted to do, we could at least act on this.

This bill has been with us since April 17th. I think that most of the bills that we have on our Calendar, with the exception of possibly one bill, are current. I would like to keep it so and I am sure everybody here feels the same way.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. President, I must repeat my request that the bill go over in order. It is not only the matter of an amendment which I have in mind that I intend to offer, but also there are others which are being considered to be offered to this particular measure. We believe they are important. True, this is a very important piece of legislation, but we are of the opinion that certain corrective measures which could be added to the legislation would greatly improve it.

For that reason, I insist and request that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wish to advise the gentleman—and I do not want to make a speech on this bill and I will not until such time as it is before us—that I would like to work on this legislation tomorrow and the next day. This bill has been with us for some time. I think since it has been here over thirty days, we ought to address ourselves to it. However, I have no objection to the bill going over in order today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

SB 431 and 441—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

BILLS REREFERRED

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, last week before the Select Committee to handle legislation from the Governor's Committee on Education was named, certain bills that grew out of that committee were referred to the Committee on Education. At that time, I said that I would return such bills to the Chair if and when the Select Committee was named. I believe the Select Committee has been named.

Therefore, I am now returning to the desk Senate Bill No. 612, Senate Bill No. 645 and Senate Bill No. 646 for rereferral.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senate Bills Nos. 612, 645 and 646 are, accordingly, rereferred to the Select Committee on Education.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McGINNIS, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Appropriations, rereported, as committed, SB 133; and reported as committed, HB 757, 766, 768, 804, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 983, 1112 and 1113.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. ROONEY, PECHAN and STROUP, by unanimous consent, presented to the Chair SB 663, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code," prohibiting debt pooling business, voiding contracts for debt pooling and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The bills were as follows:

HB 757, 766, 768, 804, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 983, 1112 and 1113.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, during the week end, I did some reading and this information I wish to present represents material which came from the United States Bureau of Census which yearly computes fiscal operations of the various States. This appeared in many newspapers and on television and radio. The particular copy I have here happens to come from the Philadelphia Bulletin.

The point I am trying to make is that the story is very well written, but, as sometimes is the case, the headline gives a rather one-sided impression: "Pennsylvania Ranks Fourth in Rise of Tax Spending." This is correct. However, I would call your attention to the fact that the story goes on to say that Pennsylvania's per capita outlay was still below the national average. The Pennsylvania figure, per capita, was $141.60 against a national average of $152.49.

What I am trying to say is that despite this upsurge, about which the headline screams at us, the per capita tax outlay for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is still eleven dollars less than for the United States as a whole. Only two of the adjoining States—namely, New Jersey and Ohio—spent less.

I am sure all of you are aware that the public school bill in New Jersey is financed almost exclusively on the local level.

The per capita figure on spending in Delaware came to $253 compared to Pennsylvania's $141, and in New York it came to $165.19.

I simply want to call this fact to your attention because I think the actual per capita tax is more important than the increase. All of us, I am sure, in our domestic affairs realize that some years we spend niggardly on certain items and sometimes this is not good economy. However, because we pinch the one year and allow things to get out of good repair and do not keep services up-to-date, then the next year we must spend a great deal more.

I am saying that perhaps Pennsylvania, over a period of ten or twenty years, has not been keeping some of its services at the high level it should and perhaps that is the reason for this upsurge.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 22, 1961

The House met at 3 p.m., e.s.t.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Donald A. Steward, Pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Lebanon County, guest chaplain and guest of the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Manbeck, and of the House Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Holy Father, who holdeth in Thy hand all the might of man, Who hast ordained the powers that be for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well, of Whom is all rule and authority in the kingdoms of the world: We humbly beseech Thee, graciously regard Thy servants, the President and Congress of the United States, the Governor and Legislature of this Commonwealth, our judges and magistrates, and all the rules of the earth. May all that receive the sword, as Thy representatives, bear it according to Thy commandment. Protect those liberties of rule by representation which are the cornerstone of our government.

Grant that we, as legislators, may ever be mindful of the welfare of all our constituents, that we may serve the common good of all our people. Preserve us from all double-dealing, pettiness, and self-seeking. Correct the evils of selfishness, greed, vain desire for honor, or abuse of power. Enlighten and defend us by Thy Name, O God, and bestow upon us wisdom and understanding, that the true purposes of government prevail, safeguarding peace and prosperity, that Thy people may be guarded and directed in righteousness, quietness, and unity, to the end that we may live soberly and uprightly in Thy sight to the glory of Thy Holy Name until life's end. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Wednesday, April 19, Thursday, April 20, Monday, April 24, Tuesday, April 25, Wednesday, April 26, Monday, May 1 and Tuesday, May 2, 1961? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I see several errors in the Journal of April 19 in the report of the debate between myself and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy. Certain passages are attributed to me which should be attributed to him, and vice versa.

I especially would like to point out that on page 1284 of the Journal the record has me recorded as having stated that I worked for the Monessen Southwestern Railroad, the Donora Southern Railroad and the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad. I am sure they are all fine railroads, but I never worked for them.

I will not point out each individual passage here for it would be as confusing as the record is. If anyone ever reads this debate, I am sure they would never know who is who or what they were for.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal. If he wishes to be absolutely sure that his remarks are correctly quoted, he might send them to the desk in writing.

However, I think our reporting force is very efficient and probably got them right.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, May 9, 1961, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The chief clerk informs me that possibly there might be a shortage of calendars. The calendar was sent out by mail to every member. Then, of course, there were two caucuses to which the members took their calendars, and he is not sure that there were enough calendars to place another set on every desk.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to, at this time, parenthetically thank the chief clerk for sending out copies of the calendar to the members.

But that is not the reason for which I rose. May I ask the Speaker, are you through having the reading of the reference of bills by the Speaker? Is that all the bills there are? Are you under the heading of the Speaker referring bills?

The SPEAKER. We are finished with the heading of referring bills.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it has come to our attention that we in the House have passed the resolution which sets up a committee of eight House members, four Democrats and four Republicans, with reference to the Governor's Committee on Education bills. The Senate has also passed a similar resolution and I believe the Senate has made their appointments. Before we on the minority side make our suggested appointments to the Speaker, I want to raise this parliamentary inquiry by reference to the House resolution which you will find on page 310 in the History this week. I would like to ask the question so the members will know. Is there a mandate to the Speaker in this resolution that he must refer any bills at all to this committee?

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman making a point of order, or is he simply asking an opinion? That is one thing; if he is making a point of order that is another thing.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe at this point the only thing that would be in order would be for me to make a parliamentary inquiry because the question of a point of order could not, perhaps, be raised until you have actually referred some bills to the committee. Therefore, I believe I would rather stay under the question of a parliamentary inquiry of whether this resolution is a mandate to the Speaker to refer bills to that committee.

The SPEAKER. Had the gentleman consulted the Speaker, he would have preferred that that question be delayed until the minority had informed the Speaker as to, first, whether it was going to appoint a committee, and, second, who the members of that committee would be.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we have not made the appointments yet, and the answers that you give us might be a determining factor as to whether or not we give you suggested names.

The SPEAKER. In the opinion of the Speaker, House

Resolution 61, serial No. 70, does not carry any mandate other than the appointment of a committee.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the Speaker.

I would like to pose another question. Under the resolution, can the Speaker refer any bills at all to this committee?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker would be empowered to refer bills to any properly constituted committee that, in the opinion of the Chair, was empowered to receive those bills and report them back to the House for action.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. May I inquire again of the Speaker—

The SPEAKER. The question would ultimately be as to the powers conferred upon the committee in question by the House.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then your answer is that this is a duly constituted committee within the purview of our rules and the Speaker would be in order to refer bills to this committee. Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. Until the question is before the House on a point of order, the Chair does not desire to express an opinion.

His opinion is that this committee in question was not properly invested by the resolution and mandate to receive and pass upon bills and report them for action to this House. However, a contrary view might be entertained by a majority of the members of this House, and the Chair, of course, would be subject to correction by proper action.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have one more question.

I notice in reading both resolutions, the House resolution and the Senate resolution, when you consider the fact that the Senate and the House are a coordinate body, yet we act independently of each other, which is part of our system of checks and balances, with that in mind, the fact that the resolution says that these committees shall act jointly in adopting a program, legislative education program. In view of that recitation in the two resolutions, would the Speaker be justified in referring bills to that committee which considers joint action rather than individual action by the committees of the two houses?

Under Article III, Section 2, of the Constitution—

The SPEAKER. "May jointly determine." These are two separate committees and they "may jointly confer."

To be very frank with the gentleman and with the House, the Chair at the time questioned whether or not this resolution was sufficiently definitive. They may jointly confer. They are not required to jointly confer; they are not required to report the bill to this House by direct mandate. I think it should be not "may confer," but their appointment requires that they do confer.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the Speaker.

May I make a brief statement, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, you have answered the questions just about the way that we on the minority side had it figured out. When this resolution was debated in this House and it passed, I know I said, and we said on this side of the House, that the majority rules, and that we would, naturally, when requested by the Speaker, give four suggested names to comprise the committee. But we still maintain that this committee downgrades our present committee on education. We think it is a perversion of the legislative process, and, while we intend to give you four suggested names for the committee, we think the resolution creates a legislative hiatus that will come back to haunt us. I am afraid it will be impotent and will not be able to accomplish anything within the purview of the resolution.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I notice that this question has arisen following a recent discussion. I want to bring to the attention of the minority leader that when the resolution was adopted on May 3 he will find in the debate a series of questions and answers. One of those questions deals with whether legislation would be sent to this committee. The answer was that in the opinion of the speaker, which at that time was the floor leader, I myself debating or answering the questions, that the committee would receive all the legislative bills that would be introduced. That resolution was adopted 103 to 87, the record indicates.

Now the question which has been brought to the attention of the House deals with the first "resolved" section of the resolution. That "resolved" section says "that the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a House Committee of four members of the Democratic Party and four members of the Republican Party to consider the necessary legislation required to solve the school problems as set forth in the Report of the Governor's Committee on Education; and, then, "Be it further resolved." That discussion, in my opinion, clearly indicated that it was the intention of the people supporting the resolution that, when the legislation would be introduced, it could be referred to the committee, and there was no question that the Speaker does have the necessary power to refer the necessary legislation. That, of course, could be raised, which you can properly raise at the time he would refer a bill. Our contention would be that he has that right, since this is a properly constituted committee under Resolution No. 61, serial No. 70, which passed this House.

I, of course, will ask the Speaker at the proper time, that, if this be the case, a test be presented to this House for the vote, and we will debate the issue at that time, which I assume will be forthcoming in the very near future.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the majority leader and the minority leader that, under the language of the resolution, no legislative powers are directly committed to this body to determine the legislative program. To whom do they report? They may confer. They are not commanded and empowered to confer and report to this House. Who are they going to report to? It is taken for granted, but they do not have to. They can report to the House Education Committee if they want to, because they are not commanded to report to this House. It would be very easy to amend this resolution or draft a new one that would express the intent and purpose of the majority of the members of this House.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, one more word, if I may.

The reason for raising this parliamentary question this afternoon was that we did have every intention, at the time the bills are referred, to raise a point of order as to the power of the Speaker to refer bills to this particular committee, so I believe at the proper time when such bills are drafted and have been introduced and the Speaker has referred bills to this committee, we will raise the point of order and debate it on the floor of this House as to the power of the Speaker to make such a referral.

The SPEAKER. Might the Speaker inquire when the Chair will receive the names of the members suggested by the minority leadership?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Either before we close today or early tomorrow morning.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

increasing certain fees and making certain editorial corrections.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, it may be that perhaps I do not understand this bill correctly, but, if I do understand it correctly, my understanding is that this bill will add substantially to the cost to be borne by the defendant in nonsupport cases.

At first blush, perhaps, this is good. Those who are not perhaps contributing toward the support of their wives and families should be forced to pay court costs when they are brought into court. However, it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the people who will be harmed by this particular bill are not the husbands, who are failing to pay this support, but their children and their wives, because every dollar that goes into court for the payment of court costs, of course, is a dollar that is not available to pay for the support of their wives and children.

I suggest, therefore, that this is not good legislation on our part, because we are taking money away from those who are very badly in need of it, children and wives who are not being supported properly by their husbands and under order of court.

I would request, therefore, the members on both sides to vote "no" on this piece of legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 433, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" prohibiting the purchase of insurance from or through any person employed by the school district in a teaching or administrative capacity.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to find out what the purpose behind this bill is.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will attempt to answer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader who will answer interrogation.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate bill 433 would insert into the Public School Code a provision which would prohibit the purchase of insurance by the school district through any person who is employed in the school district, school teacher or administrator; from anyone who would be in an administrative capacity. In other words, the school districts purchase insurance and this they would purchase then from other than school teachers or those in supervisory capacity employed in the school districts.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, one more question. What is the reason for now barring them? Has there been some abuse or some evil that is presently existing that has to be corrected?

Mr. McCANN. It would seem, in the opinion of many—and I hope that the gentleman would also vote favorably on this—that the insurance should be purchased from the insurance agents properly designated and working in that field full time, in the insurance business, who earn their own living, operate their offices, and sell insurance, not as a sideline, but as a full industry of their own.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. McCANN. ## RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. THOMPSON, EWING, HAUDENSHIELD and SIMMONS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1961.

On Thursday, May 18, 1961, George W. Cooper a former member of this distinguished body passed away. We were all sorry to hear of his untimely death since all of us who knew him during his time here on the hill, respected and admired George Cooper.

Mr. Cooper was born on February 24, 1897 and he served the people of the 15th district of Allegheny County for many years. He took an active part in civic activities and had a very impressive war record. From 1938 to 1960, George W. Cooper represented his constituents in the way the people wanted him to, as evidenced by their reelecting him to the General Assembly time after time.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to his widow Helen Cooper and to his two sons George and William. We know that they will miss him as we who had the honor and privilege of knowing him will also; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania pause for a moment to take this opportunity to extend our profound sympathy to Mrs. Helen Cooper and her children upon the death of her husband; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Helen Cooper in Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. BUSH, BOSSERT, E. S. WILLIAMS and K. B. LEE. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 70.

In the House of Representatives, May 9, 1961.

Improvement in the overall education program is one of the major problems facing Pennsylvania.

The withdrawal by the Federal government of enormous revenues from the respective states and local communities has raised a question as to the ability of state and local governments to support improved education.

The possibility of direct Federal aid to education is disturbing to much of our citizenry because it may lead to Federal domination, control and interference which could threaten economic freedom.

It is recognized that a program of Federal aid to education would result in Pennsylvania receiving substantially less Federal money than it would pay into the program.

There has been pending in the Congress for several sessions proposed legislation to retain in and transfer to the states one per cent of all Federal income taxes collected in those states to be used for educational purposes without any Federal direction, control or interference; therefore, be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring) That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will provide that one per cent of all Federal income taxes on individual and corporation incomes shall be deemed to be revenue of the state within which it is collected to be used for educational purposes only, without any Federal direction, control or interference; and, be it further

Resolved, That district directors of internal revenue, before forwarding income tax collections to the Federal treasury, be required to report and transfer said revenues quarterly to the state of collection for such purpose; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WEIDNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, May 23, 1961, at 11 a. m. e. s. t.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:27 p. m., e. s. t.) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1961.

145th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 38.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1961.

No. 52.

SENATE

TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1961.

The Senate met at 11:15 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Fred B. Rooney) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM J. ARNOLD, Pastor of Church of The Manger, United Church of Christ, Bethlehem, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee most of all for Thyself; that Thou art a good and gracious, faithful and forgiving heavenly Father. We confess to our shame that in our business we oftentimes forget Thee, but we rejoice to know that Thou dost never forget us.

Heavenly Father, Thou Who dost understand us far better than we understand ourselves, purify our inner motives and outward deeds so that nothing we say or do will be unworthy of Thee or of our own best selves. Deliver us all from confining narrowness, paralyzing prejudice or corroding self-interest.

Bless each individual Member of this Senate and bind them in a close fellowship as partners, rather than partisans, as they labor together in their great privilege and responsibility of serving Thee and the people of this Commonwealth.

Hear our prayer, for Thy Name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

Please extend to the members of the Senate my most sincere thanks for their confirmation of my appointment as a member of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission.

This act of confirmation indicates to me that the esteem in which I hold the members of this assembly is reciprocated. May I say that their vote of confidence is not something I accept lightly. #### SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN ADVISORY COMMISSION ON ELECTIONS AND ELECTION LAWS

Mr. SCOTT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 118), which was read and referred to the Committee on Elections:

In the Senate, May 23, 1961.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Bipartisan Commission on National Goals in an analysis published last year said "to preserve and protect the democratic process in the United States is . . . a primary goal in this as in every decade". Efficient and honest elections constitute a basic and essential part of this "democratic process" of which the Commission speaks.

A special Committee of the State Senate of this Commonwealth recently reported that "for the purposes of this Committee, the conclusion is unescapable that in some recent elections in Philadelphia there have been election irregularities". The Committee noted: "In American democracy even conditions which merely suggest election fraud should be eliminated".

After a series of public hearings at which numerous recommendations were presented for improved election administration in Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth the Committee stated, in part:

The Committee recognizes that some of the suggestions which were presented to it deserve study beyond the resources available to this Committee. Particularly, the question of permitting watchers for referendums should be studied further. The wide ranging practices elsewhere should be reviewed. There is also a question whether the powers and duties of the Commonwealth's Attorney General and the district attorneys of the counties over the conduct of elections shouldn't be strengthened. Practices in other states on this should be carefully analyzed. Also, some of the proposals of the National Municipal League, while in some cases seemingly extreme, after careful study might prove to have merit.

Therefore, this Committee proposes that there be authorized, by resolution, the appointment of a bi-partisan study commission on election law. The commission, appointed by the Governor and composed of distinguished Pennsylvanians, might have the Attorney General as its chairman. The commission would need adequate funds to carry out its functions.

It further noted:

If Pennsylvania is to retain its traditional position as a progressive State, officials of the Commonwealth must constantly search for modern methods for conduct of the Commonwealth's affairs. In this case, a commission authorized by the General Assembly and appointed by the Governor would be the proper mechanism.

RESOLVED (the House of Representatives concurring), That an Advisory Commission on Elections and Election Laws shall be established, composed of eleven members, nine of whom shall be appointed by the Governor not more than five of which shall be members of one political party, one of whom shall be the Secretary of the Commonwealth and one to serve as the chairman, the Attorney General of the Commonwealth; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Advisory Commission on Elections and Election Laws shall review and study generally the election laws of the Commonwealth with particular reference to the authority and responsibility and methods of appointment of watchers; the manner in which election board officials are selected, the methods of training, pay, power and duties, and responsibilities of said election officials; the powers and duties of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth and of the District Attorneys of the several counties with respect to the administration of voter registration and elections; the statutory provisions and their administration with respect to legal assistance to voters; the statutes and their administration on absentee voting; and any other matters affecting the efficiency of elections; and be it further

RESOLVED, The Advisory Commission on Elections and Election Laws is hereby authorized and directed to employ several staff personnel and/or expert consultants as may be necessary for the performance of its duties; the total expenditures for such services and all other expenditures not to exceed $150,000; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Commission be authorized in its discretion, to hold public hearings and to transcribe such part or parts of the testimony and statements taken before it; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas under its hand and seal, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. The Commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations of witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before the commission or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the said Commission shall report its findings and recommendations, together with any drafts of legislation it deems necessary, as soon as possible but no later than March 15, 1962.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

SB 333—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 333 go over in its order.

I would like to bring to the attention of the Members of the Senate my reason for making this request. I have no particular feeling in either direction on this thing, and I guess there is valid argument to be made on both sides.

One of the problems with this measure is that it will allow the person to sue the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any one of the sixty-seven counties. I have no objection to that. However, you could find yourself in the situation where the Commonwealth is defending itself in sixty-seven counties, possibly in the same suit if there are persons related to the Commonwealth in all of these different counties.

The other point of view in this matter is that the person who is doing the suing should not be put to a great deal of trouble or a great deal of expense because he can afford it less than the Commonwealth.

There is a point of view that the rights of the Commonwealth stem from the king and the charter granted therefrom should be sacred, in that the Commonwealth should be sued in a particular place and able to defend itself. This view may have been valid at a time when communication was difficult and people had difficulty going from place to place.

I am neither for nor against this bill at this moment. I am just merely pointing out some of the inherent problems in it. I think some serious thought ought to be given to this measure because there was a recent case which brought about the problem and which set the rule that the Commonwealth can be sued anywhere and not necessarily in Dauphin County, as the law now reads. We are basically changing this law, or trying to reinstitute it. We should think about this pretty seriously before we take this step.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, as the sponsor of this bill, I am very happy to hear the Majority Leader's words because this problem should be very seriously considered, and by it remaining on the Calendar for a short time, people can sound out the feeling in their home Districts.

As Senator Weiner stated, it is very, very difficult for an attorney and his client in Washington County or Delaware County to come to Harrisburg, with the cost to the client.

In every one of our counties, we do have Deputy Attorneys General who do represent the Commonwealth. In Orphans' Court, every time an account is handed up, the Attorney General is there.

I believe that this bill is a good bill. That is why I introduced it. I also believe that we should consider the people in our home counties before we consider the convenience of the Attorney General.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. Very often, here in the Senate, we have talked about "dirty milk bills." Could this bill be referred to as a "dirty bread bill?"

Mr. YATRON. Mr. President, I assure the gentleman that it is not.

Mr. PECHAN. Thank you.

STUDENTS WELCOMED TO THE SENATE

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I would like the privilege of introducing some young people who are in the hall of the Senate. These young people are here from Penn State University. They represent the committee which called on the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee this morning. They are under the leadership of the President of their Student Government, who, incidentally, just came through a strenuous campaign for election a few weeks ago.

I would like to present these fine young people from all over the State of Pennsylvania, under the leadership of their president, Dennis Foianini. Will you rise please?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is delighted to welcome these young people to our Session and to congratulate the young man who went through the campaign. Senator Hays neglected to say whether he won. However, I assume he did.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I am glad indeed to also introduce a group of students from the Green Park Union School at Ickesburg, Perry County, Pennsylvania. They are under the guidance of Mrs. Glenn D. Morrison, who is their instructor.

I would appreciate it, Mr. President, if you would extend a word of welcome to this fine young group.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is always glad to welcome to this Body, to attend a Session, a group of young people from the public schools of Pennsylvania. We are especially delighted this morning to welcome these young people who are the guests of Senator Wade.

Will the students and their leaders please rise so that the Senators may recognize your presence?

JUDGE ALBERT S. READINGER PRESENTED TO THE SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is pleased to recognize the presence in the Senate today of a distinguished former Member of the House of Representatives, a former Majority Leader, a colleague of many of the Senators, and now a Judge of the County Courts of Berks County, Judge Readinger.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SESLER, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Banking, reported, as committed, SB 555, 556, 557 and 631.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SESLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SESLER. Mr. President, I have been instructed by the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish to report out Senate Bill No. 350, without amendment.

At this time, I would like to read a prepared statement on behalf of the Committee, as follows:

The Senate Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish has carefully considered Senate No. 350 and reports it favorably and without amendment.

Senate 350 will replace litigation in the Supreme Court with water development and control for the Delaware River Basin. It would provide for multi-purpose development of the water resources of the River Basin under a comprehensive plan. It would establish a commission with a governing body, consisting of Governors of the four States themselves, plus a representative to be appointed by the President of the United States.

The Compact is the product of extensive studies and negotiations toward which the Congress provided a $2,000,000 River Basin Survey, about to be completed, directed by the United States Corps of Engineers. An official agency representing the Governors of the four States of Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, and the Mayors of the two cities of New York and Philadelphia, worked together for over two years to develop a sound and reasonable Compact. The present bill is based upon this work, a special study of the administrative requirements of the Basin made by the Maxwell School of Syracuse University under a Ford Foundation grant, and other related research and studies by interested departments of all of the four States. The Compact has provoked widespread citizen interest and support and has received well high unanimous approval in the editorial columns of the public press.

By its very nature, therefore, this bill presents an unusual piece of legislation. Rarely is a bill so thoroughly grounded in research, experience, negotiation, and broad public support.

The Legislature will appreciate that a Compact must be agreed to in identical form by all four States and consented to by the Congress. The present proposal must also be enacted by the Congress to make the Federal Government a partner in the venture. This means that unlike an ordinary bill, a Compact bill cannot be amended during the legislative process in the Commonwealth without destroying the effect of action taken in the other States, nor can amendments in the other States be made without voiding the effect of action taken by this Legislature. The result is, therefore, that this Committee and the Legislature in turn is being asked to consider the Compact as a whole and to decide whether or not it merits adoption as such; or whether any specific proposal for amendment is so important as to justify withholding approval of the whole, or at least postponing agreement until the amended Compact can be submitted to the other States for their concurrence if they did concur, in any amendments made by the Commonwealth. This point is especially important at present for the reason that the State of New York has enacted the Compact and its legislature has adjourned, the States of New Jersey and Delaware have also enacted it, and the Congressional Bill, sponsored by Congressman Walter, has been reported out of the House Judiciary Committee favorably and without amendment.

Your own Committee has held extensive public hearings on the bill at Easton, Philadelphia and Harrisburg. Those hearings developed widespread public support and approval of the bill. They also produced some requests from industry for amendment. Your Committee has fully considered all requested amendments, has offered the Delaware River Basin Advisory Committee an opportunity to comment upon them, and has studied the pertinent law and practice. We have concluded that only two questions raised by industrial representatives are worthy of consideration as matters of special concern to industry. These are (1) the question whether or not the Basin Agency might have power to levy navigation tolls; and (2) whether or not the Basin Agency could charge industry for use or withdrawal of water it is now using free of charge.

Even since Gibbons v. Ogden, the Supreme Court has recognized the paramount power of Congress over navigation. This power is part of the Commerce Laws of the Federal Constitution. Section 1.4 of the Compact Bill expressly states that the Compact shall not be construed to change the present Congressional power over navigation. The Congress has fully occupied the field with a variety of regulatory and controlling statutes which are just as binding on the Basin Agency as on any other edict under the supremacy clause of the Federal Constitution. If this were not enough, the Constitution itself expressly bars any tolls (Article I, Section 10) on navigation which might be levied under State authority. The prohibition of "tonnage duties" contained in the first section has been construed by the Supreme Court to embrace all taxes and duties, regardless of their name or form, whether measured by the tonnage, visual or not, which are in effect charges for the privilege of entering, trading in, or lying in port. Certainly the levy of navigation tolls is such an unusual power that the absence of any express delegation of power for this purpose could not be construed to grant it. At best, the whole navigation matter is a question for the Congress.

As to the charges for water that are permissible under Section 3.7 of the Compact, it is again elementary law that a corporate agency of the signatory parties would have only those powers actually delegated to it. Nowhere in the Compact is there any power to make withdrawal charges for water taken from the river in its natural state. The Commission's only power to make charges is "for the use of facilities which it may own or operate and for products and services rendered" by such facilities. The Commission plainly does not own or operate the river, as a facility or otherwise, and, therefore, could make no charge of the kind suggested. This is confined as to present industrial, domestic and municipal users (Section 1.3 (e)) which flatly states that one of the purposes of the Compact is "to make secure and protect present developments within the States; . . . and to apply the principle of equal and uniform treatment to all water users who are similarly situated . . ."

In recommending that the bill pass without amendment, your Committee concludes that these concerns are not justified by the language of the bill itself, nor can it be anticipated that the Commission, consisting of Governors, would exercise the power even if it did exist; and, finally, any possible doubt about the questions will be resolved by the Report of the Judiciary Committee of the United States House of Representatives, which states (87th Cong., 1st Sess., House Report No. 310, at Page 16):

" . . . it should be noted that no power is delegated to the Commission to make any charge with respect to navigation or on account of any withdrawal from the river in its natural state."

It is well settled that the interpretation of the Interstate Compact is for the United States Supreme Court (West Virginia ex rel Dyer Sims 341 U. S. 22, 1951). In a long line of cases, the Supreme Court has held that if there should be any doubt as to the meaning of legislation it will be guided by Congressional Committee reports on the question. (Bins v. U. S., 194, U. S. 486, 495;

U. S. v. Public Utilities Commission of California, 345 U. S. 295, 1953).

Accordingly, your Committee in recommending the bill to the Legislature of the Commonwealth is insuring it may proceed upon the understanding that the Basin Agency will have no power to levy navigation tolls or to charge for withdrawal of water in its natural state.

It is also important to recognize that the Compact does not authorize any specific projects—it only sets up the administrative structure and powers. Since the new Basin Agency will not be able to raise any substantial revenues of its own (e.g., flood control projects are not revenue-producing), the Agency will not have a credit base to finance major projects. These would come back to the State Legislature and to the Congress for authorization and at that time financing would be agreed upon and arranged. There is nothing in the Compact which obligates the Commonwealth or any other signatory party to any project or expenditure.

It has been variously suggested that Pennsylvania has half the area of the Basin and that this fact should in some way be a cause for preference or concern. Any such notion of relative area completely overlooks the fact that waters of an interstate basin do not "belong" to a state in which they are found. Over the past 50 years, the Supreme Court has firmly established that the rights of States in interstate streams are relative; that is, dependent upon needs, resources, etc. of sister States. The Court has described these rights under the doctrine of equitable apportionment. Without this doctrine, New York City, exercising New York State rights, could draw upon the Delaware and its headwaters in New York State without limit. In practice, the Court did join the City N.G.D. and that taking was made subject to required compensating releases of water for the benefit of the lower basin. These required releases, incidentally, are estimated to use one-third of the total reservoir capacity built by the City of New York at its own expense.

It is thus clear that neither the past nor the future development of the river is either the prerogative or the obligation of the State in which water or drainage area may be found. To the contrary, each project in the State will be related to the Basin-wide Comprehensive Plan and will be equitably financed by the State or other bodies that want its benefits.

The Compact will result in the first Federal-State partnership for river basin development. It goes on the premise that the States cannot do the job alone; that the Federal Government cannot do it alone; but that a partnership organization can carry out the purposes and interests of both. As the House Judiciary Committee Report states (Supra at Page 6):

"The conclusion is inescapable: if the powers and functions of law, planning, administration, and finance for a single river basin are to be integrated properly, the solution lies in a single joint agency composed of the governmental bodies concerned. In your Committee's judgment, this is the only way to express a dynamic federalism. It fashions the instruments of law, nature, and government to meet the requirement of fully effective public action in the Delaware River Basin. It also opens opportunities for greater administrative efficiency and effectiveness, which are of almost equal importance."

In conclusion, therefore, your Committee recommends Senate No. 350 as an opportunity to join a constructive Compact which will create a vital new instrument of service to the people, industry and government of the Delaware River Basin.

This report is signed by Leonard C. Staisey, Chairman of the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. President, I would like to add that this report was prepared by our Committee Chairman, our able Senator from Allegheny County, Senator Staisey, who has labored long and diligently on this important piece of legislation. I, on behalf of the Committee, would like to commend him for his earnest and diligent efforts on this important piece of legislation.

We offer it now for the sincere consideration of the Legislature.

Mr. President, this bill relates to the reorganization of school districts in Pennsylvania. I might say that I think practically every witness who testified before any Task Force of the Governor's Committee—or a great majority of the witnesses—placed the matter of reorganization at the top of the list of the problems which Pennsylvania must face.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this is another one of a series of bills which I have introduced during the Session to curb the ebullience of a State administrator in the Department of Public Welfare. I am referring to the Director in charge of the aged.

It is about time that people should have relief in their counties without the need of coming to Harrisburg and to the Commonwealth Court. Because people cannot come here, since it means incurring additional expense, I feel they should have resort in the courts of their own counties.

For this reason, I am about to introduce an important bill. In my opinion, this bill will protect the interests of the citizen and will be one of the ramparts of his rights, saving him from the—I would not say malefactions—wrong administration of too much of an eager beaver administrator.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STIEFEL and KALMAN, by unanimous consent, presented to the Chair SB 682, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 12, 1931 (P. L. 510), entitled as amended "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of certain private nursing homes, private convalescent homes and private hospitals; . . ." authorizing appeals to the courts of common pleas of the counties wherein the homes and hospitals are located.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I request a fifteen minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a meeting of the committee on State Government.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would also like to request that the Republican Members of the Senate assemble for Caucus in the Republican Caucus Room. By way of explanation, I understand that excepting for a possible committee report from the committee which is now meeting, the Senate will conduct no further business. Therefore, the Members need not be apprehensive about getting down here. The desk can remain open and the Senate can receive the committee report while we are in Caucus.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Because of two requests for a recess, and hearing no objection, the Senate will now recess for a period of thirty minutes for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on State Government and a Republican Caucus.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BONNER. RESOLUTION No. 71.

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1961.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is presently considering joining into an interstate-Federal compact, to be known as the Delaware River Basin Compact, for the purpose of making possible the unified development and control of the water resources of the Delaware River basin.

There can be no doubt that the purposes of this project are laudible and well-worthy of our cooperation and participation. It is imperative, however, that the rights of property owners in areas which may be subject to eminent domain proceedings, be fully protected.

If the preliminary plans of the United States Army, Corps of Engineers are followed, dams will be constructed on the Aquashicola and Pohopoco Creeks and elsewhere with a resultant inundation of many acres of land.

Any compact or action taken under such compact should take into consideration the many hardships to which persons who will be displaced from their homes and businesses will be subjected.

Displaced families should be granted their moving costs up to a reasonable limit. There should be a fairer means of assessment of property so taken than the present "market value" approach based on values depreciated by proposed condemnation announcements. Property owners should receive a portion of the payment at time of acquisition with no jeopardy to their right to contest the overall settlement. There should also be provision for reimbursement of local taxing bodies for monies lost through these non-taxable projects, this being particularly important in counties, such as Carbon County, where several large reservoirs already exist; therefore, be it

Resolved, That any compact which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania enters into concerning development and control of the water resources of the Delaware River take into consideration the problems faced by persons whose property will be taken under such project, and that these persons be given every possible benefit to adequately compensate them for their losses; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor and to the Secretary of Forests and Waters.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

COMMENDATION

Messrs. HAMILTON, STONE and KLEIN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 23, 1961.

The tragic airplane crash which claimed the lives of two residents of Beaver County on Friday, May 12, 1961, brought to light once again the vital role which the Civil Air Patrol plays in search and rescue operations.

This highly trained group of volunteers which acts as an auxiliary to the air force, has throughout the years conducted its assigned tasks with the utmost efficiency and on this recent occasion once again demonstrated its immeasurable worth.

When the news was received that a private plane carrying Beaver County Commissioner Gordon Camp and John Licker, a student at Geneva College, was overdue, the men of the Civil Air Patrol immediately began a systematic search for the lost plane. On Monday, May 15, 1961, shortly after 2:00 P.M., the downed aircraft was located and ground crews were directed to the scene.

It was indeed unfortunate that the fine men occupying this plane should meet such an untimely death. Were it not, however, for the untiring efforts of the Civil Air Patrol and the numerous private pilots who placed themselves at the command of the Civil Air Patrol, it is impossible to say how long it would have taken to determine their fate.

The Red Cross and Salvation Army personnel who served food and drinks to hungry and thirsty pilots and workers are also to be commended for their services; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends to the Civil Air Patrol its highest praise for their recent search operations and for the excellent public services which they have consistently rendered; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives also expresses its appreciation of the services of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army in connection with the recent unfortunate plane crash, which services are in keeping with their outstanding records of many years standing; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Headquarters, Pennsylvania Wing, Civil Air Patrol, Allentown, Pennsylvania, and to the local organizations of the Civil Air Patrol, the American Red Cross, and the Salvation Army in Beaver County.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The only thing this does is amend the title.

Mr. McCANN. I beg pardon. The amendments do not change any of the provisions of the bill, only correct the title.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The amendments are all right, and the bill is all right.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

The SPEAKER. Had the Speaker observed, he would have voted "aye." This one time the Speaker waited so long that he thought he had voted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 257, entitled:

An Act prohibiting and making unlawful the employment of professional strikebreakers in place of employees involved in a labor dispute prohibiting and making unlawful recruitment and furnishing of employees to replace employees involved in the labor dispute and the employment of persons so recruited or furnished and repealing certain existing law.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MERRY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "dispute": "prohibiting picketing by persons who are not employees involved in a labor dispute, prohibiting the use of professional pickets,"

Amend Bill, page 3, by inserting between lines 14 and 15:

"Section 4.1. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to picket or join with others in picketing any place of business involved in a labor dispute, unless such person is an employee of such place of business and was on the active payroll of such place of business at the beginning of the labor dispute.

"(b) It shall be unlawful for any labor organization or the officers thereof to procure, solicit or arrange for the picketing of any place of business involved in a labor dispute, by any persons other than the actual employees of such place of business who were on the active payroll thereof at the beginning of the labor dispute."

Amend Sec. 5, page 3, line 16 by striking out "or 3" and inserting: "3 or 4.1."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. On the amendments to House bill 259 offered by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry, I request the membership of the House to oppose these amendments as presented to this piece of legislation.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, we would like to explain our position on these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order.

Mr. MERRY. Mr. Speaker, some of the folks here in the House might wonder what my position is in offering this amendment on House bill 257.

I have been interested for several years in industrial development up in our section of the country. Before 1955, we in Crawford County were able to get some industrial plants there, some from Ohio and different places, and we were very happy about this.

Since 1955 it has not been so easy. I had occasion to talk to some people from Cleveland several years ago, and I will not go into it further, except to say that for several different reasons they would not consider Pennsylvania, and the word was Westinghouse.

I did not think that anyone would not want this provision in this bill. I thought that the responsible labor unions we have today just forgot to put it in. It is not asking for any more than a two-way street.

These amendments ask for two things. They ask for the company, or employer, however you want to designate them, not to hire anyone except one who was on the payroll at the instant of the dispute. In the other language, we ask the people not to allow themselves to be pickets, unless they were employed at the plant at the exact time of the dispute. That should not be too hard to understand. It is plain language.

We go further to say that the union should not employ pickets who are not on the payroll of the plant at the exact time of the dispute. We are not going into any extra language about whether they were furloughed, whether they were furloughed for six months, three months, or just the week before.

I do not see why some union should be allowed to hire men and send men there as additional employees. Neither should some union be able to hire people from Connecticut, Cleveland, Chicago or some other place to go in there and act as pickets.

In the Sharon dispute, or Westinghouse, however you want to mention it, which was very close to me, my impression was that the folks who upset automobiles, threw cans of paint on the houses, threw rocks through windshields, were not people who were employed in the Westinghouse Company at the time of the dispute.

On the calendar today we have on second reading an industrial development appropriation bill. A few days ago the Governor took time from his busy duties to speak for industrial development. Now, when I have been refused, or my committee from Crawford County, to be considered as a place for expansion of a plant maybe from Ohio or some other State simply because of the antics that were pulled up at Sharon in the Westinghouse dispute, I think that something should be straightened out here.

Are we realistic in asking people to come to Pennsylvania, expand a plant from another city and expect to put in a new division? Can we ask them to come here? Can we not make this a favorable place for industry to come to? Could not Pennsylvania be maybe first in putting this paragraph in their legislation?

I believe when we have spent so much money on industrial development, and a lot of us have worked hard to get industrial development, that we should not throw one stone in its path. I would hope that everyone in this House would see this thing as I do and vote in favor of this amendment. This is a two-way street.

Please, gentlemen, I ask a roll call.

Mr. McCANN. I will have no objection to a roll call.

Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry, to House bill 257, in some instances may have some exceptionally fine merit.

There are also other sides of the street to a labor problem besides just the problem as outlined in the existing situation that he has spoken of.

For example, in many industries that are unionized and have operated extremely well under union laws and union contracts, there are many people who work in the plant, and there are others who are on the panel, having been temporarily, we hope, removed from the payroll, but at the same time are active members of the union organization which has the bona fide contract in the plant.

There is no question that we are strongly and firmly convinced that we believe in collective bargaining and we advocate so. There is the insinuation continually that by certain laws, or such proposals, we tend to drive industry out of the State. This is certainly not true. We bring industry, and we ask industry to come into the State, yet at the same time we do not ask industry to come into the State in an attempt to get away from union contracts or employ people for simply the reason that they attempt to come into a Commonwealth or any other State with their labor troubles which they have not been able to resolve at conference tables.

Today major industries will tell you that they have worked together with the major responsible union organizations of this country in advocating that the conference table is the place where they settle their contracts.

This, we believe, that the amendments offered by Mr. Merry are, of course, a two-edge sword, and for that reason I ask that the membership vote "no" on the amendments offered by the gentleman. I ask that they vote "no" and then vote "aye" on the bill in support of the measure.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were requested by Messrs. MERRY and McCANN and were as follows:

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

I believe the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, is—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman and ask him if he realizes that in 1937 a so-called strikebreakers' act was placed on the statute books?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Yes, I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman realize that in essence that law says it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, not directly involved in a labor strike or lockout to recruit any persons for employment when the purpose of such recruitment is to replace strikers. Do you realize that is the present law of Pennsylvania?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, however it is not—

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I just asked the gentleman if he realizes that is the present law.

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And do you also know that the present law makes it a misdemeanor with a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year or both? That is the law today, is it not?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does not the present law provide that there first must be a strike or a lockout before the strikebreaking law applies?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I believe the act says, labor strike lockout. That is the language used in the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is the present law? Now, the amendments that you are seeking to insert into the present law strikes out the words "labor strike or lockout" and inserts that all there must be is a labor dispute. Is that right?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do you, in the bill, define what is a labor dispute?

Mr. GALLAGHER. No, we do not.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. You do not define it?

Mr. GALLAGHER. No.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. How would the court then, in trying to enforce the new law, be able to determine whether the act applied when you use such a nebulous term as "a labor dispute"?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I am sure they would use the same method they used in determining whether it was a labor strike or a lockout under the previous act. Certainly the court can determine whether a dispute exists.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman mean that this bill would only become operative if there is a strike or a lockout?

Mr. GALLAGHER. No. I said I am sure the courts would use the same method and manner in determining whether there was a lockout or a strike in the previous act as they would this time to determine whether it is a labor dispute.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. From the standpoint of legislative intent here, what do you in this act seek to have a labor dispute to mean?

Mr. GALLAGHER. A labor dispute would be a dispute between labor and management. We can give you specific cases, if you wish, where you have a dispute in the field of organizing of the employes. I will give you a specific instance, where the employes have joined the union and asked the employers to recognize this union and sit down at the bargaining table and collectively bargain, and at the same time the employer is considering this, he goes out and hires somebody to take their places, and either fires them or has them walk off the job. This would be a dispute, sir.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then your position in the matter of legislative intent is that the bill would only be operative providing there were persons who were refusing to work and the employer seeks to replace them with other workers. Is that right?

Mr. GALLAGHER. No, that is not quite right. Persons who refuse to work because they are striking for a right or a benefit, or persons who are locked-out or are forced to leave their employment because the employer hires someone in their place.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then I believe you are placing an interpretation into the words "labor dispute" which in the present law must be a strike or a lockout. Is that right?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I think the term "labor dispute" is self-explanatory. It can be a lockout, it can be a strike or it can be a dispute at the bargaining table. What we are trying to do is to prevent the hiring of professional strikebreakers.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does not the present law on our books prevent the recruiting of any persons for employment where there is a strike and set a fine of $1,000 for it?

Mr. GALLAGHER. It prevents the recruiting of any persons to replace someone on a strike, but it does not prevent the hiring of professional strikebreakers. We have this very situation here in the State of Pennsylvania today where a person supplies a professional recruiter known as Bloor Schleppey, and the organization is known as the Schleppey-Kline organization. They recruit professional strikebreakers and they recruited them into the State of Pennsylvania. Mr. Schleppey himself was arrested and fined under this act, but the professional strikebreakers are still employed in the plant for which they were originally recruited. The present act does not protect the worker or the people in the community from this vicious thing of strikebreakers.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does this act that is on our calendar today extend to the individual worker who comes into a plant to work?

Mr. GALLAGHER. The individual worker who, on his own, comes into a plant to work, is that the question?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Yes, when there is a strike.

Mr. GALLAGHER. No, it does not prevent an employer from advertising for help when his plant is on strike so long as he says it is on strike. If someone wants to go and hire themselves out to that plant, that is fine, so long as they are not repeatedly doing it professionally. So, any person who so desires to be employed in a struck plant, on his own, may seek employment there.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Now, the other phase of the bill increases the penalty of $1,200 to $2,000, and I believe it brings the penalty up to three years; is that correct?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Yes, that is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I believe that is all, Mr. Speaker.

In the absence of any statements here—there may be some made—but in the absence of any statement that there is wholesale strikebreaking going on in the State and that it is creating a terrifying situation where we have to increase the penalty to $2,000 and increase the period of confinement to three years, and, in the absence of any assurance that our present law on the statute books is not a good law because it sets out a norm by which employers can operate, that they cannot hire professional strikebreakers where there is a strike or a lockout and the fine is $1,000 and confinement for one year, personally I do not see anything wrong with the present law.

I do not see any merit in putting on the statute books a law which does not define it as a strike or lockout where the act applies, but goes into the nebulous term of whether there is a labor dispute that could be a dispute between management and one of the stenographers, for instance, or an isolated labor dispute going on in the plant. I believe you are really doing labor an injustice by passing a bill like this and the courts could well strike it down as being so vague and indefinite that the courts would not be able to interpret it.

Therefore, I believe that we should vote down this bill because we have an excellent strikebreaking bill on our statute books today.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to correct an ill which has blighted Pennsylvania the last few years.

Unfortunately, there arose a situation whereby a newspaper was on strike. They went out and hired a professional strikebreaking organization to bring professional strikebreakers from other areas of the United States into Bucks County. These people, who are paid sometimes double the normal union salary that the printers would enjoy if they had a contract, are not the kind of people that we want in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and certainly not the kind of people that I want to associate with in my community in Bucks County.

This law prohibits the repeated use of offering yourself as a buzzard, so to speak, to prey upon the misfortunes of honest, decent people of our Commonwealth. The law is strong, the fines are strong, because I do not think that we in Pennsylvania want to have this kind of an element in our society.

We have gone a long way in labor-management relations in this Commonwealth, sensibly, honestly marching on properly. To allow this type of situation to continue is only a black mark on ourselves and our Commonwealth.

There is no need for this today, when you can sit down at the bargaining table and discuss these matters and collectively bargain for a good contract between management and labor. There is no necessity or need for anybody to have the right to bring in somebody to usurp the average citizen's job or position in a plant, when he himself by his militant action with his union is trying to establish better working conditions.

Under the present act the employer has an unfair, unjust, and unwarranted weapon to use against people who are striving to build our communities and our social way of life.

This bill is a good bill. It was designed for that purpose and that purpose alone, to eliminate strikebreakers from Pennsylvania. If the present act on the books were inclusive enough, widespread enough, to do this, we would not be amending it. But we have seen by practical application of the present act that you can only get at the ringleaders; you cannot get at the people who are trying to spread this cancerous disease in the labor-management area throughout the Commonwealth.

I ask all the members on both sides to support this measure.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Bucks consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. The primary purpose of this bill is to prevent professional strikebreakers either directly or indirectly. That is correct, is it not?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Will you read section 4 in the bill and tell me what it means and how far it goes?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Section 4 says, in essence, it shall be unlawful for any partnership, and so forth, to knowingly recruit, solicit or advertise for employees or refer persons to employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute without adequate notice to such person or persons in such advertisement that there is a labor dispute at the place at which employment is offered.

I am reading it roughly there.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Now, under the terms of section 4 there is no limitation to professional strikebreakers. Is it not true that if a man has a corner grocery store or a corner drug store and has a labor dispute with one employe, under the provisions of section 4 he could not go out and ask anybody to work in that corner grocery store or corner drug store unless he gave them specific notice that there was a labor dispute? Is that not a fact under section 4?

Mr. GALLAGHER. That is correct.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that is a fair prohibition and a fair regulation in this country today, that a man who has an isolated dispute over, perhaps, an innocuous matter with a recalcitrant employe that in order for him to get a person to succeed that employe he must advertise that he is a strikebreaker? Do you think that is correct and fair and to the advantage of labor and the community as a whole?

Mr. GALLAGHER. I think the gentleman is twisting the words, Mr. Speaker, when he says that you must advertise that you are a strikebreaker. All that section 4 says is that the employer must make the proposed employe aware that there is a labor dispute involved in his place of employment. I think you will find that there are many good outstanding citizens in our Commonwealth who would not want to seek employment in a place where there is a labor dispute or a strike.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I agree with you and I do realize it. But to take a specific example, in Bucks County if the man who runs your grocery store has a fellow who is not a good employe and he has a labor dispute with him, then somebody who needs a job wants to go down there and he is a good union man like you are, and he is told that there is a labor dispute and he says to himself, well, I would not be a strikebreaker. I would not take that to be a bona fide offer of a job. Do you think that is good legislation, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. GALLAGHER. The legislation just says that the employers must let the person know that there is a labor dispute involved in the place of employment.

Now you are asking what I think a person thinks about such a thing. This is not part of the bill.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, I want to make it specifically clear that I am in favor of any legislation which limits professional strikebreakers or recruiting directly or indirectly because that is the injection of a third party into the dispute, who has nothing to do with the dispute.

Section 4 goes far beyond the needs of this bill, and as long as section 4 is in the bill I cannot vote for it. I do not think any man who is interested in labor conditions in Pennsylvania could vote for it with section 4 still in the bill.

I want to state specifically that if section 4 were eliminated, I would vote for the bill. Otherwise, I will have to vote against it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I want to say at the outset that I am fully in accord with the provisions of this bill, but I am concerned now with the possibility that it might be unconstitutional because of the defective title, and I would like, before I vote on the bill, to have a ruling from the Chair as to whether or not there is a defective title because of the fact that they are putting provisions into the bill with respect to making these specific acts misdemeanors and there is no mention in the title of the bill that the bill provides a penalty. I would like the Chair, before I vote on the bill, to tell me whether or not this title is defective.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is unable to rule on that question. It is a question of constitutionality and would be a matter for this House to decide. However, if it is the desire of the House that we delay action on this bill, we certainly can check the title with the Reference Bureau and the Attorney General's office. In order to do this it would take a motion to postpone or table to delay action on the bill at this time.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—6

Guthrie,	Mihm,	Steckel,	Truslo,
Knecht,	Murray,

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission at this time to turn to page 12, bills on final passage postponed. I call up first House bill 694, printer's No. 759, on page 12.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 694, entitled:

An Act amending "The Fiscal Code" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343), appropriating certain moneys obtained through proceedings relating to escheatable property to the Department of Revenue for the payment of compensation fees and expenses.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this is the second time this bill has been before us; it was defeated before on final passage. Our objection to the bill is that it gives a blank check to the Department of Revenue to make payments out of escheatable funds without first coming here and getting an appropriation for the purpose.

We do not think that it is good fiscal management, good fiscal responsibility. I am asking the members on our side to vote against the bill.

There is nothing wrong with the way we are handling the matter today.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this proposed legislation.

The SPEAKER pro Tempore. The gentleman is in order and will proceed.

Mr. GELFAND. Generally I pay great heed to what the gentleman, Mr. Johnson, says, but sometimes I fear he speaks about things which are not completely accurate. The statements he makes do not completely coincide with either the purposes of the legislation, nor do they particularly analyze it in full.

First I would like to call to the attention of the House the venerable Speaker's "Dispelling the Fog," which was placed upon our desks this morning, in which he says, "As everybody in the know knows, there is a lot of money in the bank and in the custody of insurance companies, properly subject to escheat. If the movement were properly financed the State might be able to pick up a lot of money—millions, many millions. Is it a case of the banks and insurance companies saying 'no'? The money that should be escheated to the State would look fine in an appropriation to education." I think that this should be borne well in mind for the purpose of the legislation under consideration here would bring some of those many millions into the coffers of the Commonwealth and might properly be appropriated to educational purposes.

Let us examine the bill. The legislation provides—and it is short, succinct, and to the point, and I might say, meritorious legislation—"So much of the proceeds obtained by virtue of proceedings in escheat as are necessary for the payment of compensation to informers, escheators and others for the payment of attorney's fees and other expenses presently due or hereafter to become due are hereby appropriated to the Department of Revenue for the said purposes provided," and this is important, "however that the amount of said appropriation for said compensation fees and expenses shall in no case exceed twenty-five per centum of the amount obtained."

The current law presently provides in the code dealing with State taxation, revenue and fiscal affairs, in Section 614, that a commission of up to 15 percent shall be paid to escheators, and, in Section 1301, dealing with informers, a commission of up to 25 percent, thereby making a total possible commission of 40 percent being paid to escheators and informers. This legislation would reduce that to no more than 25 percent, and, in addition, it would provide that the funds to be paid to informers and escheators would be gotten directly from the fund created and thereby make it possible for them to be paid out of what they create themselves, and not make it necessary for them to come to the legislature and have a substantial appropriation passed in a bill every session after they created the fund.

One of the problems with which we are faced in respect to escheat and obtaining the most possible funds by virtue of escheat is this: Informers and escheators many, many times are unwilling to undertake the tasks required to create these funds. It may be necessary for them, after a fund has been created, to wait sometimes at least a year or two before they can receive any compensation, and it requires an appropriation by this legislature, after a request has been made by the Department of Revenue, to provide those necessary funds.

What we are asking here is not something with which to make political capital. What we are asking here is not something with which we can make a great deal of hay. We are asking for legislation that will make it possible for us to get additional much needed money for this Commonwealth from banks, insurance companies and corporations where the money now lies dormant and from whom it is not being obtained. I say that this is meritorious legislation; it is well worth your real consideration and it is worthy of passage because it will enable this Commonwealth to get much needed money that is due it and I, therefore, request and urge you to vote for this legislation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there are millions and millions and millions of dollars in the custody of financial institutions and in the possession of the insurance companies, millions that do not belong to either the insurance companies or the fiscal institutions, and, if properly escheated, it is not a million, it is not two million, it is not five million; it is an immense sum of potential wealth so far as the Commonwealth is concerned. For some mysterious reason the House, or this General Assembly, has never been willing to finance the Department of Justice to enable it to effectively go after this available money that is there and to get it.

I think that the essential needs, the essential needs of the educational program, which you may enact, could be actually met, not immediately, not tomorrow, not in the course of a single year, but in the course of one, two or possibly three years, by tapping these sources of potential revenue and abundant millions would pour forth.

I believe the members on the other side, many of them, realize that is the case. There should be some way of getting into the possession of the Commonwealth these millions that do not belong to the institutions that hold them, millions that have been collected by the insurance companies for a hundred years, where the claimants have died. They get the use of that money; they get the interest on it. They cannot spend it, but it belongs to the Commonwealth. I wish you would go after it and get it.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there is no dispute with what the speaker says about the fact that there may be moneys in the possession of corporations and others in this State that are subject to escheat. If that is the case I think nothing wrong of the Governor increasing his budget estimates by an appreciable sum of money which they think can be obtained by hiring additional persons skilled in the art of examining big business like that to go out and dig for that money. I would not object to a bill which would have an appropriation to hire "X" number of people to do that job. I venture there is no money in the budget for it, but you could increase your budget by the money they would bring in—honestly bring into the Commonwealth. We are in annual sessions right now. We are going to have an appropriation every year. There is nothing wrong right now with having an appropriation bill to grant money for that purpose. Do it in the regular way that we have always done it, which has made this Commonwealth what it is today, by the legislature having control and being shown the amount of money they are going to need and what they are going to do. This business of giving a blank check to the Secretary of Revenue is the reason we on our side voted against the bill before and I am asking the members on our side to vote against it again. It is not that I am behind the big corporations or anything of the kind. All we want is good husbandry, good fiscal management in this State, and we want to preserve our way of life.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, with respect to the remarks of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, he says "giving the Department of Revenue a blank check." There is no such request here whatsoever. The legislation specifically says that the amount of that appropriation for said compensation fees and expenses shall in no case exceed twenty-five percent of the amount obtained. There is no blank check here whatsoever. We specifically provide better than has been done heretofore, that the sum shall not exceed 25 percent and that it shall come from the fund it created. This is much better than the present practice.

I might also state that the reason this bill has been requested is because we find that the present practice is inadequate. It does not find the funds, the escheat funds, that the Department feels it could collect if it had efficient management and efficient legislation which would permit proper administration. That is why they want this legislation, and that is why we believe it is good. It will bring additional funds into the Commonwealth which are not presently received and therefore it should be supported by both sides.

Mr. KISTLER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate Mr. Gelfand.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELFAND. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KISTLER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain whom the escheaters are under this act?

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, the Department of Revenue and the Attorney General's department can select escheaters. They may be attorneys or they may be individuals. In many instances the department endeavors to obtain people who are attorneys so they may prosecute the cases themselves.

Mr. KISTLER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it to escheat is to forfeit. Therefore, the escheater would be the forfeiter, would he not?

Mr. GELFAND. Insofar as the escheater being the forfeiter, the escheaters represent the Commonwealth in obtaining the funds which should be escheated to the Commonwealth. If by the question the gentleman means that the funds are forfeited to the escheater, that is not so. The escheater is probably the nominal plaintiff to represent the Commonwealth in collecting escheatable funds.

Mr. KISTLER. I thank the gentleman.

BANGOR AREA JOINT HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the hall of the House 210 pupils of the Bangor Area Joint High School. They are accompanied by Mr. A. M. Williams, Mr. Robert LaPenna, Mr. Jack Finelli, Mr. Paul Wagner, Mrs. Branch and Miss Kennedy.

They are the guests of the Representatives of Northampton County, Mr. Verona, Mrs. Reibman, Mr. Prendergast and Mr. J. A. O'Donnell.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1075, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1915 (P. L. 661), entitled "An act relating to the maintenance of insane, feeble-minded, and other persons confined in the various institutions of the Commonwealth fixing liability for their support * * *" further defining the liability of relatives and estates by the entireties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that this is a bill that was once before defeated because it attempted to impose liability upon estates by the entireties for the maintenance of folks in mental institutions. We voted it down once before and I have seen nothing since that time to change our minds on it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auken.

Mr. AUKEN. Mr. Speaker, I want to make a brief comment. I very seldom disagree with my minority floor leader, but I cannot see anything particularly seriously wrong with this. True, it does do what he says, but only in the case of their own children. I think either parent should be responsible for the maintenance of their own children in a State hospital, or wherever they may be confined, as long as they have the money to do it. That is the reason I am voting for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

--------------------	------------------	---------------------	---------------------

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 926, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), further providing for the transportation of explosives and providing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Long.

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. Mr. Speaker, a few years ago a dynamite truck containing three and one-half tons of dynamite was coming down into a section outside of our town, Mahanoy City, Schuylkill County. About a mile and a half away, up on top of the mountain the truck driver of this dynamite truck looked in his sideview mirror and saw that the truck was on fire. He immediately stopped the truck and he stopped other traffic, and, when the dynamite truck went up, there were about 10 homes 300 feet from where the truck went off. It broke the ankle of a 13-year-old child; it smashed windows, damaged homes and it hurt other people. It blew the windows out of our local brewery about a mile and a half away.

Mr. Speaker, I know this sounds funny, but, in all seriousness, a lot of people could have been harmed. That truck probably was coming through Mahanoy City at the particular time the high school children were being left out of school. If that truck would have blown up in the town of Mahanoy City, you can imagine what would have happened to, maybe, 800 school children.

I think this is a very good bill. It is a bill which would prohibit caps and electric blasting caps from being carried in the same vehicle with dynamite. Under present regulation, the way I understand it, they are carried in the same truck in a box that is padded. All that it stipulates is that it is padded for shocks. Dynamite, as I understand, will burn, not explode. But, when you are carrying dynamite and caps together, if that truck catches on fire, it is going to go off.

Two years after this truck went off, another went off in our vicinity killing two men. The bigger companies like Atlas and Hercules carry their caps separately from their dynamite. But most of these dynamite trucks that are going off every once in a while are operated by these independent groups.

I am very serious when I say that people on both sides of this House should consider that if one of those trucks ever went off in their home town and killed maybe a couple hundred people, it would not be so funny.

This bill will add a little more expense on some operators, but I am considering the human lives that will be lost if one of those trucks should ever go off.

I think it is a very good bill. It was voted down before. I do not know if many people on both sides of the House understood it. All it does is to tell you that you cannot carry caps or electric blasting caps in the same vehicle carrying dynamite.

I humbly ask everybody on both sides of this House to vote "yes" for this bill.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Long, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted against the bill before, but I can be convinced. If it is a good bill, I would like to know. Do you know how much dynamite today is being hauled all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the many, many activities of commerce and trade?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do you know what the gross sales of dynamite are in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. No, sir.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. What county are you from?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. Schuylkill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. You are from Schuylkill County?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. Yes, sir.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. How many trucks a day haul dynamite in and around the environs of Schuylkill County, would you say?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. I could not answer that, I do not know. What I do know is that two trucks blew up killing people, and it could have injured other people. I do know that.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then you do not know how many trucks hauling dynamite are operated in Schuylkill County either by the day or by the week or by the month?

Mr. WM. JOSEPH LONG. No, sir. I have no stock in those companies; I just do not know.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, could I help the gentleman?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Yes, I am interested in the figures. I think they spoke of business in Pennsylvania. This is a huge industry, and it is a big industry in my county where we use it, not only in coal mining, but in oil and gas operations. This is an important piece of legislation to this industry, so I would like to know just what we are voting on here.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the minority leader desire to interrogate the majority leader?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I will listen to the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, first, of course, I am sure the gentleman knows that under the present ICC regulations any major truck line operating under a permit now is not permitted to haul both explosives and caps—under that regulation. This does not pertain to that. But in that field alone that commission saw fit to separate the two for a very wise reason, and that they have done.

In Pennsylvania we do permit the transportation of both caps and blasting materials in the same vehicle, and this, of course, would change the Vehicle Code and would not permit it.

As to amount that is transported, of the major manufacturing plants in this field manufacturing both dynamite and supplying blasting caps where not manufacturing the same, it is estimated that better than one-third of their production is disseminated to all types of outlets. Now we speak of hauling to the mining industry, to the oil industry, to various other industries. I do not have the figures either in number of blasting caps or, if the proper nomenclature would be, cases, as they are ordered, but there is definitely the firm conviction and opinion that where they now are shipping under ICC regulations they must separate the shipment. It would not be any great problem to also separate the shipment of blasting caps and dynamite. For that reason it is not a bill that would hurt in any way this particular industry in its transportation problem if you have a dynamite or explosive factory, many of which are located, for example, in many parts of the State, and a blasting cap manufacturer shipping the other product. There is no bona fide information that I have been able to receive which would give me a factual answer as to the total amount involved within the confines of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. You have no figures on the enormity of the problem?

Mr. McCANN. I do not have any figures that would give us a true picture of the total amount shipped within Pennsylvania, of either dynamite or explosives or blasting caps.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Let us take the situation in the oil and gas industry where they haul lots of explosives in and around the oil fields and they generally haul them on side roads and early in the morning. They would have to have two trucks to haul these explosives then, would they not, one to haul the caps and the other to haul the explosives? That is the intent of the bill. Or they would have to make two trips, first, deliver the explosives and stash them away somewhere and then go back to the magazine and pick up the caps?

Mr. McCANN. That would be true. They could not be shipped in the same vehicle at the same time. They would have to use an alternative method in delivering either one or the other material to its final destination point. But when it does get there, we do have laws and regulations as to its storage now on the books and the handling from that point on.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have no further questions. In the absence of any information as to the enormity of the problem—I know in McKean County where we handle literally tons of explosives we have not had an accident in 20 years up there that I know of, or anyone injured, that is, on the highways. Therefore, I am wondering whether in order to prevent an isolated case here and there we should put a burden like this on such a big industry. That is my point.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say why we should. One time in my life I had the occasion in the little county of Greene, where a truck hauling both explosives and caps on Legislative Route 188 coming down a hill, no accident or anything, exploded. There was nothing found of the body for a funeral. I want you to think that this happened close to a school house located only one-fourth of a mile on down the road. What if it would have happened there?

To me, I can never believe, nor can you, that no matter how hard this would be for this industry that they would want this to happen, and, God forbid, neither would I. I believe that they, also, as hard as this may be in some minor cases, would favor this. We do permit this in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Would you attempt to do the same thing in other States that have now tightened their laws, such as Texas did with their major problems, and New York? I say to you frankly, I cannot give you the answer, but this is legislation that may save someone's life and that can never be valued in dollars.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Kornick.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, in regard to Mr. McCann's last statement, I can verify that because my neighbor was going by in his car when this truck went up and he has been disabled for life as a result of that accident.

Going back to Mr. Johnson's inquiry, the strippers, coal operators and the people in the oil and gas industries, it is not those who have their explosives hauled to the various jobs and the explosives are stored properly. It is those who may take a case of dynamite and a carton of detonators and put them in a rumble seat or a pickup truck. Those are the people we have to guard against.

Therefore, this bill, I think, is a very good piece of safety legislation and I do not think the explosives people are very much opposed to this legislation. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—10

Cioffi,	Knecht,	Steckel,	Andrews,
Fox,	Mihm,		Speaker

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The house resumed the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1165, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code," approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), authorizing issuance of special temporary permits for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages at certain sporting events under certain conditions.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heavey.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, here we go again. We are in the throes of a $1,300,000,000 educational bill for the building of necessary schools. I say a vote for this bill would make the Phillies more money and at the same time put the kids in the environment of drinking beer. Now, we had two kids in Philadelphia recently who took a car and went out and killed a lady. Their excuse was that they drank four quarts of beer. Now, baseball has by-products today with radio, television and hot dog concessions. Out in Los Angeles they sold 77 home games to television for $600,000. They let 5,000 kids into the Phillies on Saturday afternoon, and those kids really ate the hot dogs and I, for the life of me, cannot see why we should sell beer in the ball parks with all those kids around.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, this bill came up for the first time on May 3rd and at that time on the vote we had 103 votes and, because we came so close, we felt justified in bringing it up again.

My colleague from Philadelphia has stated primarily that he is concerned with placing children in an environment of drinking beer. Mr. Speaker, the children go to the Phillies' ball park every day and frequently in great numbers and the situation is just that at the present time. You have people bringing in cans of beer and bottles of beer. You have virtually an uncontrolled situation, because people bring in more beer than they can actually consume and they feel the necessity of drinking everything that they have.

Mr. Speaker, if this bill passes, there would be beer served in paper cups and we would have Liquor Control Board agents present to police the operation at all times. People would not be drinking more beer than they could possibly consume because the beer would be purchased in the ball park. Furthermore, any attempt or effort of vendors to sell to children would be picked up by the Liquor Control Board agents and we would have a much better controlled situation than we can possibly have today.

Mr. Speaker, there are perhaps, two major reasons for the bill. First let me say, as we indicated before, there is a real safety problem presently in the Phillies' ball park. The bottles and cans are thrown around and many patrons are injured; occasionally ball players are injured. You have a real hazardous situation. If this bill became law, there would be paper cups only and this safety feature would be taken care of.

On the other hand, the Phillies are contemplating moving within the next couple years. We are sure they are going to move to new quarters and there will be a very great financial burden on them, and the opportunity to sell beer under these controlled circumstances will enable them to go into this larger operation.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, this bill is important not only to the Phillies; it is important to Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania. I ask everyone who is interested in baseball to vote for this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, on the previous occasion and again today we are hearing the fine arguments on behalf of professional baseball in Philadelphia, but I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not this bill would also apply to professional basketball in gymnasiums?

Mr. EILBERG. This bill would apply to, and I am reading from page 2, "sporting events in which professional athletes compete on premises having a seating capacity of twenty-five thousand or more." Now, the gentleman is asking me whether this could be served at basketball stadiums. I am not aware of any such stadium in Philadelphia. This bill applies only to Philadelphia.

Mr. MURPHY. However, if it did seat twenty-five thousand or more, Mr. Speaker, it could be served in a gymnasium or a stadium where they might be playing?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, it would be impracticable and inexpedient to build a basketball court or a gymnasium that would seat that number of people, because we simply could not fill such an accommodation.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say then that it could be served at professional football games in outdoor stadiums and college stadiums where professional football might be played?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, regarding college stadiums, and the gentleman may be referring to Franklin Field of the University of Pennsylvania, I am certain that the University of Pennsylvania would not agree to the sale of beer on Franklin Field and certainly there is no intention to lead in that direction. I would like to say further, that in the last session, when this matter was considered, the term "baseball parks" was specifically used. This time the drafters felt that to identify the stadium in that role, as a baseball park, might be making a special classification which would possibly be unconstitutional. Because of this possible technical defect, the bill was phrased in this way, but the intention is the same. Most emphatically, the intention is to have it apply only to the Phillies and their baseball park.

Mr. MURPHY. Well, Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman be willing to amend the bill so as to only include baseball as a sporting event?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I think the purpose here is very clear. I would declare it as a matter of legislative intent. I think that should be sufficient for the gentleman. I do not think there is any need to offer the type of an amendment that the gentleman is suggesting.

Mr. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Philadelphia say then that a jockey was a professional athlete, one who rides horses?

Mr. EILBERG. Yes, I would believe that he is.

Mr. MURPHY. In other words then, this would also include race tracks where professional races were being conducted?

Mr. EILBERG. Now, if the gentleman is contemplating a race track that is being considered in Philadelphia, that particular stadium is nowhere near twenty-five thousand capacity, so let me assure the gentleman that the track being contemplated will not come within the provisions of this bill.

Mr. MURPHY. How many seats are contemplated at the track? I have not heard.

Mr. EILBERG. I understand that twelve thousand seats are contemplated.

Mr. MURPHY. In other words, if they double that they can start selling beer?

Mr. EILBERG. If they double it, yes.

Mr. MURPHY. That is all. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. McInroy.

Mr. McINROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman, Mr. Eilberg, has just said that any athletic stadium in Pennsylvania that has over 25,000 people in it can sell beer. In other words, at the Army-Navy game which is annually held in Philadelphia, with a capacity of 100,000 people, I presume it could be sold there. There college athletics would not be concerned.

We are also afraid of the door being opened. If it is opened to the Phillies then we are afraid it would be extended all over Pennsylvania, not to 25,000 but perhaps next session we would bring it down to 5,000 or even a smaller number than that.

We repeat again what we said before, that what the Phillies need is not more beer, but a better ball team. They are now in last place and if they get a better ball team they will be like the Pittsburgh Pirates out in the other end of the State. They are not worrying about beer; they have the ball team and they have the crowds. We do not think that women and children and those who do not like beer around to bother them should have it imposed on them at a ball park or any other park. There is no assurance that the crowds would be larger if beer were permitted to be served.

Therefore, without any wish to prolong this debate, I think the bill should be voted down, as we did on May 3rd.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I think it is only proper that a statement that Mr. McInroy just made should be corrected, regardless of how we vote on this bill. He stated that at the Army-Navy game they could sell beer. Now the people that play for the Army and Navy are not professional athletes. They are not classed as professional athletes. Those are schools, and those schools are not classed as professional athletes, so I think the statement should be corrected.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the statement made by the gentleman, Mr. McInroy, regarding the Municipal Stadium and the Army-Navy game is not correct.

We are speaking of stadiums which have professional athletes in them on a regular basis. Now it is true that occasionally some professional team may play in the Municipal Stadium, but there is no intent, nor is it contemplated, that any permit should be extended to the Municipal Stadium. We in the city of Philadelphia think that this will not be proper.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1098, entitled:

An Act amending "The Insurance Department Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one," approved May 17, 1921 P. L. 789), extending the provisions requiring the licensing of agents to include domestic mutual fire companies and prescribing penalties.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Goodrich.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I believe that every member of the House knows what this bill does and what the amendments offered by myself and the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Hamilton, did to the bill.

I would like to point out to the members of the House that in conferences which several of us had with the insurance commissioner, he stated that the amendments offered probably were unconstitutional, that they would be an unreasonable classification. Since that time, I did talk with the personnel of the Attorney General's office, and Mr. Stack in that office himself suggested that the amendments might be unconstitutional. If that were to prove so, the bill would apply to all agents of all types of insurance, mutuals and stock alike.

In my opinion, then, it would be a bill detrimental to the insurance industry of Pennsylvania, detrimental to Pennsylvania, and until someone can assure me that the amendments offered are constitutional I would have to ask the members of the House to vote against the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that this is the bill that was cleared in the Insurance Committee and the Insurance Commissioner met with the respective caucuses and discussed it. I hope that they will support the measure by voting in the affirmative.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Speaker

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 837, entitled:

An Act permitting any person entitled to vote to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours in certain cases without deduction in salary or wages.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McKeever, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McKEEVER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, under the present voting laws I believe our polls are open 13 hours, is that correct, from 7 o'clock to 8?

Mr. McKEEVER. That is entirely right, sir.

Mr. HEFFNER. Now, if I work an eight-hour shift, would my employer be required to pay me for two hours to vote under this bill?

Mr. McKEEVER. Depending upon how far away the work is from the polls. We have people living in my area who work down at the shore, Atlantic City. They cannot get there prior to the polls opening and would have a hard time getting there before the polls closed. There really are some other cases, and it is to protect these people that the bill was introduced.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, if that is the intent of the bill, would you please point out to me in this bill where that situation is allowed in the bill? I refer you to page 2, line 3, and I am reading in the middle of line 3, which says, "This section shall not apply to a voter on the day of election if there are two successive hours while the polls of such election are open in which he is not engaged in his principal service or employment."

Mr. McKEEVER. I cannot understand that, sir. Is that a question or a statement? I cannot understand it.

Mr. HEFFNER. Mr. Speaker, if the intent is as outlined today, will you please show me in this bill where your situation is allowed?

In other words, the way I interpret this bill is that if there are two successive hours in a voting day that I have off from my principal employment, then the employer does not have to pay my two hours off to vote. Is that not correct?

Mr. McKEEVER. A man could vote prior to leaving for his occupation if he lives a distance from his occupation. In other words, if he is working at Egg Harbor but is from Philadelphia, under this bill he is granted two hours off to vote prior to leaving for his occupation.

Mr. HEFFNER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would briefly like to clarify this bill as I read it for the members on my side of the House because I think we did misunderstand it.

It seems to me the way this bill is written that if the polls are open 13 hours, and they are in Pennsylvania, and I work an 8-hour shift, my employer would not have to pay me for two hours to go and vote. In other words, it says on page 2, line 3, that this section shall not apply to a voter on the day of election if there are two successive hours while the polls of such election are open in which he is not engaged in his principal service or employment. Most people work eight hours a day, so if the polls are open 13 hours it would not apply in that situation. The only situation in which it probably does apply is if you were working overtime, or overtime was required, then he would have to give you the two hours off. I think we misunderstood that on our side of the aisle. I want to bring that out into the light for our membership.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1367, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 18, 1937 (P. L. 654), entitled as amended "An act to provide for the safety and to protect the health and morals of persons while employed * * *" increasing penalties for violation and providing injunctive relief.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, today we had a situation on our calendar in connection with the strike-breakers' bill when we offered amendments to try to make it a bill having to do with both sides of the street and make it a fair bill, so the amendments were turned down. Recently a bill passed this House denying employers the temporary injunction in case of a labor dispute in four limited categories. That bill passed.

Here, however, is a bill that grants a temporary injunction against industry. It is the reverse of the bill which was passed; I believe it was House bill 863. I think that we have adequate ways of enforcing the safety laws of this Commonwealth in the rules and regulations of the Department of Labor and Industry. If you read the industrial magazines that are being put out today by industry, you will note they all pride themselves on their splendid safety record in the tremendous precautions they are taking to safeguard their employees and I want to tell you the last two or three weeks the things that this session is heaping on the businessman in this State, being a small businessman or a big businessman, I do not see how business is going to come to Pennsylvania. I know I have been saying this. You had a small businessman's conference here in Harrisburg on the 13th of May when we were not here. What they should have done was to hand out copies of a calendar to every businessman there and show him the things that are on this calendar to literally put the businessman on his knees in Pennsylvania.

This is just another thing that you are heaping on industry. You are saying a temporary injunction is not good against labor but it is good against industry. I believe it is time we people stood up and gave everybody a square deal in Pennsylvania. I think this is getting to be a one-sided situation here, and, believe me, the eyes of industry and businessmen in Pennsylvania are upon us.

This bill is not needed. You are doubling the penalties and until you show us there is a frightful situation prevailing in this State of wholesale disregard of the rules and regulations of the Department of Labor and Industry which warrant this, I am urging the members on this side of the House to vote "no."

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I am going to suggest to the membership of the House that the minority leader has befogged the issue when he says that this does the reverse of what was done to the so-called anti-injunction act here a few days ago. I think he misstates the facts. The minority leader is a lawyer. He can correct me if I am wrong.

My recollection is, Mr. Speaker, that the prior bill, and I only refer to it for the sake of his comparison, removed the privilege of the employer to secure an ex parte restraining order. It does not deny him the right to a temporary injunction following a hearing.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to refer to the specific piece of legislation which is before us. He says that here we are now providing for an immediate restraining order against the employer. I suggest, Mr. Speaker, that the minority leader has not read the bill. The offensive language with which he may have been concerned previously has been stricken out. The bill has been amended; three days notice is required. I think under the circumstances the two problems are very far apart.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House bill No. 1414, entitled:

An Act amending "The Fiscal Code" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343), empowering the Governor to abolish special funds transfer balances in bond fund to the General Fund utilize balances in the sinking funds to extinguish the public debt and providing powers and duties of the Auditor General and State Treasurer.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on House bill 1414 the amendments that were discussed dealing with the balance in the Korean conflict bonds, the amendments are placed in there that they cannot be used or transferred. These amendments were suggested in the Rules Committee by the Republican members and have been inserted in the bill at their suggestion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Would the majority leader please otherwise explain the bill? Is this the bill that would give the Governor the right to transfer during the year from one fund to another, or is this merely the bill which says if there are any sums of money left in a sinking fund that it can be transferred to the general fund?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this would be the bill that gives the Governor the power to abolish special funds, transfer balances in funds, and utilize balances in sinking funds when the original purpose of these funds has been accomplished. In other words, it has served its purpose and there is a balance in the fund.

The bill also includes the limitations that we have discussed dealing with requiring the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to concur in the case of the abolition of special funds, and requiring the State Treasurer to certify to the facts in the case of the funds and the sinking funds.

In addition, the amendment was placed in there specifically dealing with the Korean bonus bond balance, since it was brought out that there was perhaps $30 million worth of bonds not used that were authorized by the voters of the Commonwealth in the Korean conflict bonus bond item.

Therefore, the bill, in our opinion, meets what has been discussed and gives the Governor the power to do this with any funds after it has accomplished its specific purpose. For that reason I ask that the membership do support this.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. This is the bill that deals with the special funds when the purpose of the fund is no longer necessary and there are balances remaining, and it permits the Governor to transfer it to the general fund?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. This is not the bill we defeated previously which gave the Governor the right to borrow from various funds during the interim?

Mr. McCANN. This is not that bill. That I believe is 1216; this is 1414. You are right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. As far as I am personally concerned, I cannot see anything wrong with that, particularly with the Korean bonus protection in there, although there may be some on our side who may feel that the Governor should not have that power. We are, therefore, not making any party policy on the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the majority leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. This bill provides that the Governor shall have the power to abolish any special fund and transfer the balance therein into the general fund, when in the opinion of the Governor, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer there is no further need for such special funds.

How many special funds are there in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the present time?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I could not answer how many are left now. We have tried by various acts to abolish a good many in which the special fund had served its purpose and a balance was left. I would have gotten the information gladly as to how many more special funds are left. The idea is to give the Governor, the State Treasurer and the Auditor General the right, when the fund has served its purpose, has paid its obligation, to transfer the balance into the general fund where it properly belongs.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I do not have the information before me now, I have it on my desk, but in the early part of this session I asked for information regarding what special funds were in existence in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I was furnished with a list by the Governor's budget office of 63 special funds in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Those special funds included such funds as the Fish Fund, the Game Fund, the Liquor Control Fund, and funds of that type. Are we by this bill going to give the Governor the right to transfer these funds back and forth, to abolish any particular special fund without our knowing how much is in it, and transfer it to the general fund? Just what kind of power are we granting under this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if I may, I believe the gentleman requested a list of all the special funds and, properly, those funds would be listed. But what are we doing in this piece of legislation? You are giving to the Governor, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer the power to abolish the fund after it has served its purpose whenever there may be a balance there to be transferred into the general fund. That certainly would not be true of all the funds that are on the list that you have in your possession. I believe your inquiry was to itemize every special fund, and, properly so, you received that information. For example, as you recall, there were times in which there were special funds going back to the old Mother's Assistance Act, items dealing with the 1930's, in which there were such items as low as $1,000, and even less in some cases, where the fund had completely served its purpose and this was the balance. We were trying to straighten all of those up, and we believe that the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, and the Governor should have the right, after it has served its purpose, after everything has been paid, to help the general fund by transferring that money to the general fund.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman give me any information as to how much money is in special funds today to which this bill might apply?

Mr. McCANN. No, Mr. Speaker, I do not have the amount of money nor the number of funds as of today that it would apply to should it become law. I am sure we can give you that information. We have discussed this before. It is published every month, I believe, but I will get the information.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I want to call the attention of the members of this House to the fact that earlier this year we passed several bills abolishing certain special funds and transferring them to the general fund, and among some of the funds that were abolished and transferred were some to make up the deficiency appropriation which we passed the first or second week of this session. Among those funds was an item amounting to close to $2 million. When I interrogated in connection with that $2 million, they said that could be done by executive order. Later, when I asked them to furnish me the authority for the executive to transfer those funds, the first answer I had to it was a bill on the calendar to accomplish it by legislative action, which gave the General Assembly information as to the fund in question and the amount involved.

I do not see why we should by general legislation surrender our power to transfer any fund without it being brought before this General Assembly in a bill for that purpose.

For that reason I am asking the members on this side of the House to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this will be all the roll calls for today, but we have bills which will be amended. I think there are announcements for committee meetings tomorrow, and, of course, the House will convene at 10 a. m., daylight saving time, tomorrow.

The gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Gallagher, has asked to be recognized on the floor regarding a statement. I understand the electric roll call ran its last item. It would have to be recharged at this point anyway and that would take five minutes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GALLAGHER asked and obtain unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there has been a great amount of interest from Philadelphia in having the surrounding suburban counties participate in the city of Philadelphia's mass transportation program. While the city has done a very fine job in improving mass transportation in and about the city, the mayor suggests that the surrounding counties join and participate in what is actually a subsidization of transportation companies.

While the aims of this program are commendable, the problem arises in the suburban counties of how to finance this venture along with the city of Philadelphia and still provide the basic necessities for their constituents.

However, Mr. Speaker, there might be a solution to this momentous program if the mayor of Philadelphia is willing to cooperate with the people in the surrounding counties.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in order to start the ball rolling in the direction of cooperation between the city of Philadelphia and the five counties surrounding Philadelphia, today myself and Representatives Fry and Gremminger from Montgomery and Delaware Counties introduced a bill that would, I believe, help to pave the way for serious consideration of the mayor's proposals. This bill will exempt all non-residents of Philadelphia from paying the Philadelphia wage tax. When this measure becomes law, I am sure the five counties surrounding Philadelphia will be in a better position to sit down with the mayor to try to establish a basis for cooperation in this area.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. SNARE asked and obtain unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1961

The Senate met at 11:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Benjamin R. Donolow) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM J. ARNOLD, Pastor of Church of The Manger, United Church of Christ, Bethlehem, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, it is only fitting and proper that as we open our deliberations, we pause and acknowledge Thy Holy Presence here and center our attention upon Thee.

Eternal God, Who, with infinite wisdom, dost govern this entire vast universe, grant us guidance to govern the affairs of this Commonwealth. We pray that the decisions made here today will be in accordance with Thy holy will and have Thy blessing, for we know full well, in our personal experience and in the history of mankind, that that which is done contrary to Thy will and apart from Thee, ultimately fails.

Father, bless each Senator with continued life, good health and a heart filled with Thy Holy Spirit. As Thou dost have a deep personal concern for each one of them, so may they be moved by a deep concern for other persons. Help them to propose and enact legislation with as much concern for others as if they were as close to them as their own flesh and blood, which indeed they are, since we are all Thy children.

We humbly offer this, our prayer, in the Name of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the resolution which I am about to introduce deals with the Centennial of the Civil War. Unfortunately, of all the States, Pennsylvania is lagging in preparation for that celebration. You, I and all of us can envisage that from all over the world and from all over the United States, people will be coming to the Gettysburg Battlefield in 1963 in order to celebrate that great combat which forged the future of the United States.

Unfortunately, because membership on the Centennial Commission in many instances, meant becoming an Ambassador to another Country, like General Biddle and Senator Rice, this commission has been depleted. Personally, I believe that we do not have the utmost effort in making preparations for the celebration of the Centennial.

This is my reason, Mr. President, for offering this resolution and asking for its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING A REPORT FROM THE COMMISSION ON THE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG AND LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 61), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, May 24, 1961.

WHEREAS, The commemoration of the centennial years of the Civil War is of especial significance to Pennsylvania because of the large number of Pennsylvanians who fought and died in this great conflict to preserve the Union, because the great battle which was the turning point of the war took place on Pennsylvania soil, and because Abraham Lincoln's brief address in dedicating the cemetery on that battlefield stated the case for the preservation of the Union in imperishable words which will never be forgotten; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly by an Act approved on April 20, 1956, established a commission to consider and arrange plans for a proper and fitting recognition and observance of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, which commission was to make report of its actions to the next regular Session of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS Both the executive and the legislative branches of the government of this Commonwealth have given due and appropriate attention to the opening of the observance of the Centennial of the Civil War, Governor David L. Lawrence issuing a magnificent proclamation which opened Pennsylvania's observance on January 15, 1961, the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of Andrew Gregg Curtin, the great Civil War Governor; and the General Assembly paying tribute to its predecessor's role in supporting and strengthening the Union cause by an re-enactment of Lincoln's reception by the Legislature on February 22, 1861; and

WHEREAS, It is now a matter of concern that the commemoration of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address be an equally fitting and appropriate observance of the two greatest events associated with Pennsylvania's part in the Civil War; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby calls upon the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address Commission to report to the General Assembly on the plans and preparations for the commemoration of these two highly significant centennial dates, whose observance should be the high point of this Commonwealth's part in the Civil War Centennial activities; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the said report shall be delivered to the General Assembly at least one week prior to the final adjournment of the present Session of 1961.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE PROBLEMS OF THE AGED

Mr. BELL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 62), which was read and referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare:

In the Senate May 24, 1961.

WHEREAS, Many elderly citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania live to older ages due to higher living standards and medical and scientific advancement; and

WHEREAS, Many of these elderly citizens are no longer capable of self-support and require the attention and care normally found in a nursing home or in their own home if they had families to furnish such care; and

WHEREAS, Many of our elderly citizens lack the care and affection of their own families and are economically unable to obtain proper nursing home services; therefore be it

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, on April 11, 1961, Senate Bill No. 114 was passed by the Senate. In investigating the Legislative Journal, I noticed that I was not recorded as voting for or against this bill.

I do want to put into the record the fact that if I would have been present I would have voted for this bill. I was here in Harrisburg and voted on the previous bill and succeeding bills. Evidently, I was either on the telephone, answering the request of a constituent, or doing something in the interest of my duties here as a Senator.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like the record to show that I favored Senate Bill No. 114. Let me amend my statement by saying that I am resentful of a letter I received from a lobbyist, who implied that I took a walk on that bill. I have been a Member of the General Assembly for eleven years and on no occasion have I ever walked off of the floor to avoid voting for a bill.

I would like to put into the record the following:

"Note that either you were not on the floor or did not vote when SB No. 114 came up.

"If it was a case of not wanting to vote against us, we are most grateful.

"With best personal wishes, . . ."

Mr. President, I resent this type of implication and I think it is about time those, who surround us, as members of the legislative engineers corps, stop implying things which do not exist. In my years in the General Assembly, I have never walked off the floor to avoid voting for or against a bill. I will vote for or against any bill. I take this means to openly express my resentment against the type of individual who would imply that I would do such a thing.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, on my way to Harrisburg this past Sunday, and again observing the same thing on Monday, I noticed that all highway projects were having new signs put up saying: "Your gas tax dollars at work."

Mr. President, on one occasion at one of these projects,

I noticed a truck with a driver and four men delivering such a sign. It is my understanding that in the House there is a bill outlawing lobbyists. Also, we in the Senate passed a billboard bill. I do not see why we need to pass such bills, if we are going to resort to cluttering up our highways with billboards, especially billboards which remind the poor taxpayer that his money is at work and lobbying at the same time.

First of all, I would be very happy if the money that is being spent by the Administration for this lobbying—or these billboards—were spent either in Armstrong County or Butler County for several miles of badly needed roads in the rural sections.

I think that the public is still sick about being taxed an extra two cents for gasoline. To be reminded of it every time they come to a road, I do not think is going to help either the Administration or the taxpayers' feelings toward it.

Mr. President, if I may, I was told by four or five Members of the House a little while ago that members of the press correspondents were attacked for various reasons. I am not here to defend them. However, I think all fifty of us have a very fine and cordial feeling and relation toward the members of the press. I can truthfully say that in the thirteen years that I have been here, I can only recall one instance in which I felt that the press, by innuendo, hurt me. That is all right. Everybody has a right to hear something wrong or perhaps misinterpret what was said. However, I think that in the thirteen years, I have only one complaint. I can say that the press has been fair.

I know that in all of the capitols of the United States and in our National capitol, the press enjoys having an area where they can quickly disseminate the news, rather than to be located downtown or away from the news where it is immediately made.

I would like to say that I am in opposition to any move that might be in the making, as I understand, to remove the press correspondents from the Capitol Building. I think it is part of our democratic process to have this news disseminated fairly and squarely. I want to say that I feel that in most instances they have done this.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to answer the gentleman and I want to take the points one at a time, because there were two subjects.

First, let us take the signs that appear on the roads. I do not think that it is bad form nor do I think it is out of keeping with keeping the public advised on where their money is going or where their tax dollars are going. I am sure many people would be very happy to hear about it.

I have seen these signs. They are not permanent billboards, as such. They put down the amount of money being spent by the Federal Government, the amount of money being spent by the State, and where it is being done. I remember many years back that most Governors proudly proclaimed, and their Highway Secretaries after them proclaimed, what they were doing. If this be publicity, I guess you make the most of it.

I am sure every Senator here has received a mimeographed report, as I have, telling about the contracts that are being let, the money that is being spent, and the kind of highway programs that are going on.

I feel that if anyone has any complaints about this or feels that it is not going into the proper areas, he ought to speak up or go to see the Secretary, who just had a breakfast this morning, I understand, in connection with some of the highway celebrations they are having here this week. I am sure he would be very happy to hear from every one of you if you have some sort of problem about it.

If anyone has a reason to complain, it is people like myself and the other Senators who come from the big cities. We are constantly being discriminated against on the amount of dollars spent, on the formula set up and on the entire handling of this entire problem, which is strictly geared away from the population centers and from where the heavy traffic is concentrated.

I have complained about this from time to time. I admit that I have not gotten too far with my complaints, only because we do not have enough Members, possibly, representing the big cities and we are limited in that by the Constitution. A city the size of Philadelphia, with almost two and one-half million people, is limited by the Constitution to eight Senators; whereas, in other areas where the population has increased, they could possibly get another Senator under reapportionment, or if they have more people in these areas, they would be entitled to more representation.

Placing a sign to tell where the money is being spent, I hardly think is publicity. I hardly think it is under the guise of putting up more billboards. I think the purpose is to let the public know. I think if it serves that purpose, we certainly ought to encourage it rather than discourage it.

On the second problem about which the gentleman spoke, I do not know what the attack was in the House. I happen not to be a Member of the House. If I am going to go around answering attacks that are made elsewhere, other than in this Chamber, I am going to have a difficult time. I do not know what the problem is or why they are into it. The only thing I can say is that on my own behalf, my relationship with the press, as with most of the Members here, is probably only fair. Maybe it is because I speak my mind and, at times, when I felt they were in error, I have addressed myself to that. Generally, I think that they are workingmen, like many people who work for a living, and they try to do the best job under the facilities that they have available to them. Sometimes they are not of the best. Sometimes they work under very difficult conditions. Sometimes they meet people under trying situations. I think there ought to be some give and take on both sides and some room allowed for the human element to enter into it.

The gentlemen who are here certainly have no cause for complaint. They are well-quartered and well-situated and they sometimes even partake of some of the levity that goes on here so that their job does not get too dull.

I am sure their editors do not realize the kind of tough situations that they always face because if they did realize it, it is not always reflected in the amount of money that they receive at the end of the week. I am sure all of them could stand a little bit more money and probably better working conditions. I am sure they have taken care of that problem. They are well-organized. They have a guild. From time to time, they have little problems which are expressed by the same means as every workingman, by going on strike or meeting at a bargaining table to try to straighten out these problems. Sometimes they are successful; sometimes they are unsuccessful.

I do not know what abuse they took in the House. However, I am sure that the people who might have heaped this abuse upon them did not do so without either cause or justification. If there is no cause or justification, those people ought to apologize like anybody who is in error or who has done the wrong thing.

I think what you are talking about is the use of certain facilities around the Capitol by certain of the news services, for which they pay no rent and pay no compensation back to the government. I think this is not too well-known by the public, and I do not know that it is a matter of public concern. However, I think this being a public building and belonging to the people in the State of Pennsylvania, perhaps this ought to be a matter of public concern, just as much as anything is or anything that we do.

Unfortunately, Senator,—and I think all of us realize it—the Members of the Legislature are a large group, consisting of 260 Members, none of whom can very well defend himself as the Governor might because he is an individual, or a cabinet officer, who has a corps of press relation people to help him to get his problem across. When they say that the Legislature did this, the Legislature did that, or the Legislators are no damned good or some other kind of abuse that they heap upon us, who is here to defend us? Who ever speaks up for us?

What happens is that you usually get not only a complaint in a general story, but you get editorial abuse besides. Many times the people who are writing this, write it from a jaundiced point of view. They are not looking at the entire picture. They are not going into all of the problems that you and I face as Members of the General Assembly and of the hundreds of thousands of people that we represent from our areas who have all kinds of problems—myriad problems—that are so complex that they are impossible for any one person to solve.

You also have the other problem where you have to be here three or four days a week to do a job and do it properly. You must also take homework home besides if you want to be advised or informed of what is going on. This never gets across to the people.

For some reason, the image of a Legislator is blurred. It somehow comes out confused and no one quite sees him as a hard working man. The answer to this abuse is that some of these men have died here in service. Some of these men have suffered severe physical incapacities as a result of their service here. Some have had strokes. Some have had heart attacks. This does not come from an easy life or living here without the pressures of all of the other things that come upon you.

By the same token, these fellows also have this problem. However, sometimes they are not apprised of our situation or our problem, and we do not appear to the general public as human beings who are trying to do a job, trying to do it well, and trying to do it in an honest way and to do the best we possibly can under the information available to us.

I am not saying that we do not have our share of rogues and that we do not have our share of people who are perhaps not up to the standard that we would like them to be. By the same token, we also have people who are above the standards that we are trying to set, in the sense that they are high type people who are giving of themselves, giving of their time and giving of their energies.

When you take all of this into consideration, you have a much different picture than has been presented to the public at large about legislators at large. As a matter of fact, in many audiences—and I am sure that every Member in this room has had this experience—people are quite shocked to see a human being step forward when a legislator is introduced. They do not quite know what is going to appear. This is only because we do not have the kind of press relation, or the kind of press relationship, that gets across the message to the people and advises them that these are human beings who are trying to do a job, who must stand for office every so often and may not come back if the people so decide.

As I started to say earlier, if the abuse—I was not there, I have not heard it, and I do not want to either defend or not defend anybody—was uncalled for, I think these people owe the members of the press an apology. Most of them are hard working people. If it was not an attack, but a statement of position and the press might be in error, I think this whole thing ought to be reviewed by the General Assembly and both sides brought to the fore.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I would like to have the privilege of just making a statement in reference to newspaper attacks. As one who has been an old veteran of such attacks, I would just like to say that if you cannot stand the heat, then you should stay out of the kitchen.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to remonstrate very briefly on the first subject touched on by Senator Pechan and Senator Weiner.

I think this Legislature and the Administration is somewhat inconsistent in this matter of outdoor advertising. These signs are really a recommendation of the advertising industry of Pennsylvania. I have heard it stated on the floor of this Senate and elsewhere, by those who advocate the regulation or the elimination of outdoor advertising, that they are most dangerous. If they are dangerous anywhere, they are certainly dangerous in the positions in which the Department of Highways is currently placing them. Every place where they are erecting these signs, there is road construction going on. That is always dangerous to the motorist.

Secondly, I might refer to the Majority Leader, in particular, regarding a bill which was introduced very early in the Session; namely, Senate Bill No. 4, sponsored by Senator McMennamin and myself. This bill would regulate this entire outdoor advertising industry. There is no question that they abuse their privileges. They place signs on the highway right-of-way, where we only have an easement and where we do not have a fee simple title to that land. Certainly, these signs, being currently placed by the Department of Highways, are placed on private property.

Then again, Mr. President, House Bill No. 560 was introduced, passed the House, passed this Senate and later became Act No. 46, wherein we take private property. In that bill, we specified that beyond the right-of-way which we buy and take a fee simple deed—because all Interstate Highways are built on land acquired by the Department of Highways or the Commonwealth—then we go back of that line and say to private property owners that they cannot place a sign within 600 feet of that line. That 600 feet is on each side of the right-of-way which is purchased by the Commonwealth. We take away from that property owner a right which is properly his, under our system of government.

I question very much whether Act No. 46 will hold up in court. We pay no money for that at all. We simply say, by legislation: "You no longer have the right to use that property in every way in which it should be possible for a property owner to use it.

On the second subject, I agree with the other gentlemen. These gentlemen who honor us with their presence, day in and day out, are fine men. They do a good job, by and large. Whether they are sufficiently paid or not is a matter between them and their employers. I hope that Senator Weiner may get them additional money. I do not know what to do about it, but they are good fellows.

In conclusion, Mr. President, let me say that I am hurt very much that our local newspaper seems to be losing prestige. Not always are they successful in electing the candidates they advocate. Particularly, within very recent weeks, an issue which they strongly advocated here in the city of Harrisburg went down at the hands of the voters to ignominious defeat. That proves they no doubt either never had prestige or lost it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, I believe that the Majority Leader did not quite understand the problem which took place earlier today in the House.

The proposal, by a veteran Legislator of the Majority Party in the House of Representatives, was to "remove the wigwam where the hatchet men have their abode and move the newsmen from down in the front to back in the gallery." He also proposed to wipe out the News Room on Capitol Hill. We all realize this was a facetious remark.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman is out of order by debating what took place in another Chamber and what was stated by someone else. When we discussed this thing, I believe I stated this matter was not before us. It might have been that I was out of order when I stated that. However, I am not here to debate or discuss what went on in the House. This matter is not before us, nor is the Journal before us to even apprise us of what took place.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will permit the gentleman from Delaware to continue. We are under the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances and the gentleman, therefore, may continue.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, Mr. President.

I was not seeking a debate because I do not think the subject matter is debatable. Mr. President, I am really on my feet regarding another matter.

In Delaware County, we have United States Highway No. 1, which runs from Senator Weiner's City of Brotherly Love south, through the hills and dales of Delaware County, Chester County and, eventually, I think it runs down to as far as Florida. They have one of these large signs stating that this road is being built with your tax dollars.

Several weeks ago, I noticed that all the work was being done by an out-of-State contractor, with brand-new equipment, bearing State of Delaware license tags. I also noticed other contractors from out-of-State bringing their equipment into Pennsylvania to do the work on our highways. True, they received the bids as the lowest responsible bidder. However, this intrigued me because in the State of Delaware, there is no sales tax when they buy equipment. When you come into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it is my understanding there should be a use tax on that equipment.

I wrote to the Governor of Pennsylvania and called his attention to this lack of tax revenue, since we are so tight for revenue in this Commonwealth. I asked him if they would look into whether these out-of-State contractors are paying the Sales and Use Tax on the equipment they are bringing across the border to work in Pennsylvania. I know very well that if you went into the State of Delaware, they would grab you at the start of the job.

I am, perhaps, remonstrating against the fact that I have not received an answer to this inquiry. I feel that if these out-of-State contractors can bring their equipment into Pennsylvania without paying the Sales and Use Tax, then that is discriminating against our Pennsylvania contractors. I am not saying this is true, because I have not received an answer to my inquiry. However, if it is true, this might be a reason why Pennsylvania contractors are not getting more work on our State highways.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe if the gentleman will peruse the Act on the sales tax, he will find there is a six-month hiatus. If you bring in your equipment and you intend to keep it here—six months is the trial period which has been set—you then have to pay the tax. Otherwise, we would have to have police manning every one of our entrances in and out of Pennsylvania in order to make sure that anyone who brought equipment in or out of the Commonwealth was paying the tax. This would be very difficult to enforce. Generally, one of the problems which exists with the sales tax is the problem of enforcement.

Following through with what the gentleman said, Mr. President, if we gave the job to the lowest responsible bidder in Pennsylvania and excluded everyone else, I am sure that the gentleman would be, and properly so, up here pounding away at the fact that we are giving away Pennsylvania money when we could get someone from somewhere else to do the job cheaper. I guess this a part of the Gordian knot which you can never untie or cut, in the sense that if you do one thing they hammer away at you and if you attempt to do the other thing to meet certain other requirements, they will be hammering away at you. By doing either thing, would be wasting the taxpayers' money. I am afraid this is the kind of argument that you can never win, regardless of which side you are on.

I have not seen any of these huge signs about which the gentleman spoke. The signs I have seen have been small signs, placed alongside of the road, probably about three or four feet high and about a foot or two wide.

I think if this is a serious problem and it annoys the gentleman here, I certainly will be very happy to advise the Secretary of Highways that this is a cause of annoyance, and perhaps we can limit these signs to those areas where the Senators in those areas are not annoyed by them, so that this will not offend anyone.

Mr. BELL. Mr. President, if the Majority Leader will not mind my answering on a technical basis, I would like to say this. I do not object to these signs, because down in my county, the people do not like the gas tax increase, and it sort of reminds them that they had an increase. I have no objection to that.

However, what I do object to is—and if what the Senator says is the law, it should be changed—that if an out-of-State contractor can bring his equipment into Pennsylvania and work on our highways for six months without paying a sales or use tax on the equipment he brings in then that is discriminating against our Pennsylvania contractors. I would be most happy to sponsor a bill to eradicate that evil because we have to take care of our own contractors. They have to pay the sales tax. They would have to pay the use tax, and so should these out-of-State contractors who are getting the contracts on the State Highway System.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, briefly.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President, even if it is not briefly.

Mr. PECHAN. Senator Weiner, do you not believe that it would be better to spend that money for roads—whether it be in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or the rural areas—that to spend it for such foolishness as these signs?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would answer that question very simply. It depends on whether giving information to people is foolishness and it depends on who is defining it. For example, if you were to mimeograph the material they hand out from day to day on the goings-on in certain departments and certain areas of government, you could save that money and use it for departmental work by not giving out any information. If you consider that foolishness, I would say: "Yes, let us not use it for that purpose." However, if you consider it important that the people have a right to know and have a right to the access of this information which many of your newspapers and television stations depend upon as part of the media of getting the information, then this is not foolishness.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President and Senator Weiner, the people in Ford City and Butler do not know anything about a road that is being built in Philadelphia. All of the roads they know about are the ones they see.

I do think it is extreme foolishness to spend that money inasmuch as you people on the other side tried to sell to the Members of the Senate that we were twenty years behind in our road building and that we needed this additional two cents to build roads. However, you are building signs.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would simply point out to the gentleman that we never said we were twenty years behind. All we said was that we wanted money to start this planning which must take place almost twenty years or ten years in advance, and we must be looking ahead.

Secondly, you heard stated here by one of the more affluent Members of the Senate, Senator Bell—who comes from an area where there are many affluent people who do a lot of traveling—that he saw these signs all over the Commonwealth. It might be that the people in Ford City are offended by this, and I will speak to the Department and see that one of them appear in Ford City.

I am also advised that some of the people who live in that area do get into an automobile once in awhile and travel out of their happy confines and go elsewhere in this State. Therefore, I think when they go to these other places, they have a right to be advised.

If you think this is a foolish way to spend money in the sense that you advise people where their money is going, I am sure that the amount being spent is very nominal compared to the entire amount being spent. You will have to agree this is not foolish in the sense that you are letting people know what is going on.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to remind the Majority Leader that he need not come to Ford City and have them take down any signs because they are building no roads in Ford City. You do not have to bother. May I continue, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. You may continue, Senator.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, with reference to Senator Weiner's picture of a legislator, in so far as the press painting this picture, I would like to say that I feel in my community and in my area, I command as much respect as any citizen there, and I think I get it. Whether it is because I am an outstanding legislator or not, I do not know. However, I want to say that the press has never hurt me one-tenth or one-fiftieth as much as some of my Democratic opponents.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think this is going to be a gab-fest here today.

Actually, Mr. President, I think the distinguished gentleman from Armstrong County must be very picayune when he talks about disseminating information. The way I understood his conversation was that he objected to the signs because of the cost. I believe he must be opposed to disseminating information, because those signs inform the public as to where their tax dollars are going.

I think probably the reason why Senator Pechan objects to this is because, under this Democratic Administration, the people are receiving the proper and correct information.

Getting over to the problem of newsmen, let me say this. I know nothing of what has taken place in the House. I feel that it is improper that we even discuss anything which we might hear about as far as what is taking place in another Legislative Hall.

However, I am happy indeed to have the news reporters here. We have them closer to us on this side than the Republicans do on the other side, and if they were to be moved, I believe I would be disappointed because I would miss their smiling countenances. I see them here every-day, and I have the opportunity once in a while to perhaps get a pointer or two from them. Frankly, their information is very good.

I do not criticize them as to what they may write. I think they have a right to write anything they may want to. All I hope is that they give us all a fair break because I have the greatest respect for every Member of this Senate. I am very sincere when I make this statement. I think that we have a hard working group here. We have men here who are dedicated in various fields, and if we were to pay these men actually what they are worth, some of them are worth about $50,000 a year, in my opinion, for the work they are doing right in the senate and in the various committee rooms. I could name quite a few. I do not want to embarrass them, and they are not all Democrats. Some of them are Republicans. They are doing a mighty good job as far as the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania is concerned.

Let me say also, Mr. President, that if Senator Pechan wishes to demonstrate, it is all right with me. However, I believe his picayunish approach today is going to backfire because he has nothing to argue about. I believe the case is that he is a little disappointed because those signs are up in the various counties, disseminating this information. I, for one, am very happy to have those signs in my county because I want the people to know that we are getting our proportionate share of the taxpayer's dollar.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, talking about advertising in newspapers, years ago in Pittsburgh we had a great Republican leader, Joe Armstrong. He was Commissioner and he was Mayor. He was very nice to me. The Pittsburgh Leader, which is not published anymore, caught him in a barroom, drinking beer, and they published that fact everyday until election. Joe Armstrong said that was the best advertising he ever got.

He told me: "McGinnis, in politics, get your name in the paper. Good or bad, get it in there."

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, with your permission, I would like to limit my remarks to the first subject which was brought up by Senator Pechan.

I would like to raise a constitutional question about taking highway funds and building signs, regardless of the size and regardless of the amount involved; whether it is one dollar, five dollars, $500,000 or $5,000,000.

A question still remains in my mind.

I would now like to read, from the Constitution of Pennsylvania, an amendment which was adopted by the people of the Commonwealth on November 6, 1945, and which states as follows:

"All proceeds from gasoline and other motor fuel excise taxes, motor vehicle registration fees and license taxes, operators' license fees and other excise taxes imposed on products used in motor transportation . . . shall be used solely for construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of and safety on public highways and bridges . . . and shall not be diverted . . ."

Mr. President, I must say that I did not read the entire amendment. However, in my mind, I read the part which applies to this situation. I repeat that it does not matter how much money is involved, whether it is one dollar or $100,000, the principle is the same. This practice of putting up these small signs to call to the attention of the motoring public that this Administration is making an effort to serve them is just as unconstitutional as, in my judgment, it could be.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I hope you will not rule me out of order, but I want to say something positive for one moment, on behalf of the Members of the Senate.

I think this week was rather a hallmark week in the work of this Session. The Members here dealt with rather an important matter, which was the general appropriation bill, and I believe they handled it well. By their actions, it was revealed that they spent time in studying this measure during the time we were away last week. They came back here and went to work on it in a businesslike manner.

I believe that the cooperation and the assistance given by everyone here on this measure, and getting it through, is something which not only is deserving of comment, but which also merits praise. This will be the first time in many, many Sessions when no stopgap measures had to be introduced to cover this same type of area, thereby causing all kinds of problems. All the Members were present this week and I think they should take great pride in being able to accomplish this kind of a task. It involved a great deal of money, it involved a great many of the departments, and it involved a vast area of government. Being able to do this during this one week and, especially, having the time to study and intelligently approach this matter, I believe is something to be commented upon and something about which to be concerned. I think it is something which occurs very often during a Session and too little is ever made or noted of it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there was a matter mentioned by Senator Weiner, in the discussion which went on a little while ago, that I believe should not be lightly passed over, but should be made more of a matter of record.

He stated that it was not a foolish expenditure for the various departments to publish the information and material which they do for the edification of the people of the Commonwealth. I do not question that a great deal of it is probably very informative and is read. However, it is my opinion that a high percentage of it is superfluous and is rarely ever read, and that a great deal of money could be saved by some editing and care in what printed material goes out to the people of this Commonwealth. A great deal of it, I am sure, is wasted effort and, I am afraid, wasted money.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. A. M. LEE, BOWMAN and

TOMPKINS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 72.

In the House of Representatives, May 23, 1961.

In recent years the Governor has presented to the General Assembly a new type of budget. This format is commonly known as a Program Budget having the commendable objective of clearly defining each purpose and program for which the General Assembly is asked to provide funds. It has been hoped that by such presentation the General Assembly would be able to make intelligent decisions on the types of programs which it authorizes and the amounts of money required to be appropriated to carry out such programs.

A fair-minded appraisal of the form and content of recent budgets submitted to the General Assembly indicates that despite this commendable objective, budget documents are inadequate as intelligible instruments through which the members of the Legislature may make a reasonable analysis of budgeted programs and reach ultimate decisions on appropriations. Under the Constitution of our Commonwealth, such actions are the legal responsibility of the General Assembly. Among the existing deficiencies in the format of the budget, three may be mentioned as of primary concern:

(1) Appropriations are requested in lump sums of some departments and departmental units with no clear identification of the purposes (except in broadly stated terms) for which the funds requested are to be used. Little or no information is provided which would permit appraisal or justification of the amounts requested. As an illustration of this point, and with no intention of singling out any specific department or suggesting that the amount requested may not be entirely appropriate, the 1961-62 budget requests appropriations in this manner.

Auditor General, Executive and General Administration, $3.5 Million

Department of Treasury, Executive and General Administration, $1.075 Million

Department of Forests and Water:

Water Resources—Maintenance and Regulation, $1.25 Million

Forest and Park Services—Maintenance, $4.63 Million

Department of Health:

Executive and General Administration, $1.7 Million

Preventive Disease Services, $3.8 Million

Environmental Health Services, $3.0 Million

(2) While in a few instances (such as in the appropriations requested for the Legislature and the Judiciary), the budget identifies the purpose and amounts of the appropriations requested by what is commonly termed "objects of expenditure," the budget document generally fails to reflect the portions of the appropriations requested which are required for different objects of expenditure, i.e., personal services, contractual services, materials and supplies, etc. The new classification and budget formats recently established through the Department of Internal Affairs for use by Pennsylvania municipalities may be indicative of the type of information and basis for appropriation which might be reflected in the budgets of the Commonwealth.

(3) The budget provides little information, either in the basic documents or appendices, of the magnitude of many programs or the basis for appropriations in terms of the numbers and types of personnel required, types of materials and services, and other objects of expenditure, which are essential for an understanding of programs and the adequacy or inadequacy of the appropriations requested to support such programs. While the General Assembly has the opportunity, through its committees and through hearings, to explore such questions, there is no orderly provision for the presentation of such vital information in conjunction with the budget, the financial document through which such programs are supported.

In recognition of the need for a budget document which adequately informs the General Assembly, as well as the general public, of the bases for the appropriations requested of the General Assembly, and in recognition of the fact that a number of technical and administrative problems may be involved in expanding the content of the present budget format, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission evaluate the format in which the budgets of the Commonwealth are presented to the General Assembly for adoption, and present to the General Assembly and the Governor its conclusions and such recommendations as may appear desirable for expanding the content of the budgets in order to more adequately inform the General Assembly of the bases for the appropriations requested and any changes which may appear desirable in the form of the appropriations themselves, including such recommendations for changes in overall accounting procedures as might be required to facilitate such presentation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission engage such consultants or technical advisors as may be necessary and feasible within the general appropriations of the commission to assist in such evaluation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its conclusions and recommendations as promptly as possible, but in no event later than January 15, 1962.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 542, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 11, 1947 (P. L. 565), entitled "World War II Veterans' Compensation Act" extending the time during which applications may be filed for veterans' compensation.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, to be laid aside for second reading.

NINTH GRADE STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair at this time desires to welcome to the House the ninth grade students from Northern Bedford County High School, teachers Harry F. Swavely, Anna Swavely and William Reed, who are guests of the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Foor.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, what I have to say this morning I feel is of great importance to every member of this General Assembly. The reason I am saying it is that Governor Lawrence yesterday told his news conference that the Attorney General had agreed with him that the amendment to the general appropriation bill, which would prevent the loss of some $8 million in school aid to 2,000 school districts, was unconstitutional, and the inference being made, very strongly, was that he would veto that item of the general appropriations bill.

Many of us have been around here a long time. It seems that whether Republicans are in power or Democrats are in power you can get the Attorney General to pretty much give you an opinion on any subject which will coincide with the administration view.

I realize that is a strong statement to make. That is one of the reasons why we have advocated down through the years the election of the Attorney General by the people. It depends on, apparently, as I say, what opinion you want. Why? Because there is a Supreme Court of Pennsylvania case which says precisely that this item which we put in the general appropriation bill is constitutional and, for those of you who want to refer to this case, it is the case of Greene v. Gregg, 161 Pennsylvania Supreme Court Reports, page 582.

This decision was rendered in 1894, 20 years after the adoption of our present constitution. In that case, for the first time, this General Assembly created the office of clerk in the prothonotary's office in Philadelphia. The Supreme Court provided a two-years' salary of $4,800.

The question before the court was, was this an unconstitutional item inserted into the general appropriation bill. The court said:

We have no doubt that the legislature could legally create the office of clerk to the prothonotary of the Supreme Court and provide for his compensation by a salary, just as they could by law increase the fees or compensation of the prothonotary himself.

Then the court went on to say,

. . . it is conceded on all hands that the legislature had ample power to do the substantial thing that it did, to wit, to authorize the appointment of a clerk in the office of the prothonotary and provide for his salary out of the public treasury, and as the purpose of such appointment and the duties of the appointee were to secure the performance of the regular and ordinary work of the office, we are of the opinion that the legislature might constitutionally do it in the form they did, by an item in the general appropriation bill . . .

That is exactly what we did in putting the freeze clause in the general appropriation bill. We provided for a way of allocating the school money. It is on all fours with this particular case and I cannot see how anybody could say it is unconstitutional.

If that clause is unconstitutional in the bill, as I pointed out the other day in the argument, there are three other clauses which are equally unconstitutional in that bill. But we say under the authority of this Greene case, decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, it is absolutely constitutional and the Governor should not veto it out of the bill on those grounds.

There is another question as to whether it is an item that the Governor can veto out of the bill anyhow. If you will read section 16 of our Constitution having to do with partial disapproval of appropriation bills, it says:

The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill, making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items of appropriations disapproved shall be void, unless repassed according to the rules.

In other words, repassing it over the Governor's veto.

We say that this clause we added does not appropriate money; it has to do with the spending of what money is appropriated. A court could well say that it is not such an item that could be vetoed out of the bill within the purview of this constitutional prohibition.

Now why do I say this? I say it is important because the school districts of this State, if you go around Pennsylvania, are in dreadful shape as a result of the findings of the Tax Equalization Board. The only way that we this session are going to give any relief to our school districts is through this freeze clause.

When I was home over the week end I was called by various counties' school boards, representatives of school boards, who said, for goodness sake leave that freeze clause in that bill. I hope the Governor does not veto it. It is immensely important to our schools.

Why? Because the Governor's budget does not have any money, any increases, for the school districts. It only provides for increase in the teaching units.

I know one little school district that will lose $30,000.

As far as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are concerned, under these amendments they will get the increases they would have received under the Tax Equalization Board report, so some of them from Pittsburgh and elsewhere went along on this because in some instances in Allegheny County there were school districts that were terribly harmed.

Now I am calling on the Governor to have his Attorney General read this Greene case. For goodness sake, do not veto this out of the bill. There is enough money in that budget by good husbandry and saving that the $8 million can be picked up.

I would just like to repeat what I said on the floor the other day. There is $39 million that he picked up in these two years and less. There is no reason why he cannot find another $7 million or $8 million in the budget as it exists now to cover this item.

Also, Dr. Kurtzman in today's paper says that while we are going to be a little bit behind, maybe, at the close of this biennium, we look for a roaring 1961-62, to a point where corporations will be paying a lot more taxes and they expect, maybe, an increase in their revenue estimates. In fact, they are thinking about increasing their revenue estimates, according to this morning's paper.

I say there is money in the budget for it.

For goodness sake, Governor Lawrence, do not veto that out of this bill, in the name of the beleaguered school districts of Pennsylvania.

I do not know what will happen. I certainly shall, as a Representative of the minority, ask this House to override his veto. I realize that it takes a two-thirds vote and we do not have any chance to do that, but right now the Governor has this bill on his desk and he is going to sign it in a few days and I hope that he does not rip out the freeze clause which our school districts are depending on all over Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, of course, has made a most passionate plea for the legislation that was put in the general appropriation bill which passed this House a week ago and today lies on the Governor's desk for approval. There is no question that the general appropriation bill will be signed into law.

I would like to say honestly and fairly that on the revenue estimate measures he speaks about there is no question of what has happened. The corporation tax yield for the present year, and, of course, in the corporation tax reports they have a choice of using the first quarter reports or using the ones from the previous year in making their estimates. It seems, without checking the first 230 of the reports, there is no question that they are using the lesser of the two in submitting their reports on the tax yield.

At this point it is fairly assumed that it will be $25 million under estimate or lower. But we are also well aware, as the gentleman states, that that will be in the coming fiscal year. There is no question but that a great portion of that will be recuperated by the Commonwealth when they adjust and pay their taxes, since they are using the low quarter for estimates in submitting their reports.

But it does make a difficult situation in the first fiscal year of this Commonwealth, which is the fiscal year that starts next month, when the revenue yielded will not be as had been anticipated for the fiscal year. There is no question that there is no one, including any member of this House, who does not have a keen interest in the school districts of this Commonwealth and a hope that something can be done and will be done to assist them with their financial problems in operating public education.

The Tax Equalization Board is not the entire answer, but there are answers to this problem in the Governor's Committee on Education Report in which we, in the House and the Senate, must eventually face reality and certainly attempt to pass legislation which will assist school districts. This will be debated at the time when this legislation will be before this House, before the education and bipartisan committee that has been created by resolution in the House and Senate.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the statements indicated in the Governor's press conference are correct, that that section of the bill will be declared, as he states, unconstitutional, as there are Supreme Court decisions on the matter both ways. They have been given by the courts and he is correct in the statement of the particular case that he speaks of in which the decision was opposite from this. So, actually, it is true it can be done both ways, but the one we speak of that is part of the debate here, is the one that also is going to be used in this particular case.

So I say that later, as the legislation will be debated from the report, it will certainly give us an opportunity to speak out in behalf of all the school districts of this Commonwealth.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FINEMAN. I have been reading with continuing interest the series of articles that have been written by our Speaker in his lively little journal called "Dispelling the Fog."

I refer to those portions of the articles wherein he takes up the cudgels on behalf of legislators against the unfair, distorted and unseemly attacks against the members of the legislature.

My only comment about those articles is this: I say, God bless you, Mr. Speaker, for coming to our defense. I hope you will continue to use your facile pen to defend us, because we truly are without a voice when it comes to the attacks that have been made upon us by the newspapers.

Now I rise to a question of personal privilege because of recent date I was subjected to an editorial in one of the Harrisburg newspapers that was manifestly unfair, entirely out of order and distorted the fact. It held me up to disrepute and degradation. Needless to say, I am quite offended by what I read in the newspaper.

The article, which was an editorial, concerned itself with the lobbying registration bill. That bill is now on the calendar. It was reported out of the Committee on State Government, of which I have the honor of being chairman.

One day last week I received a telephone call from a reporter for this newspaper, who inquired about the status of this bill. And he said, "Herb, has anybody pressured you or bothered you about this bill?" And, in fairness to the gentleman, I said, "No, no one has bothered me and I have not bothered anybody either." I went on to explain in response to his interrogation why the bill had not as yet been considered, that the Committee on State Government is probably the most active committee on the Hill. There was, in truth, an avalanche of bills that had been reported from this committee and it was simply a matter of not having had time to get to consideration of this bill, I said, "In all probability, it will be considered in the very near future."

In keeping with that indication, the bill was considered and reported out. When the editorial appeared it had this comment:

"Representative Fineman said no one has bothered him and he hasn't bothered anybody, and he said this laughingly."

The inference was clearly that I did not intend to report this bill out, that I was going to submerge it, that I was going to kill this bill. This was never the inference that could truthfully be drawn from that conversation.

When I confronted the reporter with this situation, he, in all fairness and frankness, admitted to me that my conversation as reported in the editorial was taken completely out of context. That is why I am so happy, Mr. Speaker, that you have taken it upon yourself to defend these distortions, things that have been taken out of context, because the newspaper editorials have made the legislators look like a bunch of dim-witted, slow, graft-minded, stupid individuals who could not get gainful employment elsewhere and have to be thankful they are political hacks who can get a job either as a Senator or as a member of the House of Representatives.

I say there are too many dedicated and devoted men who work diligently and at a sacrifice of their own pursuits, their own occupations, and at a sacrifice of their respective health—and we have seen all too truthfully lately evidence of that this session when so many of our members have been stricken. There are too many men of this ilk, of this caliber, to have to be unfairly subjected day after day to this type of editorializing.

I say it is about time that the newspapers, who are the fourth estate, as Mr. Speaker said, assume the responsibilities and the obligations that are theirs. I have yet to see any newspaper article which has complimented any legislator or any legislative body for the work that we have done. No one is going to say that we have not done a job in some respects, at least, that we have not worked diligently toward a goal and that we have gone a long way toward that goal. Is it their function only to castigate and criticize and subject legislators to humiliation day after day?

The newspapers have a responsibility to give the public the truth, and I say, so far as the legislators are concerned and as to what the legislators are doing, they are not giving the public the truth.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the majority leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I welcome this opportunity to have my distinguished colleague from Philadelphia open the first barrage on editorials that are written, that have no place and are not correct, and yet they speak as the editorial policy of that paper. I was a part of that editorial.

If you take time to read that editorial you will see it stated that I was the principal sponsor of the bill and that I said the bill would be considered sometime in May. The Committee on State Government had over 200 bills dealing with pieces of land that we must handle, all housekeeping bills. That committee met day after day, the subcommittee, and reported these bills to the House, doing the work that has to be done, and never was there one kind word said about the committee. When the editorial writers write, they speak the editorial policy of the paper.

We have had the sad occasion in this House of having four of our young distinguished colleagues pass on during this session.

We have stated time and time again that 95 percent of the work that is done in a legislative body is completed before we arrive on the floor of this House. That work is done in your committees and subcommittees that you members work on. They never, as yet, have given credit in any newspaper for the numerous hours of meetings that you meet in the numerous committee meetings that are held and for the number of bills that you are asked to act on in any given committee meeting. When too many bills are passed in a given period of time, quickly you are chastised that you act on legislation without giving it proper consideration, that you hastily pass a bill or act on a bill in a committee, and yet the distinguished members of those committees will call time and time again throughout the week, and I can verify this, when we are not in session on the days of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and yes, every Sunday night. In fact, from Sunday afternoon, if you please, until Sunday at midnight there are committees that meet here in this main Capitol Building, and the reporters who are here know that because they call us at night during those meetings asking what has taken place.

Yet, very few of the public of Pennsylvania, our own constituents, are ever aware of this. For example, last Sunday, on the Democratic side of the House, our committees started at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and I bring to your attention that when I ask members to come here at 3 o'clock on a Sunday afternoon some must leave as early as 11 o'clock that day to arrive on time. The meetings took place from 3 until 11:15 that night. I have many times, on many Sunday evenings, had occasion to confer with the policy committee of the minority party, who meet on the fourth floor of this Capitol on Sunday nights, Sunday after Sunday, in addition to many other members who are here and meet with us about amendments to a particular bill scheduled on the calendar during that week. And yet, in this session for some particular reason we have been the people whom the newspapers day after day talk about and they talk about the things we do not do.

Well, whether you are Democratic or Republican you can speak with pride on some of the major legislative points that you have enacted in this session. We never disagreed entirely, nor did we agree entirely. We can take credit for major accomplishments that we know will be laws or are laws in this session—the highway safety program with which you may disagree or agree, but radar, drunk-o-meter, intoxication meter bills, the various bills that are good sound legislation. Some are law and the balance will be law. The library program, the highway program, the welfare program, you have voted across party lines in enacting this legislation, and this legislation, when the final session is written, will be credited to Republican and Democratic legislative members as the accomplishments of this session.

I say to the editorial writers, and particularly to those who talk on the editorial page of the misgivings of this legislative branch, the House, I say to them that we also try to work on timetables, and we set timetables. We are not always able to follow them, but we certainly do try to move major legislative programs within certain given timetables.

There is no question that anyone is pressured or that we are pressuring anyone on the bills. As the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, so well stated when he was talking about that bill, there were committee meetings in the Committee on State Government, and you who are members here can vouch that in some given meetings you acted on as high as 25 individual pieces of legislation in a given committee meeting. That is a major piece of work.

The wheels of justice have always ground rather slowly to do a fine job, and they always will. In years to come they will do the same to do the job that in the opinion of the members of the committee is essential to accomplish, a good workable piece of legislation that the people of this Commonwealth need or want.

Therefore I say and I ask, as we start from this day forward, that the editorial policy and pages of the newspapers also give an equal break to accomplishments of this legislature and its program and the work of these members who have worked on these committees. I stand here to say that I am proud of the work they have done, Republicans and Democrats. I am proud of the positions they have taken in committees and on the floor in agreeing and disagreeing on major programs, and I am sure that in years to come, both in their accomplishment and in the record of this session, they can stand with their heads high and walk down the street of their own legislative districts and speak with pride of these accomplishments and never have to bow their heads to any editorial writers in this State.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, it is my impression that the courtesies the House has always extended to the newspapermen were in the interests of the public, that they served a useful purpose in informing the public as to what the legislature was doing.

I do not know, Mr. Speaker, whether the committee which made a study of trying to find necessary space for the House to operate in is still in force, or still active, but I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, if this committee is still in force, that we look into the possibility of taking over the wigwam to the right of the Speaker's rostrum where the hatchetmen have their abode.

I would suggest, Mr. Speaker, that we rescind some of the privileges that we have extended to these gentlemen over the years, put them up in the gallery, let them do without desk space and without telephones, and take away their home to the rear on this floor, the press room, with telephone service and all the rest of it on E floor, and let them show that they will do what is expected of them, to give the public some service, and not spend their time detracting from the legislature.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, my part in this particular debate may be prejudiced, because like the Speaker, Mr. Andrews, I am a former newspaperman, and I have such a hybrid status on this floor. I respect the legislators and I respect the newspapermen. They work hard and they are doing their job trying to make an honest living, just the same as we are trying to serve the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Methinks we protest too much. When the gentlemen of the press are needed, we go down into the well of the House, and, when the gentlemen of the press want to criticize, they have a perfect right to do so. We are trying to place a blanket indictment. They make mistakes and we make mistakes, but we are so overwhelmed by our actions in connection with certain recent affairs that we cannot see the forest for the trees.

The way for us to upgrade ourselves in the eyes of the citizens of this Commonwealth is not by attack upon somebody else. Stand upon our own feet by action, and, since the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, is chairman of the Committee on State Government, I am going to make a statement, and, if he wants to answer my statement, he can do so.

House bill No. 330, which involves conflict of interests, has been in his committee for months. It is my recollection that this bill is part of the Democratic program. Its intent is to carry out the same principles that President Kennedy wants in Washington, D. C. If I am wrong as to what committee it is in, I will correct myself, but whatever committee it is in, it is still buried there.

By the grapevine and without telling anybody the source, I understand the reason it is being buried in the nether regions is that they are afraid of the possibility that there will be amendments made on the floor of the House.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. My point of order is that I think the gentleman has gone distinctly beyond the privileges granted to him in making any comments or criticisms with respect to a committee, or bills within a committee, and I believe he should be called to order on that point.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. As yet the gentleman has not transgressed any particular line. As long as he keeps himself where he is, he may proceed.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. What I am going to do—

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker,—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Mr. Gelfand—

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I have not yielded, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, rise?

Mr. GELFAND. I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it within the purview—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. You cannot interrupt by a parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. GELFAND. All right, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I will summarize by saying, number one, you can get more by—

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. It seems I have the entire Philadelphia delegation.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny has the floor.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman, rise?

Mr. SHERMAN. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. The gentleman from Allegheny has a right to speak, we agree with that, but we disagree with the fact that he has the right to make misstatements of fact and distort them, whether in committee or on the floor, and to that extent I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, has the right to make as many mistakes as he cares to.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I disagree that the gentleman from Allegheny has a right to make any statement criticizing committees, or otherwise, which are absolutely untrue and are distortions and misstatements of facts.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is out of order.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Are there any other lawyers from Philadelphia who wish to intervene?

And I might say now, methinks they protest too much because I am interested in House bill 330. The only mistake I made was that I said it was in the Committee on State Government. It is in the Judiciary Committee. For that error I apologize humbly. But I would like to see that bill out on the floor of the House so we can debate it and so we can put a provision in there, which will affect lawyers from Philadelphia, to the effect that no member of the legislature shall have the right to practice before any State body.

Now, I challenge them to bring out House bill 330, and we will have action and not attack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will say that regardless of what the speaker has just said to Mr. Goldstein, the bill will come out of committee at the proper time.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, now that we have heard this intelligent discourse where we have mixed buttons and lights, I will proceed to answer the gentleman.

It seems we have to call a spade a spade here this morning and pull out all the stops, and I intend to do that.

Let us examine the gentleman's remarks in the true framework in which they are made. I imagine, if I were a candidate for the judiciary, I, too, might make such comments as he has made here this morning. I seriously question the sincerity of the motivation of the gentleman in getting up and taking the position he is taking here this morning. Parenthetically, let me say just as an aside, I have no quarrel with the men of the press who sit in this House day after day. As a matter of fact, our sharpest rebuke comes from two craftsmen of the press who have never put their foot in the House one day this year. I think the members of this House know to whom I refer.

No one is going to tell me how hard I have labored as a chairman of a committee, because I, and I alone, know that much, know how I toil. Perhaps, the members of our committee know it all too well, too, because they have been subjected to harassment by me in pushing bills on them in great numbers, in greater numbers than they should have been pushed on them. Likewise, the gentleman from Allegheny knows nothing about the incident to which I referred concerning the distortion of the statements that were made to me by the member of the press, or the editor, who proceeded to paint a caricature of me as a result of this conversation I had with the reporter from a Harrisburg newspaper. The gentleman from Allegheny is as inaccurate in his expression of opinion about the substance of this debate as he was inaccurate about where House bill 330 was lodged.

No bill, be it in my committee or any other committee, is just going to be summarily dismissed, whitewashed, submerged, or killed, however you want to put it. It will receive its consideration, and if in the consideration, the mature consideration of the chairman of the committee and the members of that committee, the bill does not merit being reported out to this floor, it will not be reported out to the floor, newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, has successfully diverted attention from the major issues that were before the House.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Philadelphia, who is the epitome of decency in this State, has seen fit to castigate me and to question my character and I did not interrupt him, I feel that I am going to answer him, not in kind; I would not degrade myself so to do.

First of all, I am going to look at my legislative record, and I am a candidate for judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and I want this gentleman to know that—

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be interrupted.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf, rise?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, by virtue of what order of business is the gentleman from Allegheny speaking?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. On a question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHAAF. I ask for the Chair's decision in that regard.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman speaking by unanimous consent of this House or is he speaking on a point of personal privilege?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. On a point of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHAAF. As to the latter, I do not think he raised the point.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman has the right of defend himself on the floor of the House.

Mr. SCHAAF. It is the ruling of the Chair that he is speaking on a point of personal privilege?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. He is speaking on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHAAF. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. The fact that I am a candidate I wish to be dismissed, because it has nothing to do with my actions.

You know when the gentleman from Philadelphia has bills in the public interest over the years in which he wants an independent Republican to vote on his side, I am a great man. But when I stand up to my beliefs and disagree with him, I am just a little lower than a snake. I challenge him, in his legislative record, to show me one time when he crossed the party line. I have done it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny—

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I am talking because of the type of talk he gave, and I intend to answer him in the same character.

May I continue?

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. As long as the gentleman from Allegheny observes the usual rules of propriety in a chamber such as this, he will be privileged to speak. When he infringes upon the rules of propriety regarding the discussions and the courtesies that can be expected in parliamentary debate, he is not privileged to talk.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

It is pretty hard to complete your chain of thought when you have an avalanche of spearmen on the other side casting verbal thrusts at you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say this: You see what happens when we begin discussing personalities. They should never occupy the attention of this House, personalities.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I want to call to your attention that I did not institute that action, but I have a right to reply.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman erred by continuing in the possible sins of someone else.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. All right, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I hope by keeping within the range of propriety that the gentleman from Allegheny absolves himself from any further offenses.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, you are trying to quiet the troubled waters, and I will try to follow through. But, when the gentleman from Philadelphia, without warrant, stated that I had taken action because I desire reluctantly to leave the House and go on the bench—

The SPEAKER. This Speaker would have questioned the propriety of that personal reference. The Chair would like to see that particular reference deleted from the Journal and return to debate proper matters before us.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I would want it to be in the Journal so that he can read it 20 years from now.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. All I want to say is this: I have taken actions politically on the floor of the House that would not get me votes either on the Republican or the Democratic side, so, I am not expedient. I take a risk, politically, on things that I do. I think that the gentlemen on the other side of the House who know my attitude on legislation, particularly my friends from Allegheny County, realize that I try, within my limited ability, to judge cases upon their merits. I am really disturbed, saddened and disheartened at the actions of the gentleman from Philadelphia. All I said at that particular time was that we were coming out with a blanket indictment of the press. I said it was not warranted. I stated that we all make mistakes, both in the House and in the press. And, to use a phrase used many times before, it is better to forgive. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that we now resume today's calendar and bills on first reading.

For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny rise?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I asked for recognition—before anyone else—back at this button here.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Leonard.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Leonard, rise?

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LEONARD. Should we not be working under the rules now?

The SPEAKER. There were no objections. Both the floor leaders spoke with unanimous consent because they were discussing matters not pending directly before the House. Their remarks were privileged and they led up to the discussion that we had with the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, which, in the opinion of the Chair were privileged.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I object to any further unanimous consent to speak on the subject that has been before us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the gentleman from Allegheny not to bear down on the gentleman from Blair. I hope that the gentleman from Blair will be discreet and will permit us soon to return to the consideration of the calendar.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I merely rise to say that I think we have had enough of this sort of debate for one day at least. We have a hard schedule. The Lord only knows when we are going to get out of here this year with the amount of legislation still before us that has not been reported out of committee. I think it is high time now that we get down to business and proceed with the business so we can get home today sometime.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, rise?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, since I was the one who sort of picked the scab on this sore, I was wondering if I might ask the indulgence of the House to be the one to pull the zipper up the back of this affair and close it out, so to speak.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Stiteler, rise?

Mr. STITELER. I would like to speak one sentence, sir.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield to the gentleman from Somerset?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STITELER. Being one of the youngest members, and one of the older men in this House, I would like to say to the gentlemen of the press and to the gentleman from Philadelphia, as Stonewall Jackson heard from General Lee, "He who has been the most wronged can afford to be the most magnanimous."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, briefly, sir. Perhaps in the course of the compelling nature of the argument, there are expressions of thought that would be better left unsaid, and, if I have offended the gentleman from Allegheny, I want to take this opportunity to express to him my regrets and my apologies. I have established a rapport with Mr. Goldstein in the sessions that I have been a member of the legislature of which I am proud. I do not want to disturb that relationship and I say to him, it was only the heat of the argument, perhaps, and his diversion from the substance of my argument that gave rise to the comment that followed. So, I say to him, I apologize.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny accepts the apology and we will now proceed with the calendar.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, rise?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELFAND. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it within the purview of a member of this House, when addressing the House under personal privilege, to excoriate a committee of this House for its deliberation or lack of deliberation upon a particular piece of legislation?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say that there are grades in propriety and impropriety. The Chair has been very liberal in his interpretation of the rules and many things have been said that have not been questioned by the Chair. In view of the attitude of the Chair in giving these members a wider scope of discussion than they were frequently entitled to under the rules, the Chair would be indulgent with what has been said this morning. The Chair has frequently recognized the gentleman from Philadelphia. The rules say he may speak twice on a question. The Chair has never enforced that rule, and there are many others that I think it is wiser for the Chair to ignore, unless he is forced to face them.

Mr. GELFAND. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. Now we will resume the consideration of the calendar, and the Chair asks the gentleman from Beaver to preside.

Mr. HAMILTON IN THE CHAIR.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 758, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. As we come to each of these appropriation bills, I think it would be nice if Mr. Polen would get up and state how much money is in each bill so the members can mark their calendars.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in House bill 758, the amount is $8 million for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, these are all classed as preferred appropriations and they are for the 13-months' period, is that correct?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

M. A. W. JOHNSON. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not ask to interrogate, but I would sincerely ask that these three bills go over. I am trying to find time to get to the Department of Commerce to get some more information which I would like to have on these three appropriation bills. I took the opportunity to write to them while I was away and they replied but did not give me all the information I desire. I simply have not had time since I got here on Monday to get over to that department to get it.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps either the majority leader or the chairman of the Appropriations Committee could answer the questions the gentleman from Blair has.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, wrote to the industrial development authority and requested a complete breakdown of information and I believe the information was submitted to him. In addition, every so often a report is issued, which every member of this House receives of every industrial development program in any county. It indicates the project, the amount of PIDA money; it indicates the potential number of employees. You have received it in the past. This information, of course, has been furnished and, also, I believe it is the Blair County Chamber of Commerce and the Altoona Chamber of Commerce that have been working in conjunction with this.

I was well aware of his request and I asked whether the information was furnished to him, and it was, and I insist that information be furnished to any member who writes to any agency or board asking for information. I believe that this appropriation bill should pass today. It is a preferred appropriation bill and should not go over. Any other additional information he is seeking he can get without a bit of trouble.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, the majority leader. I did get a reply but I did not get all the information I was desirous of getting. I particularly wanted to get just the amount of interest and principal that was returned on the loans made by the department for years, especially over the last two years. I think we have a right to know before we can vote intelligently on these bills how much has been returned each year to the department for reuse by the department before we vote further appropriations. We have not caucused on this bill on our side of the House that I recall, and I think we ought to caucus on it. I think there is pertinent information that ought to be brought before the caucus, that I have not had the chance yet to bring before my caucus. That is the reason for asking that these bills go over.

Now as to there being an absolute necessity for passing these bills today, I can see no particular necessity. There is $2,230,000 now that is uncommitted, according to that report. They are not going to be short-changed for funds for another period of 30 days, at least, and for another possible six months or maybe a year and a half. Maybe it is not necessary that they get this entire $8 million. There are any number of questions that could be raised until I know how much is being paid back approximately on these investments by the department. That is not asking too much.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the minority leader rise?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering if the majority leader would pass these bills over at least until we come back from caucus and we will make a caucus decision in light of Mr. Auker's statements.

There is not really any imperative or compelling reason why they must move today. I do not know if the Senate is in session or not; perhaps they are not. By the time we need them they will be out of session. Can they be passed over until after caucus?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly will go along with the request of the minority leader, but if the gentleman from Blair desires to know of the interest that is being returned each month from now existing loans, that information is available. If he is interested in knowing the amount of the uncommitted balance of the last appropriation of the PIDA allocation passed by the House and the Senate, that information is available. If he is interested in knowing the amount of this appropriation and how it is to tie in with the Federal program on the other legislation which is on the calendar, that information is available, but I do not want them to come back from caucus and say that they could not get the answers, and they can get them by calling and getting any information they want. I just went over this on Monday with the PIDA, and Mr. Polen is a member of the PIDA organization statewide, the only member in this House, and any question can be answered there.

I would ask that he would outline his questions so the answers would be available for the caucus.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps by unanimous consent these three bills could be passed over temporarily.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will consent to their being passed over, as I stated before, but I certainly would desire that Mr. Polen would have the questions for the information that Mr. Auker desires, because that information has always been available here.

The SPEAKER. I think it would be well if the gentleman from Blair would reduce the questions to writing so the chairman of the Appropriations Committee would be able to give specific answers to specific questions.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly willing to do that. All I am trying to do is find the time to get this done and I am trying to get a lot of other things done down here. I do not have a full-time secretary down here. I have to do everything on my own. I do not have a full-time office force. I have to get these things done entirely on my own and as fast as I can get them done. All I am asking is for a little consideration, as an individual member of this House, to try to get the information which I know is available, but give me time to get it, that is all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would make this observation, that on this floor questions can be answered in detail if questions are asked in detail. If we must depend upon every member of this House getting the facts and figures for himself on every bill rather than eliciting the information on the floor of the House, we never will get out.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House bill No. 758, printer's No. 831

House bill No. 759, printer's No. 1911 and were passed over temporarily at the request of Mr. McCANN.

House bill No. 760, printer's No. 1912

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House bill 762, printer's No. 835.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 762, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, what amount of appropriation is carried in this bill?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What is the amount of the appropriation in the bill?

Mr. POLEN. The amount of appropriation in the bill is $1,386,519.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, this is an appropriation out of the general fund to the Department of Forests and Waters for payment under the flood control funds for flood control purposes. Is that right?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, some few sessions ago we passed a bill in this General Assembly which set aside the royalties on oil and gas on State-owned lands in this Commonwealth to be used for recreation and flood control purposes. My question now is: What has happened to that fund and why do we now have to appropriate out of the General Fund into that fund which is supposed to have a considerable amount of money? As a matter of fact, I would like to have some accounting on that fund and see how much money has been put into it and what has been done with it.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with House bill 762, and I stated the amount of the appropriation, this appropriation has been made in each biennium for this purpose. In the last biennium we appropriated $2,039,000 for this purpose. Now getting back to the revenues that come in through the special oil and gas lease fund, it is true that this fund can be used for conservation, recreation, dams, or flood control.

Most of it has been used for recreation on four large projects: the Pinchot State Park, the Prompton Dam, the Gallitzin State Park, and the Briarson State Park. At the present time there remains in the oil and gas lease fund, uncommitted, $88,945.84. And for that reason, in order to carry out the flood control program, which is a matching program, there would be the program depending upon the oil and gas lease fund that would be non-existent, because that is the uncommitted balance as of May 18th.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, he has mentioned about four projects where he claims the money has gone. I am asking how much money came out of that fund, and what is the present revenue coming into it monthly or annually. How much money is still coming into that fund?

Mr. POLEN. The money coming into that fund is on a declining basis and I can secure the information for the gentleman as to the total amount. It is published in various publications. If he wants it I can get it for him, but I can assure him that the uncommitted balance is only $88,945.84. And most of the money has been used in connection with the recreation and dams and parks program, and not for the flood control because in the flood control program, as we have in House bill 762, it is a matching program in which the Federal Government makes the largest contribution.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have a partial answer to some of that information here, but apparently in the last three years, 1959, 1960, and 1961, there was $13,849,000.40 come into this fund, and is the gentleman now telling me there has been over $13 million spent on these four park areas?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. How much has been spent on flood control out of this fund in the last three years alone? This fund has been in existence for six or eight years.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I furnished some of the members on the other side who had asked me a complete breakdown of what had come into the flood control fund, the oil and gas lease fund and what had been spent. The total received in the fund from June 1, 1959, to January 31, 1961, was $3,740,619.42. I did not mean to convey that all this money was used on these particular four projects that I mentioned, but recently it has been used primarily for construction and development of these parks I mentioned and other State parks. In other words, the fund has been used more for the construction and development of the State parks than it has been for flood control, although it can be used for flood control.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, what I am trying to get at is, I have never seen a public account; at least that information has never reached my hands, I have never seen a public account of the money in this special fund. I am not asking that the bill go over, but I would like at this time to request that I get a copy of such a report.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we will be glad to secure the information for the gentleman and submit a report to him immediately of what has been paid into the fund and the purpose for which it was expended.

I think the important thing here today is that the remaining balance is so small that it could have no effect upon flood control.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now may I ask the gentleman this: Is the amount of this appropriation set up in any specific projects to which it will be applied or will this be used generally for projects which they intend to promote?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the projects it is to be used on are given, Mr. Speaker, there have been certain projects approved for which this money will be used. They are listed, I believe, in the budget and, if not in the budget, in the appendix to it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. NEEDHAM. Mr. Speaker, my vote did not record. I desire to be recorded as voting "aye".

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be noted in the Journal.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1192, entitled:

An Act amending the "General Appropriation Act of 1959" approved November 12, 1959 (Appropriation Act 38-A), restoring certain amounts appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of State which the Legislature deleted and declared its intention to restore.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, House bill 1192 restores the $50 million that was lapsed, $42 million from the school retirement and $8 million from the State retirement, back to the retirement funds.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the chairman of this committee, Mr. Polen.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made a statement here the other day in connection with the fact that this money had not previously been put into the retirement fund, and I believe you stated that the requirement that four percent interest only applies to money paid into the fund previously and what the teachers and employes have paid in, and there was no necessity for making up the loss of the four percent interest on this money for the last couple of years by reason of its not having been paid in.

Mr. POLEN. Not exactly, Mr. Speaker. My statement was that we were not making up any interest deficiency this year in this budget because the fund is approaching the four percent yield, and because of the fact that we expect it to go above that, it would not be necessary to appropriate any money for interest deficiency, as we had in the past.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. But had this $50-some million been paid into the fund when it should have been paid in, there would be approximately $2 million to $4 million in interest that would have been earned by the fund had that money been paid in sooner.

Mr. POLEN. That would be correct, Mr. Speaker. If the money had been in there and earning interest, of course, the interest would have been in there. However, the interest deficiency would still have been the same between what it earned and the four percent.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. But the funds of the State teacher's retirement and the employes' retirement are short this interest by reason of the fact that they did not get the money sooner. That is correct, is it not?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker. If the money had been in there it would have earned interest. This is true not only of this year, but in bienniums far back for many years. The interest, of course, was not earned if the money was not paid in.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Another question: When this bill is signed by the Governor, do you have any idea when the office of administration is going to order the payment of these sums into those funds?

Mr. POLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker. They will be paid at the earliest possible date. As I stated previously here on the floor, the amount in addition to the $50 million, we anticipate will all have been paid into the fund, including the back money, by the end of this biennium, May 31.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Not by the end of this biennium; you mean by the end of this coming fiscal year.

Mr. POLEN. This money would not be paid in until after the fiscal year.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 313, entitled:

An Act amending the "Soil Conservation Law" approved May 15, 1945 (P. L. 547), creating the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission and districts imposing powers and duties thereon * * * and making editorial corrections.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, because this bill has been on the calendar for quite a long time and has aroused more or less interest, I am just wondering if the gentleman will state briefly why the bill is being re-committed and what possible changes might be contemplated in it.

Mr. GAILEY. I would be happy to do that, Mr. Speaker. On the surface the bill appears to be merely, in some ways, technical or correctional, in that it adds to soil conservation the words "and water." I think, however, I have had some conversation with the members of the Department of Agriculture and also with the employes of the Department of Forests and Waters, and it is certainly not completely established, I think, even in their minds as to the line of demarkation here, whether there is an infringement one upon the other and just what impact this bill will have on our water conservation here in the Commonwealth. Consequently, since the bill does not appear to me to be sufficiently well considered and all the implications known, I feel that it should be studied further.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the minority leader.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I just wanted a statement in the record, Mr. Speaker, as to why the bill is being re-committed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 483, entitled:

An Act amending the "Policemen's Relief and Pension Fund Law" approved May 22, 1935 (P. L. 233), further providing for medical examinations of pensioners and providing for return to active duty upon discontinuance of pension.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 758, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly interrogate the chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, before I ask the question I might say that I had a conference with Mr. Craven and Mr. Davlin of the PIDA and the Department of Commerce on this particular appropriation bill of $8 million, based on, of course, 13 months. They did not volunteer any information at all in any way, shape or form that any of this money had to be used to match Federal funds under the new bill as passed by Congress. Are you aware of whether or not any of this money would have to be used to match Federal funds for industrial development?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the question correctly, would any of this money have to be used to match Federal funds for industrial development in Pennsylvania?

Mr. Speaker, if the legislation that has been introduced in the House is passed to implement the Federal legislation, part of this money could be used for matching funds in the acquiring of sites.

Mr. AUKER. That is what I understood. They told me about that program they had in mind, the program and bills were to be introduced whereby they could enlarge their investment to local communities, instead of a 30 percent basis to a 40 percent basis, and local communities who have been matching that with 20 percent would only have to put up 10 percent. Is that what you have in mind?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. That legislation has been introduced in the House.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, was it developed in the appropriation hearings in any way, shape or form how much money that might take of this $8 million?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, at the hearings before the Appropriations Committee it was brought out that the budget for the PIDA was predicated upon the passage of Federal legislation which since has been passed and, as I recall, approximately $2 million additional would be needed for the new purposes.

Mr. AUKER. Two million?

Mr. POLEN. Two million dollars.

Mr. AUKER. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. That is the answer I wanted.

Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for the bill. I suppose it would be pretty near committing political suicide if one would not. But it seems to me there has been a lack of development on somebody's part. I do not know whose, whether it is the Appropriations Committee or the people on our side. I am not looking further into it. I just want to quote some figures on this thing.

For the '59 biennium we appropriated something over $8 million for two years. Of that, according to the Department of Commerce's own figures, there is left $2,230,000. That means that over a period of two years for PIDA, for industrial development in Pennsylvania, the Department of Commerce has used something around $6 million.

Over 24 months, 24 months, equal they spent $6 million. Now they are asking for $8 million for a period of 13 months. Now, in addition to this $8 million they are going to have $2,230,000, which is uncommitted; not unappropriated, but uncommitted. It is lying there invested in short-term treasury notes, I imagine, and they have done a good job on that, no question about that. In addition to that, Mr. Speaker, they will get back approximately $800,000 - $900,000 on interest and principal paid off on moneys already invested, in the next 13 months. Now that is going to give this department $11 million for a period of 13 months, where they have only spent $6 million over a period of 24 months.

I talked with Mr. Davlin, and I talked with Mr. Craven, and to my mind, outside of what they said of being hopeful that they would be able to use this money, and I am too—they are very hopeful that they will be able to use all of it—they could not justify that $8 million, outside of being hopeful. Of course I realize, Mr. Speaker, with any of this money that is not used they will use good husbandry and invest it in short-term treasury certificates, and to that end, of course, the money is not being wasted.

But I want to raise it as a principle of good government that we do not have any right to take money from the taxpayers, unless we feel it is absolutely necessary for their own good and welfare, and invest it in treasury certificates to draw interest, when that money might not have to be taken from the taxpayers until it is absolutely required. I pointed out to the gentleman that he would only be seven months away from another annual session, and, if they used this money, I would be the first one to jump on the bandwagon and say we need a deficiency appropriation. We would cut this sum in half, for instance, and only take $4 million from the people for this purpose. We would jump on the bandwagon and pass a deficiency appropriation because we would know then that people were being put back to work. I asked them on what basis they could justify it. They mentioned this particular figure of the Federal funds coming in; they also mentioned another million dollars that was going to be introduced through bills that they hoped would pass. And I expect to vote for that land acquisition, for new sites, new industrial sites, and to install water sewerage lines and utility lines into those sites that takes a million dollars. Now, that takes $3 million. But they are still going to need an awful lot of money based on just a pure hope. They say the recession is over. I say it is not over in Pennsylvania. We have had a depression in Pennsylvania for the last five or six years. If I wanted to raise an argument, I could probably say ever since Mr. Leader took office, but I would not want to raise that argument here on the floor today. I mentioned that to them and they did not have an answer for me on this. I said, can you base that hope on the kind of legislation that we have passed this session, when you are making small industries anticipate their income in April and pay 80 percent of that income in advance and take that money away from the small industries that they do not have it to use for expansion and increased inventories over the next eight months? They did not have any answer for that.

I am taking it that their pure reasoning on this and their pure backing with this $8 million is just based on a hope. I do not like that kind of legislation. I think a more realistic figure here would probably have been $4 million. Four million dollars could have been cut off this bill and we could have saved the $4 million for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania without any harm whatsoever, without any hurt being done whatsoever, to the entire program.

However, I am going to vote for the bill just as they say, possibly on a hope, and I trust that hope is fulfilled, believe me, that we will need all the money, but I question very much that we will.

On the question, recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams, on a question of personal privilege.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I noticed a while ago that the lights were getting dim, and getting bright, and getting dim, and for quite a while already it seemed to me it was quite dark in here, so I made an observation of each chandelier and notice that there are quite a few lights burned out. I do not know whether- -

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot see where that is a matter of personal privilege as far as parliamentary procedure is concerned. The proper thing is to take it up with the Department of Property and Supplies or the chief clerk or with the chief electrician, but it is certainly not a question for this House to decide.

Mr. ADAMS. I did not know where to take it up, sir.

The SPEAKER. Whatever is wrong as far as the lights are concerned will be taken care of during the recess.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 759, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for rendering financial assistance to industrial development agencies engaged in promoting the development and expansion of business, industry and commerce in the respective counties of the Commonwealth.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Polen on this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?
Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, I notice in this bill 759 the original appropriation was $200,000 and that it was amended to read $300,000. The Governor's budget recommendation was the original $200,000. I am curious to know what the additional $100,000 was meant to cover?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the reason for the increase is due to the passage of the Federal legislation and the legislation introduced in this House which will provide for industrial parks and the acquisition of land. That is one reason. We felt that it will take additional money for the administration of the program. That is one phase.

The other program is that in this legislation in 1959 we were paying 10 cents per capita to each county as a subsidy for the work they did in connection with their industrial development programs. Now, due to lack of funds, that has been reduced to 5 cents per capita, which is not enough for them to adequately do the work they are supposed to do. For that reason and for the reason of the Federal legislation that will increase the load, it was the recommendation of the Department of Commerce that they would need additional money to do that. We considered it in the Appropriations Committee, and in the committee we increased the appropriation from $200,000 to $300,000.

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, do I understand then that the payments to the various counties will be now 10 cents per capita instead of 5 cents?

Mr. POLEN. It is hoped that we can pay 10 cents per capita. That, of course, again, will have to be determined on the basis of the number of counties that apply for assistance and the number of per capita that they have. It is hoped that we can start the payments at 10 cents.

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, is that a good hope or a hopeless hope?

Mr. POLEN. It is a good hope, but it would be contingent upon the number who apply and the per capita they would represent.

Mr. ASHTON. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 1162, entitled:

An Act amending "The C. P. A. Law" approved May 26, 1947, (P. L. 318), further regulating the certification and public practice of certified public accountants.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHAAF asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Section 4, page 9, by inserting after line 16.

Or graduation with a diploma or associate degree in Accounting or Business Administration from a private business school licensed by the Department of Public Instruction or any community or junior college approved by the State Council of Education and satisfactory completion of at least twelve semester hours in accounting and at least four years of public accounting experience of a caliber satisfactory to the board.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Erie, Mr. SchAAF.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr Speaker, I have the privilege of offering those amendments, but I cannot claim authorship of them. However, I would like to make a few comments which I think are fair under the circumstances. These, of course, are my own personal comments and thoughts on the amendments.

Mr. Speaker, this is a profession which is basically regulated by the General Assembly. These professional certified public accountants turn to us to set and establish the standards under which they will conduct their profession. Of necessity, they can only regulate themselves to a limited extent.

Mr. Speaker, as I understand and as I am informed, House bill 1162, in its present form, represents what the certified public accountants themselves believe to be a desirable law from their standpoint and represents their thinking as to how they would have the legislature amend their particular regulatory act.

Now, Mr. Speaker, we have a responsibility here in the General Assembly to members of the general public, as well as responsibility which extends to all interested parties.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is fair to say that the amendments proposed today are amendments which reflect that responsibility. They are, if the membership will take the opportunity to integrate them into the bill, simply nothing more or less than an extension of the basic idea of education, plus experience, giving weight to that education and to that experience on the basis of its type, and these fall within the framework of the bill.

However, I want it clearly understood, Mr. Speaker, as I am personally informed, that these amendments amount to—I am tempted to use the expression—"a shotgun marriage." I think it is fair to say, Mr. Speaker, that neither the certified public accountants themselves desire these amendments nor, to my knowledge, do another interested group, namely and specifically, the private schools in Pennsylvania. Nobody is really happy. The question to be decided by the members in acting upon these amendments is whether or not we as members of the General Assembly, and keeping in mind the general public interest of the people in this Commonwealth, feel this to be a desirable amendment to a professional regulatory bill.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to debate these amendments and to register my opposition to same. It is my understanding that the primary purpose behind these amendments was laudatory in that they would make it more flexible for a great percentage of the people to qualify for the CPA examinations.

Despite that fact, after reading these amendments, it is my understanding that they would indeed preclude a vast number of individuals from qualifying for the CPA examination. I say that because of the fact that the amendments specifically provide that there must be, to the extent mentioned therein, a certain amount of formal education required. After a lot of conferences and hard work by the people interested in making the law with respect to CPA's in Pennsylvania a better one, there were rules and regulations promulgated and amendments proposed that would provide that a person could take the examination who had the equivalent of a college education. I understand, further, that the rules and regulations that have been drawn up and have received the approval of the Pennsylvania board provides that, to the extent that the course of studies pursued under the present bill do not constitute the equivalent of a college education, the candidate for admission would have the opportunity to demonstrate that he has compensated for any deficiencies in his formal education through planned course of self-study and business experience. It seems to me that was one of the primary objections on the part of a large number of individual members of the General Assembly, and it was because of that opposition that the contemplated amendment and rules and regulations were formulated.

If Mr. Andrews' amendments are adopted, it would very definitely, Mr. Speaker, preclude those very individuals whom we are trying to help as a result of this amendment in allowing provision to take the examination even for the equivalent of a college education. They, would not be eligible if they demonstrated their business experience and their courses in self-study. They would be absolutely precluded and prohibited by this amended bill, and it is for that reason I say that, despite the good intentions of the sponsor of this amendment, it is going to hurt a large number of people whom the proponents of this bill in its original form and by virtue of the amendments that are going to be introduced by Mr. Eilberg would help.

Therefore, I ask the members to vote against this amendment so we will have the opportunity of providing qualifications for those very people who do not have the formal education that was originally required under the bill before the amendment.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise in further opposition to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Erie.

What concerns me about the amendments that have been offered particularly is that it gives a status to private business schools without providing any standards of any kind. There we are with the duty of maintaining the standards of every profession and raising them when we can, and we are being asked to give a special status to private business schools without their demonstrating that they have sufficient standards to justify such recognition. How do we know whether many of these schools are organized for the purpose of training for business careers, or whether they are primarily organized for making money? We know that so far as the Department of Public Instruction is concerned many of the teachers are not properly trained. Why should not the teachers be required to have special training? Why should not particular textbooks be required? Why should not there be regular supervision by the State?

Mr. Speaker, I say that these amendments are not a step forward, but a step backward, and I ask everyone to vote against the amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is with trepidation that I oppose any opinion voiced by the distinguished advocate from Philadelphia, or either distinguished advocate from Philadelphia. But they are not presenting this issue in its outlines.

The gentleman from Philadelphia, who just spoke, spoke about inadequate preparation. That is what the examination for certified public accountants is designed to do. They have their examinations, and, Lord knows, they have spent considerable time in making those examinations increasingly difficult over the years. But those examinations, and we must admit that they are proper, make it harder and harder to become a certified public accountant, and I am not quarreling with that. We know who wants that. We have a very efficient group composed of certified public accountants, but they have the tightest guild that has ever been organized since medieval days. They not only have this tight guild, but they have a system of peonage under which you must serve under their taskmastership before you can even take an examination.

Now, I would be not fair if I said that all the graduates from these schools that are doing such good work were qualified to be certified public accountants. But I say that the examination should take care of them. I would say that if I could pass the examination for certified public accountant, I should be permitted to be one, because by that examination I have demonstrated my fitness.

This is just one more step in the campaign to put a barrier in the path of innumerable young men who under our present situation can never become college graduates and yet who are fit for the avocation they seek. So I say that we are soon going to get to the point where if a man wants somebody to wheel a wheelbarrow he has got to have a college education. Our present system is turning out increased demands for a college education at a time when we are declaiming to the world that we do not have room. If everybody who works has to have a college education, what in the world are they going to do with the increasing population that does not have a college education? I can see in the membership of this House many men of ability who cannot produce a certificate that they have graduated from college, and there are some of them that cannot even produce a certificate that they have graduated from high school. This is just one more move upon the part of an entrenched few to place a barrier in the path of the progress of the little man.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Irvis.

Mr. IRVIS. Mr. Speaker, I will admit that ordinarily when the gentleman from Cambria explains a point I find it lucidly explained and unnecessary for me to even consider his meaning. But I confess that after this latest statement I stand here a bit confused. If I understand the gentleman from Cambria, the burden of his argument is that we are now demanding, too frequently, that a person who follows a profession be a college graduate. If I understand his argument, it is that we should loosen these reins, particularly as they refer to the CPA's, make it possible for those people who have the experience, if not the formal education, to qualify to take these CPA examinations. If the gentleman from Cambria is being quoted correctly by me, then I will agree with the burden of his argument.

However, I believe that the amendments which have recently been offered to this bill do not go that far. That is the reason I rise to oppose them. If I understand the amendments accurately, these amendments would not permit a high school graduate who has never attended a business college, who has never attended two years of junior college, or, indeed, any college at all, to even take the CPA examination. If this is correct, then I must oppose these amendments, because I, too, have within my acquaintance a number of men and women who have never entered the doors of a college, business or otherwise, but who through native ability and through hard work would certainly be qualified to at least enter the examination and see if they might pass it.

Now, if this be true, Mr. Speaker, then these amendments do not go as far as the gentleman from Cambria argues. Perhaps, if the gentleman will examine these amendments, he may wish to broaden them and may secure additional support. If, however, he does not so wish, then I would suggest to the members of the House that they vote against these amendments and vote for the set of amendments which I understand is going to be offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, the Professional Licensure Committee, in my experience, has never put out a bill which would lower the standards of any profession in this Commonwealth. We have always endeavored to put out bills to raise the standards. This bill is simply a bill to raise the standards of the CPA profession.

The gentleman from Cambria is wrong when he says that this is a continued effort, a continued successful effort, to limit the number of candidates passing the examination. If he will look over the records and compare the statistics of, say, 15 years ago with today, he will see that the percentage of successful candidates passing the CPA examination is much higher today than it was 15 years ago. And, Mr. Speaker, it may be also detected that 85 to 95 percent of those taking the examinations are college graduates, without being so required, and the idea to lessen the standards would be as ridiculous as the going back to the days when a high school graduate could apprentice himself to a physician and become a physician in the matter of a couple of years.

What we are trying to do is increase the standards, and the amendments which will be proposed allowing those without the formal education to take the examination and pass that board, I think, justify the defeat of these amendments.

Mr. EILBERG. In further reply to the gentleman from Cambria, he used some pretty harsh charges, it seems to me. He said that men preparing to become CPA's are in a position of peonage, but he did not develop that particular point. I have looked into it and I have found that there is no such thing. The experience required under the present law and under the law that we contemplate would permit a person preparing himself to either work for a CPA, work for a public accountant, or, indeed, even work for himself. If the Speaker is referring to those men and women who are working for CPA's as being in a position of peonage, let me remind him that the salary scale of those individuals averages $500 per month throughout the State of Pennsylvania. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that this kind of money certainly does not represent any kind of peonage.

Mr. Speaker, further, the gentleman from Cambria emphasizes that the CPA examination should take care of the problem and, basically, that is what we are aiming at. We are trying to get the best possible persons to take that particular examination, people who not only have the technical training that is provided in technical courses in the accounting field, such as is provided by business schools, but who have an understanding of economics, business, mathematics, and English, so that in the future, six years from now when this new law becomes effective, as I expect it will, our constituents will be able to go in the future to the best possible trained CPA's. I say that Mr. Andrews' statement that the examination will take care of this problem is wrong. In some respects it is cruel to certain persons. If his amendments, which are presently before us, were to become effective, many persons would be encouraged to go to business schools which simply are not presenting the kind of courses that would equip those individuals to become CPA's. It seems to me that this is a very cruel possibility that is envisioned in the amendments that are presently before us.

I would like to close, further, with the comment that even the Speaker's amendments do not make it possible for someone who has had extensive business experience, or someone who has engaged in courses of self-study, let us even say, the Abraham Lincoln type of person, who, perhaps, has had no formal schooling at all, to take a CPA examination. I, therefore, say that his amendments are without merit and should be voted down.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Eilberg, in advocating the defeat of these amendments, can you tell me whether or not there will be some other amendments coming after this that will be more liberal or less liberal than these particular amendments?

Mr. EILBERG. In answer to the gentleman's question, I will say that the amendments that I will offer will be more liberal than the amendments presently before us.

Mr. ADAMS. Then, in that case I will not rise to support these amendments; I will wait until the more liberal amendments come up.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, has certain amendments and I will yield to him.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, yields to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, for the purpose of offering amendments.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is understood that the amendments offered by Mr. Tompkins are agreed to, is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. By both caucuses?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Are these the veterans' amendments?

Mr. TOMPKINS. These are the veterans' amendments.

Messrs. WHITTAKER and TOMPKINS asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 4), page 8, line 20, by striking out the bracket after "the"

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. EILBERG asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 4), page 9, line 7, by inserting after "education" or an education which is the equivalent thereof

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, much of what I have to say has already been said in connection with the amendments first offered. However, since my amendments are now before the House, I think I should summarize some of the important points I am concerned with.

The bill as originally drafted, House bill 1162, has the effect of requiring an applicant for CPA to be a college graduate and have two years of experience in the accounting field. The bill as drafted would have eliminated the present eligibility of high school graduates, plus three years of accounting. Now, upon studying the bill closely, I came to the realization that it would be unfair to insist that every applicant be a college graduate. We have many, many cases of successful people who did not go to college and, certainly, it was not and is not my desire to limit the opportunity of anyone to become a CPA if he is so inclined. As a result, we have introduced these amendments which will have the effect of requiring a college degree or an education which is the equivalent thereof.

Mr. Speaker, what we are concerned with is raising the standards of eligibility so that the people will ultimately get the best possible trained CPA's to perform the complex duties that may be required and at the same time we want to give everyone an opportunity to take the examination who, if he is not a college graduate, can meet with the standards of a college graduate.

Under the amendment we have talked with the members of the CPA board and the Department of Public Instruction and they are prepared and have agreed to, upon the enactment of this bill, establish a regulation which will have the effect of giving credit for courses of study in colleges or universities, or in evening schools of colleges and universities, or to the effect of credit for graduation from a community or junior college approved by the State Council of Education, or graduation from a junior college of business licensed by the Department of Public Instruction and approved by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools of the National Association and Council of Business Schools.

I might say, Mr. Speaker, that the Accrediting Commission is set up by the business schools themselves on a national basis. It is recognized by the education office of the national government as a proper commission. There is no public control over that commission and we are proposing that a graduate of a college of business, as I said, which school has been licensed by the Department of Public Instruction and approved by the Accrediting Commission, should receive credit for the time spent in that school.

The same principle would apply to two-year private business schools as to junior colleges of business, and I might say, Mr. Speaker, that many institutions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have been accredited. I have the publication here of institutions which have been accredited. Under the regulations that would be adopted, credit would also be given for specific courses taken in other schools licensed by the Department of Public Instruction, but which have not been accredited by the Accrediting Commission, provided there is a showing to the CPA board that these courses are of a proper standard.

Now, Mr. Speaker, one of the most important features of the regulations which would be adopted would be to give credit for any deficiencies in formal education through planned courses of self-study and business experience.

Let me say so there is no misunderstanding, that the alternatives I have indicated add up to a college degree, or the equivalent thereof, but if any such individual does not have any formal training, in fact, an individual who has not gone up to the eighth or ninth grade, or tenth grade, if such an individual who through his experience in life, through his business experience, which is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the board, or through planned courses of self-study, can make a proper showing by self-study or business experience, the board will permit such an individual to take the examination.

It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, while we are raising the standards, we are at the same time permitting individuals who cannot go to college the opportunity to train themselves to become CPA's, and I ask everyone to support the amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on these amendments. I received a terrific amount of pro and con correspondence on this particular piece of legislation and I studied this bill very carefully until the wee hours this morning. I feel that it is very necessary to support these amendments to protect and help the self-made man, and I recommend that the members support it because without them this would be a bad piece of legislation.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have a copy of the declaration of intent of these amendments before me which Mr. Eilberg has placed into the record. I have but one question to ask in connection with it. In all cases it indicates that the schools must be approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction. What do we do about the person who takes his courses for accreditation in an out-of-State school which is not under the supervision of the Pennsylvania Department of Instruction.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, in the cases that I have enumerated it is true that we have required licensure by the Department of Public Instruction. I would say, though, that the intent of these regulations is to give credit for any course which has been taken which 'meets the standards that would be set by the department, by the State board. I think the procedure, Mr. Speaker, would be for an individual who is applying to file an application giving full details of his educational background, his business experience and his general fitness, and the courses that the gentleman refers to, if they are of a standard equal to what I am describing, I am sure he will be given credit for them.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The reason I asked that is there are a great number of people from our area who go to business schools in Buffalo, New York. Now, because of the fact that it is not an accredited school by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, are they then denied the privilege of taking these examinations?

Mr. EILBERG. I would say yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman. For what purpose does the gentleman rise? Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg?

Mr. SHERMAN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I assure the gentleman that I have not, to the present moment, made up my mind with reference to the bill itself. It is getting more confusing as time passes, but certain things bother me. I think the gentleman made reference to regulations to be adopted and certain credits to be given for certain courses taken, or something along that line. Is that in the bill itself, or is that a regulation that may be adopted or supposed to be adopted?

Mr. EILBERG. That is a regulation that will be adopted.

Mr. SHERMAN. What is the current practice, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. EILBERG. I did not hear the gentleman's question.

Mr. SHERMAN. What is the current practice?

Mr. EILBERG. Will the gentleman repeat his question?

Mr. SHERMAN. What is the practice at the present time? Do we have such regulations, or can we have such regulation without any additional statements or bother by the Department of Public Instruction?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the law presently requires certain formal education plus experience. We are seeking to increase those standards, but we want to insure that anyone who does not meet the technical requirements may still have the opportunity to take the examination. Therefore, these regulations would be necessary and would be added to other regulations which the board presently has on its books.

Mr. SHERMAN. Is there anything either in the amendments or the bill, if the amendments are adopted, that will guarantee that these regulations would be adopted?

Mr. EILBERG. In all honesty, I cannot say that there is, Mr. Speaker, but I will say this, the reason for doing it in this fashion is because we have here the accrediting commission for business schools of the National Association and Council of Business Schools. Now this is an established organization. However, the name might be changed, or the composition might be changed, and rather than put into the bill a very particular name with the possibility that the name or circumstances might change, it would be more practicable, more feasible, more flexible, having it in the form of departmental regulations. I will say further, Mr. Speaker, to make it absolutely clear, I will be perfectly willing to offer this proposed regulation on the record and ask that it be considered as a matter of legislative intent.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, what I am interested in, as you may know from previous discussions on similar things, when it concerns regulations, is that an area of regulation and not a law? Therefore, I am asking, Mr. Speaker, as to whether there is anything controlling to these regulations to be adopted, or if these regulations are not adopted, or supposedly adopted, then it is meaningless?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, if it is a question, we have a pledge from the board, the CPA board, that they will adopt these very regulations. Mr. Speaker, I would like to offer the proposed regulation as a matter of record at this time:

Amendment to House Bill No. 1162 to Provide for an Educational Equivalent for the College Degree Requirement

This amendment is intended to take care of those cases in which candidates for the CPA examination have obtained, through various means, a broad and well-rounded education, but who do not hold a college degree. These candidates would be required to file a statement giving full details of their educational background and business experience and their general fitness to sit for the CPA examination, together with transcripts of their formal education.

In determining if the candidate's educational qualifications are the equivalent, consideration will be given to the following courses of study or combinations of them which in the aggregate approximate college degree course requirements:

1. Courses of study in colleges or universities.
2. Courses of study in evening schools of colleges and universities.
3. Graduation with an associate degree from any community or junior college approved by the State Council of Education.
4. Graduation with a diploma or associate degree in accounting or business administration from a private junior college of business licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction and approved by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools of the National Association and Council of Business Schools.
5. Graduation with a certificate or diploma in accounting from a two-year private business school licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction and approved by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools of the National Association and Council of Business Schools.
6. Specific courses in other schools licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, provided such courses are determined to be of equal standing (to (1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) above) based on the quality and effectiveness of instruction.

7. The twelve semester credits in accounting required of a candidate in Section 4(b) of this Bill may be obtained at any day or evening school approved by the State Council of Education or private Junior College of Business or in a two-year private business school licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction and approved by the Accrediting Commission of Business Schools of the National Association and Council of Business Schools.

To the extent that courses of study pursued as described under (1) to (7) above do not constitute the equivalent of a college education, the candidate shall have the opportunity to demonstrate that he has compensated for any deficiencies in his formal education through planned courses of self study and business experience.

In summary, the fact that the candidate has obtained a satisfactory technical and academic education is more important than the means through which he has attained it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair was about to recognize the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I only wanted to clarify an interrogation I had for the gentleman, but I yield.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman yields to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. I will yield to the gentleman from Cameron.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I had asked the gentleman from Philadelphia whether or not a person who took a business course in a business school in Buffalo, New York, would be qualified to take the examinations in the State of Pennsylvania even though that school was outside of the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania's Department of Public Instruction? Now, a number of people did not understand the gentleman's answer. I would like to get some clear answer on the record so everybody will understand whether or not a person taking a course in a business school outside the Commonwealth would qualify to take those examinations?

Mr. EILBERG. I apologize to the gentleman for not hearing his question before, and, when he spoke to me afterwards, I understood his question more clearly. In answer to the question, such a person would receive credit for such courses taken. The answer would be that he would receive credit for out-of-State courses taken.

Mr. TOMPKINS. He could then take the examinations if he wanted to?

Mr. EILBERG. I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. TOMPKINS. He then could take the examinations if he wanted to?

Mr. EILBERG. That is absolutely correct, sir.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have been in this House some 30 years almost and I presume in that time I have taken 300 lickings. But I have noticed that over the years ultimately the lickings I have taken have been countermanded by actual legislation, as the older members of this House will see.

Now, there are more ways than one of skinning a cat, and there are more ways than one of making what was essentially a bad bill a better bill.

I want to call to your attention the situation that existed last week and the week before. The skids were greased for this bill as originally introduced, and no amendments, no amendments. All right. We devised, at the suggestion of the schools, some amendments. Well, there was some counseling and there was some conferring and, ultimately, if these amendments had not been offered today, the bill was licked. If the amendments I sponsored had been offered last week, they would have carried.

The amendments proposed by the gentleman from Philadelphia improve a bad bill. They materially improve a bad bill, and whether or not the bad bill is ultimately passed or defeated is in the laps of the members of this House.

But it is my opinion, definite opinion, that if we had not insisted that the amendments I offered today were going to be offered, you would not have had the opportunity, perhaps, of voting on the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Philadelphia. Personally, I do not object to the amendments because I say they make a bad bill better. The amendments caused some concern. It was necessary for those in charge of the bill to go into conference and make some kind of a concession on this matter of admission to these highly efficient organizations. So if you have a notion to pass the bill, if it is your mind to pass the bill, pass these amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia. If you do not have a notion to pass the bill, vote them down.

I want to add one reason, because without these amendments the bill will inevitably be defeated. The amendments are the only thing that justify in any way the enactment of this bill. So I repeat, if you are going to pass the bill, take these amendments. If you are not going to pass the bill, let your conscience be your guide.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Stiteler.

Mr. STITELER. Mr. Speaker, I yield to no man in my respect for education and higher education. I did not spend the last 30 years of my life in this House; I spent them in business and industry from a small start.

But I submit to you that if it had been a requirement that the President of the United States would have to be a college graduate, Grover Cleveland would not have been President, nor would Harry Truman. If it had been a requirement that a great industrial genius had to be a graduate industrial engineer, Walter Chrysler would never have got off the ground. If it had been a requirement that a great labor leader would have to be a college graduate, I am quite sure there are a number who could not have attained the estate in which they now find themselves. If it had been a requirement in his day that all lawyers had to be graduates of college and of law schools, one of the most distinguished members of the Bar that this State ever produced, Jeremiah Sullivan Black, could not have studied law, not to mention Lincoln.

Had it been a requirement in order to be an inventor that one would have to be a college graduate, we might not have had these electric lights as soon as we did, nor would Cyrus McCormack, who invented the reaper, have ever got off the ground.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I have had considerable experience and much observation in the last 30 years in the superiority and the excellence of mining men. The ablest mining man whom I ever knew could not even go to high school. When he was a little boy he told me that he used to stand his overalls up against the wall—he was a grease boy—and they would stand that way. And he told me that he read and read and studied in his bed until the books would fall off on the floor and he would go to bed with the light burning. And yet time after time I saw this man from Carbondale, Pennsylvania, to Oklahoma, from Kentucky to Tennessee and Alabama, excel in suggestions which had to do with better mining and saving the lives of men in that industry.

Now, I am not going to prolong this thing, but we hear much about standards today. I submit to you that anyone who is qualified to say who shall or who shall not be a certified public accountant should be qualified to devise examinations to determine that. I do not want to let down the bars, but I do not think that there are too many men, really, who aspire to this estate because it is very difficult. Let me tell you that I employ certified public accountants. I have great confidence in them. I think they are a fine bunch of men and I think the intent of these bills is a fine thing, but in this qualification and in this world standards, character, honor, capacity and integrity should have equal standing with that college degree. I am pleading for the boy who simply cannot go to college no matter how much he wants to, but who has that peculiar native genius for this sort of thing and who wants to get there.

I do not want to be recorded as voting for something that is going to preclude that opportunity for that boy, and that is the reason, Mr. Speaker, I am going to have to vote against these amendments, which do not make it sure for that boy and for a bill which is going to put him in a terribly hopeless cul-de-sac.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, I think I agree with about 98 percent of what the gentleman, the last speaker, had to say.

I would remind him and the members of the House that the law that presently exists requires a high school diploma. Today to become a CPA you must have at least a high school diploma. I say to him, in keeping with his remarks, that there are many people, extraordinary people, who are presently excluded from taking the examination because they have not graduated from a high school. I say to the gentleman, further, that while we are raising the standards, and certainly it is our duty in the legislature to maintain and raise standards, but while we are doing this we are taking this opportunity to recognize the very problem the gentleman is concerned with. When this amendment becomes part of the bill, as I hope it will, and when the regulations have been enacted by the board, a man who has no, absolutely no, formal training of any kind can become a CPA. It seems to me that the gentleman's concern is adequately met by the proposal that we have before us at the present time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Erie, Mr. O'Dell.

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the question I have to raise will apply to the bill or the amendment. However, I would like to question Mr.

Eilberg, and, if I am wrong at the present time, you may say so.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question before the House is the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

Mr. O'DELL. I think my voting will depend upon the answer on these amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, unlike my esteemed colleague, Mr. Adams, I have not read and digested the entire bill. Therefore, I would like to ask a question.

We have been discussing the requirements that are now needed or will be needed to become a CPA. Under this bill, what is going to happen to the hundreds of public accountants that are organized in this State and have a strong organization but are not CPA's at the present time?

Mr. EILBERG. Mr. Speaker, the answer to that question is that the public accountants are, in my opinion, in no way affected by this bill. They may continue to practice. I hope they continue to practice. I hope some of them, many of them, will take it upon themselves to become CPA's, but certainly this bill will not affect them in any way.

Mr. O'DELL. It will not affect them in any way?

Mr. EILBERG. That is right.

Mr. O'DELL. I find myself in a peculiar position. Some of my best supporters back home are CPA's. I also have a brother-in-law who is a public accountant who is licensed to practice before the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue. I am like that candidate running down south when half of his county was agin' coon hunting and the other half was for it, and "By Gad," he was for his friends!

But I am particularly interested and that is the reason I asked the question. Will these men, will my brother-in-law, for instance, who has been practicing for over 30 years and is recognized as one of the outstanding public accountants, not CPA's, in the area, be permitted to practice the rest of his natural life without having to become a CPA?

Mr. EILBERG. Absolutely yes. And may I remind the gentleman and draw his attention to the fact that under our bill, 1162, one aspiring to become a CPA may, in fact, train under a public accountant.

Mr. O'DELL. That was the thing that disturbed me. I think most of you know I am a jeweler. I served my apprenticeship at the bench for a good many years, and I would hate to now have someone tell me that I could not practice watch-making, clock-making, or jewelery making because I did not have a honological school education. For some of you people, that means a watch-making school. The same way with the CPA's and the public accountants. I would like to see this bill passed if it is going to raise the standards of CPA's. I would also not support it and would vote against it if it is going to put out of business all the men who are presently recognized public accountants. Thank you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Morley.

Mr. MORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Eilberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EILBERG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to cite a specific case to illustrate my question.

William Joseph O'Toole graduated from the Pierce School of Business in Philadelphia in 1956 with a distinguished academic record after a two-year course in administrative accountancy. He immediately acquired three years of public accounting experience. He sat for the State board examination in 1959. He passed the above examination without any further training or help with a score that ranked him as one of the top three of all the candidates in Pennsylvania. He received his CPA certificate on the 21st of August in 1959. On the basis of this outstanding achievement he was nominated for special recognition and an award by the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants at its annual meeting in Bedford Springs on June 5, 1960. My question is this: Would this young man, or a young man with similar training and experience, be qualified to take the examination and be certified as a CPA under this new bill with the amendments?

Mr. EILBERG. The gentleman is asking about a graduate from Pierce School, who had three years of experience in public accounting, is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. MORLEY. That is right.

Mr. EILBERG. Did the gentleman study on his own in addition to graduating from the Pierce School?

Mr. MORLEY. There is nothing in this record that shows that he had any further training whatever.

Mr. EILBERG. How old was the gentleman when he took the examination or applied for the examination?

Mr. MORLEY. Evidently he was within the age requirements for a CPA. I do not know.

Mr. EILBERG. What business experience or background does the gentleman have?

Mr. MORLEY. He had none. He was a graduate of West Philadelphia High School, attended Pierce Business School of Administration, had three years of experience in accounting and took the examination.

Mr. EILBERG. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman has not provided me with information as to whether there has been any additional courses of self-study or whether there was any business experience. If these factors were present, which I have just enumerated, this gentleman, provided that the business experience and courses in self-study were proper, would be permitted to take the CPA examination.

I would say, further, that the Pierce School of Business in Philadelphia is an institution accredited by the accrediting commission, and the gentleman, at least, would receive credit for graduation from Pierce School if he did not have the other requirements which I have indicated.

Mr. MORLEY. Let us assume he had no further training, he could meet no further requirements, would he still be eligible under this law, as amended, to be certified as a CPA in Pennsylvania?

Mr. EILBERG. The answer would be "no," but I would assume that a gentleman of this type would proceed to take night-school courses and would continue to educate himself in such a way that he would meet the requirements.

Mr. MORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I say to you that the primary responsibility of this legislature is to all of the people of Pennsylvania, not to the certified public accountants. We have thousands of young men and women in this State who possibly can receive training and experience equivalent to this, and, if that training and experience today is adequate to certify this youngster and to land him in third place in the examination for CPA's in the State of Pennsylvania, I think it is certainly adequate for the future. This is no attempt to break down standards. The standards are set by the examination. As other gentlemen in this House have pointed out, there have been hundreds of our leading citizens, designers, engineers, technicians, and so forth, who never had a chance. There are millions of young Americans who never will have their chance, and I say for this House to fence in those opportunities, to wall them off and deny them this opportunity is unthinkable. I think if this bill fails to qualify, even with the amendments, then both the amendments and the bill should be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. EILBERG and A. W. JOHNSON and were as follows:

Legislative Journal.

Session 1961.

145th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 38.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1961.

No. 54.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1961.

The Senate met at 3:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE A. SMITH, Pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church, Fort Washington, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Eternal God, Thou Who are the Maker and Ruler of all men, and Thou Who alone givest wisdom and understanding, we turn to Thee on this day as we once more set our minds to the tasks of responsible leaders of state. We recognize Thee as the Fountain of all light and truth and from Whom springeth all the good impulses of our being.

We acknowledge our responsibility as chosen representatives of the people, who have committed their hopes and aspirations to us as lawmakers. Make use ever conscious of our call to serve the public interest and welfare. Strengthen our sense of duty and our obligation. Lift us above the call of party and class and make us servants of all. Assist us to see beyond the limits of our own interest.

In times of doubt and questioning, gird our faith that we may learn, and give us courage to believe what we ought. Grant us boldness to examine what needs to be examined, and an insight to master any difficulty which would hinder the truth. May we be brave enough to consider the thoughts of others. Open our minds to new ideas, yet stabilize us to hold fast to old truths and high principle. Enlighten us with interpretations which breathe life and which may offer new wings to rise above the old order.

O Lord, our God, make us ever aware of Thy presence here, and of Thy judgment upon all of Thy children and their actions. In our weakness, make us strong and, in our errors, pardon us.

And now may all of our doings bring honor to ourselves and to Thy Holy Name. In the Name and Spirit of Christ, our Lord, Amen.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I trust at no time in the future will I ever have to get up here and say: "I told you so." However, I do think there are some matters concerning this bill which would indicate care by the Members of this Senate in voting for it. It takes away all restrictions and merely substitutes the prudent man rule for all investments.

I am sure that we are all aware of the fact that there is a great deal of speculation which is rampant. I am sure that we are all aware of the fact that many trust departments, in many of these various banks, are not as capable as are perhaps some in the larger cities. When you take away all the so-called legals,—the list—I believe you are opening up a situation which could lead to disaster for many small trusts.

I would like to point out that the creator of a trust, or a testator in his will, can voluntarily, by that trust instrument, go ahead and give the power to the trustee to invest in nonlegals.

By this bill, Mr. President, we are going ahead and putting the burden on the creator of a trust, or a testator, to do the opposite; to state that, well, he is more interested in the security of those trust funds instead of the income to those beneficiaries, and going ahead and perhaps making him put in restrictive language on the trustee.

I think this is a matter which we should carefully examine, particularly at this time with our stock market speculation.

Mr. President, I would hope that the Members of the Senate would vote "no" on this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

SB 616—Read at length the third time and agreed to,
On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I am by no means opposed to the city manager plan for third class cities or any other municipalities. However, I feel that I must vote against this bill.

We have set up, in a different part of the Code, a method by which a third class city may move into a city manager plan and may change its form of government. In doing that, a referendum of the people in the community is required after a study commission has studied the problem and made recommendations.

I feel that this bill would make it possible for the city council of a third class city to set aside the will of the people as expressed in a referendum and create, by ordinance, the office of city manager, and endow him with whatever powers and duties they may wish.

Since this might well be a controverting of the will of the people as expressed in a referendum, I do not think that this is a desirable bill. Therefore, I shall vote "no" on it.

SB 350—Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 350 go over in its order. In connection with this request, I would like to read into the record an extract from the Bulletin Washington Bureau by Anthony Day:

"United States Is Near Agreement On Joining River Compact."

I will not read the whole article to the Senate. However, the constitutionality of this bill is severely questioned by the Secretary of the Interior. He is demanding certain changes in connection with this compact before the Federal Government will consider it. Inasmuch as they have agreed, at least in principle, that the Federal Government will have a veto, this compact will have to be amended.

For that reason, I think we should wait to see the result of what is reduced to writing, as of the meeting held on May 27th in Washington. I think a little time and a little delay on this will not hurt and it will enable us to comply, rather than after we have adjourned to be without an amendment which is sufficient.

Mr. President, I would ask that this extract from the Philadelphia Bulletin be placed in the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDENT. At the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Mahady, the article will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

U. S. Is Near Agreement
On Joining River Compact

By ANTHONY DAY
Bulletin Washington Bureau

Washington, May 27—The Kennedy Administration and some Democrats in Congress have reached tentative agreement on the Delaware River basin compact.

The agreement, which must yet be put in lawyers' language, would answer the objections to the compact raised by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall on April 13.

Udall said then the compact was unconstitutional because it made the states equal partners with the Federal Government in the plan to control and develop the water resources of the basin. Udall's position was that the states—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and New York—might outvote the Federal Government.

U. S. to Get Veto

The tentative agreement entails writing into the compact bill in Congress a provision giving Federal Government veto power over any action taken by the five-man Delaware River Basin Commission.

Udall called on Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) yesterday for the first time since the April 13 meeting, when Clark accused Udall of abandoning the New Frontier by raising frivolous objections to the pact.

Clark, Udall and staff members attending for Reps. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa), House sponsor of the bill to give congressional approval to the pact, and Frank Thompson, Jr., (D-NJ) discussed in general terms the solution arrived at by the staff members and representatives of the Delaware River Basin Advisory Committee at a meeting May 10.

Clark is Optimistic

"I'm optimistic," Udall said after the meeting with Clark. Udall said the administration wanted the pact to go through, but with modifications.

Clark said he, too, was "optimistic."

"I don't want to seem too optimistic," he added. "I don't want to say we're out of the woods."

Clark said the agreement giving the Federal Government effective veto power over decisions by the commission could be written into the bill in Congress without amending the compact itself at all.

The Legislatures of New Jersey, Delaware and

New York have already approved the compact as written. It must still be passed by the Pennsylvania Senate.

The plan for developing the basin calls for expenditures of about half a million dollars. The Federal Government would have to put up most of that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate that this bill has now passed in New York, New Jersey and Maryland. We are the only State in the compact which has not passed this measure.

Also, the position that Secretary Udall took in the beginning has been changed. Congress is implementing this measure. I have been advised by the Governor that he has spoken to the Secretary, and he has advised me that he is now changing his position in this matter.

I am not saying that we should rush through this thing. However, I think we are the only State which has had the benefit of having the opportunity to see visually the material prepared by the Army and other people involved in this situation. I think if we are going to do this, we ought to do it now.

I would also like to point out that there cannot be any amendments to this act. It must be passed uniformly, as it has been by all of the other states.

Some of the people, I understand, who were opposed to this measure have now taken a different view of the thing and, although they are not throwing their hats into the air about it, they are not as violently opposed or opposing this measure as strongly as they were before.

Unless there is some real purpose for us not to do so, I would like to have us pass this measure as soon as possible and let the House work on it because it is going to take them a little while to get this measure passed.

This measure has been here for awhile. There have been hearings held in three different sections of the State by the Chairman, and I think that all of the people who want to have a say have done so or have taken a position. It is incumbent upon us to act on this thing. If we decide in this Body to vote against it, I think that is one thing. If we decide we are going to act on it, I think we ought to do so because our neighbors ought to at least know our attitude in this matter.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Weiner, are you objecting to the bill going over in its order?

Mr. WEINER. No, sir, I am not. I just wanted to get this on the record.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 410—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. LANE.

HB 430—Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request that House Bill No. 430 go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I feel that we have discussed this matter quite a few times. I believe I previously stated that I have no objection to any amendments going into this bill, once it has reached the Third Reading Calendar. It has appeared on the Second Reading Calendar for quite some time. Therefore, I would like someone to advise me as to when we can look forward to working on, at least, addressing ourselves to the problem in this bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this bill has not been on our Calendar as long as many other bills which still appear on it. It is a House Bill and I believe there are a number of amendments in contemplation to this bill. Although I know that Senator Weiner has assured us that we can offer them on Third Reading, nevertheless, we feel, at this time, that it would be well to have the bill go over in order until it can be thoroughly understood and studied by the Members of the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman please advise me whether we can look forward to working on this bill tomorrow sometime? Could we at least move it up to the Third Reading Calendar in order for us to proceed on this measure?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I could not so advise the gentleman because I do not know it to be a fact, nor do I know otherwise.

Mr. WEINER. I give up, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would just like to tell Senator Berger that I do not know how long this bill has been here, in comparison with what other bills he has in mind. However, this bill did appear on the Calendar on May 2, 1961. That means its first monthly anniversary is soon due. I would, therefore, say that is a relatively long time for people to consider this measure.

I would add my pleas to those of Senator Weiner's that we get as early action as possible, although I, too, give up.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I did not ask for abject surrender, although I appear to have received it. However, I would point out that House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716, which are bills that are very important to a great many people in this Commonwealth, have been on the Calendar longer than House Bill No. 430 has been on.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not wish to debate this measure, but I think House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716 have only appeared on the Calendar for a few weeks, whereas this measure came to us on about April 18, 1961. It was referred to committee and remained in committee for a number of weeks. We even discussed it before it came out of committee. If you want to get into this matter, House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716 have a certain amount of money involved in them. It is our hope, after we insert our amendments tomorrow, to pass these measures.

I wonder whether I can receive that kind of an answer on House Bill No. 430.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that I gave the gentleman an answer. However, this is the first time when I received an affirmative assurance on House Bill No. 715 and House Bill No. 716, although for the past two weeks there has been mention made that we hope tomorrow we would be able to have the answer. I hope that tomorrow we will have the answer.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

SB 441—Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I request that Senate Bill No. 441 go over in its order for the purpose of permitting me to get the rest of my amendments and to be in a position to discuss them.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. SESLER. Mr. President, I would like to comment briefly on the import of this bill.

This bill would require contractors, who provide any new facility to a public utility, to furnish performance bonds without defining exactly the extent of the facility or the equipment to be provided.

The justification of this bill is based supposedly on the fact that it would prevent a serious default, which would result in a loss to the public utility and, of course, a consequential loss to the public. In effect, Mr. President, I think this bill would impose an enormous burden on the consumers of Pennsylvania, without consequential benefit.

Let me point out an example. A survey, made by one large utility here in Pennsylvania, indicates that in 1960 it had contracts, which would come within the purview of this Act, totaling $12,000,000; that is, contracts in excess of $5,000 which were subject matters which would provide new facilities for the utility. Moreover, a study of three years of this one utility indicates they entered into contracts of at least a value of approximately $40,000,000.

The cost of the performance bonds alone—which roughly would average about one per cent—during this provided with the equipment, in 1960, to the extent of three-year period, for one utility in Pennsylvania, would be $400,000. That is not to mention, in this case, utilities also provided with the equipment, in 1960, to the extent of $30,000,000, which possibly might be included in this bill, too, under its present definitions. Let me further point out that during the same three-year period, the particular utility I am speaking about has not suffered one single dollar's worth of loss due to default in any of the performance of its contracts. Most of the utilities rely on very reputable contractors, with whom they have had long experience. I should estimate that the minimum conservative cost of this bill each year to the utilities would be in excess of two and one-half million dollars.

Let us face the fact, Mr. President, that the contractor pays for this bond, but necessarily includes it in his contract price which, of course, is ultimately passed on to the consumer who is buying the services of the utility.

For this reason, Mr. President, I think it is extremely poor legislation and I ask this Senate to give its negative consideration to it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the bill I am about to introduce would make it a crime to maliciously loiter in or around any public school building, or upon land or premises of any school district in the Commonwealth. The penalty would be a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days.

The request for this legislation has come from the city of Philadelphia, which apparently has a serious problem with persons loitering in and about school buildings with malicious intent toward school students or teachers.

This bill has been approved by the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator McCreesh, Senator Mullin and myself, I am presenting this bill to the Chair.

Which was committed to the Commission on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I wish to introduce four bills. The first bill is introduced jointly by Senator Seyler and myself, and we present that without comment.

The other three bills grow out of the Governor's Committee on Education. One of them deals with a guidance program, another with research, and the third is what probably should be called the subsidy bill.

This bill attempts to write into legislation at least three concepts developed by the Governor's Committee. It was hoped that the new equalization subsidy formula might be simpler than the existing one, and this has been attempted in this bill. There is sort of a rumor around the State that there are only three people who understand the present formula and they are getting old, and perhaps we should get a simpler formula. This, I think, is slightly simpler.

The second concept is that teachers are the most important part of the school program. Many of us in school work have held this over the years. Colleges of education and teachers' organizations, by and large, hold to this particular concept. In writing this legislation, I believe an attempt was made to have the State recognize that the teacher is the center of a good school program and, therefore, reimburse school districts somewhat on their ability to pay teachers adequately and, in this way, attract better teachers.

The third concept is that the State and local share, over the State as a whole, should be divided about fifty-fifty. There is nothing magic about the term "fifty-fifty." However, this is a concept that the Governor's Committee reached rather early in its deliberations, and this bill attempts to carry out that concept.

This committee had to look not only to 1961, but all through the Sixties. Therefore, this bill attempts to set a trend for the 1960's.

From about 1940 or 1945 to 1960, the State has picked up an increasingly larger proportion of the cost of local education until it is now somewhere around fifty per cent. Therefore, the committee had to face the problem of whether this trend was to continue through the Sixties, or whether the fifty-fifty was a good basis. This, of course, will have to be determined by each one of us.

As far as I am concerned, if the House of Representatives sends to this Body a bill to have the local districts pay but forty per cent and they have a tax program to support that, or some number less than fifty per cent, I will support such legislation.

I think the Members of the Senate and the people of Pennsylvania now have two obligations concerning this subsidy bill. First of all, do you agree on these three principles that the subsidy might be simpler, that the teacher should be given a prominent place in reimbursement, and, third, whether or not this is a fair place for the State and local share on a State-wide basis—and we are not talking about any individual district—to split the cost? You have to decide whether you believe in these three concepts. Then, it seems to me, your next job is to try to study and see if this bill does these three things.

It is my hope that the fifty Senators will study this carefully and will come to some conclusion on these matters, and will be willing to accept the proposition to vote on this matter in the next thirty days.

I now present these three bills, under the sponsorship of the Members of the Select Committee on Education and others.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE A. SMITH, Pastor of St. Paul's Reformed Church, Fort Washington, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Creator and Father, in Whom we live and move and have our being, in this morning hour we seek Thy divine blessing as we begin another day of deliberation in these halls of government. We acknowledge our dependence on Thee at all times, beseeching Thee now to look upon us and hear our prayer.

For all Thy bountiful providence we thank Thee. We thank Thee for our fair land, for our heritage of freedom, for all public servants who cherish the principles of honor and integrity, for those noble impulses which prompt us to seek the good of all, and for the duties with which these, Thy servants, have been entrusted.

We remember that Thou hast warned us that Thou dost require much of those to whom much is given. Grant, we pray Thee, that we may strive here to give ourselves unselfishly to the cause of good government. Deliver us from blindness and prejudice, and from whatever else might turn our best intentions away from the right and the true. Take from us all pride and vanity, and grant that we may be filled with that true charity which shows itself in an honest concern for all men.

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO CHARLES W. ETTINGER

MESSRS. ROONEY, VAN SANT, BERGER, SCOTT and WEINER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 63), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, June 1, 1961.

On Saturday, June 3, 1961, Muhlenberg College in Allentown will honor one of the distinguished members of the press and a renowned member of the Board of Governors of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association. On that day, at the All-Alumni Luncheon which is being held in conjunction with the various class reunions, Charles W. Ettinger will receive the Muhlenberg Alumni Achievement Award.

Mr. Ettinger, who is known to all the people in the Lehigh Valley as the "Roving Reporter," will be one of five men honored. His award will be for his attainment in his chosen field and for service to the people as a reporter and writer.

Charlie has been a reporter and journalist for over fifty years. He is a firm believer in the peoples right to know, and upon the attainment of his 70th birthday three years ago, congratulations were bestowed upon him by many of the high State officials. His fellow newsmen also showed their respect for Mr. Ettinger by awarding him the "Page One Award" a few years back. In 1958, Governor Leader awarded him a special certificate for the outstanding work he performed in farm and home safety education.

The Alumni of Muhlenberg are proud to have such a distinguished graduate as Charles W. Ettinger. The class of 1907 is also proud to list him as a classmate, but we here in the Senate are proud that such a capable man works with us; therefore be it

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to present aims at paying tribute to two great Pennsylvania newspapers; namely, the Lancaster Sunday News and the Allentown Sunday Call-Chronicle.

Here in Pennsylvania, there exists a complete apathetic attitude toward preparation for the celebration of the Civil War Centennial. Our great newspapers have not yet taken up the cudgels and even the State Government is not rising to the necessary height in making this celebration attractive to all Americans. After all, the Gettysburg Battlefield is located on the soil of Pennsylvania and, come 1963, there will be tourists and pilgrims coming here from all over the United States. Yet, the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is very lackadaisical in doing anything about preparing for the celebration of the Centennial.

Now, as a refreshing deviation from this apathy, come two beautiful Sunday newspaper editions in which all the phases of the Civil War are portrayed. More than that, the contribution of Pennsylvania is especially reflected.

After all, this was the arsenal of the Union, and these two newspaper editions have amply reflected it.

Therefore, Mr. President, to pay homage to the Lancaster and Allentown newspapers, on behalf of Senator Kessler and myself,—and I do not see Senator Van Sant or I would ask him to join us—I am about to offer this resolution and ask for its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMENDING THE LANCASTER SUNDAY NEWS AND THE ALLENTOWN SUNDAY CALL-CHRONICLE

Messrs. STIEFEL and KESSLER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 64), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, June 1, 1961.

WHEREAS, the commemoration of the centennial of the great conflict which saved the American Nation from disruption is of particular importance to Pennsylvania as the State whose contribution of men, supplies and financial support played an all-important part in the success of the National cause, and as the State in which the decisive battle of Gettysburg was fought; and

WHEREAS, The various newspapers of the Commonwealth are taking a splendid part in the commemoration of this centennial by publishing special feature articles and special feature sections which are helping to make the people of Pennsylvania aware of the significance of this great centennial period; and

WHEREAS, Among these newspapers we note with special interest the fine supplement on The Civil War and Central Pennsylvania produced by the Lancaster Sunday News, and a special feature of the Allentown Sunday Call-Chronicle on the First Defenders, both of which appeared on April 9, 1961, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby commends the Lancaster Sunday News and the Allentown Sunday Call-Chronicle for their excellent presentation of research and pictorial material bringing out the significance of Pennsylvania's part in the Civil War, and directs that copies of this resolution be sent to each of these newspapers; and, be it further

RESOLVED, That the Senate also commends all the newspapers of the Commonwealth which have devoted attention and space to news and interpretative material relating to the centennial of the Civil War.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this bill may seem of little significance, but I expect to be cursed and praised for it. It is a very highly debatable bill.

Each year, each week and each day, we see thousands upon thousands of children from Pennsylvania coming to visit our State Capitol. I always question the impression of these children when they see the statuary at the entrance to the State Capitol. Do they understand it? Does it convey any impression on them? What does it purport to show? After all, it is a great present to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from a famous sculptor, George Grey Barnard. However, Mr. President, I do not believe this is the place for these figures. You need ten interpreters in order to explain what these figures mean. I do not know and I doubt whether the children know.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am introducing a bill which provides for the removal of that statuary. By this, I do not mean to destroy it, but to put it somewhere else on the State Capitol and not at the entrance to the State Capitol of Pennsylvania.

Since we are about to celebrate the centennial of the Civil War, it is my suggestion in this bill that on the one side there should be erected a bronze figure of Lincoln and, on the other side a figure of Governor Curtin. That would be an adequate commemoration of the Civil War on the part of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Messrs. HAYS and WAGNER, by unanimous consent, presented to the Chair SB 726, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, last Wednesday in one of the great Philadelphia newspapers, there was a release from the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, which attacked me personally.

Mr. President, I have been a Member of this Senate—I am going on my second term—for a period of some seven years. I never found it necessary to take this floor and personally respond to an attack upon me by any Member of the Cabinet or any State official.

I am not thin-skinned, Mr. President. I can take criticism. I have taken a great deal of criticism in my short life, and I shall continue to take more. I certainly never become offended by criticism because we in public life, when we run for public office and when we are elected, give the people of Pennsylvania, the people of our communities, the people of this Country, and the newspapers a license to criticize us, whether expressed or implied, and we must accept it. However, wrongful criticism and criticism by one who should know better, in my opinion, should not go unanswered.

Sister Alpern is a wonderful Attorney General. I would say that Sister Anne has been about one of the best we have had. She is a fine and gracious woman, with a great deal of ability. I do not know her record for success as Attorney General. I do know that she opened the door slightly at Barnes, she convicted a few housewives in Philadelphia, and cracked the whip over some judge with whom I was familiar. However, beyond that, I assume she has an excellent record. Therefore, I am not here to personally attack her achievements.

Again, I say I have a great deal of confidence in the Attorney General, and I say sincerely as I stand here that she will end up in the history of Pennsylvania as one of the greatest, and we have had some outstanding Attorneys General.

Mr. President, this is the reason I take the floor and this is the reason I protest so vigorously. She should have known better than to issue a statement, saying that I am against the administrator plan, that I am attempting to kill it by amendment, and further saying that she would like to know the reason why I desire to change it.

Mr. President, I was in this hall all last week and the week before. If Sister Anne wanted me in her office to explain, I would have been very happy to leave my seat, go to the Attorney General's office at any time she requested, and tell her my position. She may have agreed or disagreed, which would have been her privilege. Then she would have had the right to criticize me openly if she did not feel I was sincere in the position I was taking. However, to criticize me publicly in the newspaper without knowing my reason, without knowing why I take the position I do, and without even knowing the amendments I am going to introduce, I think is unfair.

When the administrative branch of government attempts to impose its will upon the Legislature, then I think we are in a dangerous situation.

Sister Alpern feels that everything she stands for is good and holy and if you oppose her, you are doing the wrong thing. You are for unrighteousness and unlawfulness. I say this is an unfair position to take. She may have been successful in the past by issuing releases to the newspapers. However, I feel this was unwarranted, even though she may have been successful with those tactics.

With me, she will not be successful. I do not frighten easily. I do not fear headlines. I do what I sincerely believe in my own conscience and in my own heart is the correct thing to do. I shall not retreat from my position because she puts a headline in the paper, attacking me. This will not achieve its purpose.

Mr. President, I would like to say in conclusion that this was a personal affront to me as a Member of this body and as a Legislator. I do not know what she thinks of me personally, but that is unimportant. It is important that I am here representing a District. It is important that I am here representing the people of Pennsylvania, and trying to do the best I can to make this a great State. She may not agree with all of my moves, and she has the right not to agree. However, not to agree with me as a Legislator and to attack me personally are two different tactics.

I resent the tactics that she employed, I do not think that the office which she holds warrants such tactics.

Therefore, Mr. President, I make this public and I will feel a little better when I sit down since I have gotten it off my chest.

I am not interested in killing the Administrator Bill. I am interested in making it a better bill. I think I know more about the court system of the city of Philadelphia—and the others lawyers here know more about the court system—than Sister Anne knows from being out in Allegheny County. That is no insult to her or to the good people of Allegheny County. We have lived with our court system. We know what is wrong with it, and we know what will correct it. We are not here to effect justice or the swiftness of disposing of cases. We are here attempting to dispose of as many cases as possible. We have spoken to our judges, and we know what the real problem is.

I want to end the way I started, so that there will be no misunderstanding, Mr. President. I feel that this lady is a wonderful Attorney General and I think she is an outstanding Attorney General. The fact that I disagree with the position she took on this individual situation does not lower my esteem for her as to her ability.

(For reply from Attorney General Anne X. Alpern, see Senate Journal of June 20, 1961.)

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I must concur in the final remarks made by my colleague about the ability of the Attorney General of the State of Pennsylvania; that she is a fine woman who comes from a vast background of excellent experience. She was the City Solicitor in Pittsburgh, she was a Common Pleas Judge in Pittsburgh, and she has been engaged in many, many activities. I believe that her defense on behalf of the people, in many of the battles that were fought on their behalf, augurs well for the position that she is in now and on the position that she has taken.

I would like to offer just one word of caution. Many times we read accounts, not only in newspapers but in magazines, stories and things of that nature, in which the material is taken out of context. Sometimes we read into an answer given by a person whatever we want to read or we bring our own experience into the article.

Very recently, in Philadelphia, some of the officials said things in perhaps an offhand way, and they appeared in a box in an article which highlighted them and made them appear as if someone were casting aspersions on someone else.
